NOON SESSION

House Chamber, Olympia, Monday, January 8, 2001

The House was called to order at 12:00 Noon by Chief Clerk Zehnder. The Clerk called the roll and a quorum was present.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by the 5th Battalion 20th Infantry Regiment Color Guard from Fort Lewis. The National Anthem was sung by Representative Renee Radcliff. A moment of silence was observed for Representative Pat Scott who passed away on Sunday, January 7, 2001. Chief Clerk Martin led the Chamber in the Pledge of Allegiance. Prayer was offered by Pastor Lee Forstrom, Westwood Baptist Church, Olympia.

"Our Father,

We thank you for the beginning of this new session, for each one that has been appointed to this task, we look forward with renewed vision and enthusiasm for what you will do in our midst.

We claim your promise that today 'I will do something new, I will even make a roadway in the wilderness, rivers in the desert.' May you be to each of them the God who makes a road way in the wilderness and a river in the desert.

As we begin this new session I pray for these men and women, to be strengthened in their spirits, protected with their families, guarded in their health and given the wisdom and discernment to make decisions pleasing in Your sight.

May they sense the weight of responsibility before you and remember that they have been appointed as your servants to bring about righteousness, justice and equity. Impress upon them the seriousness of the issues that are before them.

We commit this session to you this day, and even more importantly, we commit ourselves to you. As we look back on this session may there be a united testimony that this has been the work of God and the people of this great state will see the courage, the diligence and the leadership of these men and women who have served faithfully as our representatives.

Now may the Lord bless you and keep you; the Lord make His face shine on you and be gracious to you; the Lord lift up His countenance on you and give you peace. Amen."

Chief Clerk Martin requested Representatives Lambert and Rockefeller escort Justice Charles Johnson of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington to the Rostrum.

Definitions

Rule 1. "Absent" means an unexcused failure to attend.

"Term" means the two-year term during which the members as a body may act.

"Session" means a constitutional gathering of the house in accordance with Article 2 § 12 of the state Constitution.

"Committee" means any standing, conference, joint, or select committee as so designated by rule or resolution.

"Bill" means bill, joint memorial, joint resolution, or concurrent resolution unless the context indicates otherwise.

Chief Clerk to Call to Order

Rule 2. It shall be the duty of the chief clerk of the previous term to call the house to order and to conduct the proceedings until a speaker is chosen.

Election of Officers

Rule 3. The house shall elect the following officers at the commencement of each term: Its presiding officer, who shall be styled speaker of the house; a speaker pro tempore, who shall serve in absence or in case of the inability of the speaker; and a chief clerk of the house. Such officers shall hold office during all sessions until the convening of the succeeding term: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That any of these offices may be declared vacant by the vote of a constitutional majority of the house, the members voting viva voce and their votes shall be entered on the journal. If any office is declared vacant, the house shall fill such vacant office as hereinafter provided. In all elections by the house a constitutional majority shall be required, the members shall vote viva voce and their votes shall be entered on the journal. (Art. II § 27)

Powers and Duties of the Speaker

Rule 4. The speaker shall have the following powers and duties:

(A) The speaker shall take the chair and call the house to order precisely at the hour appointed for meeting and if a quorum be present, shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read and shall proceed with the order of business.

(B) The speaker shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct within the chamber or legislative area, shall order the sergeant at arms to suppress the same and may order the sergeant at arms to remove any person creating any disturbance within the house chamber or legislative area.

(C) The speaker may speak to points of order in preference to other members, arising from the seat for that purpose, and shall decide all questions of order subject to an appeal to the house by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the house.

(D) The speaker shall sign all bills in open session. (Art. II § 32)

(E) The speaker shall sign all writs, warrants, and subpoenas issued by order of the house, all of which shall be attested to by the chief clerk.

(F) The speaker shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall neither extend beyond adjournment nor authorize the representative so substituted to sign any documents requiring the signature of the speaker.

(G) The speaker, in open session, shall appoint committee chairs from the majority party of the house and shall appoint members to committees in the same ratio as the membership of the respective parties of the house, unless otherwise provided by law or house rules.

(H) The speaker shall serve as chair of the rules committee.

(I) The speaker shall have charge of and see that all officers, attaches, and clerks perform their respective duties.

(J) The speaker pro tempore shall exercise the duties, powers, and prerogatives of the speaker in the event of the speaker's death, illness, removal, or inability to act until the speaker's successor shall be elected.

Chief Clerk

Rule 5. The chief clerk shall perform the usual duties pertaining to the office, and shall hold office until a successor has been elected.

The chief clerk shall employ, upon the recommendation of the employment committee and, subject to the approval of the speaker, all other house employees; the hours of duty and assignments of all house employees shall be under the chief clerk's directions and instructions, and they may be dismissed by the chief clerk with the approval of the speaker. The speaker shall sign and the chief clerk shall countersign all payrolls and vouchers for all expenses of the house and appropriately transmit the same. In the event of the chief clerk's death, illness, removal, or inability to act, the speaker may appoint an acting chief clerk who shall exercise the duties and powers of the chief clerk until the chief clerk's successor shall be elected.

Duties of Employees

Rule 6. Employees of the house shall perform such duties as are assigned to them by the chief clerk. Under no circumstances shall the compensation of any employee be increased for past services. No house employee shall seek to influence the passage or rejection of proposed legislation.

Admission to the House

Rule 7. It shall be the general policy of the house to keep the chamber clear as follows:

(A) The sergeant at arms shall admit only the following individuals to the wings and adjacent areas of the house chamber for the period of time beginning one-half hour prior to convening and ending one-half hour following the adjournment of the house's daily session:

- The governor or designees, or both;
- Members of the senate;
- State elected officials;
- Officers and authorized employees of the legislature;
- Former members of the house who are not advocating any pending or proposed legislation;
- Representatives of the press;
- Other persons with the consent of the speaker.

(B) Only members, pages, sergeants at arms, and clerks are permitted on the floor while the house is in 7 session.

(C) Lobbying in the house chamber or in any committee room or lounge room is prohibited when the house or committee is in session unless expressly permitted by the house or committee. Anyone violating this rule will forfeit his or her right to be admitted to the house chamber or any of its committee rooms.

Absentees and Courtesy

Rule 8. No member shall be absent from the service of the house without leave from the speaker. When the house is in session, only the speaker shall recognize visitors and former members.

Bills, Memorials and Resolutions - Introductions

Rule 9. Any member desiring to introduce a bill shall file the same with the chief clerk. Bills filed by 10:00 a.m. shall be introduced at the next daily session, in the order filed: PROVIDED, That if such introduction is within the last ten days of a regular session, it cannot be considered without a direct vote of two-thirds (2/3) of all the members elected to each house with such vote recorded and entered upon the journal. (Art. II § 36)

Any member or member-elect may prefile a bill with the chief clerk commencing twenty (20) days before any session. Prefiled bills shall be introduced on the first legislative day.

All bills shall be endorsed with a statement of the title and the name of the member or members introducing the same. The chief clerk shall attach to all bills a substantial cover bearing the title and sponsors and shall number each bill in the order filed. All bills shall be printed unless otherwise ordered by the house.

Any bill introduced at any session during the term shall be eligible for action at all subsequent sessions during the term.

Reading of Bills

Rule 10. Every bill shall be read on three separate days: PROVIDED, That this rule may be temporarily suspended at any time by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present; and that on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, this rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

(A) FIRST READING. The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full.

After the first reading the bill shall be referred to an appropriate committee.

Upon being reported out of committee, all bills shall be referred to the rules committee, unless otherwise ordered by the house.

The rules committee may, by majority vote, refer any bill in its possession to a committee for further consideration. Such referral shall be reported to the house and entered in the journal under the fifth order of business.

(B) SECOND READING. Upon second reading, the bill number and short title and the last line of the bill shall be read unless a majority of the members present shall demand its reading in full. The bill shall be subject to amendment section by section. No amendment shall be considered by the house until it has been sent to the chief clerk's desk in writing, distributed to the desk of each member, and read by the clerk. All amendments adopted during second reading shall be securely fastened to the original bill. All amendments rejected by the house shall be passed to the minute clerk, and the journal shall show the disposition of such amendments.

8 When no further amendments shall be offered, the speaker shall declare the bill has passed its second reading.

(C) SUBSTITUTE BILLS. When a committee reports a substitute for an original bill with the recommendation that the substitute bill do pass, it shall be in order to read the substitute the first time and have the same printed. A motion for the substitution shall not be in order until the second reading of the original bill.

(D) THIRD READING. Only the last line of bills shall be read on third reading unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full. No amendments to a bill shall be received on third reading but it may be referred or recommitted for the purpose of amendment.

(E) SUSPENSION CALENDAR. Bills may be placed on the second reading suspension calendar by the rules committee if at least two minority party members of the rules committee join in such motion. Bills on the second reading suspension calendar shall not be subject to amendment or substitution except as recommended in the committee report. When a bill is before the house on the suspension calendar, the question shall be to adopt the committee recommendations and advance the bill to third reading. If the question fails to receive a two-thirds vote of the members present, the bill shall be referred to the rules committee for second reading.

(F) HOUSE RESOLUTIONS. House resolutions shall be filed with the chief clerk who shall transmit them to the rules committee. If a rules committee meeting is not scheduled to occur prior to a time necessitated by the purpose of a house resolution, the majority leader and minority leader by agreement may waive transmission to the rules committee to permit consideration of the resolution by the house. The rules committee may adopt house resolutions by a sixty percent majority vote of its entire membership or may, by a majority vote of its members, place them on the motions calendar for consideration by the house.

(G) CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS. Reading of concurrent resolutions may be advanced by majority vote.

Amendments

Rule 11. The right of any member to offer amendments to proposed legislation shall not be limited except as provided in Rule 10(E) and as follows:

(A) AMENDMENTS TO BE OFFERED IN PROPER FORM. The chief clerk shall establish the proper form for amendments and all amendments offered shall bear the name of the member who offers the same, as well as the number and section of the bill to be amended.

(B) COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS. When a bill is before the house on second reading, amendments adopted by committees and recommended to the house shall be acted upon by the house before any amendments that may be offered from the floor.

(C) SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILLS. A house bill, passed by the senate with amendment or amendments which shall change the scope and object of the bill, upon being received in the house, shall be referred to the appropriate committee and shall take the same course as for original bills unless a motion not to concur is adopted prior to the bill being referred to committee.

(D) AMENDMENTS TO BE GERMANE. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment; and no bill or resolution shall at any time be amended by annexing thereto or incorporating therein any other bill or resolution pending before the house.

(E) SCOPE AND OBJECT NOT TO BE CHANGED. No amendment to any bill shall be allowed which shall change the scope and object of the bill. This objection may be raised at any time an amendment is under consideration. The speaker may allow the person raising the objection and the mover of the amendment to provide brief arguments as to the merits of the objection. (Art. II § 38)

(F) NO AMENDMENT BY REFERENCE. No act shall ever be revised or amended without being set forth at full length. (Art. II § 37)

(G) TITLE AMENDMENTS. The subject matter portion of a bill title shall not be amended in committee or on second reading. Changes to that part of the title after the subject matter statement shall either be presented with the text amendment or be incorporated by the chief clerk in the engrossing process.

Final Passage

Rule 12. Rules relating to bills on final passage are as follows:

(A) RECOMMITMENT BEFORE FINAL PASSAGE. A bill may be recommitted at any time before its final passage.

(B) FINAL PASSAGE. No bill shall become a law unless on its final passage the vote be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against the same be entered on the journal of each house, and a majority of the members elected to each house be recorded thereon as voting in its favor. (Art. II § 22)

(C) BILLS PASSED - CERTIFICATION. When a bill passes, it shall be certified to by the chief clerk, said certification to show the date of its passage together with the vote thereon.

Hour of Meeting, Roll Call and Quorum

Rule 13. (A) HOUR OF MEETING. The speaker shall call the house to order each day of sitting at 10:00 A.M., unless the house shall have adjourned to some other hour.

(B) ROLL CALL AND QUORUM. Before proceeding with business, the roll of the members shall be called and the names of those absent or excused shall be entered on the journal. A majority of all the members elected must be present to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, seven members with the speaker, or eight members in the speaker's absence, having chosen a speaker pro tempore, shall be authorized to demand a call of the house and may compel the attendance of absent members in the manner provided in Rule 21(B). For the purpose of determining if a quorum be present, the speaker shall count all members present, whether voting or not. (Art. II § 8)

(C) The house shall adjourn not later than 10:00 P.M. of each working day. This rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

Daily Calendar and Order of Business

Rule 14. The rules relating to the daily calendar and order of business are as follows:

(A) DAILY CALENDAR. Business of the house shall be disposed of in the following order:

First: Roll call, presentation of colors, prayer, and approval of the journal of the preceding day.

Second: Introduction of visiting dignitaries.

Third: Messages from the senate, governor, and other state officials.

Fourth: Introduction and first reading of bills, memorials, joint resolutions, and concurrent resolutions.

Fifth: Committee reports.

Sixth: Second reading of bills.

- 10 Seventh: Third reading of bills.
Eighth: Floor resolutions and motions.
Ninth: Presentation of petitions, memorials, and remonstrances addressed to the Legislature.
Tenth: Introduction of visitors and other business to be considered.
Eleventh: Announcements.

(B) UNFINISHED BUSINESS. The unfinished business at which the house was engaged preceding adjournment shall not be taken up until reached in regular order, unless the previous question on such unfinished business has been ordered prior to said adjournment.

(C) EXCEPTIONS. Exceptions to the order of business are as follows:

- (1) The order of business may be changed by a majority vote of those present.
- (2) By motion under the eighth order of business, a bill in the rules committee may be placed on the calendar by the affirmative vote of a majority of all members of the house.
- (3) House resolutions and messages from the senate, governor, or other state officials may be read at any time.

Motions

Rule 15. Rules relating to motions are as follows:

(A) MOTIONS TO BE ENTERTAINED OR DEBATED. No motion shall be entertained or debated until announced by the speaker and every motion shall be deemed to have been seconded. A motion shall be reduced to writing and read by the clerk, if desired by the speaker or any member, before it shall be debated and by the consent of the house may be withdrawn before amendment or action.

(B) MOTIONS IN ORDER DURING DEBATE. When a motion has been made and seconded and stated by the chair, the following motions are in order, in the rank named:

(1) Privileged motions:

- Adjourn
- Adjourn to a time certain
- Recess to a time certain
- Reconsider
- Demand for division
- Question of privilege
- Orders of the day

(2) Subsidiary motions:

- First rank: Question of consideration
- Second rank: To lay on the table
- Third rank: For the previous question
- Fourth rank: To postpone to a day certain
- To commit or recommit
- To postpone indefinitely
- Fifth rank: To amend

(3) Incidental motions:

- Points of order and appeal
- Method of consideration
- Suspension of the rules
- Reading papers

(C) THE EFFECT OF POSTPONEMENT - MOTIONS TO POSTPONE OR COMMIT. Once decided, no motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely shall again be allowed on the same day and at the same stage of the proceedings. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, it shall not again be introduced during the session. The motion to postpone indefinitely may be made at any stage of the bill except when on first reading.

(D) MOTIONS DECIDED WITHOUT DEBATE. A motion to adjourn, to recess, to lay on the table and to call for the previous question shall be decided without debate.

All incidental motions shall be decided without debate, except that members may speak to points of order and appeal as provided in Rule 22.

A motion for suspension of the rules shall not be debatable except that the mover of the motion may briefly explain the purpose of the motion and one member may briefly state the opposition to the motion.

(E) MOTION TO ADJOURN. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when the house is voting or is working under the call of the house; but this rule shall not authorize any member to move for adjournment when another member has the floor.

Members Right to Debate

Rule 16. The methods by which a member may exercise his or her right to debate are as follows:

(A) RECOGNITION OF MEMBER. When any member desires to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the house, the member shall rise and respectfully address the speaker and pause until recognized.

(B) ORDER OF SPEAKING. When two or more members arise at once, the speaker shall name the one who is to speak.

(C) LIMITATION OF DEBATE. No member shall speak longer than ten (10) minutes without consent of the house: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, no member shall speak more than three (3) minutes without the consent of the house. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the house: PROVIDED, That the chair of the committee or the mover of the question may close debate if it is consistent with Rule 18 (Previous Question).

Rules of Debate

Rule 17. The rules for debate in the house are as follows:

(A) QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE. Any member may rise to a question of privilege and explain a personal matter, by leave of the speaker, but the member shall not discuss any pending question in such explanations.

(B) WITHDRAWAL OF MOTION, BILL, ETC. After a motion is stated by the speaker or a bill, memorial, resolution, petition, or remonstrance is read by the clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the house, but may be withdrawn by consent of the house at any time before decision or amendment.

(C) READING OF A PAPER. When the reading of any paper is called for and is objected to by any member, it shall be determined by a vote of the house.

(D) DISTRIBUTION OF MATERIALS. Any materials of any nature distributed to the members' desks on the floor shall be subject to approval by the speaker and shall bear the name of at least one member granting permission for the distribution. This shall not apply to materials normally distributed by the chief clerk.

(E) ORDER OF QUESTIONS. All questions, whether in committee or in the house, shall be propounded in the order in which they are named except that in filling blanks, the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

(F) DIVISION OF POINTS OF DEBATE. Any member may call for a division of a question which shall be divided if it embraces subjects so distinct that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the house; but a motion to strike out and to insert shall not be divided. The rejection of a motion to strike out and to insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and to insert a different proposition.

(G) DECORUM OF MEMBERS. While the speaker is putting the question, no member shall walk across or out of the house; nor when a member is speaking shall any member entertain private discourse or pass between the speaking member and the rostrum.

(H) REMARKS CONFINED. A member shall confine all remarks to the question under debate and avoid personalities. No member shall impugn the motive of any member's vote or argument.

(I) EXCEPTION TO WORDS SPOKEN IN DEBATE. If any member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling the member to order shall repeat the words excepted to and they shall be taken down in writing at the clerk's table. No member shall be held in answer or be subject to the censure of the house for words spoken in debate if any other member has spoken before exception to them shall have been taken.

(J) TRANSGRESSION OF RULES - APPEAL. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the house the speaker shall, or any member may, call the member to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down unless permitted to explain; and the house shall, if appealed to, decide the case without debate; if there be no appeal, the decision of the chair shall prevail.

If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, the member shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, and the case shall require it, the member shall be liable to the censure of the house.

Ending of Debate - Previous Question

Rule 18. The previous question may be ordered by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present on all recognized motions or amendments which are debatable.

The previous question is not debatable and cannot be amended.

The previous question shall be put in this form: "Representative _____ demands the previous question. As many as are in favor of ordering the previous question will say 'Aye'; as many as are opposed will say 'No'."

The results of the motion are as follows: If determined in the negative, the consideration goes on as if the motion had never been made; if decided in the affirmative it shall have the effect of cutting off all debate and bringing the house to a direct vote upon the motion or amendment on which it has been ordered: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That when a bill is on final passage or when the motion to postpone indefinitely is pending, one of the sponsors of the bill or the chair of the committee may have the privilege of closing debate after the previous question has been ordered.

If an adjournment is had after the previous question is ordered, the motion or proposition on which the 13 previous question was ordered shall be put to the house immediately following the approval of the journal on the next working day, thus making the main question privileged over all other business, whether new or unfinished.

Voting

Rule 19. (A) PUTTING OF QUESTION. The speaker shall put the question in the following form: "The question before the house is (state the question). As many as are in favor say 'Aye'; and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "as many as are opposed say 'No'."

(B) ALL MEMBERS TO VOTE. Every member who was in the house when the question was put shall vote unless, for special reasons, excused by the house.

All motions to excuse a member shall be made before the house divides or before the call for yeas and nays is commenced; and any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief and verbal statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

Upon a division and count of the house on the question, only members at their desks within the bar of the house shall be counted.

(C) CHANGE OF VOTE. When the electric roll call machine is used, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the speaker has locked the roll call machine. When an oral roll call is taken, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the result has been announced.

(D) PRIVATE INTEREST. No member shall vote on any question which affects that member privately and particularly. A member who has a private interest in any bill or measure proposed or pending before the legislature shall disclose the fact to the house of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon. (Art. II § 30)

(E) INTERRUPTION OF ROLL CALL. Once begun, the roll call may not be interrupted. No member or other person shall visit or remain at the clerk's desk while the yeas and nays are being called.

(F) YEAS AND NAYS - RECORDED VOTES. Upon the final passage of any bill, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and shall be recorded by the electric voting system: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That an oral roll call shall be ordered when demanded by one-sixth (1/6) of the members present. (Art. II § 21)

The speaker may vote last when the yeas and nays are called.

When the vote is by electric voting machine or by oral roll call on any question, it shall be entered upon the journal of the house. A recorded vote may be compelled by one-sixth (1/6) of the members present. A request for a recorded vote must be made before the vote is commenced.

(G) TIE VOTE, QUESTION LOSES. In case of an equal division, the question shall be lost.

(H) DIVISION. If the speaker is in doubt, or if division is called for by any member, the house shall divide.

Reconsideration

Rule 20. Notice of a motion for reconsideration on the final passage of bills shall be made on the day the vote to be reconsidered was taken and before the house has voted to transmit the bill to the senate.

Reconsideration of the votes on the final passage of bills must be taken on the next working day after such vote was taken: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution, or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, then reconsideration of votes on the final passage of bills must be taken on the same day as the Original vote was taken. A motion to reconsider an amendment may be made at any time the bill remains on second reading.

Any member who voted on the prevailing side may move for reconsideration or give notice thereof. A motion to reconsider can be decided only once when decided in the negative.

When a motion to reconsider has been carried, its effect shall be to place the original question before the house in the exact position it occupied before it was voted upon.

Call of the House

Rule 21. One-sixth (1/6) of the members present may demand a call of the house at any time before the house has divided or the voting has commenced by yeas and nays.

(A) DOORS TO BE CLOSED. When call of the house has been ordered, the sergeant at arms shall close and lock the doors, and no member shall be allowed to leave the chamber: PROVIDED, That the rules committee shall be allowed to meet, upon request of the speaker, while the house stands at ease: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That the speaker may permit members to use such portions of the fourth floor as may be properly secured.

(B) SERGEANT AT ARMS TO BRING IN THE ABSENTEES. The clerk shall immediately call a roll of the members and note the absentees, whose names shall be read and entered upon the journal in such manner as to show who are excused and who are absent without leave.

The clerk shall furnish the sergeant at arms with a list of those who are absent without leave, and the sergeant at arms shall proceed to bring in such absentees; but arrests of members for absence shall not be made unless ordered by a majority of the members present.

(C) HOUSE UNDER CALL. While the house is under a call, no business shall be transacted except to receive and act on the report of the sergeant at arms; and no other motion shall be in order except a motion to proceed with business under the call of the house, a motion to excuse absentees, or a motion to dispense with the call of the house. The motion to proceed with business under the call of the house and the motion to excuse absent members shall not be adopted unless a majority of the members elected vote in favor thereof. The motion to dispense with the call of the house may be adopted by a majority of the members present.

Appeal from Decision of Chair

Rule 22. The decision of the chair may be appealed from by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once unless by leave of the house. In all cases of appeal, the question shall be: "Shall the decision of the chair stand as the judgment of the house?"

Standing Committees

Rule 23. The standing committees of the house and the number of members that shall serve on each committee shall be as follows:

- |    |                                    |    |
|----|------------------------------------|----|
| 1. | Agriculture & Ecology              | 14 |
| 2. | Appropriations                     | 32 |
| 3. | Capital Budget                     | 18 |
| 4. | Children & Family Services         | 10 |
| 5. | Commerce & Labor                   | 8  |
| 6. | Criminal Justice & Corrections     | 8  |
| 7. | Education                          | 14 |
| 8. | Finance                            | 10 |
| 9. | Financial Institutions & Insurance | 12 |

10.	Health Care	14	15
11.	Higher Education	8
12.	Judiciary	10
13.	Juvenile Justice	8
14.	Local Government & Housing	12
15.	Natural Resources	12
16.	Rules	20
17.	State Government	8
18.	Technology, Telecommunications & Energy	16
19.	Trade & Economic Development	12
20.	Transportation	30

Committee members shall be selected by each party's caucus. The majority party caucus shall select all committee chairs.

Duties of Committees

Rule 24. House committees shall operate as follows:

(A) NOTICE OF COMMITTEE MEETING. The chief clerk shall make public the time, place and subjects to be discussed at committee meetings. All public hearings held by committees shall be scheduled at least five (5) days in advance and shall be given adequate publicity: PROVIDED, That when less than eight (8) days remain for action on a bill, the Speaker may authorize a reduction of the five-day notice period when required by the circumstances, including but not limited to the time remaining for action on the bill, the nature of the subject, and the number of prior hearings on the subject.

(B) COMMITTEE QUORUM. A majority of any committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

(C) SESSION MEETINGS. No committee shall sit while the house is in session without special leave of the speaker.

(D) DUTIES OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

(1) Only such bills as are included on the written notice of a committee meeting may be considered at that meeting except upon the vote of a majority of the entire membership of the committee to consider another bill.

(2) A majority recommendation of a committee must be signed by a majority of the entire membership of the committee in a regularly called meeting before a bill, memorial, or resolution may be reported out: PROVIDED, That by motion under the eighth order of business, a majority of the members elected to the house may relieve a committee of a bill and place it on the second reading calendar.

Majority recommendations of a committee can only be "do pass," "do pass as amended," or that "the substitute bill be substituted therefor and that the substitute bill do pass."

(3) Members of the committee not concurring in the majority report may prepare a written minority report containing a recommendation of "do not pass" or "without recommendation," which shall be signed by those members of the committee subscribing thereto, and submitted with the majority report.

(4) All committee reports shall be spread upon the journal. The journal of the house shall contain an exact copy of all committee reports, together with the names of the members signing such reports.

(5) Every vote to report a bill out of committee shall be taken by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against, as well as the names of members absent, shall be recorded on the committee report and spread upon the journal. Any member may call for a recorded vote, which shall include the names of absent members, on any substantive question before the committee. A copy of all recorded committee votes shall be kept by the chief clerk and shall be available for public inspection.

(6) All bills having a direct appropriation shall be referred to the appropriate fiscal committee before their final passage. For purposes of this subsection, fiscal committee means the appropriations, capital budget, finance, and transportation committees.

(7) No standing committee shall vote by secret written ballot on any issue.

(8) During its consideration of or vote on any bill, resolution, or memorial, the deliberations of any standing committee of the house of representatives shall be open to the public.

(9) A standing committee to which a bill was originally referred shall, prior to voting the bill out of committee, consider whether the bill authorizes rule-making powers or requires the exercise of rule-making powers and, if so, consider:

(a) The nature of the new rule-making powers; and

(b) To which agencies the new rule-making powers would be delegated and which agencies, if any, may have related rule-making powers.

Standing Committees - Expenses - Subpoena Power

Rule 25. Regardless of whether the legislature is in session, members of the house may receive from moneys appropriated for the legislature, reimbursement for necessary travel expenses, and payments in lieu of subsistence and lodging for conducting official business of the house.

The standing committees of the house may have the powers of subpoena, the power to administer oaths, and the power to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses in accordance with the provisions of chapter 44.16 RCW. Before a standing committee of the house may issue any process, the committee chairperson shall submit for approval of the executive rules committee a statement of purpose setting forth the name or names of those subject to process. The process shall not be issued prior to approval by the executive rules committee. The process shall be limited to the named individuals.

Vetoed Bills

Rule 26. Veto messages of the governor shall be read in the house and entered upon the journal. It shall then be in order to proceed to reconsider the bill, refer it, lay it on the table, or postpone its consideration to a day certain.

The merits of the bill may be debated before the vote is taken, but the vote on a vetoed bill cannot be reconsidered.

In case of a bill containing several sections or items, one or more of which has been objected to by the governor, each section or item so objected to shall be voted upon separately by the house. Action by the house upon all vetoed bills shall be endorsed upon the bill and certified by the speaker.

Vetoed bills originating in the house, which have not been passed notwithstanding the veto of the governor, shall remain in the custody of the officers of the house until the close of the term, after which they shall be filed with the secretary of state.

Suspension of Compensation

Rule 27. (1) Any member of the house of representatives convicted and sentenced for any felony punishable by death or by imprisonment in a Washington state penal institution shall, as of the time of sentencing, be denied the legislative salary for future service and be denied per diem, compensation for expenses, office space facilities, and assistance. Any member convicted of a felony and sentenced therefor under any federal law or the law of any other state shall, as of the time of sentencing, be similarly denied such salary, per diem, expenses, facilities, and assistance if either (a) such crime would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution, or (b) the conduct resulting in the conviction and sentencing would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution.

(2) At any time, the house may vote by a constitutional majority to restore the salary, per diem, expenses, facilities, and assistance denied a member under subsection (1). If the conviction of a member is reversed, then the salary, per diem, and expense amounts denied the member since sentencing shall be forthwith paid, and the member shall thereafter have the rights and privileges of other members. 17

Smoking

Rule 28. Smoking of cigarettes, pipes, or cigars shall not be permitted at any public meeting of any committee of the house of representatives or within House facilities.
"No smoking" signs shall be posted so as to give notice of this rule.

Parliamentary Rules

Rule 29. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Reed's Parliamentary Rules shall govern all cases in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the house.

Standing Rules Amendment

Rule 30. Any standing rule may be rescinded or changed by a majority vote of the members elected: PROVIDED, That the proposed change or changes be submitted at least one day in advance in writing to the members together with notice of the consideration thereof. Any standing rule may be suspended temporarily by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present except as provided in Rule 10.

Rules to Apply for Assembly

Rule 31. The permanent house rules adopted at the beginning of the term are to govern all acts of the house during the course of the term unless amended or repealed.

Legislative Mailings

Rule 32. The house of representatives directs the house executive rules committee to adopt procedures and guidelines to ensure that all legislative mailings at public expense are for legitimate legislative purposes.

Liquor

Rule 33. The House of Representatives shall strictly adhere to the liquor laws of the state of Washington, including provisions relating to banquet and special occasion permits. The proper permits must always be obtained before consumption of liquor in any house facility.

APPENDIX TO HOUSE RULES

The House of Representatives of the fifty-seventh legislature, being composed of an equal number of members of each major political party, acknowledges that this extraordinary circumstance requires extraordinary rules of procedure which provide for bipartisan control and responsibility, ensure fairness, and promote cooperation.

The following Appendix Rules A-1 through A-7 shall not be operative in the event that a candidate for speaker receives a constitutional majority of the votes of the membership of the House, or in the event the House is composed of fifty or more members of the same major political party.

RULE A-1. HOUSE RULES

18 Reed's Parliamentary Rules and the Rules of the House of Representatives are hereby superseded to the extent they are inconsistent with the rules set forth in this appendix.

All references to speaker, speaker pro tempore, or chief clerk in Reed's Parliamentary Rules or the House Rules shall be held to refer to the co-speakers, co-speakers pro tempore, and co-chief clerks, respectively.

RULE A-2. ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The House shall elect the following officers at the commencement of the fifty-seventh legislature: Co-speakers, who shall be styled democratic speaker and republican speaker, co-speakers pro tempore, who shall be styled democratic speaker pro tempore and republican speaker pro tempore, and co-chief clerks.

In all elections each member shall be allowed one vote and the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected.

RULE A-3. DUTIES OF OFFICERS

(A) Co-Speakers - The co-speakers shall jointly perform the duties and responsibilities of the speaker of the House and may represent the entire house in that capacity. The powers of the speaker may not be exercised individually by a co-speaker without the prior agreement of both co-speakers.

The co-speakers shall agree upon a procedure for dividing the duties of the chair and may jointly designate a co-speaker pro tempore, co-chief clerk, or any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment. All acts, resolutions, and other documents requiring the signature of the speaker shall be signed by both co-speakers.

Decisions regarding administration and operation of the House of Representatives shall be made jointly by the co-speakers or their designees. These decisions shall include, but not be limited to: Referral of bills to committee; appointment of conference committees; approval of house expenditures; approval of travel; decisions on points of order; employment and removal of employees; and designation of persons who shall act as representatives for the public press.

(B) Co-Chief Clerks - The co-chief clerks shall jointly perform the duties and responsibilities of the chief clerk of the House of Representatives. The powers of the chief clerk may not be exercised individually by a co-chief clerk without the prior agreement of both co-chief clerks. All acts, resolutions, and other documents requiring the signature of the chief clerk shall be signed by both chief clerks.

RULE A-4. COMMITTEES

The various standing committees of the House of Representatives shall have co-chairs, a democratic chair named by the democratic caucus and a republican chair named by the republican caucus.

The co-chairs shall jointly perform the duties and responsibilities of the committee chair, including committee administration, staff assignments, and scheduling. The co-chairs shall agree upon a procedure for dividing the duties of presiding at committee meetings. The powers of the chair may not be exercised individually by a co-chair without the prior agreement of both co-chairs. Each co-chair shall jointly have the right to close debate as provided in Rules 16(C) and 18.

Notwithstanding the above provisions of this rule, each co-chair may individually schedule two public hearings of the committee as follows:

- (1) The public hearing may only be on bills referred to the committee.
- (2) The public hearing must be held during the time regularly scheduled for the committee and must have been given the notice normally required of public hearings.
- (3) One full meeting shall be made available to each co-chair during the time which house bills may be considered. This option must be exercised more than three regularly scheduled meetings before the cutoff of House bill consideration by the committee.

(4) The last half of one meeting shall be made available to each co-chair during the time which Senate 19 bills may be considered. This option must be exercised more than two regularly scheduled meetings before the cutoff of Senate bill consideration by the committee.

(5) A co-chair wishing to individually schedule a public hearing shall submit notice in writing to the co-chief clerks stating the specific date, time, and subject matter of the hearing. The co-chief clerks shall record such meeting requests in the order in which they are received.

RULE A-5. VOTING REQUIREMENTS AND PROCEDURES

Notwithstanding any other provision of the Rules of the House of Representatives, a constitutional majority of the members elected shall be required, for adoption of any motion, resolution, or memorial unless a greater majority is required by the Rules of the House or the Constitution: PROVIDED, That the motions to adjourn, recess, and dispense with the call of the House may be adopted by a majority of the members present: PROVIDED FURTHER, That an oral roll call may be ordered, a division called for, or a call of the House demanded as provided in Rules 19(F), 19(H), and 21 respectively.

A vote by a majority of the membership of the standing committee, as defined in Rule 23 shall be required for adoption of any motion, majority report, resolution or memorial unless a greater majority is required by the Rules of the House or the Constitution: PROVIDED, That the motions to adjourn and recess may be adopted by a majority of the members present: PROVIDED FURTHER, That a roll call may be ordered as provided for in Rule 24(D)(5).

When the electric roll call machine is used, the members shall be given at least one and one-half minutes to vote. This time limitation may be waived by a majority vote of the members elected before the vote is commenced.

RULE A-6. HOUSE ADMINISTRATION

All vouchers for payrolls and expenses of the House shall be signed by both co-chief clerks.

All supplies for the use of the House shall be furnished upon requisitions signed by both co-chief clerks.

RULE A-7. CLOSING DEBATE/CO-PRIME SPONSORS

If a bill is introduced with co-prime sponsors, both co-prime sponsors may have the privilege of closing debate if it is consistent with Rule 16(C) (Limitation of Debate) and Rule 18 (Previous Question).

Representative Ballard moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Ballard and Chopp spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

House Resolution No. 4600 was adopted.

ELECTION OF THE SPEAKERS

Representative Kessler: "Two years ago, for the second time in the history of our state, this Chamber was evenly divided between Democrats and Republicans. We were faced with an interesting challenge. Shared governance. What a concept. At that time, the House Democrats and Republicans elected Speakers Frank Chopp and Clyde Ballard to lead us through uncharted waters.

Today, as we face a back-to-back tie, I am honored to have the opportunity to nominate Speaker Chopp for a second term. Two years ago, I knew he would be the right person for the task. Frank offered a leadership style based on a vision of east and west, urban and rural, all coming together as "One Washington". He was focused on issues of importance to all of us, Democrats and Republicans. Strong schools . . . good jobs . . . secure families . . . responsive government . . . and a healthy environment. Upon being elected Speaker, Frank rolled up his sleeves, a now familiar picture, and set out to meet the challenge. He met it with enthusiasm and never-ending energy. He was amazing. Even when his car was totaled by an inattentive driver on his way to the Capitol one morning, he didn't miss a beat. He was late, but when he arrived he immediately jumped into a series of fast-paced meetings - in excruciating pain.

He has worked with both sides of the aisle, on both sides of the rotunda, with all interest groups, with people from all walks of life. His door has been open to everyone and he has received them with an open mind. He believes there is always a way to find common ground. He has worked tirelessly to find creative and common sense solutions to the challenges facing the people of this State.

And Frank has shown great leadership skills. He has been strong in making policy decisions and setting our course. During the last 49-49 tie in the House, we were able to pass a Patient's Bill of Rights, the Children's Health Initiative, a reduction in unemployment taxes for our businesses, an extension of benefits for displaced workers during retraining, and enhanced economic opportunities for our rural communities. And we continued our commitment to education, as well as to clean air, clean water and saving our salmon. Frank's leadership job was tough - sometimes messy - but he got it done.

We have even more daunting challenges this session . . . a transportation and energy crisis, dwindling salmon runs, rural economic problems, a controversy over new shorelines regulations, a major backup in processing water permits and, at the same time, writing a budget that both sides of the aisle can support. We need leaders who can keep us on track and who have a clear vision for our great State, from the Pacific to the Palouse. We need leaders who can put politics aside and advance real solutions so that government works for the people of Washington State. Many are predicting that we will fail. That we will start off in a spirit of cooperation but that, in the end, we will resort to partisan bickering. We can rise to the occasion by electing leaders who are decisive, not divisive. Frank Chopp is such a leader.

Frank is a person of integrity and vision. He cares deeply for people, especially those who are less fortunate. He understands the needs of both labor and business. He is a problem-solver with unceasing energy.

He listens to all sides. He is a loving husband and father, and a very good friend. Frank has proven himself a thoughtful leader, who puts issues and solutions ahead of politics - clearly needed at this time, in this Legislature.

It is my privilege to nominate Frank Chopp, my friend and colleague, for Speaker of the Washington State House of Representatives."

Representative Clements: "Thank you, Mr. Chief Clerk, members of the House of Representatives and distinguished guests. On this eighth day of January, 2001, history is in the making. For another two years the House will be governed by 49 members of each party, and the time has come to nominate our Speakers. It is my honor to nominate Clyde Ballard as our Speaker for the 49 Republican members who have been elected to serve by and for the citizenry of our great state.

I want you to know that Clyde always has emphasized civility when we are faced with serious political battles, partisan arguments or caucus rifts. He has a gentle way that holds people together - but there have been times when we all have tested him and his patience.

Clyde's first term as Speaker was in 1994. I am here to tell you incoming freshmen - especially Republican members - it was a wonderful time for us. However, some in the press reported it as an event similar to the Huns sacking Rome.

New Speaker Ballard kept reminding us that we freshman legislators should be disciplined enough to limit our introduction of new bills - thereby reducing the number of bills, which cost the state around $3,000 each for every "blue sheet." There were real or imagined consequences for not heeding his warnings.

In my mind's eye, you had a choice of three "Ballard disciplines." One was counting paper clips in the archives. The second was standing for an indeterminate amount of time outside Clyde's office, looking at my shoelaces. Or there was the one I selected: reading the House Journals and hoping not to be tested.

Having a nearly autographic memory when pressed, I remembered something I heard about Clyde's early days in the House, so I had our staff do a little research in the House Journals.

It is January 10, 1983, the very first day of session for Freshman Clyde Ballard. On that first day, Clyde signed on to a raft of bills. The first of those was House Bill 7, to create a "workfare" program for food stamp recipients. The intent was to teach work skills to recipients, encourage recipients to find regular employment and deter those who could work, but did not wish to do so, from participating in the food stamp program. Near as can be determined, shortly thereafter, the first bill Clyde prime-sponsored was HB 418. It dealt with improving markings for disabled parking spaces and implementing penalties for those who parked illegally in them. But 21 alas, as we were in the minority, neither this bill nor HB 7 made it out of committee.

Not only is Clyde a proven leader in our own state; his leadership goes beyond Washington. For the past two years he has been president and moderator of the annual Pacific Conference, where Speakers, Senators, Representatives and other officials from the Pacific Rim states gather to discuss similar problems and issues facing them. It was impressive to watch Clyde lead these conferences. With pride, I noted the great respect and trust these many Democrat and Republican elected officials had for Clyde. He planned and conducted meaningful, well-balanced programs and agendas that helped us all see the various issues and develop solutions for these challenges.

The latest conference, just last month, dealt with one main issue: energy shortages and a lack of capacity or new generation. Who thinks the Northwest region's 5 percent electricity generation capacity from the Snake River dams isn't important, now? That brings to mind the words uttered by an Alaska state senator when discussing environmentalist activities to impede construction of new power plants, and tear out the dams: he suggested allowing them to be the first to freeze in the dark.

At a conference of this nature, both the personal and professional side of Clyde is revealed. Ruth, Clyde's loving wife of 46 years, serves as his mentor; his immediate family and grandchildren are his retreat. I know he regrets not getting to spend as much time with his grandchildren as he would like, while on duty for our state. For that reason, we are going to do our best to wrap this session up in 105 days.

In the coming days, the reality of rising health care, energy costs, transportation funding and the political and financial impacts of the plethora of citizen-sponsored initiatives will be upon us. For that reason, I am confident the nomination of Clyde Ballard will prove to be one of the more significant nominations of a Speaker in the history of this state.

I think it is worth going back again to that day in 1983, when Clyde took his first oath of office and then-Speaker Wayne Ehlers made a couple of noteworthy observations. First, he pointed out that Washington was in the midst of its worst period of unemployment and business failures since the Great Depression. He also noted that because the state's economy had been going into a major tailspin every 10 years, it was time for the Legislature to develop a mechanism that triggered revenues to fund basic programs. And if revenues did unexpectedly increase, they could be channeled into a rainy-day reserve account - something that, in any case, should only be available for emergencies, not for new programs. He wanted to do this to avoid causing any special sessions. However, sine die of the regular 1983 session was followed by three special sessions - the last in September of that year.

Unlike 1983, western Washington today has the highest employment and best business atmosphere in the state's history. But like 1983, we do not have enough money. I guarantee the Governor, the Senate and my friends on the other side of the aisle, and even the press, will wonder whether this Chamber can keep a foothold on its collective political sanity as this session progresses.

John L. O'Brien, late of this Chamber, is the only other member to serve four consecutive terms as Speaker in this state. This puts Clyde in pretty exclusive company. I know Clyde has the experience and competence to navigate the storm we are about to enter and bring the ship of state to port on time and intact.

If I may, I would like to add a closing comment to Clyde on a more personal level. In the coming days, I fear at times we members of the Legislature and the public could be unreasonable in our demands and expect him to succeed where we would fail. And just remember, even an old porch dog knows the difference between being petted and being kicked. I want him to call me if he is not sure which one it is.

With great respect, I place the name of Clyde Ballard in nomination for Speaker of the House of Representatives."

MOTIONS

Representative Kessler moved that the nominations for the Office of Speaker of the House of Representatives be closed.

22 Representative Kessler moved that the rules be suspended, and that by a voice vote of the House, Representative Frank Chopp and Representative Clyde Ballard be elected to the positions of Speakers of the House of Representatives. The motion was carried.

Representatives Kessler and Clements escorted Speakers Frank Chopp and Clyde Ballard to the Rostrum.

Justice Johnson administered the Oath of Office to Speakers Chopp and Ballard.

Chief Clerks Martin and Zehnder turned the duel-headed gavel to the new Speakers.

Speaker Chopp: "Welcome to the people's House!

At the beginning of a new session in this House, it is entirely proper to remind ourselves of why we are here... and that it is to serve the people.

We begin our work this year much as we began two years ago, and last year too - with huge challenges ahead of us, and a 49-49 tie between us.

But there is one important difference. This year, we now know that there's a way to overcome this dilemma. We know it, because we've done it.

I remember the gloomy predictions of gridlock prior to the session two years ago, and again last year. And I remember with pride what we achieved:

We created the best state budget for public schools in 20 years!

We created the best worker-retraining system in the entire nation.

We created one of the first and best Patient's Bill of Rights in the nation.

We dedicated every penny of the historic tobacco settlement to health care and smoking prevention.

We nearly doubled funding for affordable housing for seniors, working families, the homeless, and for disabled people.

We created a Safe Food Initiative to help our farmers promote food products locally and abroad.

We pushed forward an Advanced Technology Initiative, harnessing our colleges and universities of higher learning, to move our state even faster into the high-tech economy.

And, we met the budget challenges from Initiative 695 without abandoning our values, without abandoning our ferries or public transit, and without abandoning the citizens who need our help just to survive.

Some of the leaders who helped solve last year's challenges are no longer with us. Just last night we received the very sad news about a great leader who will no longer be with us. We heard that our friend and colleague Pat Scott lost her long battle with cancer yesterday. We will miss Pat. We will miss her gentle humor. We will miss her devotion to children, We will miss her ability to work with everyone on both sides of the aisle. Pat is gone. But her spirit will live on. And I hope that we will all work together to carry on her gentle spirit in all we do.

But today we are welcoming newly elected Representatives, too. As we grapple this session with many familiar and some new problems, you, as new legislators, can provide a constructive new perspective. For those who've been here before, let us welcome our new colleagues.

The challenges we face this year are not any easier than those we worked through last year.

The education initiatives enacted by the people in November raise budget questions that we will have to work very hard to answer. But I don't regret those education initiatives. Many of us here have fought for stronger schools for years. Last legislative session, we made a down payment towards Initiative 728, when we passed the Better Schools Program. We hired more teachers to reduce class size, so that individual students got more individual attention.

Such an investment is needed to meet high standards for our students, our teachers, our principals, our school board members, and our communities.

I'm proud that the people --- with a 70 percent mandate --- demonstrated their support of what our Constitution says: public education is our paramount duty. The people of Washington value their public schools.

I want to honor the men and women who worked so hard on Initiative 728 to ensure stronger schools for our children and our future. Some of these leaders are with us today.

Let me introduce Elaine Von Rosenstiel, Jean Carpenter, and Russell Hartman. Please join me in recognizing their work. By the way, Rita was the President of the state-wide PTA, and Russell is on the School Board in Bremerton, where I grew up.

So this is probably a good time to introduce another important person, who was active in schools as a leader of the Bremerton PTA for over 20 years, and as a school cafeteria worker for many years. Would you please help me in recognizing my mom, Anne Chopp.

Also with me today is my wife, Nancy Long, and my daughter, Ellie Rosa, who's attends one of the best middle schools in the entire state, New Options Middle School. My son, Nate, who couldn't be here today, is a recent graduate of Western Washington University. As you can tell, I'm proud of my family. For a very good reason - they have inspired me to do my best - particularly for our schools. My parents always believed that the best way up and out of poverty is to get an education. My brother and two sisters became teachers. With us today is my brother Mel Chopp, who teaches math in Gig Harbor schools, coaches a volleyball team and who's joined today by his wife Ruth, my sister Anita Halstead-Robinson, and my sister Jo Anne Wilson, who's joined by her husband, Earl. Altogether, they have 111 years of teaching in our public schools in Washington State. That deserves a round of applause.

Just to keep some perspective about the challenges we face, imagine the challenges faced by teachers across our state. In fact, all across the state, from the Puget Sound to the Palouse, there are everyday heroes --- often unsung heroes - who are leading by example to make Washington a better place to live.

I feel deeply honored to introduce another of these heroes to you, a hero who has devoted her life to helping foster children in Washington. Some of you may not have heard the name Danielle Baxter before. But if you ask me, her name should be near the front page of Ripley's believe it or not! Because, during the past 15 years, Danielle Baxter has touched the lives, and helped to raise, five hundred and forty two foster kids in Washington. Five hundred and forty two - mostly hard-to-place teenagers! And we think we have challenges!

Danielle is here with two of her foster children. Please join me in welcoming them, and in honoring all that Danielle Baxter has done for Washington's kids. Danielle is a true hero. But even heroes like Danielle Baxter can't do all they do for Washington without help. And Washington's foster parents and foster kids definitely need more help from us now.

If we're really serious about not leaving any child behind, then we won't leave foster parents like Danielle Baxter behind, when we craft our budgets and policies this year. We cannot leave the poor, the sick, the homeless, the abused, or the disabled behind. Because fiscal responsibility means more than adding and subtracting numbers. It means making our resources and our values work together for all the people we serve.

Making values and resources work together is a specialty of the next hero I'd like to introduce. In an era of court battles and conflicts over salmon recovery, Dale Reiner and his family have shown us how to restore salmon habitat on a working farm. Working with local conservation groups and agencies along a stretch of Haskell Slough in Snohomish County, Dale's family and the Greenleaf family put together two miles of rearing and spawning habitat. Now, Dale is organizing farmers along an entire reach of the Skykomish River to develop a plan to protect salmon and preserve farms. Dale's family is no stranger to the river valley. His great-grandfather homesteaded in 1873. His family, like the salmon, is there for the long haul. His leadership is showing that farming and salmon can coexist, in harmony, not in conflict. If we're going to save our salmon and enhance rural economies - we must follow the lead of the Dale Reiners' of Washington. And for that he deserves our thanks and applause - Dale Reiner and family, true Washington heroes!

I've introduced these heroes to remind us that public service and leadership comes in many forms.

But the problems facing Washington today require more than individual acts of heroism. They require leadership from the legislature. The people need us to be the leaders we know we can be.

The people need our leadership on transportation. Traffic congestion is creating highway robbery - stealing time from our families and threatening our prosperity.

If we're going to solve the traffic gridlock, then we must avoid legislative gridlock. Washington can't move forward on transportation unless we move forward. And transportation does not just mean roads. It means ferries. It means transit. It means choices. And the people of Washington won't have good transportation choices in the future, if we fail to make good transportation choices now.

24 Another challenge we must address is energy. It's hard to believe --- clean, low-cost, and abundant energy has long been a vital part of Washington's heritage and prosperity. It has helped build industries, it has put the "e" in "e-commerce," and made our high-tech companies possible.

But lately we've seen workers laid off due to soaring energy costs. We've seen large increases in utility bills that many families cannot afford. Electricity costs have driven up the costs of business, and education, and health care, and government services of every kind.

The only good news in this crisis is that we are not California! Thank God we blocked California-style deregulation when it was attempted here in this House!

But if we're going to do our part to solve the energy crisis, we can't just pray for rain.

We must conserve energy today and build more capacity for tomorrow. We need a balanced energy policy that also includes renewable energy. Washington has prospered by energetic leadership in energy. Leaders like Warren Magnuson and Scoop Jackson led the way to protect Washington's reliable and abundant power. Like them, we must work together for the sake of all Washington.

"Working together for One Washington" has been the guiding principle of House Democrats for the past two years. Today, we renew our commitment to work for all of Washington. Each of you was motivated to come here to do the people's work, by someone who inspired you. I'd like each of you to think back to whoever inspires you - whether it was your Mom or Dad, a son or daughter, a brother or sister, your teacher or co-worker, or a local or national leader.

If we are to meet the daunting challenges before us, we're going to need to be inspired. Let's get inspired! Let's get to work!

Thank you very much."

Speaker Ballard: "Ladies and gentlemen of the House . . . colleagues . . . friends . . . and loved ones - thank you for this honor.

I'm pleased to have this chance to stand in service of this institution and the people of this great state. My pledge to you is to do my best to serve you with distinction and humility. From this vantage point, one never loses appreciation for the duty that is bestowed upon us. It is one of great magnitude - for we make history every day - and from where I stand, I see only the sincerity of the people who sit here with me and the vision of the things we can accomplish.

This perspective is as awesome today as it was six years ago. And serving in this institution is as great an honor as it was when I was first sworn in back in 1983. And thanks, Representative Clements, for reminding us all just how long ago that was.

However, there are those out there in the real world who do not see things from my vantage point. The citizens are weary of the political process . . . and having just endured the longest election season in our history has only deepened their distrust.

We owe them a reprieve from the negative tone of the past six months. They are looking for us to lead them through a transition . . . to move beyond the bitterness . . . toward a path that leads to constructive compromise.

We all fought hard. But my friends, it is time to put the disappointments and frustrations of the election behind us. We must change the tone . . . unite together . . . and turn our attention to the needs of the people.

Polls, pregnant chads and party labels don't matter to them. What matters to them are the jobs that they need to keep in order to support their families . . . What matters to them are their family budgets that are being threatened by skyrocketing energy costs and property taxes . . . What matters to them is getting out of the traffic so they can get home to hug their children. These are the issues we must unite together to address.

We've had a tremendous run of prosperity in some of our state, particularly in the Puget Sound Region. But for the first time in nearly a decade, we see signs of a softening economy. These are red flags waving before us and we must respond.

First is the rising cost of energy. Make no mistake. We are facing a crisis . . . one that already is forcing manufacturers to scale back and causing workers to lose jobs. Businesses have been feeling the effects, but now households are too. Local utilities across the state are imposing enormous surcharges that will increase home energy bills, some by 50 percent or more. Just think what these increases will mean to those who live on fixed incomes. This energy crisis is taking money out of our household budgets and out of our economy and sending it out of our state. 25

To ease this burden, we need to clear a regulatory path that will encourage new generation facilities to be developed to meet our state's energy needs. And we need to take immediate action to encourage consumers and businesses to conserve more energy until we can safely meet the demand.

Our economy and our quality of life are at stake. Citizens are also worried about the rising cost of health care. The cost of keeping our families healthy is rising much faster than personal income. Employers, faced with rising premiums, are asking their workers to pay more out-of-pocket or they're being forced to lay people off altogether. The inflation of health care is putting families and jobs at risk.

And finally, we have, at least for the time being, reached the edge of the dot-com frontier. I have no doubt that this industry will once again flourish. But for now, the hope of the new economy has met with the realities of the old . . . and for the first time we are finding that this industry's potential to grow the prosperity of our region has limits.

I am especially concerned for those who have not shared in the economic success of the last few years. Our rural communities, who have waited for the promise of economic boom, have yet to see it.

The people who live in these communities have benefited the least from our state's economic growth, yet they stand to suffer the most if we allow the burdens of an economic downturn to weigh on them.

Of course, we will only add to these economic consequences if we do not immediately address our pressing transportation needs. We need to get people and products moving safely on our highways again.

The time for analysis has past. We know our roads and ferries are in need of expansion and repair. We've known it for years.

We also know that citizens are not in a mood for higher taxes until they are certain that we are using every available dollar as efficiently as we can. That should be our goal this session, as we embark on a long-term plan to improve our state's transportation system. It must be a plan void of political turf wars and one that we can take to the people and say, "this will make our roads safer, our economy stronger and get us home to our families sooner at the end of each day."

And finally, parents want to know that schools are safe and that their children are being prepared for our 21st Century. That means having quality teachers in our classrooms and greater accountability in our schools.

We have worked hard to set higher standards in our schools and increase the expectations of our students.

Some are responding with improved scores and performance. Some still need help. Now is not the time to abandon our efforts.

We must re-dedicate ourselves to reaching these standards, giving teachers the tools to improve learning, and giving parents greater control over their children's education by providing choice and accountability.

These are the issues that matter to real people. They've had their fill of politics. They are hungry for solutions . . . and they are eager for leadership.

The tools for success lay before us. In this Chamber is the experience and the capacity to make the lives of ordinary people better. We need only the resolve to work together to make it happen.

Yes, we are Democrats and Republicans, but we are first and foremost public servants. And we shouldn't listen to the naysayers, those who forecast chaos and legislative gridlock. Two years ago, we heard similar predictions. The so-called "pundits" said a House with 49 Republicans and 49 Democrats couldn't function. And while I admit it was difficult – even maddening – at times, we proved them wrong.

Last year, we passed historic legislation to bring private health insurance back to the people of Washington . . . We passed a Patients' Bill of Rights . . . We responded to the challenges of Initiative 695 so that important local services could be maintained and the citizens could have meaningful tax relief. And we did all of this in a completely bipartisan fashion.

We showed everyone that a House tied at 49 to 49 can work. This year, let's show them how a House tied at 49 to 49 can work wonders. If we again use our circumstance to work together, the citizens of this state will see the greatness that I see before me.

There's an old proverb that says you should greet the sun twice each day . . . once as though it was the first time you've ever seen it . . . and once as though it will be the last time you'll ever see it. I challenge you to forget what you know about the political process. Come each day with a new admiration for our purpose and leave with renewed appreciation for those who elected us to serve.

26 If we can't see the wonder and significance of this job, how can we expect others to see it?
If we envision great things, we can get them done . . . and we can get them done in 105 days.
I predict this will be a session like no other. We will make history – not as a House evenly divided, but as a House united like none before.
Thank you and God bless the citizens of Washington state."

ELECTION OF THE SPEAKERS PRO TEMPORE

Representative Sump: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise to nominate Representative John Pennington for Speaker Pro Tempore. I think back over the four years I've been in this body, and as I have watched this young man hone his skills. He certainly has the technical ability. And he understands the function of this House. But even more, he has the respect of the dignity of this House and he will preserve that dignity. He will treat the members fairly. He understands the process of this House must be held to the highest standards. As Speaker Pro Tempore, God forgive, he might need to fill the breach on either side of the aisle. We pray that might never happen. But either one of our Speakers Pro Tempore must be of that caliber. They have to be of that dignity, they have to have that intellectual capability to function. Representative John Pennington possesses all of the attributes. He is fair, he understands the process, he is a man of integrity – all of these are attributes of a leader and we need this in our State and we need this in the institution. This institution must never fail. This institution is larger than any of us here. And we must have leaders that understand that. And Representative John Pennington will do that job for us. And I urge you to vote for Representative John Pennington as Republican Speaker Pro Tem. Thank you."

Representative Fromhold: "I would like to nominate Representative Val Ogden from the 49th District for the position of Speaker Pro Tempore.

I am proud to speak on her behalf. She is my friend, mentor, and the highly respected senior member of our Southwest Washington delegation.

Representative Ogden is starting her sixth term in the House of Representatives. As you know, she is a very effective member of this body. Most importantly, in our community, Representative Ogden is recognized for her leadership and involvement. She is the former Executive Director of the Clark County YWCA. Her community activities including being a board member of the Council for the Homeless, Clark County Mental Health Advisory Board and the Human Services Council. Nationally, she serves on the Executive Committee for the National Conference of State Legislatures and she is President of the National Order of Women Legislators.

Her honors and awards are extensive. Her recognition for those honors and positions is due to her fairness, integrity, and intelligence - all qualities she will bring to bear as the Speaker Pro Tempore of this House of Representatives.

She garners bi-partisan respect and support not only at home in the 49th District but also among this entire body. I ask for your support for her candidacy for Speaker Pro Tempore."

MOTIONS

Representative Kessler moved that the nominations for the Office of Speakers Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives be closed.

Representative Kessler moved that the rules be suspended, and that by a voice vote of the House, Representative John Pennington and Representative Val Ogden be elected to the positions of Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives. The motion was carried.

Speaker Chopp appointed Representatives Sump and Fromhold to escort Representatives Pennington and Ogden to the Rostrum.

Justice Johnson administered the Oath of Office to Representatives Pennington and Ogden.

Speaker Pro Tempore Pennington: "Justice Johnson, Speakers Ballard and Chopp, Speaker Pro Tempore Ogden, distinguished members and colleagues of this 57th House of Representatives, again I humbly thank you for the honor and trust you have placed in me.

This has been a remarkable year and incredible beginning to a new millennium. And as we stand at the crossroads of legislative time, we find ourselves eyewitnesses of the most extraordinary events in recent American and state history.

We have watched firsthand as the basic fabric of our American Republic has been stretched to its very limit. And although we may have disagreed... philosophically, politically, even geographically...we manage as a society so often to set aside those deep seeded differences in time of need. We now face such a time.

Most of us within the confines of this Chamber have experienced once...some twice... an equally divided House. And perhaps the greatest lesson we have learned is that there is a significant difference between politics and governing.

We managed, albeit through some rough terrain over the past two years, to... be in the end... good governors. Perhaps this is the appropriate time to invite U. S. Senators Lott and Daschle out to the Pacific Northwest for a good cup of coffee and a great discussion on how to make it work. Political purgatory, as I have often termed it, isn't as bad as it appears if we work together. I believe that those critics who have watched us from the outside have equally marveled at our abilities to adapt to the unique circumstances we faced in the past and will live under for the next several months.

As our nation has survived a civil war, two world wars and a great depression, I stand here quite confident that we'll survive the political turmoil of this past year... and the rough terrain we may sometimes face in the divided House again this year.

We have a long-standing tradition of rising to the occasion when so few believe we can. Our House is the People's House. It is diverse and colorful, full of spirited... but tempered... debate. And it is, I hope you can agree, where Washington State's legislative miracles can and do happen. It is perhaps the only place in this state where those from Omak cross tracks with those from the University District... intentionally.

Those in our very differing districts have faith that we will, at least, try to cross those paths and work together again. We have proven that we can; I am confident that we will.

As I have for previous years from this rostrum, I remind us that all we have in the great institution is our integrity ... for ourselves and those that we represent ... once it is lost or broken, it may never be retrieved.

Thanks you and God bless our state and nation."

Speaker Pro Tempore Ogden: "Thank you. Thank you Bill for nominating me. I am honored to again serve as Speaker Pro Tempore, and to again share this responsibility with my colleague, Representative John Pennington.

I am especially pleased to have my family here with me today to share in this significant occasion. Here with me are my daughter, Jan Martin, from Helena, Montana; my daughter Patti Hunter and granddaughter Emily from Spokane; and my son Dan, his wife Carrol, and my two grandchildren Nikki and Chris from Issaquah; and my husband Dan. As we try to fulfill our duties as legislators, the support of our families is very important. I believe that it is appropriate, as I recognize my family, that I also recognize all families who make it possible for us to do our job. Please join me in giving them a heartfelt thank you.

January is a significant month, as legislators all over the country are convening and swearing in their legislators. Congress and the President of the United States will also be sworn in. I can remember 40 years ago, I stood on the steps of our nation's capital in bitter cold to watch as a young president was sworn in. President Kennedy said that day, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but ask what you can do for your country." He asked for a recommitment to public service as an honorable and esteemed value in our society. Today that commitment is still relevant. Nationally there is concern as to the preservation of our form of representative government. Efforts are being made in every state to build trust between constituents and their elected representatives. We have a unique opportunity as we enter, as some say, the real beginning of the new millennium, to demonstrate the working partnerships this body will have as we meet the challenges of this next session.

It is often helpful to get a little perspective by learning of the challenges of some of our earlier legislators. John Greenleaf Whittier, the great American poet, served in the Massachusetts Legislature in 1830.

It was observed that his interests seldom made him blindly partisan. Nearly always he esteemed ability and character, the commitment to public service, above mere loyalty to party, always men above measure. In an editorial he wrote, he stated, "It is the duty of every politician, who has the good of his country at heart, to make an honorable stand against partisanship, evincing in his own example, a just and impartial discrimination in regard to men and measures. Of what consequence is it to an American citizen, whether a measure is proposed, or a speech made by a Democrat or Republican." I have paraphrased his conclusion. He implied, "The ultimate test is, is it good public policy?"

I would like to conclude by sharing with you the Millennium Resolution from the Christian Churches of Scotland. "Let there be... respect for the earth, peace for its people, love in our lives, delight in the good, forgiveness for past wrongs, and from now on, a new start."

Thank you."

ELECTION OF CO-CHIEF CLERKS

Representative Pennington: Tim Martin's first session was nearly twenty years ago as an intern. He is here today as one of the Legislature's most experienced professionals.

Few people have earned the respect – from Republicans and Democrats alike, Senators and Representatives alike – that Tim has. He is recognized both in our state and in other states for his understanding of, and commitment to, legislative processes and institutions and for his commitment to bringing citizens closer to the democratic process.

He came to the House at a unique point in our history, at a time of great challenge for this institution. We faced employee lawsuits and dwindling morale from within – and bruised and fractured public trust from without.

From the outset, Tim set out to work evenhandedly for all 98 members of the House. He worked to see that House administration is not used to benefit one party or another. But to ensure the workplace for staff was characterized by mutual support and respect, regardless of ideology or philosophical bend.

He rallied us to adopt a framework for positive action to counter public cynicism and to rebuild public trust. He worked with members of both parties to craft the "Access to Government Initiative", a multi-part agenda to enhance public education about the legislature and utilize emerging technology to reach the public. The Access to Government Initiative is now a national model.

Many of the tools we now take for granted made their way into this House through the Access to Government Initiative – member laptops, enhanced information on the Internet, model school curricula and training tools on the legislature.

Tim shies from taking personal credit for our advances; he is quick to credit the efforts of House members and staff. Clearly, adoption and implementation of the Access to Government Initiative was a team effort – but there is no doubt that Tim was our coach. We recognize it... legislative academics recognize it.

When we look at votes on our state-of-the-art voting system, when we use our Chamber Information System to access bills and amendments, and when we think of the legislative information that citizens access today that they couldn't before Tim arrived, we realize we have a real leader as an administrator.

Often I speak with pride about this institution, and with a recognition that Tim Martin has focused us on institutional integrity – and what that focus has meant so much to me and to my constituents.

I believe that we have been highly successful – at the very least earnest – in our work to regain and enhance public trust. But more than that, we have affected the institutional mind set by setting a framework for decision-making in a time of institutional change. For that, I believe that Tim deserves our gratitude for his efforts.

My nomination for him stems from my belief that he will use this position once again to further efforts on all our behalf. He will work tirelessly – as he has for the past six years – to ensure that the 98 members of the House – regardless of party – have the tools we need to meet our legislative goals and the needs of our constituents.

With a distinct pride, Mr. Speaker, I nominate Chief Clerk Tim Martin to another term serving the people of Washington State (taxpayers)."

Representative Ogden: "Mr. Speaker, I nominate Ms. Cindy Zehnder as Chief Clerk of the Washington State House of Representatives.

The clerk carries many important responsibilities as manager of the operations of the House. This includes administrative and committee support staff, budget, security and facilities.

Cindy brings unique capabilities to this position, having served us well the past year and a half:

She has demonstrated leadership in management and labor issues,

She has proven ability to unite divergent interests around a common program, and extensive negotiation experience in both the public and private sectors, with in-depth knowledge of media and public relations,

She is a skilled public speaker and writer, and finally,

She has experience in managing large organizations, with particular strength in strategic planning, information technology, and continuous quality improvement.

I am proud to support the nomination of Cindy Zehnder as Co-Clerk of the House and ask for your vote. Thank you."

MOTIONS

Representative Mastin moved the nominations for Chief Clerk by closed. The motion carried.

Representative Mastin moved that the rules be suspended and that by voice vote, Cynthia Zehnder and Timothy Martin be elected as Chief Clerks of the House. The motion carried.

Speaker Ballard asked Representatives Ogden and Pennington escort Cynthia Zehnder and Timothy Martin to the Rostrum.

Justice Johnson administered the Oath of Office to Cynthia Zehnder and Timothy Martin.

Chief Clerk Cynthia Zehnder: "Thank you for the opportunity to serve as your Chief Clerk.

The last two years have been full of challenges, and if I may, Mr. Speaker, I would like to acknowledge the wonderful staff of the House whose hard work and dedication have made it possible for all of us to succeed.

In particular, I would like to thank our Deputy Chief Clerks whose tireless efforts and endless good will have carried us through a multitude of crises.

I also want to thank my partner Tim Martin. It hasn't always been easy, but somehow we have managed to each day get the work of the House accomplished due in no small part to his dedication to this institution.

Finally, I want to express my appreciation to all of you. Your commitment, your energy and your extraordinary dedication to the public good make it all worthwhile.

Thank you."

Chief Clerk Timothy Martin: "Thank you, Cindy; Speaker Ballard; Speaker Chopp and members. What an honor to have Secretary of State Ralph Munro swear me in. That was unexpected. And thank you to Co-Speaker John Pennington for your kind and generous words.

This is my fourth trip to rostrum to make these remarks and each trip is a little more humbling than the one before. Because while I have the honor to stand before you today, I am only one of a much, much larger team of very skilled employees who dedicate their lives to public service through service to you. I know that each member of House staff and our other Legislative agencies, is as proud of his or her work as I am of mine. I know that each member of staff values the same professional relationships with you as I do. I wish there was more room and more time for each one of my colleagues to stand before you and publicly accept the trust you have placed in them as legislative employees. On their behalf and on mine, I thank you for the honor and privilege of working here.

Finally, no moment in the sun would be complete without acknowledgment of family. So I must take a moment to thank my boys, Max and Gust for being my best friends, and to thank my wife, Kim Martin for taking 30re of the three of us. And thanks to Mom and Dad for being here once more. And thank you Mrs. Kochaniewitz for being here for our very able reader, Sean.

Congratulations to all of you, and thank you for your trust and support.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2001-4602 by Representatives Kessler and Mastin

WHEREAS, Washington State has used a blanket primary system to nominate candidates for partisan elective offices since the Legislature enacted Initiative to the Legislature No. 2 in 1935; and

WHEREAS, The United States Supreme Court held, in California Democratic Party et al. v. Jones, 530 U.S. . . ., 120 S.Ct 2402, (No. 99-401, June 26, 2000), that the blanket primary system in the State of California was an unconstitutional violation of a political party's First Amendment right of association; and

WHEREAS, The Washington State blanket primary system closely resembles the California State blanket primary system; and

WHEREAS, The United States District Court, Western District of Washington at Tacoma, issued a preliminary injunction on July 20, 2000, prohibiting the State of Washington from conducting primaries for the Democratic and Republican Parties after 2000 in which voters other than those authorized by a party are permitted to participate in that party's primary; and

WHEREAS, The District Court directed the Democratic and Republican Parties to submit proposed permanent injunctions by March 1, 2001, to protect their rights concerning primaries for partisan elective offices in Washington State, and the Secretary of State to file a response to these proposals shortly thereafter;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives establishes a select committee on elections to consider and develop legislation on conducting primaries for partisan elective offices in this state, along with any other election matters referred to the committee, and report legislation on these subjects out of committee with all the powers and duties of a standing committee of the house; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the committee will consist of eight members, four Republican and four Democratic; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the committee will cease to exist on December 31, 2001.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have set my hand and affixed the official seal of the state of Washington, this 7th day of December 2000.

RALPH MUNRO
Secretary of State

In view of the election results, certified to by the Secretary of State, and to which there have been no protests, the Joint Session declared the following qualified citizens to be elected the constitutional elected officials for the State of Washington:***

Gary Locke	Governor
Brad Owen	Lieutenant Governor
Sam Reed	Secretary of State
Mike Murphy	State Treasurer
Brian Sonntag	State Auditor
Christine Gregoire	Attorney General
Terry Bergeson	Superintendent of Public Instruction
Doug Sutherland	Commissioner of Public Lands
Mike Kreidler	Insurance Commissioner

Speaker Chopp called upon President of the Senate Brad Owen to preside over the Joint Session.

The President appointed a special committee to escort the Supreme Court Justices from the State Reception Room to the House Chamber: Representatives Carrell, Hatfield, Lantz and Pearson and Senators Constantine, Kline, Sheahan and Zarelli.

The President appointed a special committee to escort the statewide elected officials from the State Reception Room to the House Chamber: Representatives Edmonds, Hunt, Morell and Schmidt and Senators Costa, Oke, Roach and T. Sheldon.

The President appointed a special committee to escort the statewide elected officials and honoree from the State Reception Room to the House Chamber: Representatives Ballasiotes and Veloria and Senators Honeyford and Prentice.

The President appointed a special committee to advise Governor Gary Locke that the Joint Session had assembled and to escort him from his chamber to the House Chamber: Representatives Armstrong and Linville and Senators Deccio and Eide.

The Supreme Court Justices arrived, were escorted to the floor of the House Chamber and were introduced: Chief Justice Gerry L. Alexander and Justices Charles W. Johnson, Richard B. Sanders, Faith Ireland, Bobbe J. Bridge, Tom Chambers and Susan J. Owens.

The statewide elected officials arrived, were escorted to the floor of the House and were introduced: State Treasurer Mike Murphy, State Auditor Brian Sonntag, State Attorney General Christine O. Gregoire, and Superintendent of Public Instruction Terry Bergeson. The statewide elected officials-elect were introduced: Secretary of State-elect Sam Reed, Commissioner of Public Lands-elect Doug Sutherland and Insurance Commissioner-elect Mike Kreidler.

The Governor arrived, was escorted to the Rostrum of the House and was introduced.

The statewide elected officials and honoree arrived, were escorted to the Rostrum of the House and were introduced: Secretary of State Ralph Munro, Commissioner of Public Lands Jennifer Belcher and Insurance Commissioner Deborah Senn, and Representative Renee Radcliff.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms Color Guard, Pages Kyle Ritter and Tyler Seick.

Prayer was offered by Mr. Joe Harris, Chief Financial Officer, St. Vincent De Paul, Seattle.

Mr. Harris: "Lord, you have called us to a unique vocation, that of service to your people in Washington State. Grant us patience to listen carefully to every request for help. Give us also wisdom to seek just solutions to the problems affecting our community.

And, finally, show us the meaning of humility that we may know that successes and failures as defined by the standards of the world are sometimes only an exercise in vanity. We ask for this help in the name of the Lord, Amen."

Speaker Ballard: "It is with great sadness that we say goodbye temporarily to a distinguished colleague Representative Renee Radcliff. Renee has served her constituents in this institution with honor and dignity. She raised the level of esteem for public service. In her own way, she has touched each of us and leaves a lasting mark on this institution by setting high standards for herself and all of us as law makers. We owe a great deal of thanks to Renee Radcliff for her years of dedicated service in Olympia. We will miss her thoughtful leadership and her kind manner. She has been a model legislator. Each of us would do well to conduct the business of our offices with the same strong compassionate approach that has made her such an effective voice for her constituents. We will miss her warm demeanor and her great singing voice. I asked her to help me with my singing. She listened briefly. She said 'I don't mind the difficult but I can't handle the impossible.' We will miss her great sense of humor. We will lose her as a colleague but never as a friend. And I hope she will accept this invitation to be here to spend time with us, to counsel us, and to laugh with us whenever she wishes to bless us with her presence.

You are welcome back anytime, Renee. Perhaps the only consolation that I have is that I know she has the desire and the strength to return to us someday as a legislator. You, I and the people of this State can look forward to a day when she will serve in this body once again.

Renee, we love you and God's speed."

Representative Renee Radcliff: "Speaker Ballard told me I had to open this and it's quite heavy. And it's from Talcotts. I was hoping it was a diamond; it's very large. I've got a hunch it's a paper weight. It's the seal of the State of Washington and a beautiful paper weight – thank you so much and thank you for your kind remarks, Speaker Ballard. I knew I should have prepared remarks and I didn't.

Until very recently I thought I would serve in this chamber forever or at least until I'm as old as Speaker Ballard. You know, he can't take me off any committee at this point.

Sometimes life deals us a hand that we are not entirely prepared to play but we take those cards and we play them to the best of our ability. And even at times when the game is painful and difficult, we still play to win. Those of you who know me best, know that ultimately I never lose. And so it is with difficult that I leave you. But I do hope that some day I'll be able to return. I have thoroughly enjoyed serving with each and every one of you, and even on those days when we had vigorous disagreements, I never doubted for a moment that you had the best interest of the people of your districts at heart. I value that in you. If there is just one thing I could leave you with – and I would like to leave you with a thousand things but this is not an opportunity for me to lobby you – but just one thing, if you are having some of those vigorous disagreements, work those issues out because those tend to be the most important things we do. But as you work those issues diligently remember who you are dealing with and that each one of you represents the people of this State. Treat each other with the kindness, the dignity and the respect that each one of you so richly deserves.

In closing, I want to say thank you to the House Republican Caucus, to Speaker Ballard and to my Legislative Assistant Nian Fakkema. Thank you to all of you for putting up with me – some days that was the greatest challenge of them all. And I appreciate it. To each one of you thank you for your friendship. I hope that even though I'm not here, you'll know that my heart is here with you. That friendship will continue. Especially, thank you so much for so thoughtfully representing the people of your district and for caring so much about this State that we all love.

Thank you and do good work."

Representative Shay Schual Berke: "It is a distinct privilege for me to have the honor to say thank you to Deborah Senn. For all the dedication and service that you have given to the people of this State of Washington. Deborah, you are talented and bright. You have always championed the people.

Deborah's commitment to fairness and justice shines thorough her every action and has for every moment she's been in public service. We know that Deborah has transformed the Office of the Insurance Commissioner from a little known agency, quietly working with the insurance industry into a strong and an effective consumer advocacy agency that has been there for our people when they have most needed it. And thanks to her vision and effort, every one knows they can call the SHEBA hotline when they need to. She has worked for the vulnerable and to create meaningful solutions for them – solutions which will continue. This is Deborah Senn's real gift and her legacy to us – the people of the State of Washington.

Her instinct has always been for how real people feel the effects of what we do. One of my most moving experiences as a freshman legislator was when I met a young woman who had had a heart transplant. It is not difficult to imagine how sick that young woman must have been but she survived her surgery and was doing well thanks to life sustaining medication. I met her though after her insurance company denied continued coverage for that medication, and despite the fact that she had done everything she could for herself, I met her because Deborah Senn and her office intervened for this young woman. She got her coverage continued for her medication and today Victoria is healthy and vibrant. There are so many others who have Deborah and her good work to thank for their continued well being.

I know in the short time that I've known Deborah Senn, I've come to realize she can also surprise us. Many have come to expect to see her riding her Harley in black leather at a parade and she certainly hasn't shied away from the press or publicity, now has she? I heard a story when I first got here about then Representative Phil Dyer introducing a bill that some felt was just a little bit favorable for the insurance industries and how Commissioner Senn held a press conference with bags of gravy train dog food at her door.

Well, Deborah is also committed to family like all of us. She has many sides and despite all of her hard work, she spends much time with her mother.

She is a ardent advocate of fairness and justice. We know that many people have opinions but relatively few step up to the plate to take action. A personally relevant example from this past session was when Deborah championed Holocaust survivors' right to get the insurance assets that been withheld from them for so many years. If her style has at times been controversial – well that's what people that fight for our rights sometime need to be. There are many people in Washington that are alive today because Deborah Senn was fighting in their corner, in their time of need and today feel a tremendous sense of lost.

Now, Deborah, I would like to tell you what I think your true legacy is, and for which we all owe a great debt of gratitude – never again will the Office of the Insurance Commissioner be seen as the quiet agency working only with the insurance industries. Never again will consumers feel that they have nowhere to turn in their time of need. Never again will we have an insurance commissioner who does not believe that he or she is the true champion of all the people of the State of Washington. So for myself personally, and on behalf of the Legislature and all those out there grateful for the good work that will endure, I thank you, Deborah Senn."

Insurance Commissioner Deborah Senn: "Thank you, Shay. Thank you, members of the Legislature and State elected officials, and Governor Locke. I'm so honored to be here. I was going to wear my leather but I didn't think it was suitable until I saw Ralph's tartan. So I'm kind of sorry that I didn't wear my leather outfit like I had planned.

I want to start by asking my chief deputy and members of my staff who have come to be here today to stand and be recognized because this is the most awesome staff in State Government. So please stand up. I love you guys.

Also, everyone in this room knows how hard political life is on a spouse or partner. They are truly the unsung heroes of politics. They share your joys and highs but they also suffers your blows and your stress. They are very patient about the countless hours of out of town meetings in which you're missing in action. About sixteen years ago, I had a big wedding reception but we held the ceremony in private because I was too shy to get married in front of people. Well I'm over my shyness. So I want to, in front of all of you, recognize and say thank you, my incredible husband Rudy Burch, and tell you I love him so much.

Thank you, this has been the best eight years of my life and I know that everyday because when I'm in a restaurant in Seattle, the waiter comes up to me and says our rules limiting preexisting conditions enabled him to get health insurance. And I know that everyday because just last week at Cosco, a meat cutter stuck her head out from behind the counter and thanked me for my work on prescription drug coverage. I know that because at the Ellenberg's rodeo, one of the one hundred thousand Prudential policy holders came up to me and said thank you, that Prudential gave $13,000 in a refund because of the settlement on the case on unfair sales practices. I know that everyday because Kim was able to rebuild the home her spouse blew up and was able to do it with her home owners insurance money because of the work of my great staff and because the Legislature passed a good law. And perhaps the greatest satisfaction is to know my staff and I have been part of saving a life. The scriptures tell you that if you save one life, you save the world. I am proud everyday that we fought to continue the coverage that Shay mentioned of Victoria Dole's heart transplant medicine. We also fought to get Jay Ellison's stem cell transplant for his multiple sclerosis coverage and now he is walking. Both Jay & Victoria in spite of their struggle, came Olympia to advocate for patients bill of rights. They came today so please recognize Jay Ellison and Victoria Dole because it was you – the Legislature, Jay and Victoria – who did this for the people of the State of Washington.

So the next time you hear about a poll that says young people don't want to go into politics or public service, just remember they are young, just shrug and remind them that public service is a sacred trust. So when you pass transportation this session, which will no doubt make our roads safer, you will save one life and will save the world and when you pass the DSHS budget and help children or a bill to protect our resources or to save our salmon, you will have saved one life and you will save the world. What you do here in this Chamber is a sacred trust.

Finally on a personal note – perhaps one of the proudest moments of this eight years was when this Legislature unanimously passed the Holocaust Survivors Assistant Act. I thank you Senators Margarita

Prentice, Adam Kline, Jim West, Don Benton. I thank you Representatives Shay Schual-Berke, Renee Radcliff, Sharon Tomiko Santos and Brad Benson. And many others.

So I bid you farewell. But of the four us honored today, my departure from public service is not entirely voluntary. Yesterday one of my staff suggested that I quote a very wise man Arnold Schwarzeneger 'I'll be back'. I thank you from the bottom of my heart."

Senator Karen Fraser: "Thank you. It is my honor to recognize Commissioner of Public Lands Jennifer Belcher.

As we gather here in the House Chamber today in joint session, I suspect Public Land Commissioner Jennifer Belcher's thoughts must be filled with many memories and a lot of nostalgia – in part because she began her elected career in this chamber as a member of the House of Representatives. Her service began in 1983 and she served five consecutive terms; that's ten vigorous years. I was privileged to serve with her during my first two terms and her last two terms, along with Insurance Commissioner-elect Mike Kreidler who at that time was State Senator. I always appreciated her kind and informative assistance in helping me to learn the ways of the House and the Legislature. All who have been here know how important it is to get some good advice early on.

In the House, Representative Belcher was widely admired for her strong capable leadership. She made a major mark on many policy areas. She chaired the Natural Resources Committee; she worked hard to improve the status of women; she sought fair pay and just treatment for all working people; and she was one of the 'Steel Magnolias' that developed the foundation for our growth management policies.

Representative Belcher was highly regarded for her caring, her commitment to public service and as a tough negotiator. She has always been dedicated to the voters who recognized her enormous capabilities and elected her twice to serve as Commissioner of Public Land. She continued to demonstrate these qualities in addition to showing what a capable executive she is.

In the role of Public Lands Commissioner, for those who are watching this ceremony who are not as familiar with it as some of us, it is truly a position of very great public trust for present and future generations. The impact of her work will last a century or more. Her role is critical to our state's economy, the quality of our natural resources, our state's financial capacity and continuation of our recreational and cultural heritage. As Commissioner of Public Lands, she been the manager of our great state's legacy of trust lands and resources granted to us at Statehood. We are one of the few western states that continues to have a large amount of these lands still in the public trust. These lands include timber lands, agricultural lands, aquatic lands which includes the bottom of Puget Sound and the bottom of many of our lakes and rivers, and she was entrusted with leadership on forest practices policies. As we all know there no shortage of divers and strongly held opinions on what should be contained in all these complex policies. So it takes a head and firm commitment to serve effectively in this role which she has certainly done and this is in the easiest of times.

During her tenure, we have gone through a period of considerable change in our State. The context has included very great population growth, significant economic change, growing stress on our natural resources which has culminated in many listings under the Endangered Species Act.

So Commissioner Belcher will be remembered for much during her 8-year two-term tenure as Commissioner of Public Lands. She has promoted a shared vision for natural resources. She is very good at establishing goals and working through strategies to implement them. She has promoted the management of our ecosystems as a whole, not just piece meal which is essential to good judgement. She has worked to enhance the value of our public lands legacy through diversification. She has increased the priority attention given to our aquatic land resources and particularly to some of the pollution problems. She has promoted quality public administration through investing in a quality work force, in efficiency through technology and use of best available science.

Absolutely vital to success is her work to forge strong partnerships between the Department of Natural Resources and a myriad of local, state and federal agencies, tribal and private organizations, and land owners throughout the State. And through all this, she has served with intelligence, integrity and a steady commitment to the public interest for which we can all be proud and appreciative. So, Jennifer, we thank you for your truly dedicated leadership to the people of the State of Washington – present and future. Thank you for the great legacy you are leaving and personally thank you for being a wonderful colleague and friend. And we wish pleasant opportunities to engage in your many personal interest now that you will have a little more personal time. We would like to present you with a wonderful gift which is a replica of the historic door knob from in the Legislative Building. We hope you will view this as an invitation to come visit."

Commissioner of Public Lands Jennifer Belcher: "Thank you. This is a particularly appropriate gift since I serve on the State Capital Committee and have been actively engaged in helping to get these buildings back into some greater condition. So I will truly treasure this.

Ladies and gentleman, honored guests and my treasured colleagues – it is with distinct pleasure, that only those of you in this room can truly understand, that I can say in this chamber today I am '29 years of public service to the State of Washington' old. Or as a really good friend of mine said "you finally reached where the State of Washington will pay you to do nothing." I like that definition of retirement. I think that's very good.

I have had a wonderfully varied career, as Karen pointed some of the things out. I began as an administrative secretary in what was then known as the State Planning and Community Affairs Agency. I was working for Dan Evans' State Planning Director who had been brought to the State of Washington to try to adopt a statewide land use plan in 1967. Ironically while he was not successful then, a little more than twenty years later I was one of the members of this body who helped to pass a growth management act and for me it brought things full circle. I very much appreciated my opportunity to participate in creating that act.

I served as staff to two very different Governors, Dan Evans and Dixie Lee Ray. And learned a lot from both of those people, different lessons but a lot from each one. It was there that I met my very good friend Ralph Munro who has continued to be a mentor to me and has helped me to achieve many successes.

For ten years, I was fortunate to represent the people from the 22nd in this Chamber and to work on many important policy changes. My class of 1982 has given the State two speakers of this House, several judges, a governor and a commissioner of Public Lands. My time in this body was especially rewarding. I will never forget the thrill of taking that first oath of office and being sworn in to serve the people. It is an incredible experience nor the thrill of adopting good policy. In the ten years, I was here we adopted the Growth Management Act as much hard work. We adopted the Model Toxic Control Act. We increased the state's minimum wage and set in place a process to ensure that it never again falls behind. We passed the family leave act. We passed Comparable Worth Act. Those are just some of the successes of the time I served here in this body.

But we also knew how to have fun. I hope you will not forget that as you serve here. I will never forget slipping into this Chamber in the wee hours of the morning when it was dark. I was with my two very good cohorts and co-troublemakers, Representative Katie Allen, who was an absolutely incredible Republican activist, and someone who was not as well known, Gary Locke, who is now Governor. We switched the yes and no buttons on some very key desks. We were innocent then, and we picked a cut off day by mistake. As a result, later in the day when votes were taken, all pandemonium broke out. But you don't get the kind of leaders my class produced if you aren't willing to take a few risks. And we demonstrated that.

During my last eight years as Commissioner of Public Lands, I have concentrated on the natural resources of this State which are truly unique throughout the world. Being Commissioner is an incredible job; the challenges are overwhelming and they will become more so as we continue toward doubling of the State's population in the next forty five years. My service as Commissioner has been extremely rewarding because we have been able to make long lasting change and to enhance the value of the legacy your grandchildren will inherit.

I just sent you my final report chronically our achievements and making recommendations. But let me bring just one to your attention today; the rest I will let you read for yourselves. In 1992 I set out to demonstrate that we could generate revenue from our lands and be environmentally responsible -- something that in 1992 few people believed we could do. We adopted a habitat conservation plan which was a totally new way of doing business. But we also filled the coppers of the Trust. Since Statehood the Trust Lands have generating 5.5 billion dollars in revenue to the people of this State. In the last eight years we have generate 2.1 billion dollars of that 5.5 billion dollars; 39% of the total revenue since Statehood has been generated during my administration.

We should once and for all reject the notion that we must chose between environmental responsibilities and money for our schools.

My report to you includes as the statute requires recommendations. I know you have a difficult session before you but there are two areas that I would ask you to consider this session. They are both vitally important to the health of this State.

First, commit to cleaning up Puget Sound. There are currently more than one hundred and twelve underwater contaminated landfills in Puget Sound. Here is a fact that you should all know. Between 1992 and 1996, Washington discharged 1.5 million pounds of cancer-causing pollutants directly into water. That is more than any other state in the Nation and that my friends is appalling.

Second, protect our shorelines from inappropriate development. The people in this State felt so strongly in the 1970s we should protect these fragile areas that they passed the Shoreline Management Act by initiative. And yet we have granted more than 26,000 substantial development permits not counting single family residencies since the Act was passed. We cannot recover salmon and other troubled species unless we step up to the need for greater protection of this critical habitat area.

Well, that is enough seriousness. When my good friend, Charlie Reed retired from DSHS last year, he named the things he would miss and the things he would not miss. I want to share a few of mine.

I won't miss people who call you at home on Sunday to discuss a problem with their neighbor. I won't miss the few members of the press who think a balanced news story means getting 2 bad quotes from people on the opposite side of the issue. I won't miss legislators who take 10 minutes to ask you a question and give you 1 minute to answer. I won't miss biting my tongue while listening to jokes about politicians.

Things I will miss: the many friends I have made over the years. I too will be back to visit you. The dedicated State employees who work without recognition for often 60 plus hours a week, every week. And while I'm at it, let me recognize my staff, some of whom joined me today. Would you stand and be recognized? They are a phenomenal team, they've done great things for you. And I would also like to recognize the person on the podium with me today, Michelle Benton, my Administrative Assistant and good friend. She has worked with me for eleven years.

Things I will miss: the Department's airplane – way cool! And my movie pass. Thank you Gordon wherever you are for helping to keep me sane during these eighteen years by providing a little bit of entertainment and thank you all for the experience of my life."

Senator Patricia Hale: "Mr. President, Governor Locke, colleagues and honored guests. It is a privilege and an honor to rise today in recognition of the outstanding contributions to the State of Washington by one of its most effective and certainly most beloved leader our retiring Secretary of State Ralph Munro.

Ralph has been a guiding light to many of us in this body for a long time. His dedication to public service and his commitment to the people of our State is unsurpassed by those who have walked these halls. His career has been a model of public service and an example for the rest of us to follow. You sound like a saint, don't you Ralph? As our ambassador to the world, Ralph has helped bring of thousands of new jobs to the State, he has opened countless markets for our products overseas and he has won friends for us around the globe. I can say that with authority because I've watched. I had the good fortune to accompany Ralph on a trade mission to Northern Ireland and I was amazed at the way all the people we met related to Ralph. Whether they were heads of state, a hotel clerk or people who served us at the tavern. He made an instant contention to people because he treated everyone with respect, he treated everyone as a friend.

His understanding of good business practices and common sense government led him to streamlined the State's business licensing requirements into a "one stop shop". Ralph also knows that good work requires good people. So he developed incentive plans to reward employees who have figured out ways to save the State money on improved efficiencies.

He has worked to help the developmentally disabled for thirty years. At Ralph's retirement party, not long ago, former Governor Dan Evans said, "Ralph is a person who taught me to care." The person who taught me to care – that is a powerful testimonial.

He was the State's first volunteer coordinator and he has been volunteering to help others ever since. His commitment to the preservation of wildlife and the environment is well known. So is Ralph's reverence for the State's history. And his gratitude for the opportunities it has provided for his own family. He has been involved in historic preservation efforts throughout Washington and has helped established four regional archives to preserve that history. As Secretary of State he has been a tireless promoter of voter education, registration and participation. He has also been a tireless champion of the best and newest voting technologies. I dare say he is an example for others to follow when it comes to conducting recounts without judicial interference.

The Florida fiasco could not have happened on Ralph's watch – he would not have allowed it.

Ralph's accomplishments in over thirty years of public service have been recognized by many organizations in this State and in the nation. He has been honored by foreign countries and international heads of state. They include Spain, King Juan Carlos and former Russian president Boris Yeltsen, both of whom honored Ralph with the highest awards they could give to noncitizens. Ralph has truly been a world wide secret weapon.

That's Ralph – the consummate professional. But we here at home have had an opportunity to get to know Ralph the man – the warm and supportive friend with the booming and gravel for breakfast voice, the relentless sense of humor.

Ralph is one in a million. We are going to miss you so much, Ralph – your sensitivity, your decency, your honesty. We are going to miss your caring, your civility and your boundless good nature. We are going to miss your stories and your kilts but probably not your bagpipes. Your grandfather Alexander may have craved some of these stones used to build this great building but you, my friend, have been the rock that has helped to make it grow.

Good luck to you and Karen. God bless and God speed."

Ralph Munro: "Thank you. Governor Locke and members of the Legislature and members of the Court and citizens all, thank you so very much. It has been an honor and a pleasure to serve. Not one of us as elected officials could possibility carrying out these tasks without an outstanding team beside us. In the front room of the Gallery today there are four or five individuals I'd like to briefly introduce.

The first is Don Whiting, often called "Mr. Credibility in State Government". Don started as a clerk in the Secretary of State's Office over 30 years ago. He has served as a junior level staff person, a clerk for numerous task forces, the chief elections officer of the State of Washington and finally as Assistant Secretary of State. He is the best that I know and I'm so proud of his work. Mr. Don Whiting.

The second is Tracy Guerin. Tracy can stretch a dollar farther than any other financial officer in a State agency that I know of. If she was in charge of the State's budget you would have so much money to spend you wouldn't know where to put it all. She is outstanding. Most recently she has served as our Assistant Secretary of State. Tracy Guerin.

The third is Michelle Burkheimer. Her work in the international arena and the development of international student programs including our well known database has contributed immensely to Washington State's business development both here and other seas. She has been an excellent Deputy Secretary of State. Michelle Burkheimer.

The fourth is David Brine. David took the office of Communications Director to entirely new levels with improvements to the Voters' Pamphlet, the development of our website and the beginnings of a system to announce timely election results over the Web immediately following the close of the polls. I should tell you that our election reporting website had more than 2 million hits in the thirty hour period following the polls closing. David Brine. Of those 2 million hits, 1.6 million came from the personal computers of Maria Cantwell and Slade Gorton.

The final is Jan Nutting, my personal secretary. She is the best that state government has and I will be indebted to her for the rest of my life. One of our outstanding state employees – Jan Nutting.

We can all be thankful that Washington State government attracts the very best – and our team in the Secretary of State's Office including these folks and many others have been the very best.

Karen and I wear our kilts today to pay respect to my grandparents who came to America. My grandfather, a poor Scottish stonemason having experience working on the castles of North Scotland, went to worked on state capitol buildings. Recruited to work on the Texas capitol, he later worked on the capitol buildings in Kansas, Colorado, Victoria British Columbia and finally here in Olympia. He considered this structure to be the grandest of all. He worked full time on the job, starting at the Wilkerson Stone Quarry at the side of Mount Rainier and then at the Walkercutt's Stone Company on the Tacoma Tide Flats and finally here in Olympia from 1922 to 1928. What a task it was to create such a beautiful structure.

Our family has always been immensely proud of this building. As it was completed and the workers stared into the lavish new offices for the elected officials, I doubt that my grandfather ever dreamed that one of his grandchildren would occupy a spot in this capitol.

I came to work here several days before Christmas in 1966. I was a supply clerk for the House of Representatives. The Republicans had taken control and Speaker Don Eldridge and Sergeant at Arms Eugene Prince hired me fresh out of college. I've worked as a supply clerk, a reader on this podium, Bill Room supervisor, Assistant Sergeant at Arms, the State's first volunteer coordinator, Assistant to Governor Dan Evans, a lobbyist for handicapped children and finally as the Secretary of State. I am afraid my career has not been very successful since my opening day of work in 1966 the farthest I've ever moved is about 150 feet down the hall and in all those years I've only moved up one floor.

My roommate Mel Dodd and I were prowling the halls looking for good looking women to date on the opening day of Session in 1971 . . .

Mrs. Karen Munro: "I guess that's how I come in. I had just started working for the Senate Republican Caucus that year. Things were a little different back then because a woman named Helen Bonds and myself were the two people who did the press relations for the Senate Republican Caucus. We did the press releases and the radio and television contacts and whatever needed to be done. And we had our desks right in the caucus room then. All the senators were men and from time to time one of them would light up a cigar – cigarettes were quite common but the cigars were a little more unusual and some of the jokes told would not be told today – but we had a good time there and we got a lot of work done as well. Mel Dodd, Ralph's roommate, did come by my desk one day to say to hello and I thought that was nice of him. And the next day my roommate Maryann Holte said that she had an invitation for dinner that night from her very good friend Ralph and they wanted me to come along. That sounded like a good idea. That must have been just thirty years ago tomorrow because I know we were going to have dinner and then go up to hear the Governor's address. So we went off in Ralph's old truck to Shakey's Pizza Pallor. The truck had one window that was stuck down and you couldn't roll it up and it was a driving snow storm that night. It was a little unusual and I wasn't very impressed with the truck but I was impressed with the fact that Ralph worked for Dan Evans and he owned two ponies which I thought was a very good omen. I had been quite 'horsey' in my youth and that was a nice find. We started dating quite frequently. Later that year we both moved to Washington, D.C. Ralph didn't last very long at all; when he had a chance to come back here and go on Dan Evans' personal staff, he came right away. But I stayed a while and worked for the Drug Abuse Prevention Office for the White House. Then Ralph persuaded me that maybe I should come back to Washington State and so I did. We became engaged and were married in 1973. At that point, I determined that one politician in the family was probably enough. I had the opportunity to become the assistant director of the Washington Commission for the Humanities which was just being formed at the time. We had a wonderful experience and then came this program and starting it and it's still a very successful program today. When Dan Evans went out of office, Ralph and I moved up to Bainbridge Island and George was born. But he did spend most of his childhood when we came back to Olympia, most of his childhood was spent here. I remembered how he and his friends like to slide the marble rampettes of the Capitol out here. I remember some football games that took place in the House garage . . ."

George Munro: "Speaker Ballard, let the record show the ball that hit your car was in."

Karen Munro: "Later as many of you know, I did some lobbying here in the Capitol. First I worked for the National Facility of Humanities, Arts and Sciences to obtain funding for summer institutes which held we held for teachers from all across the State. Then later as a volunteer, I have lobbied on behalf of Washington State Horse Park Foundation and most recently for the Washington Wildlife and Recreation Coalition. In fact, this year I may be in the building more than Ralph is because I will still representing the WWRC around here. Like Ralph, I have many wonderful memories of the times we spent here with the Secretary of State's Office as well as in these other activities. I would like personally thank you all for your support and for all the good times we have had here."

Ralph Munro: "So you can see that this old Capitol Building means a lot to us. When I die you can scatter my ashes out there in Ulcer Gulch. The lobbyists have been trampling on my bills and legislation for so many years now, they might as well trample me after I'm gone.

Our parting request to you regards this beautiful structure that Grandpa Munro help to build. I hope you will cherish it. I know that the Capitol committees are going to be faced with terrible decisions, how much money to spend to preserve and restore the internal workings of this grand old Capitol Building which serves as our symbol of government itself. I urge you to be supportive.

In conclusion, Karen, George and I have tremendous respect for each of you. We have always admired the people who had the courage to leave the bleachers and grandstands and to enter the arena of politics. The people who are willing to stand up to the challenges, the hard work as well as the dust and dirt of the arena itself.

You have the opportunity in the months and years ahead to make a remarkable difference for the people of the State of Washington. I urge you to do so.

Best of luck to our new Secretary of State Sam and his wife Margy Reed. They will do an excellent job.

Good luck and God's speed to each and everyone of you. Thank you."

President of the Senate Brad Owen: "We have the great distinction in the State of Washington of having a Governor who is recognized and respected not only across the State but across the nation. It is my great privilege and honor to present to you His Excellency the Honorable Governor Gary Locke."

Governor Gary Locke: "Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington, our statewide elected officials and members of the Legislature and members of the Public, I am really pleased and honored to be here today to say good bye to four of our best public servants. Last Friday, the statewide elected officials met and had a great dinner and shared stories and said many of our goodbyes then. So I want to keep my remarks brief because we have heard some outstanding tributes already.

Let me first start with Ralph. Ralph Munro is that Republican office holder that Democrats are proud to openly say they have voted for. Olympia will simply not be the same without Ralph Munro and this really does mark the end of the kilt as we know it. Ralph, we will miss you. You are the most dedicated of civil servants and you truly have made your mark. Your innovations have made State Government more productive and have saved taxpayers millions of dollars through efficiencies and programs that you have overseen. Your campaign reforms have made Washington voting simpler and, more importantly, chad proof. You have insured the preservation of our heritage and history with your work with the oral history program but also with your co-chairmanship of our State's Centennial Celebration. Not only have you earned the people's trust and carried out the people's work, you have done it with style, flair and grace. Who else can play the bagpipes, design the State's tartan and count ballots at the same time? Mona and I wish you, Karen and George all the very best. Ralph – you are a class act and we will sorely miss you.

For the past eight years, Jennifer Belcher has served with distinction and courage as our State Lands Commissioner. I want to thank you for all your good work, Jennifer in preserving our State's natural resources and specifically our forest lands that generate as you indicated billions of dollars in revenue for our school construction and remodeling programs. Thanks to you, Jennifer, for helping to ensure the future of our children.

Jennifer, I know it was not an easy decision for you to leave state government but please know that your legacy is secure. And the pranks you played in the State Capitol – though we did change virtually all the buttons – but I remember the time that we both came into the Legislature together and you gave me some words that I have never forgotten – that while we are all replaceable and there are talented people who could occupied our seats whatever office we hold, we bring to our jobs the ability to shape and improve people's lives in a way that no other person can. As Deborah Senn, our Insurance Commissioner said, if you save the life you save the world, if you benefit one person you benefit entire communities. Thank you, Jennifer for that admonition. I admire you on your decision to take on new challenges in your life. Mona and I wish you the very best. Thank you for your great service to the people of our state.

Deborah Senn, you've left your mark on state government as a standard bearer for consumers in the insurance field. Among your more notable achievements and one of great personal satisfaction I know is the overdue recognition of payments to Holocaust survivors and victims. Deborah, what an incredible legacy you leave. I want to thank you for your service to all of us in the State of Washington. We wish you and Rudy all the very best.

And to these three statewide elected officials who leave us, Ralph, Jennifer and Deborah, as President Clinton has shown us, you have twelve hours left in office, you can still issue a lot of rules and regulations.

Renee, your strength and integrity will be missed. It will be missed by all your colleagues here in the Rotunda. Thank you for your work in helping to nurture high technology in our State's new economy and thanks for helping to bring State government into the 21st Century. Our state has received national recognition because of the advent of technology and you are a key part of that. We want you to know that we are thinking of you during this difficult time and we know from our association with you, that you will win. And as Barry Sehlin has shown, people don't ever retire from the Legislature; they just take a respite and come back assuming an even higher position. We expect that of you, Renee.

To our statewide elected officials who are departing and to you Renee thank you. Thank you for making a difference in the lives of so many people in our state and for setting a course a legacy that will survive generations to come. On behalf of the great state of Washington, thank you and we wish you all the very best."

President of the Senate Owen: "It has certainly been a privilege to serve with all of these distinguished retiring state officials. We can be very proud in the State of Washington of the quality of the representatives that our citizens send to this incredible capitol of ours. Thank you all of you. And thanks to our speakers today who have helped us honor all of them. Thank you to all the friends and families for being here to help honor these distinguished people today as well."

The President requested that the committee come forward and escort the honorees from the House Chamber to the State Reception Room.

GOVERNOR'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Governor Gary Locke: "Mr. President, Mr. Speakers, Honorable Chief Justice, distinguished Justices of the Supreme Court, members of the Consular Association, statewide elected officials, members of the Washington State Legislature, citizens of Washington it's been an honor to have served the people of Washington for four years and it is a privilege to serve four more.

I'm excited about the prospects before us.

I am humbled by our large margin of victory maybe because of the influx of people fleeing the energy crisis in California or my new haircut or because I'm the bold, dynamic leader the press has made me out to be. Whatever the reason, I want to thank the people of our state for their confidence in me to lead our state for another four years. Let me also take this opportunity to introduce and thank my family who have been so supportive all of these years and so instrumental to my success.

The 57th Legislature is the first of the new century and we must ask ourselves: what are the ingredients for prosperity in this new century? The answer: a transportation system that works, an education system that enriches every child, enough water and energy to meet the needs of our people and our industries.

These are the basics. Let's focus on those basics and accomplish much. Over the past four years I've traveled our state from corner to corner. I've met people thrilled to be off of welfare, now holding down jobs that pay well. I've seen children in our schools beaming because they've participated in the Reading Corps and are now great readers. Young adults, the first in their families to go to college thanks to the Promise Scholarship. Young parents who now have low-cost health insurance for their children for the first time.

Each individual I meet reinforces in me the belief that the job of state government is to provide the foundations upon which our citizens can build quality lives. Legislators and all of us sworn in today we're ordinary people entrusted to do extraordinary things. Nothing is more extraordinary, more rewarding, than helping to fulfill the hopes, dreams and desires of the very people who make this the vibrant state that it is.

This 57th Legislature marks a time of passage. Yesterday we said farewell to three statewide elected officials. And we begin this session in remembrance because of the passing of State Representative Pat Scott, Senator George Sellar, and Tour Coordinator Don Shaw. All three accomplished extraordinary things. We will miss them. Our thoughts and prayers are with their families. Let's carry their spirit with us through this session.

Families like yours and mine want to spend more time with each other instead of being stuck in traffic. We want to know our children will get the very best education with the very best teachers in the best learning environments. We want clean, cool water for our families and for fish, and enough affordable energy to light our homes, cook our meals and power our industries.

These are the basics.

We cannot predict the future. One hundred years ago our nation couldn't have known we would soar the heavens or communicate across the globe with the click of a button and that much of that progress would originate right here because of the insight and innovation of people in the State of Washington. But we do know future generations will need transportation, education, water and energy so they can build their lives on solid ground.

Given our population growth, two million new vehicles will hit our roads over the next twenty years. After Referendum 49 and Initiative 695, however, we now have less money for transportation today than we did ten years ago. Our state's record on transportation has been nothing but a series of fits and starts -- projects begun but never finished, solutions presented then dismissed, years wasted. If we don't fix our transportation problems now, our businesses won't grow, they'll leave our state. If we don't have businesses, we won't have jobs. It's that simple. Our traffic congestion is among the worst in the nation and we're losing two billion dollars a year in productivity because of it. A state that gave a "turbo charge" to the Information Superhighway should not have a transportation system that's out of gas. The Legislature created the Blue Ribbon Commission on Transportation. I embrace its solutions. Bipartisan remedies are right in front of us -- remedies that were two-and-a-half years in the making. We all campaigned on transportation improvements. Any mention of needing more time to think about this is out of the question.

It's time to Get Washington Moving Again. And Now. We will make our Department of Transportation as lean and efficient as it can possibly be. We will streamline the permitting process and expedite projects without compromising our environment. There is no reason we can't enact these reforms within the first few weeks of this session. That's the first order. The second order is that we must reach agreement on critical projects to be completed within the next six years. This summer we're breaking ground on a new traffic lane to eliminate the snarl at I-405 and Highway 167 in Renton. But we will do more than that. The new transportation plan I've presented will also: widen lanes on I-90 in Spokane, extend HOV lanes on I-5 all the way from Everett to Tacoma, widen SR 17 to four lanes in Moses Lake, separate downtown train and auto traffic in Yakima and Seattle, guarantee transit services for seniors and vulnerable adults, and replace our pre-Depression era ferries.

These are just some of the projects I've proposed to improve congestion across our state. But all are solutions we can implement right now for the greatest good. You may wonder: how will we pay for this? Well, we're not just going to drop a pile of money on the table and then figure out how to spend it. My proposal is a deliberate strategy to get results. Only after we agree on these improvements will I outline and recommend a funding plan. We will stay in session until we've agreed on all three: efficiencies, projects and funding.

People of Washington: especially those of you listening on your car radios because you're stuck in traffic – hold us accountable. We must and we will move on transportation -- just like we did for education.

My vision of education is straightforward: great learning, great teaching and great leadership. With the hard work of this Legislature and the firm and active support of our citizens, we have reached the threshold of educational excellence with higher expectations of both students and teachers. We've made great strides. More and more of our students are exceeding our tough new academic standards. And you, the people, have responded with tremendous enthusiasm. Last year I proposed class-size reduction without a tax increase. When the Legislature didn't respond I helped put it on the ballot as Initiative 728, which swept through our state, county by county, passing with the largest margin of any initiative in our history -- because people care passionately about improving our education system. It's their number one priority.

But this isn't only about money. Lawmakers, I call on you to join me. We will give educators the powers and the tools that they need to spend that money effectively. We will not leave Olympia this session until we have removed the barriers hindering academic performance and great teaching. Specifically, we'll agree to abolish the current education code and have a new one in place by 2004. To get the ball rolling, I propose to waive regulations for schools that want to set even higher achievement standards and to reward schools for meeting those goals. Exceptional teachers deserve exceptional compensation. If we're to attract and retain the best teachers in the face of a national teacher shortage --we must change the way we pay them. My proposal calls for select school districts to lead the way and design a new teacher compensation system based on knowledge, skill and performance. To further encourage great teaching, and to increase the number of great educators, we will adopt alternative certification programs for teachers. If a Microsoft retiree wants to teach math she should be able to do so without going back to college for an education degree. The Professional Standards Board we created just six months ago has devised a quicker method for qualified people to get into the classroom. So a person can retire from one profession in May and be teaching in September. You know, just recently a Dean of a teaching college applied to be a school principal. She has a Ph.D. She's taught hundreds of the teachers in our schools. The school wanted to hire her; she wanted the job. But it went to someone else. Why? Because the education code says to be a principal in a Washington school, you have to be a certificated teacher. So we have an expert who can't enter the school. It's time to stop letting the education code hinder our schools and start doing things the right way, with common sense.

Finally, a good learning environment has to be a safe one. Until now, only schools that applied received money for school safety. Safety is as essential as the three R's. So this year, each and every school will receive money for school safety. Great Learning, Great Teaching, Great Leadership. That's where we're headed. This session we'll empower our teachers and our schools to move to the next level of performance so our children can do the same.

No one has to tell us the importance of water. We need it for people, wildlife and agriculture. Our water laws are not in concert with present reality. That sentiment was expressed 25 years ago by Governor Dan Evans, and virtually no progress has been made since then. Indeed, our water laws have hardly changed in 100 years even though we have five times as many people. We have towns battling farmers for water. We have businesses battling fish, towns battling towns. Some of our cities have been forced to enact building moratoriums no new homes, no new businesses, rivers and streams drying up. Why? There isn't enough water to accommodate growth. We will not have the paved troughs that pass for rivers in Los Angeles. So, I say it again in 2001, "Our water laws are not in concert with reality." This session we will make progress. We're not going to leave until we've reformed our water permitting process so people aren't waiting years for a simple, non-controversial permit. We had an agreed-upon remedy last year. There's no reason why we can't pass that remedy in the first few weeks of this session. We must put common sense into our water laws. Incentives for water conservation, re-use, and storage are critical. We will let those who conserve keep a portion of the water they save, and compensate citizens for the water they put back in our streams for fish. My "Yakima Water Action Plan" is a great example of how to provide water for people, fish and farms.

Let's get that action plan in place.

Our fourth challenge this session is energy. We have greater demands for electricity than ever before. Energy is as essential to our economy as water is to life. Thank goodness we said, "no" to energy deregulation three years ago. Look what's happened to California. But we still face a crisis that we must address immediately. Georgia Pacific laid off 850 people just before Christmas; 850 families were affected. Why the layoffs? Georgia Pacific could not afford its power bill. I'm proposing tax breaks so utilities can convert part-time polluting generators into full-time, clean generators, and tax breaks for companies who want to produce their own permanent power, thereby freeing up electricity for the rest of us. I'm also proposing tax breaks for citizens and businesses buying clean and renewable energy sources such as solar, wind and fuel cells. I'm calling on utilities to diversify their energy sources so our citizens aren't hurt when price- or supply-problems hit a particular industry like natural gas or hydroelectric. And I propose additional financial assistance so low-income citizens don't go without power during these cold winter months. These solutions are necessary for the future of our state and there is simply no excuse not to act. Folks at home? Let me take this opportunity to say again, we must conserve. I'm calling on everyone to reduce consumption by 10 percent. We only have so much energy, and we need to treat it as a precious resource. It's going to take each and every one of us. These are ambitious goals but they are doable. And to set the example, tonight, at my Inaugural Ball, for the first time in history the traditional "three miles of lights" that volunteers placed along Capital Way will not be lit. The Capital Dome will remain dark. We must all do our part.

Finally, this budget was one of the toughest I've ever written and I've written many. We've made reductions -- especially in human services and in the number of state workers. Services benefiting real people and state workers with families to support. Reductions I didn't want to make but had to, to pay for unavoidable costs, to better protect our children but also to move our state forward. Our state faces real problems demanding real solutions. The people who can provide those solutions are right here in this Chamber. They're the people watching on television. They're the people listening on the radio. They're the people who will read this in tomorrow's paper. They're all of you. I'm enormously proud of the people of Washington. We have never been afraid to tackle the big issues. We're a state that built the airplanes that connect the world. We pioneered a whole new economy based on technology and information. We cleaned up rivers and streams after 100 years of pollution. And in that innovative and can-do spirit, let us embrace the opportunities and the challenges before us. Legislators, statewide elected officials: we can and we must do the work before us. We are ordinary people entrusted to do extraordinary things but all of it is within our ability. We can find solutions. We can reach agreement. As I've said before 25, 50, 100 years from now citizens won't remember what parties we belonged to, but rather what we accomplished.

We must put politics aside and get down to work. I want us to leave this session proud that we've solved the tough issues. Let's make our citizens proud of us. Thank you all and God bless you all."

The President asked the special committee to escort Governor and Mrs. Locke from the House Chamber to the State Reception Room.

The President asked the special committee to escort the Statewide Elected Officials from the House Chamber to the State Reception Room.

The President asked the special committee to escort the Supreme Court Justices from the House Chamber to the State Reception Room.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8402 was adopted.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2001-4603 by Representatives Woods, Lovick, Cairnes, Wood, Jarrett, Clements, Skinner, Rockefeller, Miloscia, Morell, Santos, Ogden, Dunn, Veloria, Roach, Jackley, Sommers, Hunt, Lantz, Kenney, Fromhold, Anderson, Haigh, Keiser, Tokuda, Ahern, G. Chandler, Lambert, Carrell, Edmonds, Darneille, Kessler, Casada, Dickerson, Linville, Esser, Schmidt, Talcott, Hankins, Hatfield, Murray, Conway, Van Luven and Ruderman

WHEREAS, January 15, 2001, is the day on which we as a nation commemorate the work and life of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. dedicated his life to instill freedom, unity, justice, and peace in the hearts of the American people and throughout the world; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has become one of the world's best known advocates for nonviolent social change strategies; and

WHEREAS, This noble man fought for his vision of a better future, to uphold the principles established in the Declaration of Independence that all people are created equal; and

WHEREAS, The legacy left by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. serves as a reminder symbolizing the nation's dedication to peace through justice and a democratic society based on the standards of freedom, unity, equality, and justice for all people; and

WHEREAS, The state of Washington commends the youth from the Institute for Community Leadership who are continually striving to integrate the principles of nonviolence taught by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. within their schools and peer groups; and

WHEREAS, The United States Congress recognizes the work of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. by creating a federal holiday; and

WHEREAS, The efforts of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. are also honored by the state of Washington by declaring a state holiday;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives, on behalf of the citizens of Washington state, pause in our endeavors to commemorate the life of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and recommit ourselves to a society founded on the standard of dignity for all races and all people.

Representative Woods moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Woods, Lovick, Skinner, Veloria, Pennington, Santos, Quall, DeBolt and Miloscia spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution. Representative Lovick asked that the names of Denise McNair, Addie Mae Collins, Cynthia Wesley and Carol Robertson be read into the record.

House Resolution No. 4603 was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2001-4604 by Representatives Marine, Ahern, Lambert, Edmonds, Sommers, Kessler, Casada, Edwards, Pflug, Esser, Schmidt, Talcott and Hankins

WHEREAS, It is the policy of the Washington state legislature to recognize excellence in all fields of endeavor; and

WHEREAS, Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. was founded in 1942 to serve the needs of visually impaired people by providing Guide Dogs with the goal of raising well-trained Guide Dogs and responsible youth; and

WHEREAS, Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. is a privately funded organization that relies on volunteers to train Guide Dog puppies and where families and individuals give their time and energy to offer loving homes to puppies in training and the gift of sight to the blind; and

WHEREAS, The first Guide Dog puppies came to Washington state in 1965 and today over one hundred thirty families in Benton, Chelan, Clark, King, Kitsap, Kittitas, Lewis, Pierce, Snohomish, Spokane, Thurston, Walla Walla, Whatcom, and Yakima counties share their home with a Guide Dog puppy; and

WHEREAS, These families are provided control training, socialization, and support by more than fifty adult and youth volunteer Guide Dog and 4-H leaders; and

WHEREAS, Guide Dog puppies move to Washington at eight weeks of age and live with raiser families until they are fourteen months old so that the families can "socialize" the puppies in all areas of the community and train them to behave in a controlled manner at all times; and

WHEREAS, Washington state offers many unique training opportunities for Guide Dog puppies as they "practice" shopping; visit the waterfront, beaches, and mountains; attend sporting events; learn to work with doors, elevators, wildlife, livestock, traffic, and travel on cars, buses, ferries, and trains; and

WHEREAS, Guides Dogs are placed throughout North America with Washington state having over one hundred thirty working Guide Dogs from Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. providing greater mobility for people who are visually impaired; and

WHEREAS, The 4-H Guide Dog Puppy Raising Program promotes positive youth development, through teamwork, leadership, problem solving, and teaching. The program also is where young people learn: The needs of people who are visually impaired; how to care and train puppies for guide work; how to teach their puppies proper self-control in public and at home; how to develop parenting skills; how to lead and teach youth and adult raisers; how to recruit raiser families; and how to educate the public about Guide Dogs and the challenges faced by the visually impaired;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the state of Washington honor Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. and the 4-H Organization and all their staff, volunteers, and supporters for their dedicated commitment to raising and training Guide Dogs and serving the needs of visually impaired people throughout the state of Washington; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives to Althea Cawley-Murphree, Assistant Guide Dog 4-H Leader and 4-H Alum.

Representative Marine moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Marine and Haigh spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY

Chief Justice Gerry Alexander: "Governor Locke, Lieutenant Governor Owen, Speakers Chopp and Ballard, state elected officials, members of the House and Senate, fellow justices and judges, ladies and gentlemen.

Good morning. Let me first thank all of you for the warm welcome that you have accorded me and my fellow justices on this and other occasions. As you have undoubtedly observed we have been frequent guests in this building of late, what with various oath taking sessions, a ceremony for departing statewide elected officials, a State of the State message, and the inaugural ball. The truth is that we really enjoy being a part of those occasions, but we promise you now that the traditional opening rituals of this session of the Legislature are behind us, we will recede into the Temple of Justice across the way and be far less ubiquitous.

That, I suppose, is as it should be under our doctrine of separation of powers, one of the crown jewels of our form of government. I would venture the opinion, though, that it is a good thing for the branches of government to have contact such as we have had this past week or so, because our government functions better, it seems to me, if the elected members of the three branches know each other and gain a better appreciation of the other's role.

Let me also thank the members of the Legislature for inviting me to deliver this message on behalf of the judiciary. We know that time is precious to all of you during a legislative session. We know also that you need not accord me this privilege. The state constitution, as you know, does require the governor to deliver a message to you at every session. That same constitution requires the judges of the Supreme Court to report to the governor in writing in January of each year on defects and omissions in the law. It does not, however, require the courts to report to the Legislature nor does it require you to provide us that opportunity. But by a custom that has developed over the last decade the chief justice has been invited to speak to the Legislature every other year, on the state of our justice system, and we are most grateful for that opportunity.

Relevant to that subject I would like to say a brief word about the court on which I sit-the State Supreme Court. I am here to tell you that we have a fine court. I am proud of my colleagues and I am very honored that they have elected me to serve as chief justice for a four-year term. As some of you know, I was raised in Olympia. My father was a state employee during much of my childhood and I went to high school just across Capitol Way at the old Olympia High School. It was common for students then, particularly during legislative sessions, to roam the halls of this building and soak up the atmosphere. Consequently, I have a special place in my heart for this building, our state government, and the work that you do as citizen legislators. So I am deeply honored to be able to address you.

As I indicated, we have a fine court. I can tell you that we are absolutely unified in our desire to work with our judicial colleagues at all levels of court to deliver on the promise of equal and quality justice for all. The current Supreme Court is very experienced. All of us practiced law in this state early in our careers and collectively we have 124 years of judicial service, including our tenure at the Supreme Court. At the same time we are all free thinking individuals. We come from different places and backgrounds, reflecting to some extent the diversity of our state's population.

I think that most of you are familiar somewhat with the returning members of the court. But let me, if I may, briefly say a word about our two newest members, Justices Chambers and Owens. Tom Chambers was raised in the Yakima Valley, at Wapato, but he chose to practice law in the big city-Seattle-where he had a remarkable career. Notably, he is a past president of the Washington Trial Lawyers Association and the Washington State Bar Association. Interestingly, he is the first former State Bar president to serve on the Supreme Court since Thomas Grady of Yakima served on the court in the 1940s and '50s.

Susan Owens is a North Carolinian who chose Forks, Washington, out on our coast as her home. She never regretted that decision even though Forks is said to be the city with the greatest annual rainfall in the lower 48 states. In Forks she has served as a Clallam County District Court judge and as a judge of the Quileute and Lower Elwha Tribal Courts. She is the first person from Clallam County to ever serve on our court in our 111 years as a state and the first to ever have prior service as a tribal court judge. I am proud to say that upon her inauguration the Washington Supreme Court now has more women among its members than any Supreme Court in the union, including the United States Supreme Court.

Before I move to my main topic, let me say a word about a recently retired member of the Washington Supreme Court. Our court and the entire judiciary of our state is more unified than I have ever seen it during my almost 28 years as a judge. That is so for a number of reasons, not the least of which was the leadership and personality of my predecessor as chief justice, Richard Guy. Justice Guy is present here today and I would like to ask him to stand and be recognized for his many and significant contributions to the administration of justice in the state of Washington.

Let me now, in my capacity as the state's 52nd chief justice, speak to you about the state of Washington's justice system. I can tell you that it is in good shape despite the many demands that have been placed upon it. I know that there are reputable persons who would suggest otherwise, claiming that our justice system is in crisis. I disagree with that and so do the many judges I have talked to in recent months. The system's 215 full- and part-time judges of our municipal and district courts efficiently manage caseloads made heavy with annual filings of over two million matters. Our 174 superior court judges do the same with the over a quarter of a million cases being filed each year in those courts that are located in every county of our state. Collectively these trial courts entertain one case filing for every 2 ½ citizens every year-cases that run the gamut from parking citations to aggravated first degree murder, and from small claims to cases that involve millions, and in some cases, billions, of dollars.

I wish that I had the time to tell you about all of the innovative things our judges are doing, often on a shoestring, to make the system more efficient and more responsive to the public while still maintaining the goal of fundamental fairness. A few examples: Pend Oreille District Court Judge Phillip J. Van de Veer offers citizens that enter the courthouse in Newport an information map that tells them, most of whom are not represented by counsel, how to navigate the court. Similarly, Chelan County District Court Judge Thomas Warren has reached out to the Hispanic community in his area by creating brochures in Spanish, as well as English, that describe how one uses the court system. King County Superior Court Judge Patricia Clark, working with our state's Gender and Justice and Minority and Justice Commissions, is dedicated to erasing the bias that is sometimes felt by women of color in our courts-with a program entitled "When Bias Compounds."

Many of our judges are doing pioneer work in the relatively new concept of restorative justice. Spokane County District Court Judge Vance Peterson has a program that is designed to let people reinstate their suspended driver's license by making monthly payments on outstanding court-ordered financial obligations. In Mason County District Court, Judge Victoria Meadows utilizes the services of a restorative justice panel, composed of citizen volunteers, who recommend to her alternatives to jail for nonviolent offenders.

The problem of domestic violence has, of course, captured the attention of the judiciary-just as it has captured the attention of the legislative and executive branches. In 1995, Governor Lowry, the Supreme Court, and Attorney General Gregoire co-sponsored the first ever statewide Domestic Violence Summit. It was an important step to bring leaders of each branch of government together with professionals in the field to discuss this cycle of violence, which affects many families directly and all of us indirectly. Since that first summit we have made much progress. Under the leadership of my colleague Justice Barbara Madsen, local domestic violence summits are held each year in many counties to bring people together to discuss better coordination and delivery of services to victims of domestic violence.

The Clark County Superior and District Court benches have been innovative in this field, consolidating their domestic violence calendars under one judge. Judge Robert Harris, the presiding judge of that superior court is present here today. Last year also saw the debut of King County's specialized Domestic Violence Court. At three locations in that county dedicated judges of the district court, prosecutors, and defense counsel work solely on these cases each day to provide more effective and consistent justice.

Kitsap County District Court Judge James Riehl, a national leader in this field, is training Washington judges on the means by which domestic violence orders of courts of other states and of tribal courts can be enforced in our courts. Judge Riehl is also here.

In several of our counties, Unified Family Courts have been established to better serve families and children who find themselves in the system. These have been established under the theory that the 'one-judge/one family' approach improves court proceedings for families by allowing one judge to fully deal with the legal problems that members of a family may face.

You may be aware through press reports of some of the innovative work that our courts are doing in dealing with drug offenders. Currently 12 superior courts in this state have a drug court and this past year, Snohomish County Superior Court Judge Joe Thibodeau designed a drug court specifically for juveniles. Island County Superior Court judges Vickie Churchill and Alan Hancock have started a similar program in that county. Participants in these programs commit to a stringent drug-treatment regimen and have weekly meetings to make sure they keep on track with their recovery.

Despite the many innovative programs that have been launched in recent years, I am not telling you that our justice system is perfect and cannot be improved. There is no institution that has been created by humans that cannot be improved. The judiciary and our many fine employees know that and we are dedicated to making the justice system better.

In accomplishing that goal we will benefit from one of the many legacies left by former Chief Justice Guy. This vision was that the judiciary would be united in seeking improvements and would speak to the executive and legislative branches in one voice. That vision led to a reorganization and revitalization of our state's Board for Judicial Administration (the BJA). Its membership has been broadened to provide for increased representation of all levels of court, as well as the non-voting bar members. In addition a new position of "member-chair" was added. That person co-chairs the Board along with the chief justice. Spokane County Superior Court Judge James M. Murphy, who is here, has shown tremendous leadership as the first member-chair, in addition to his duties as president of the Superior Court Judges' Association. The BJA is meeting in Olympia today. In fact, we started at 8:00 a.m. and adjourned for this session.

These changes have been significant. Within the past two years, the BJA formed two committees to explore major issues of concern to the courts. Out of those committees came various proposals to the BJA. The BJA, in turn, approved many of the proposals. I would like to discuss them with you-particularly those that require legislation in order to be implemented.

The first proposals came from the Washington Jury Commission which was chaired by Thurston County Superior Court Judge Daniel Berschauer. That commission was composed of citizens, former jurors, judges, lawyers, court personnel, business persons, and three members of the legislature, Senator Adam Kline, Representative Mike Carrell, and then Representative and now Senator Dow Constantine. The commission's charge was to look at our state's jury system from top to bottom and recommend ways that it could be improved. This was important work because the right to trial by jury is one of the cornerstones of our democracy. The commission found that despite the importance we attach to juries, the courts of our state were experiencing difficulty in finding jurors. Indeed in some jurisdictions less than 15 percent of the persons summoned for jury service actually made it on to the jury panel. Most troubling was that about 20 percent of persons who were summoned did not even bother to respond to the summons.

The commission quickly discovered that there were many reasons for this underwhelming response to what we generally consider an obligation of citizenship, but that certainly a general belief among citizens that jury service is somewhat unpleasant, definitely contributed to the problem. The commission, therefore, made nearly 40 recommendations to the BJA for improving jury administration and for making jury service more palatable. The BJA approved most of these proposals and many can and will be accomplished within the court system without the necessity of legislation. A few, though, will require legislative action in order to be realized.

Chief among these is a fee increase for jurors. The statutory minimum was set in 1959 at $10 a day. We are now at the year 2001 and most counties, including all of our metropolitan counties, still pay the minimum $10. I recall thinking, when I was a young superior court judge in the 1970s, that $10 was an inadequate amount to pay our jurors. Well if I was right then, and I think that I was, it is woefully inadequate now.

To bring home the inadequacy of the $10 fee, if that is necessary, I should tell you that I recently attended a meeting at the King County Courthouse. It was a rainy day and prior to the meeting we parked about a block away from the courthouse in an open parking lot. The charge for parking for several hours was $13, but I was told that it would be $18 for the entire workday. Obviously the jurors' fee would not even cover that cost.

We are asking you to correct this inequality by passing legislation that maintains the fee at $10 per day for the first day of jury service, on the theory that every citizen should be willing to devote one day at little or no cost to being a juror, but increasing it to $45 for every succeeding day of jury service. We are asking you to provide that the additional $35 be underwritten by the State of Washington with the local jurisdictions remaining responsible for $10 of the fee.

We are also asking that you approve legislation shortening jury service to two days or one trial.

The other major committee formed by the BJA was Project 2001. This committee was chaired by retired Judge Tom Swayze and former WSBA President Paul Steere. It was also a broad based committee and included state legislators Senator Jeanine Long, Representative Luke Esser, Senator Pam Roach, Senator Adam Kline. The committee was asked to thoroughly review the judicial system, the way that it operates, its funding system, and more important, it was to make recommendations as to how it may be made more efficient. The project got started in the spring of 2000. It worked hard and submitted its report to the BJA, which has approved many of its recommendations. Those have been reported to you and are contained in this final recommendation to the Legislature. Again, many of those approved recommendations, like mandatory judicial education for all judges and a strengthening of the role of trial court presiding judges, can be adopted by the courts internally by court rule. A few of the recommendations, though, require legislation to implement them and I will just briefly touch on one of them.

The most significant recommendation is for a constitutional amendment providing for what we call transportability of judges. In a nutshell, this would allow a previously elected judge, active or retired, to sit in any trial court at the request of the presiding judge of that trial court. Currently, active or retired judges or even lawyers can serve as pro tem judges but only on the agreement of both sides of counsel in the case. It is that veto right of attorneys that the constitutional amendment would eliminate. Although this may not seem, at first blush, to be a significant step, it really is. This would give the presiding judges of our trial courts greater flexibility in managing their dockets and would allow the trial courts of our state to have the advantages that might be realized from a formal merger of our two levels of trial court without the attendant cost of doing so and without eliminating our courts of limited jurisdiction which are designed to handle matters within their jurisdictional limits in a less formal way than the superior court. To me this is a sensible recommendation and one that will allow the courts to use existing judicial personnel more efficiently.

Finally, and somewhat related to these proposals I wish to advise you that we are seeking an appropriation to maintain, update, and modernize the state's judicial information system. Our state's court system has been blessed by having one of the most established and efficient judicial information systems in the nation-one to which all of our trial and appellate courts are tied.

The bad news that goes with that is that the system's hardware and software are old, at least as we measure age in the fast moving technological world. Our Judicial Information System Committee, which is chaired by my colleague, Justice Bobbe Bridge, has compared our current system to an eight-track tape system. We think it is time to get a CD player. With this funding, greater efficiencies can be realized, all to the benefit of our courts in every part of the state. We think this would be a prudent investment in an established and proven system.

Let me close where I began by thanking you for your time and your willingness to listen to this report on the state of the judiciary. As I indicated, I think our judges and the court's' employees are doing a magnificent job providing justice. We can and want to do even better, though, and we believe these modest proposals for legislation, coupled with changes we can make without the necessity of legislation, will allow us to do even a better job. Thank you."

The President thanked Chief Justice Alexander for his remarks.

The President asked the special committee to escort Chief Justice Alexander from the Rostrum to the State Reception Room.

The President asked the special committee to escort the Supreme Court Justices from the Chamber to the State Reception Room.

The President asked the special committee to escort the State Elected Officials from the Chamber to the State Reception Room.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Mastin, the Joint Session was dissolved.

The President thanked Speaker Ballard and members of the House for their hospitality and returned the gavel to him.

Speaker Ballard asked the Sergeant at Arms of the House and Senate to escort President of the Senate Brad Owen, President Pro Tempore Rosa Franklin, Majority Leader Sid Snyder, Minority Leader Jim West and members of the State Senate from the House Chamber.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the eleventh order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Mastin, the House adjourned until 9:55 a.m., January 17, 2001 the 10th Legislative Day.

Chandler, Chopp, Clements, Cody, Conway, Cooper, Cox, Crouse, Darneille, DeBolt, Delvin, Dickerson, Doumit, Dunn, Dunshee, Edmonds, Edwards, Eickmeyer, Ericksen, Esser, Fisher, Fromhold, Gombosky, Grant, Haigh, Hankins, Hatfield, Hunt, Hurst, Jackley, Jarrett, Kagi, Keiser, Kenney, Kessler, Kirby, Lambert, Lantz, Linville, Lisk, Lovick, Marine, Mastin, McDermott, McIntire, McMorris, Mielke, Miloscia, Mitchell, Morell, Morris, Mulliken, Murray, O'Brien, Ogden, Pearson, Pennington, Pflug, Poulsen, Quall, Reardon, Roach, Rockefeller, Romero, Ruderman, Santos, Schindler, Schmidt, Schoesler, Schual-Berke, Sehlin, Simpson, Skinner, Sommers, Sump, Talcott, Tokuda, Van Luven, Veloria, Wood and Woods

WHEREAS, It is the policy of the Washington state legislature to recognize excellence in all fields of endeavor; and

WHEREAS, Every day school bus drivers, brave souls who are undaunted by the daily challenge of piloting large vehicles packed with unpredictable kids, endeavor to do their best for the well-being of our schools and kids; and

WHEREAS, Cheryl Mooring, of Spanaway, Washington exhibited excellence, self-sacrifice, and honor in taking action to protect the lives and well-being of young people in danger; and

WHEREAS, Cheryl Mooring, an eleven-year veteran Bethel School District bus driver, did her profession proud and made Bethel parents and school officials eternally grateful by quickly rescuing her twenty-two student passengers in a fiery early-morning crash; and

WHEREAS, Cheryl Mooring was involved in the crash that happened about 7 a.m. on a Monday morning on Meridian Avenue East south of Graham, killing the driver of a sport utility vehicle and closing a stretch of the highway for several hours; and

WHEREAS, Cheryl Mooring was pinned in her seat after the crash but managed to free herself in time to immediately evacuate twenty-two Frontier Junior High School students within thirty seconds as the bus filled with smoke; and

WHEREAS, Cheryl Mooring, with the lights out and although her glasses had disappeared and her leg was badly gashed, made her way to the back of the bus with her arms spread out feeling for students in each seat as she went along; and

WHEREAS, By the time fire crews arrived, the sport utility vehicle was engulfed in flames and the fire had spread to the school bus melting seats to the back of the bus; and

WHEREAS, Cheryl Mooring was able to perform her heroic act with the help of several courageous students who assisted her; and

WHEREAS, More tragic injuries may have occurred had the bus not been so well designed, the students so responsive, and the bus driver so well trained and devoted to her passengers' safety; and

WHEREAS, Cheryl Mooring, when asked about her feat, humbly stated, "I knew how many kids I had and I counted them all. I did what I had to do and I didn't even think about it";

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the state of Washington honor Cheryl Mooring for her dedicated commitment to the young people who ride her school bus and for her heroic act in preserving the health, safety, and lives of the students; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives to Cheryl Mooring.

Representative Bush moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Bush and Campbell spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

House Resolution No. 4605 was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2001-4606 by Representatives Schmidt, Benson, Talcott, Bush, Morell, Haigh, Reardon, Wood, Conway, Mielke, Ahern, Alexander, Anderson, Armstrong, Ballard, Ballasiotes, Barlean, Boldt, Buck, Cairnes, Campbell, Carrell, Casada, B. Chandler, G. Chandler, Chopp, Clements, Cody, Cooper, Cox, Crouse, Darneille, DeBolt, Delvin, Dickerson, Doumit, Dunn, Dunshee, Edmonds, Edwards, Eickmeyer, Ericksen, Esser, Fisher, Fromhold, Gombosky, Grant, Hankins, Hatfield, Hunt, Hurst, Jackley, Jarrett, Kagi, Keiser, Kenney, Kessler, Kirby, Lambert, Lantz, Linville, Lisk, Lovick, Marine, Mastin, McDermott, McIntire, McMorris, Miloscia, Mitchell, Morris, Mulliken, Murray, O'Brien, Ogden, Pearson, Pennington, Pflug, Poulsen, Quall, Roach, Rockefeller, Romero, Ruderman, Santos, Schindler, Schoesler, Schual-Berke, Sehlin, Simpson, Skinner, Sommers, Sump, Tokuda, Van Luven, Veloria and Woods

WHEREAS, Nearly seven thousand eight hundred men and women of the Washington National Guard continue to serve the country as Guardians of American interests at home and abroad; and

WHEREAS, These recognized leaders in state, regional, and national preparedness who reside in every legislative district throughout Washington volunteer their time and personal efforts to serve the needs of the people of Washington state; and

WHEREAS, The National Guard has again answered the state's call numerous times in their fire fighting support efforts in response to fires threatening thousands of acres of public and private lands, and to protect lives in both civil and natural emergencies and disasters; and

WHEREAS, The National Guard continues its promoting of positive lifestyles and activities for Washington's youth through involvement and support in highly effective drug prevention programs with school-age children and community-based organizations; and

WHEREAS, The National Guard continues an active participation in the state's counter drug efforts by providing soldiers, airmen, and specialized equipment in support of seventy local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies. The dedication of these men and women last year contributed to hundreds of drug-related arrests and seizures and the destruction of millions of dollars of illegal drugs; and

WHEREAS, The National Guard adds value to communities by opening armories for public use for distance learning classes, food banks, and other community and youth activities. The National Guard continues to build upon these readiness centers/armories throughout the state to enhance education, add to quality of life, and increase economic vitality;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives express thanks and appreciation to the devoted families and dedicated employers of our National Guard soldiers and airmen for their support without which the National Guard's missions could not be successful; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives specifically and particularly recognize the value and dedication of a strong Washington National Guard to the viability, economy, and well-being of this state, both through the outstanding performance of its state emergency and disaster relief mission, and through the continued benefit to local communities by the presence of productively employed, drug-free, and well-equipped and trained National Guard units and the readiness center/armories that house them; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives to the Adjutant General of the Washington National Guard, the Governor of the state of Washington, the Secretaries of the Army and Air Force, and the President of the United States.

Representative Schmidt moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Schmidt, Conway, Benson, Haigh, Casada, Cooper, Reardon, Lambert and Miloscia spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

House Resolution No. 4606 was adopted.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the eleventh order of business.

RESOLUTIONS

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2001-4607 by Representatives Roach, Ahern, Casada and Hurst

WHEREAS, It is the policy of the Washington state legislature to recognize and honor the contributions of individuals who have embraced and demonstrated the standards of excellence that enhance the well-being and quality of life of the citizens of the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, It is the intent of the members of the fifty-seventh House of Representatives to recognize and honor the life and public service of former Representative Elmer Hyppa; and

WHEREAS, Elmer Hyppa, a lifetime resident of Buckley, Washington, worked throughout his life to improve and enhance the livelihood of others; and

WHEREAS, Elmer Hyppa served bravely and patriotically in World War II in the United States' navy seabee's battalion; and

WHEREAS, The House of Representatives recognizes and honors the dutiful and selfless service of Elmer Hyppa in the House of Representatives from 1953 to 1957 to the people of the twenty-fifth district; and

WHEREAS, The House of Representatives recognizes and honors Elmer Hyppa's service as Sergeant at Arms from 1957 to 1967 as a testimony for his desire to protect and preserve the civility and importance of conducting the business of the people; and

WHEREAS, Elmer Hyppa served as an officer and member on numerous community organizations further demonstrating his commitment to civic duty; and

WHEREAS, The House of Representatives recognizes and honors the life-long efforts of Elmer Hyppa to improve his district's systems of transportation, education, and health care on behalf of the people and the generations to come;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives recognize and honor Elmer Hyppa as a man of the people and for the people, in all his efforts to improve the quality of life in the great state of Washington; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives to the family of Elmer Hyppa.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2001-4612 by Representatives Reardon, Berkey, Mulliken, Ballard, Kessler, Kenney, Conway, Ahern, Alexander, Anderson, Armstrong, Ballasiotes, Barlean, Benson, Boldt, Buck, Bush, Cairnes, Campbell, Carrell, Casada, B. Chandler, G. Chandler, Chopp, Clements, Cody, Cooper, Cox, Crouse, Darneille, DeBolt, Delvin, Dickerson, Doumit, Dunn, Dunshee, Edmonds, Edwards, Eickmeyer, Ericksen, Esser, Fisher, Fromhold, Gombosky, Grant, Haigh, Hankins, Hatfield, Hunt, Hurst, Jackley, Jarrett, Kagi, Keiser, Kirby, Lambert, Lantz, Linville, Lisk, Lovick, Marine, Mastin, McDermott, McIntire, McMorris, Mielke, Miloscia, Mitchell, Morell, Morris, Murray, O'Brien, Ogden, Pearson, Pennington, Pflug, Poulsen, Quall, Roach, Rockefeller, Romero, Ruderman, Santos, Schindler, Schmidt, Schoesler, Schual-Berke, Sehlin, Simpson, Skinner, Sommers, Sump, Talcott, Tokuda, Van Luven, Veloria, Wood and Woods

WHEREAS, Washington State Representative Patricia "Pat" Scott, who served eight terms in unselfish, distinguished work for the citizens of Snohomish county, and for all the people of Washington, passed away on Sunday, January 7th; and

WHEREAS, Pat Scott was a loving mother to her son Tim, and a doting grandmother to Megan, Ryan, and Nate; and

WHEREAS, Children from all across Washington were always uppermost in the mind of Representative Scott through her unwavering commitment to protect and nurture their well-being; and

WHEREAS, Representative Scott fought against child abuse her entire career, sponsoring legislation that extended the statute of limitations for victims of abuse, ensured proper training for caseworkers to help identify child abuse, and increase penalties for those who operate a methamphetamine lab around children; and

WHEREAS, Representative Scott's quiet, tenacious work to create and pass the Homicide by Abuse Bill created a model that many other states have followed; and

WHEREAS, During a legislative career that will be forever modeled by men and women here and in other state governments, Representative Scott placed maximum importance on getting things done, not getting credit; and

WHEREAS, Representative Scott, our true friend and colleague, was tireless and scrupulous in her work to highlight the importance of self-esteem, personal accountability, and a positive mental attitude on the part of our young people; and

WHEREAS, The civic-mindedness of Representative Scott will always be remembered in Everett by that fair city's police and fire departments; and

WHEREAS, Although the Legislature hasn't been the same without her and now the world won't be the same without her, Representative Scott would be the first to admonish that we not mourn her passing — but that instead we celebrate her life and the time that she laughed, played, and worked among us;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the State of Washington celebrate the distinguished legislative, professional, civic, and, most of all, the personal life of Washington State Representative Pat Scott; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives to the members of the family of Washington State Representative Pat Scott.

Representative Reardon moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Reardon, Mulliken, Eickmeyer, Doumit, Morris and Sommers spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

House Resolution No. 4612 was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2001-4610 by Representatives Anderson, Pflug, Romero, Hunt, DeBolt, Lambert, Alexander, Veloria, Ruderman and Schmidt

WHEREAS, The Washington State School Directors' Association chose three "school boards of the year" at their annual conference held on November 16, 2000, in Spokane, Washington; and

WHEREAS, The school boards picked for this honor are the Snoqualmie Valley School Board representing districts with 1,001 to 5,000 students, the Tumwater School Board representing districts with 5,001 or more students, and the Mossyrock School Board representing districts with 1,000 or fewer students; and

WHEREAS, The Snoqualmie Valley School Board, the Tumwater School Board, and the Mossyrock School Board were all selected based on an essay each board submitted on the topic of "the most important thing we learned this year" describing the role of the school board in raising academic achievement levels for all students; and

WHEREAS, The Snoqualmie Valley School Board, the Tumwater School Board, and the Mossyrock School Board were each acknowledged for their leadership and outstanding contributions as boards who consistently demonstrate dedication to improving and raising levels of academic achievement and student learning; and

WHEREAS, The Snoqualmie Valley School Board was honored for recognizing that genuine school improvement is a change process and that the measure of success is the willingness to commit time, energy, and resources over the long term to major goals and objections; and

WHEREAS, The Snoqualmie Valley School Board was also lauded for evaluating the district against the seven attributes of high achieving school districts - leadership, performance, accountability, effective governance, shared values, learning partnerships, staff development, and technology infrastructure; and

WHEREAS, The Tumwater School Board was recognized for setting a positive example by using a process that involved all stakeholders in the community to establish goals, celebrate successes, establish innovations in education, and implement strategies for the future; and

WHEREAS, The Mossyrock School Board was recognized for taking advantage of learning opportunities to strengthen its leadership role in providing excellence in education for its students and developing a strategic plan to make changes needed to help students in a global society; and

WHEREAS, The Snoqualmie Valley School Board members are Kristy Lee Sullivan, Chair; Richard Krona; Rudolph Edwards; Rebekah Jorgensen; and David Reed, with Richard McCullough, Superintendent; and

WHEREAS, The Tumwater School Board members are Jay Wood, Chair; Robert Barclift; Corinne Tobeck; Liz Larsen; and Janine Ward, with Nick Brossoit, Superintendent; and

WHEREAS, The Mossyrock School Board members are Mark Bolender, Chair; Dwight Belcher; Vicki Oakerman; Cynthia Phillips; and John DeGoede, with Toma Manke, Superintendent;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives honor the Snoqualmie Valley School Board, the Tumwater School Board, and the Mossyrock School Board for being recognized as "school boards of the year" and for their commitment to providing the children of their districts a quality education;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives to the Snoqualmie Valley School Board, the Tumwater School Board, and the Mossyrock School Board.

Representative Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Anderson, Pflug, Romero, Ruderman, Schual-Berke and Hunt spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

On page 8, after line 34, insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 82.36.060 and 1998 c 176 s 18 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An application for a license issued under this chapter shall be made to the department on forms to be furnished by the department and shall contain such information as the department deems necessary.

(2) Every application for a license must contain the following information to the extent it applies to the applicant:

(a) Proof as the department may require concerning the applicant's identity, including but not limited to his or her fingerprints or those of the officers of a corporation making the application;

(b) The applicant's form and place of organization including proof that the individual, partnership, or corporation is licensed to do business in this state;

(c) The qualification and business history of the applicant and any partner, officer, or director;

(d) The applicant's financial condition or history including a bank reference and whether the applicant or any partner, officer, or director has ever been adjudged bankrupt or has an unsatisfied judgment in a federal or state court;

(e) Whether the applicant has been adjudged guilty of a crime that directly relates to the business for which the license is sought and the time elapsed since the conviction is less than ten years, or has suffered a judgment within the preceding five years in a civil action involving fraud, misrepresentation, or conversion and in the case of a corporation or partnership, all directors, officers, or partners.

(3) An applicant for a license as a motor vehicle fuel importer must list on the application each state, province, or country from which the applicant intends to import motor vehicle fuel and, if required by the state, province, or country listed, must be licensed or registered for motor vehicle fuel tax purposes in that state, province, or country.

(4) An applicant for a license as a motor vehicle fuel exporter must list on the application each state, province, or country to which the exporter intends to export motor vehicle fuel received in this state by means of a transfer outside of the bulk transfer-terminal system and, if required by the state, province, or country listed, must be licensed or registered for motor vehicle fuel tax purposes in that state, province, or country.

(5) An applicant for a license as a motor vehicle fuel supplier must have a federal certificate of registry that is issued under the internal revenue code and authorizes the applicant to enter into federal tax-free transactions on motor vehicle fuel in the terminal transfer system.

(6) After receipt of an application for a license, the director may conduct an investigation to determine whether the facts set forth are true. The director shall require a fingerprint record check of the applicant through the Washington state patrol criminal identification system and the federal bureau of investigation before issuance of a license. The results of the background investigation including criminal history information may be released to authorized department personnel as the director deems necessary. The department shall charge a license holder or license applicant a fee of fifty dollars for each background investigation conducted.

An applicant who makes a false statement of a material fact on the application may be prosecuted for false swearing as defined by RCW 9A.72.040.

(7) Except as provided by subsection (8) of this section, before granting any license issued under this chapter, the department shall require applicant to file with the department, in such form as shall be prescribed by the department, a corporate surety bond duly executed by the applicant as principal, payable to the state and conditioned for faithful performance of all the requirements of this chapter, including the payment of all taxes, penalties, and other obligations arising out of this chapter. The total amount of the bond or bonds shall be fixed by the department and may be increased or reduced by the department at any time subject to the limitations herein provided. In fixing the total amount of the bond or bonds, the department shall require a bond or bonds equivalent in total amount to twice the estimated monthly excise tax determined in such manner as the department may deem proper. If at any time the estimated excise tax to become due during the succeeding month amounts to more than fifty percent of the established bond, the department shall require additional bonds or securities to maintain the marginal ratio herein specified or shall demand excise tax payments to be made weekly or semimonthly to meet the requirements hereof.

The total amount of the bond or bonds required of any licensee shall never be less than five thousand dollars nor more than one hundred thousand dollars.

No recoveries on any bond or the execution of any new bond shall invalidate any bond and no revocation of any license shall effect the validity of any bond but the total recoveries under any one bond shall not exceed the amount of the bond.

In lieu of any such bond or bonds in total amount as herein fixed, a licensee may deposit with the state treasurer, under such terms and conditions as the department may prescribe, a like amount of lawful money of the United States or bonds or other obligations of the United States, the state, or any county of the state, of an actual market value not less than the amount so fixed by the department.

Any surety on a bond furnished by a licensee as provided herein shall be released and discharged from any and all liability to the state accruing on such bond after the expiration of thirty days from the date upon which such surety has lodged with the department a written request to be released and discharged, but this provision shall not operate to relieve, release, or discharge the surety from any liability already accrued or which shall accrue before the expiration of the thirty day period. The department shall promptly, upon receiving any such request, notify the licensee who furnished the bond; and unless the licensee, on or before the expiration of the thirty day period, files a new bond, or makes a deposit in accordance with the requirements of this section, the department shall forthwith cancel the license. Whenever a new bond is furnished by a licensee, the department shall cancel the old bond as soon as the department and the attorney general are satisfied that all liability under the old bond has been fully discharged.

The department may require a licensee to give a new or additional surety bond or to deposit additional securities of the character specified in this section if, in its opinion, the security of the surety bond theretofore filed by such licensee, or the market value of the properties deposited as security by the licensee, shall become impaired or inadequate; and upon the failure of the licensee to give such new or additional surety bond or to deposit additional securities within thirty days after being requested so to do by the department, the department shall forthwith cancel his or her license.

(8) The department may waive the requirements of subsection (7) of this section for licensed distributors if, upon determination by the department, the licensed distributor has sufficient resources, assets, other financial instruments, or other means, to adequately make payments on the estimated monthly motor vehicle fuel tax payments, penalties, and interest arising out of this chapter. The department shall adopt rules to administer this subsection."

On page 10, after line 30, insert the following:

"Sec. 7. RCW 82.38.110 and 1998 c 176 s 63 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Application for a license issued under this chapter shall be made to the department. The application shall be filed upon a form prepared and furnished by the department and shall contain such information as the department deems necessary.

(2) Every application for a special fuel license, other than an application for a dyed special fuel user or international fuel tax agreement license, must contain the following information to the extent it applies to the applicant:

(a) Proof as the department shall require concerning the applicant's identity, including but not limited to his or her fingerprints or those of the officers of a corporation making the application;

(b) The applicant's form and place of organization including proof that the individual, partnership, or corporation is licensed to do business in this state;

(c) The qualification and business history of the applicant and any partner, officer, or director;

(d) The applicant's financial condition or history including a bank reference and whether the applicant or any partner, officer, or director has ever been adjudged bankrupt or has an unsatisfied judgment in a federal or state court;

(e) Whether the applicant has been adjudged guilty of a crime that directly relates to the business for which the license is sought and the time elapsed since the conviction is less than ten years, or has suffered a judgment within the preceding five years in a civil action involving fraud, misrepresentation, or conversion and in the case of a corporation or partnership, all directors, officers, or partners.

(3) An applicant for a license as a special fuel importer must list on the application each state, province, or country from which the applicant intends to import fuel and, if required by the state, province, or country listed, must be licensed or registered for special fuel tax purposes in that state, province, or country.

(4) An applicant for a license as a special fuel exporter must list on the application each state, province, or country to which the exporter intends to export special fuel received in this state by means of a transfer outside the bulk transfer-terminal system and, if required by the state, province, or country listed, must be licensed or registered for special fuel tax purposes in that state, province, or country.

(5) An applicant for a license as a special fuel supplier must have a federal certificate of registry that is issued under the internal revenue code and authorizes the applicant to enter into federal tax-free transactions on special fuel in the terminal transfer system.

(6) After receipt of an application for a license, the director shall conduct an investigation to determine whether the facts set forth are true. The results of the background investigation including criminal history information may be released to authorized department personnel as the director deems necessary. The department shall charge a license holder or license applicant a fee of fifty dollars for each background investigation conducted.

(7) An applicant who makes a false statement of a material fact on the application may be prosecuted for false swearing as defined by RCW 9A.72.040.

(8) A special fuel license may not be issued to any person or continued in force unless such person has furnished bond, as defined in RCW 82.38.020, in such form as the department may require, to secure his or her compliance with this chapter, and the payment of any and all taxes, interest, and penalties due and to become due hereunder. The requirement of furnishing a bond may be waived: (a) For special fuel distributors who only deliver special fuel into the fuel tanks of marine vessels((?)); (b) for dyed special fuel users ((and)); (c) for persons issued licenses under the international fuel tax agreement; or (d) for licensed special fuel distributors who, upon determination by the department, have sufficient resources, assets, other financial instruments, or other means to adequately make payments on the estimated monthly motor vehicle fuel tax payments, penalties, and interest arising out of this chapter. The department shall adopt rules to administer this section.

(9) The department may require a licensee to post a bond if the licensee, after having been licensed, has failed to file timely reports or has failed to remit taxes due, or when an investigation or audit indicates problems severe enough that the department, in its discretion, determines that a bond is required to protect the interests of the state. The department may also adopt rules prescribing conditions that, in the department's discretion, require a bond to protect the interests of the state.

(10) The total amount of the bond or bonds required of any licensee shall be equivalent to three times the estimated monthly fuel tax, determined in such manner as the department may deem proper: PROVIDED, That those licensees having held a special fuel license for five or more years without having said license suspended or revoked by the department shall be permitted to reduce the amount of their bond to twice the estimated monthly tax liability: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the total amount of the bond or bonds shall never be less than five hundred dollars nor more than one hundred thousand dollars.

(11) An application for a dyed special fuel user license must be made to the department. The application must be filed upon a form prescribed by the department and contain such information as the department deems necessary.

(12) An application for an international fuel tax agreement license must be made to the department. The application must be filed upon a form prescribed by the department and contain such information as the department may require."

RESOLUTIONS

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2001-4613 by Representatives Skinner, Kessler, Schmidt, Linville, Ogden, Dunn, Hankins, Armstrong and Edmonds

WHEREAS, The Arts enhance the lives of the people of the State of Washington; and

WHEREAS, The literary, performing, and visual Arts are vibrant threads weaving through the tapestry of life in the State of Washington; and

WHEREAS, The Arts stimulate creative thinking, inspire creativity and innovation, encourage self-expression, knit our communities and our state together with a common understanding of our humanity, foster communication and understanding across cultures, and transmit core national and local values to future generations; and

WHEREAS, The Arts enable lifelong learning, are essential to a basic education, assist with the teaching of other subjects, and foster logical analysis, self-discipline, cooperation, and teamwork; and

WHEREAS, The Arts contribute to full brain development, accelerate students' mastery of history, math, and science, enhance problem-solving skills, and increase the self-esteem of youth at risk; and

WHEREAS, The Arts contribute to the economic development of our state's communities by generating millions of dollars in revenue each year through performances, projects, exhibitions, festivals, Art walks, craft fairs, and concerts; and

WHEREAS, The Arts of Washington State have received international acclaim for the quality of our Artists, Arts educators, and Arts agencies, facilities, organizations, and institutions, drawing audiences from across the nation and the world to the Northwest, and making cultural tourism a vital part of our economy; and

WHEREAS, The Arts industry informs and educates the public and its leadership about cultural opportunities, and encourages artistic and economic growth; and

WHEREAS, The Arts industry provides assistance in long-range community and educational planning in an effort to secure a place for the Arts as a vital component of Washington State's environment; and

WHEREAS, The Arts industry provides forums for discussion and collaboration between the cultural community at large to implement ways and means to meet the identified cultural goals of the area, and supports efforts to meet those needs;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives recognize and honor the Arts, Artists, Arts educators, and Arts agencies, facilities, organizations, and institutions of this state, and encourage all the citizens of Washington State to join the conversation in planning on the Arts as we address the issues and opportunities for Arts and culture for our state and our communities; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives to the Washington State Arts Commission and the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction on behalf of all the Artists, Arts educators, and Arts agencies, facilities, organizations, and institutions of this state.

JOINT SESSION

The Speaker (Representative Pennington presiding) called the House to order.

The Sergeant at Arms announced that the Senate had arrived. The Speaker (Representative Pennington presiding) requested that the Sergeant at Arms of the House and the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate escort President Pro Tempore Rosa Franklin and Minority Leader Jim West to seats on the Rostrum. The Senators were invited to seats within the Chamber.

The Speaker (Representative Pennington presiding) called upon President Pro Tempore Franklin to preside over the Joint Session.

The President (Senator Franklin presiding) called the Joint Session to order. The Clerk called the roll of the House and Senate and a quorum was present.

The President (Senator Franklin presiding) introduced the Statewide Elected Officials: Governor Gary Locke, Secretary of State Sam Reed, State Treasurer Mike Murphy, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Terry Bergeson, Insurance Commissioner Mike Kreidler and Commissioner of Public Lands Doug Sutherland.

The Clerk announced the former members who were in attendance: Senator Del Bausch, Commissioner of Public Lands Jennifer Belcher, Senator Rick Bender, Representative Art Brown, Representative Patty Butler, Senator Paul Conner, Representative Thomas Copeland, Senator Carol (Monahon) Conley; Representative Phil Dyer, Speaker Wayne Ehlers, Senator Tim Erwin, Senator Pete Francis, Senator Marc Gaspard, State Auditor Robert Graham, Senator H.B. Hanna, Representative Denny Heck, Representative Richard King, Senator Bill Kiskaddon, Representative Paul Sanders, Representative Doug Sayan, Representative Joe Taller, Representative Mike Todd and Representative William Young.

The Flags were escorted to the Rostrum by the Washington State Patrol Color Guard. The President (Senator Franklin presiding) led the Chamber in the Pledge of Allegiance.

The President (Senator Franklin presiding) announced the purpose of the Joint session was to conduct memorial services in memory of departed former members of the Legislature. The President turned the gavel over to Representative Pennington to conduct the service.

The Invocation was offered by Speaker Clyde Ballard: "We come before you today at a time which gives us many emotions. As we read down the list of all those friends, many of whom many of us have served with, we think of all the years of service they have given. We think of all of the years that their families supported them in doing this. We think of the fact that they are not with us here today. These thoughts bring us sadness.

But then we think of all the good times we had in serving with them. We think of all the good things they did. We think of all of the good memories we continue to share when we have our casual and family times. And these thoughts bring us a special joy and hearts full of Thanksgiving. We are so thankful for the lives they gave, their commitment and the differences they made in the lives of the citizens of this State. So this day, we bow before you to say thank you for allowing us to have these individuals as good friends and as good servants of the citizens of the State of Washington. It is with grateful hearts that we say thank you for this blessing.

In Christ's Name, Amen."

The Legislative Choir, composed of volunteers from the Senate and House of Representatives with Guest Director Irv Martin, accompanied by Art Peterson. The Choir sang "On Eagles Wings".

Representative Pennington called upon Speaker Pro Tempore Val Ogden for the Memorial Tribute.

Speaker Pro Tempore Ogden: "We are assembled today to pay tribute to the lives and services of the distinguished former Members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Washington who are no longer with us.

On behalf of the People of our State, the Fifty-Seventh Legislature of the State of Washington conveys its respects to these deceased Legislators who once sat in the chambers of the House and Senate, as we are doing today, answered roll calls on sometimes critical perplexing bills, attended committee meetings and above all else, served to the best of their abilities in order to make our State a better and more enriching place in which to live. While their journey in this life is completed, their achievements, records and valued services have been recorded in the journals of the Senate and House and are now a permanent part of the history of the State of Washington.

We express our sympathies to the bereaved families and their friends and also share with them on this memorable occasion the fond and happy memories of these legislators, who served us well and responsibly. They truly loved this great State of Washington. They have indeed left a legacy of dedicated service that will remain as a reminder to us of our responsibilities and the opportunity we have to serve our State."

Speakers Pro Tempore Pennington and Ogden called the roll of the deceased former members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

Rabbi Theodore Stainman, Temple Bet Chaverim, Des Moines offered the Memorial Prayer: "Our God and God of our fathers it is altogether right and proper that we meet now and here to consider the lives of those who have rendered service to the community and to our State and have passed to their eternal reward. Their lives are an example to us and their service a model of devotion.

We can give only a small measure of comfort to their heirs by our honors yet it is important for us to do so. It is important because the past assuredly influences the present and the future. By the honor we bestow upon those who have served we insure the future of our work and State. Every one of us exists for only a moment in time and then ceases to be. Our work is our memorial and our everlasting remembrance. By reviewing the life and times of those who preceded us, we learn the important virtues of devotion and rectitude which they so exhibited. We additionally by spending a moment of reflection call to mind the essential humanity of our predecessors and strengthen the connection between them and us. This is all to the good.

Dear God you have implanted in us the capacity of both memory and goodness. By holding on to the lives and labors of these legislators who served with distinction and high purpose we are able to dedicate our work to emulate and finish what they began and initiated. With them in mind we reinforce our own determination to do the best we can for the citizens of our State and to render government for the common good of all.

This then is the lasting tribute and memorial with which we enshrine the memory of those we honor today. We pray to the God who has sheltered us and protected us to take under the wings of his peace the family members and friends who yet grieve the loss of loved ones. We pledge ourselves to keep alive the good name that they earned by a lifetime of service to others. May their memory always bring us blessing as we recall their lives and deeds at this hallowed moment and in this sacred place."

The Legislative Choir sang "To Everything There is a Season". The Washington State Patrol offered a ceremonial salute of 17 bells and "Taps".

Representative Joyce Mulliken offered the Closing Prayer: "'Gracious God and Creator of all ... it is good we could come this afternoon to be part of this ceremony - to remember and to pay tribute to these servants who have given so much of themselves - their time and energy in service for the people in this great State of Washington. We pray especially for their family members - that you will comfort them in their loss and help them find consolation in knowing the benefit their family member provided for so many.

We also pray for each one of us here - that You would encourage and comfort us as we claim their memories as your special gift to us. May these memories instruct us, motivate us, support us and lift us. May we remember what these former members have done by serving among us.

Even though death is powerful and mysterious we know because of our hope in You it does not have the last word. We take joy, as our hearts rise to You, that this divine harmony of death and life was sung by prophets and holy people, and that Your Son, Jesus, sang that song in his death and resurrection from the tomb.

And, so we pray that as we look to the future, we will continue to learn from the past. We thank You our sovereign God for what you have done in our midst and we continue to pray for Your special blessing upon each of our lives, the lives of our families, and the lives of those we serve."

Washington State Patrol Sergeant Keith Huntley played "Amazing Grace" on the bagpipes.

Speaker Pro Tempore Pennington returned the gavel to President Pro Tempore Franklin who thank the members of the Memorial Committee and everyone who participated in the day's ceremony.

On motion by Representative Mastin, the Joint Session was dissolved. President Pro Tempore Franklin turned the gavel over to Speaker Pro Tempore Pennington who asked the Sergeant at Arms of the House and Senate to escort President Pro Tempore Franklin and Minority Leader West from the Rostrum, and the Senators from the floor of the House.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the eleventh order of business.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2001-4618 by Representatives Pearson, Berkey and Hankins

WHEREAS, The people of the state of Washington celebrate children as one of the most precious blessings our nation has ever been given; and

WHEREAS, Children are the future of the state of Washington and it is our duty and privilege to instill in them the faith, hope, charity, and integrity they need to continue the legacy of freedom, peace, and prosperity we have inherited from those who came before us; and

WHEREAS, The children of the state of Washington should be cherished and given a positive and secure environment that can help develop their talents, temperament, minds, and character; and

WHEREAS, The children of the state of Washington should know that their ideas and dreams are valued and respected because we take time to listen and encourage; and

WHEREAS, Children are the responsibility of their parents and all the citizens of the state of Washington should help them by setting an example of what it means to be a good neighbor, law-abiding citizen, productive worker, and helpful friend; and

WHEREAS, The children of the state of Washington should have access to quality education, wholesome recreation, and a safe community; and

WHEREAS, The state has designated the second Sunday in October to commemorate the children of the state of Washington;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives encourage all the citizens of Washington to celebrate children on Children's Day and throughout the year by spending more quality time with children and emphasizing their special place in our lives.

WHEREAS, The first known Hawaiian to have visited the Pacific Northwest was a woman named Winee, a personal servant to the wife of Captain Charles Barkley, who in 1787 stopped at the Sandwich Islands before he sailed to the Northwest; and

WHEREAS, Other Hawaiians became curious with the Western visitors and their tales of distant lands, thus Captain John Meares took a chief named Ka i'ana with him on a trip to the Northwest; and

WHEREAS, By the early nineteenth century when the fur trade was firmly established along the Northwest Coast, the Hudson's Bay Company was founded in 1821. The Hudson's Bay Company recruited Hawaiians to work in this industry and this became common practice; and

WHEREAS, The Hawaiians were trained as servants, mill workers, craftsmen, and fur traders, but it was their excellent canoeing skills that were used by the Hudson's Bay Company to explore and navigate the Puget Sound waters; and

WHEREAS, John Kalama, who is a direct Hawaiian descendant to Queen Kalama, the wife of King Kamehameha III, left the Islands for the Northwest; and

WHEREAS, John Kalama was an employee of the Hudson's Bay Company in Vancouver, Washington, and married a Native woman named Mary Martin, a direct descendent of Chief Leschi; and

WHEREAS, Chief Leschi allegedly led an attack on Seattle on January 26, 1856, after his mark mysteriously showed up on the treaty that put his people on reservations; and

WHEREAS, The town of Kalama and the Kalama River are both named for John Kalama; and

WHEREAS, Generations of the John Kalama family still live on the Nisqually, Quinalt, and Warm Springs Reservations;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the state of Washington recognize the contributions of the Hawaiians to Washington state history, and celebrate the Kalama family who could very well be the only descendants of a Native American chief and the relatives of Hawaiian royalty who came to live in what was then known as the Oregon Territory; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the state of Washington also recognize the research and documentation by Hale Halawai O Hawai'i for their work in bringing these stories forward, and bringing to our attention that the first documented Hawaiians lived and worked in King County in 1870 at a sawmill in Freeport, located on the Duwamish Head in West Seattle; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives to the Kalama family and Hale Halawai O Hawai'i.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2001-4622 by Representatives G. Chandler and Linville

WHEREAS, For centuries the French have recognized the invaluable culinary contributions potatoes provide and lovingly refer to them in their native language as "pomme de terre" or "Apples of the Earth"; and

WHEREAS, From the tasty red potatoes of Rhode Island to the mighty russets of the Columbia Basin, potatoes are cherished from coast to coast; and

WHEREAS, A recent Washington State University report revealed that the Washington potato industry generates three billion dollars in sales annually and adds some 28,000 jobs to the state's economy; and

WHEREAS, Washington state is the second largest producer of potatoes in the United States; and

WHEREAS, Potatoes are the second largest crop grown in Washington; and

WHEREAS, Washington state produces more potatoes per acre than anywhere else in the world; and

WHEREAS, There are over 300 proud potato growers in the state of Washington, harvesting nearly 152,000 acres of potatoes each year; and

WHEREAS, Eighty-seven percent of potatoes are sold to processors who carefully and lovingly transform them into golden fries, crunchy chips, and whipped and creamy mashed potatoes; and

WHEREAS, Due to the long, warm days and cool nights in the mineral-rich volcanic soil of the Columbia Basin, potatoes grow up to be the light, fluffy, high-solids potatoes known worldwide; and

WHEREAS, Nearly nine out of every ten potatoes is marketed out of Washington state, with a significant portion of these going to overseas markets;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives acknowledge and honor the women and men who plant, grow, harvest, and process potatoes in Washington state and who have contributed so much to the strength and vitality of our state and its economy, the character of our communities, and the general well-being of our citizens; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives to the Washington State Potato Commission and to Washington pomme de terre lovers everywhere.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2001-4616 by Representatives Lovick, Cox, Haigh, Lambert, Santos, Schmidt, Romero, Casada, Fromhold, Esser, O'Brien, Skinner, Schual-Berke, Jarrett, Gombosky, Sump, McDermott, Ahern, Murray, Delvin, Reardon, Armstrong, Jackley, Ruderman, Dickerson, Hurst, Pearson, Miloscia, Fisher, Marine, G. Chandler, Darneille, Veloria, Edmonds, Hankins, Pflug, Hatfield, Conway and Woods

WHEREAS, Black History Month was established in February 1926 by Carter G. Woodson as Negro History Week and was later expanded to Afro-American History Month in 1976 in honor of the nation's bicentennial; and

WHEREAS, It was Carter G. Woodson's hope that through this special observance, all Americans would be reminded of their ethnic roots and develop a mutual respect for the contributions of all racial groups in America; and

WHEREAS, For more than 300 years as part of an established system of slavery and human bondage, Black Americans toiled and survived and then overcame the degradation and shame of this system to become contributors at every level of our public and private endeavors; and

WHEREAS, The desire to succeed and contribute to America caused Black Americans to defy racial hostility, Jim Crow Laws, and economic and social injustices; and

WHEREAS, This willingness to succeed and the love for their country have left a positive impact on American culture and society in areas of education, medicine, industry, the military, religion, social sciences, philosophy, agriculture, engineering, and the arts; and

WHEREAS, Black Americans continue to contribute widely to the attainment of peace, equality, and justice, and all Americans deserve to know of the great moments and accomplishments of Black Americans; and

WHEREAS, George Washington Bush was the first Black American to serve in the Washington Territorial Legislature; Representatives Charles Stokes and Marjorie Pitter King were the first Black American man and woman to serve in the legislature following the proclamation of Washington statehood; and Charles Z. Smith was the first Black American to serve on the Washington State Supreme Court; and

WHEREAS, The Washington State Legislature is honored to have among its former members the following elected Black American Representatives and Senators: Sam Smith, Michael Ross, Peggie Joan Maxie, George Fleming, Bill Smitherman, Jesse Wineberry, Vivian Caver, and Dawn Mason; and

WHEREAS, There have been major contributions made to Washington State history by Black American citizens including: Civil rights leader Edwin T. Pratt; poet Mona Lake Jones; artists Jacob Lawrence and James Washington; historian Esther Mumford; and musicians Quincy Jones, Ernestine Anderson, and Jimi Hendrix; and

WHEREAS, Washington is a beautiful state and America is a proud nation due to our recognition of the contributions made by many diverse ethnic populations and because of our ability to work together as a state dependent upon international peace, harmony, and cooperation;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State House of Representatives recognize February 2001, as Black History Month, in recognition of Americans of African descent who have contributed to America, a nation in which we take great pride; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the members of the Washington State House of Representatives do hereby recognize and appreciate the many benefits of Black History Month to our citizenry and to our culture in general and that we urge all citizens of the State of Washington to join with us in taking the opportunity this month to explore this rich history and expand our world view; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Co-Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives to the Chair of the Washington State Commission on African-American Affairs, to Judge Charles Stokes, the first African-American member of the Washington State House of Representatives, and to Justice Charles Z. Smith of the Washington State Supreme Court.

Representative Lovick moved the adoption of the resolution.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2001-4628 by Representatives Kessler, Mastin, Ahern, Alexander, Anderson, Armstrong, Ballard, Ballasiotes, Barlean, Benson, Berkey, Boldt, Buck, Bush, Cairnes, Campbell, Carrell, Casada, B. Chandler, G. Chandler, Chopp, Clements, Cody, Conway, Cooper, Cox, Crouse, Darneille, DeBolt, Delvin, Dickerson, Doumit, Dunn, Dunshee, Edmonds, Edwards, Eickmeyer, Ericksen, Esser, Fisher, Fromhold, Gombosky, Grant, Haigh, Hankins, Hatfield, Hunt, Hurst, Jackley, Jarrett, Kagi, Keiser, Kenney, Kirby, Lambert, Lantz, Linville, Lisk, Lovick, Marine, McDermott, McIntire, McMorris, Mielke, Miloscia, Mitchell, Morell, Morris, Mulliken, Murray, O'Brien, Ogden, Pearson, Pennington, Pflug, Poulsen, Quall, Reardon, Roach, Rockefeller, Romero, Ruderman, Santos, Schindler, Schmidt, Schoesler, Schual-Berke, Sehlin, Simpson, Skinner, Sommers, Sump, Talcott, Tokuda, Van Luven, Veloria, Wood and Woods

WHEREAS, The magnitude 6.8 earthquake Wednesday morning, February 28, severely rocked western Washington, particularly the Puget Sound region, and the buildings that comprise the Capitol Campus in Olympia; and

WHEREAS, Most importantly, this severest earthquake in over 50 years has claimed only one precious life and caused relatively few serious injuries across the region, including only a handful here on the Capitol Campus; and

WHEREAS, Day in and day out, the financial toll of public and private property loss and destruction continues to rise as damage estimates soar well above the one billion dollar mark, and a return to normal life and activity for thousands of families and businesses remains a difficult challenge; and

WHEREAS, Through our legislative community's shared response to the disaster's violent, ear-splitting introductory boom; through our frightened but orderly evacuation of our buildings; then through our present, anxious hours and days since the Ash Wednesday Earthquake of 2001 — the work, dedication, and professionalism of the Washington State Patrol, the Washington State Legislative Security staff, and the Washington State Department of General Administration personnel reflect a mettle, dauntlessness, and commitment that is truly extraordinary; and

WHEREAS, Many hundreds of House of Representatives, Senate, and other state government elected officials and staff — as well as visitors to, guests of, and participants in our legislative proceedings that fateful day — were escorted in a safe, secure, and in every way orderly manner from the Legislative Building, the John L. O'Brien Building, the John A. Cherberg Building, the Irv Newhouse Building, and the other buildings located around the Capitol Campus; and

WHEREAS, The first few days following the earthquake were filled with confusion, impatience, misinformation, and even fear; and

WHEREAS, The men and women of the State Patrol, the Legislative Security Office, and the General

Administration Department worked around the clock from almost the moment of the earthquake to inspect and secure our buildings; keep legislators, staff, and the public informed of the condition of their Capitol; and maintain order all around the campus; and

WHEREAS, They put their own safety and welfare on the line in order to assure that the rest of us were kept from danger, often incurring the wrath of those they sought to protect; and

WHEREAS, They responded to the crisis in precisely the swift, efficient, and forthright manner that is absolutely fundamental to the maintenance of order, confidence, and trustworthiness;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the State of Washington salute, commend, and, most of all, thank the tireless and indefatigable men and women of the State Patrol, the Legislative Security Office, and the General Administration Department; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives to Washington State Patrol Chief Robert M. Leichner, Washington State House of Representatives Sergeant at Arms Ron Finley, and Washington State Department of General Administration Director Marsha Tadano Long.

Representative Kessler moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Kessler and Mastin spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

House Resolution No. 4628 was adopted.

Speaker Chopp brought to the members' attention the death of Des Moines Patrolman Steven J. Underwood who was killed in the line of duty March 7, 2001. The House of Representatives held a moment of silence in his memory.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1361 by Representatives Jackley, Cairnes and Dunshee*Simplifying excise tax application and administration.

The bill was read the second time.

Representative Cairnes moved the adoption of the following amendment (016):

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. The legislature finds that the recent state supreme court decision in Simpson Investment Co. v. Dept. of Revenue could lead to an unusually restrictive, narrow interpretation of the deductibility of investment income for business and occupation tax purposes. If allowed to stand, this interpretation could be extremely detrimental.

Through its ruling, the court called into question the application of the state's business and occupation tax to investment income derived by nonfinancial businesses such as family investment vehicles, estate planning entities, personal holding companies, mutual funds, venture capital companies, and other similar entities that have traditionally deducted their investment income pursuant to RCW 82.04.4281. The court's decision could also be read to expand the business and occupation tax to individual citizens' investment earnings even though they have never been considered to be engaging in business.

The court's decision has the potential of discouraging capital investment in this state's businesses and inhibiting individual citizens, their families, and noncommercial investors from preserving or increasing their financial security. The legislature recognizes that capital and investment income is easily moved out of state. Interpretations that would apply the business and occupation tax to certain investment income will definitely cause a reduction of overall capital available to businesses and could cause some to take their operations and family-wage jobs out of this state.

The legislature finds that a narrow interpretation of RCW 82.04.4281 is clearly not in the best interest of this state or its citizens. Therefore, it is the intent of this act to clarify the deductibility of investment income and to specifically identify persons who may not take the deduction provided in RCW 82.04.4281.

Sec. 19. RCW 82.04.4281 and 1980 c 37 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In computing tax there may be deducted from the measure of tax:

(a) Amounts derived ((by persons, other than those engaging in banking, loan, security, or other financial businesses;)) from investments or the use of money ((as such, and also)); and

(b) Amounts derived as dividends by a parent from its subsidiary corporations.

(2) The following persons are not entitled to the deduction provided in subsection (1)(a) of this section:

(a) Persons who engage in business as a banking, loan, or other financial institution chartered under:

(i) Title 30, 31, 32, or 33 RCW;

(ii) The national bank act, as amended; or

(iii) The homeowners loan act, as amended;

(b) A holding company of any person described in (a) of this subsection that is subject to:

(i) The bank holding company act, as amended; or

(ii) The homeowners loan act, as amended;

(c) Persons who engage in business as a lender approved by the United States secretary of housing and urban development for participation in any mortgage insurance program under the national housing act, as amended;

(d) Persons who engage in business as a subsidiary of or affiliate owned or controlled by one or more persons described in (a), (b), or (c) of this subsection;

(e) Persons who engage in business as an underwriter and distributor of securities issued by other persons, a seller of securities to the public, a broker of securities, or any combination of these activities, whose gross income is normally derived principally from these activities. However, this subsection shall not be construed to deny the deduction provided in subsection (1) of this section to the entity that issues any of the securities that are underwritten, distributed, sold, or brokered by any of the persons identified in this subsection.

In addition, this subsection shall not be construed to deny the deduction provided in subsection (1) of this section to any collective investment entity such as a mutual fund, venture capital fund, hedge fund, deferred compensation trust or account, or any similar fund or account;

(f) Persons who engage in business as a provider of revolving credit accounts. However, this subsection shall only be construed to deny the deduction provided in subsection (1) of this section to interest income derived from the provision of the revolving credit accounts. If the person providing revolving credit accounts is also engaged in business as a person identified in (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this subsection, that person shall be denied the deduction provided in subsection (1) of this section in its entirety;

(g) Persons who make installment sales through installment sales contracts. However, this subsection shall only be construed to deny the deduction provided in subsection (1) of this section to interest income derived from the installment sales contracts. In addition, a person making installment sales through installment sales contracts shall not be deemed to be engaged in business for the purposes of this subsection unless they hold two or more installment sales contracts; and

(h) Persons whose primary business activity is substantially identical to the activities of any person listed in (a) through (g) of this subsection. However, this subsection shall not be construed to deny the deduction provided in subsection (1) of this section to any person who qualifies as a personal holding company as defined in section 542 of the internal revenue code, nor any person who would meet the definition of a personal holding company if that person were a corporation."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively, correct any internal references accordingly, and correct the title.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Kessler requested a scope and object ruling on the amendment (016) to House Bill No. 1361.

SPEAKERS' RULING

Speaker Chopp: "House Bill No. 1361 is entitled "an act related to simplifying excise tax application and administration." The bill makes a number of housekeeping changes, including updating statutory references and clarifying and simplifying definitions, required departmental actions, and taxpayer reporting requirements.

Amendment (016) responds to a recent Supreme Court decision regarding business and occupation taxation of investment income by specifically identifying the types of businesses subject to those taxes. The amendment is much more than a simplification or housekeeping change.

"Representative Kessler, your point of order is well taken."

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Speaker Chopp stated the question before the House to be the final passage of House Bill No. 1361.

"Sec. 6. RCW 29.18.010 and 1990 c 59 s 78 are each amended to read as follows:

Candidates for the following offices shall be nominated at partisan primaries held pursuant to the provisions of this chapter:

- (1) Congressional offices;
- (2) All state offices except (a) judicial offices and (b) the office of superintendent of public instruction;
- (3) All county offices except (a) judicial offices, (b) sheriff, except in a county for which the position is declared to be a partisan office by the county's home rule charter, and ~~((b))~~ (c) those offices where a county home rule charter provides otherwise.

Sec. 7. RCW 29.21.010 and 1990 c 59 s 89 are each amended to read as follows:

All city and town primaries shall be nonpartisan. Primaries for special purpose districts, except those districts that require ownership of property within the district as a prerequisite to voting, shall be nonpartisan. Primaries for the office of county sheriff shall be nonpartisan except in a county for which the position is declared to be a partisan office by the county's home rule charter. City, town, county sheriff, and district primaries shall be held as provided in RCW 29.13.070.

The purpose of this section is to establish the holding of a primary, subject to the exemptions in RCW 29.21.015, as a uniform procedural requirement to the holding of city, town, county sheriff, and district elections.

These provisions supersede any and all other statutes, whether general or special in nature, having different election requirements.

Sec. 8. RCW 29.21.015 and 1998 c 19 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No primary may be held for any single position in any city, town, district, ~~((ø))~~ district court, or for the nonpartisan position of county sheriff, as required by RCW 29.21.010, if, after the last day allowed for candidates to withdraw, there are no more than two candidates filed for the position. The county auditor shall, as soon as possible, notify all the candidates so affected that the office for which they filed will not appear on the primary ballot.

(2) No primary may be held for the office of commissioner of a park and recreation district or for the office of cemetery district commissioner.

(3) Names of candidates for offices that do not appear on the primary ballot shall be printed upon the general election ballot in the manner specified by RCW 29.30.025.

Sec. 9. RCW 29.21.070 and 1990 c 59 s 91 are each amended to read as follows:

The offices of superintendent of public instruction, justice of the supreme court, judge of the court of appeals, judge of the superior court, and judge of the district court shall be nonpartisan and the candidates therefor shall be nominated and elected as such. Except in a county for which the position of sheriff is declared to be a partisan office by the county's home rule charter, the office of county sheriff shall be nonpartisan and the candidates therefor shall be nominated and elected as such.

All city, town, and special purpose district elective offices shall be nonpartisan and the candidates therefor shall be nominated and elected as such.

Sec. 10. RCW 29.30.025 and 1990 c 59 s 80 are each amended to read as follows:

After the close of business on the last day for candidates to file for office, the filing officer shall, from among those filings made in person and by mail, determine by lot the order in which the names of those candidates will appear on all sample and absentee ballots. In the case of candidates for city, town, and district office, and for nonpartisan sheriff, this procedure shall also determine the order for candidate names on the official primary ballot used at the polling place. The determination shall be done publicly and may be witnessed by the media and by any candidate. If no primary is required for any nonpartisan office under RCW 29.15.150 or 29.21.015, the names shall appear on the general election ballot in the order determined by lot.

Sec. 11. RCW 36.16.110 and 1963 c 4 s 36.16.110 are each amended to read as follows:

The board of county commissioners in each county shall, at its next regular or special meeting after being appraised of any vacancy in any county, township, precinct, or road district office of the county, including the office of county sheriff, fill the vacancy by the appointment of some person qualified to hold such office, and the officers thus appointed shall hold office until the next general election, and until their successors are elected and qualified."

Correct the title.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Kessler requested a scope and object ruling on amendment number (013) to House Bill No. 1577.

SPEAKERS' RULING

Speaker Ballard: "HB 1577 is entitled "an act relating to candidates for elected office." The purpose of the bill is to clarify standards for candidates using party designations. Substitute House Bill No. 1785 was read the second time.

Representative Murray moved the adoption of the following amendment (053):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the amount of overall requests for funding for natural resource-related programs in the capital budget has been steadily growing. The legislature also finds that there is an increasing interest by the public in examining the performance of the projects and programs to determine the return on their investments and that a coordinated and integrated response by state agencies will allow for better targeting of resources. The legislature further finds that there is a need to improve the data and the integration of data that is collected by state agencies and grant and loan recipients in order to better measure the outcomes of projects and programs. The legislature intends to begin implementing the recommendations contained in the joint legislative audit and review committee's report number 01-1 on investing in the environment in order to improve the efficiency, effectiveness, and accountability of these natural resource-related programs funded in the state capital budget.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 43.41 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The office of financial management shall assist natural resource-related agencies in developing outcome focused performance measures for administering natural resource-related and environmentally based grant and loan programs. These performance measures are to be used in determining grant eligibility, for program management and performance assessment.

(2) The office of financial management and the governor's salmon recovery office shall assist natural resource-related agencies in developing recommendations for a monitoring program to measure outcome focused performance measures required by this section.

(3) Natural resource agencies shall consult with grant or loan recipients including local governments, tribes, nongovernmental organizations, and other interested parties, and report to the office of financial management on the implementation of this section. The office of financial management shall report to the natural resource and fiscal committees of the legislature on the agencies' implementation of this section, including any necessary changes in current law, and funding requirements by July 31, 2002. Natural resource agencies shall assist the office of financial management in preparing the report, including complying with timeframes for submitting information established by the office of financial management.

(4) For purposes of this section, "natural resource-related agencies" include the department of ecology, the department of natural resources, the state conservation commission, the interagency committee for outdoor recreation, the salmon recovery funding board, and the public works board within the department of community, trade, and economic development.

(5) For purposes of this section, "natural resource-related environmentally based grant and loan programs" include the conservation reserve enhancement program; dairy nutrient management grants under chapter 90.64 RCW; state conservation commission water quality grants under chapter 89.08 RCW; coordinated prevention grants, public participation grants and remedial action grants under RCW 70.105D.070; water pollution control facilities financing under chapter 70.146 RCW; aquatic lands enhancement grants under RCW 79.24.580; habitat grants under the Washington wildlife and recreation program under RCW 79A.15.040; salmon recovery grants under chapter 77.85 RCW; and the public work trust fund program under chapter 43.155 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 89.08 RCW to read as follows:

In administering grant programs to improve water quality and protect habitat, the commission shall require grant recipients to incorporate the environmental benefits of the project into their grant applications, and the commission shall utilize the statement of environmental benefit in its grant prioritization and selection process. The commission shall also develop appropriate outcome focused performance measures to be used both for management and performance assessment of the grant program. The commission shall work with the districts to develop uniform performance measures across participating districts. To the extent possible, the commission should coordinate its performance measure system with other natural resource-related agencies. The commission shall consult with affected interest groups in implementing this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 90.64 RCW to read as follows:

In providing grants to dairy producers, districts shall require grant applicants to incorporate the environmental benefits of the project into their applications, and the districts shall utilize the statement of environmental benefit in their prioritization and selection process. The districts shall also develop appropriate outcome focused performance measures to be used both for management and performance assessment of the program. The commission shall work with the districts to develop uniform performance measures across participating districts. To the extent possible, the commission should coordinate its performance measure system with other natural resource-related agencies. The commission shall consult with affected interest groups in implementing this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 70.105D RCW to read as follows:

In providing grants to local governments, the department shall require grant recipients to incorporate the environmental benefits of the project into their grant applications, and the department shall utilize the statement of environmental benefit in its prioritization and selection process. The department shall also develop appropriate outcome focused performance measures to be used both for management and performance assessment of the grant program. To the extent possible, the department should coordinate its performance measure system with other natural resource-related agencies. The department shall consult with affected interest groups in implementing this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 70.146 RCW to read as follows:

In providing grants and loans to local governments, the department shall require recipients to incorporate the environmental benefits of the project into their applications, and the department shall utilize the statement of environmental benefits in its grant and loan prioritization and selection process. The department shall also develop appropriate outcome focused performance measures to be used both for management and performance assessment of the grant and loan program. To the extent possible, the department should coordinate its performance measure system with other natural resource-related agencies. The department shall consult with affected interest groups in implementing this section.

After deduction for management costs as provided in RCW 79.64.040 and payments to towns under RCW 79.92.110(2), all moneys received by the state from the sale or lease of state-owned aquatic lands and from the sale of valuable material from state-owned aquatic lands shall be deposited in the aquatic lands enhancement account which is hereby created in the state treasury. After appropriation, these funds shall be used solely for aquatic lands enhancement projects; for the purchase, improvement or protection of aquatic lands for public purposes; for providing and improving access to such lands; and for volunteer cooperative fish and game projects.

In providing grants for aquatic lands enhancement projects, the department shall require grant recipients to incorporate the environmental benefits of the project into their grant applications, and department shall utilize the statement of environmental benefits in its prioritization and selection process. The department shall also develop appropriate outcome focused performance measures to be used both for management and performance assessment of the grants. To the extent possible, the department should coordinate its performance measure system with other natural resource-related agencies. The department shall consult with affected interest groups in implementing this section.

During the fiscal biennium ending June 30, 2001, the funds maybe appropriated for boating safety, shellfish management, enforcement, and enhancement and for developing and implementing plans for population monitoring and restoration of native wild salmon stock.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 79A.15 RCW to read as follows:

In providing grants through the habitat conservation account, the committee shall require grant applicants to incorporate the environmental benefits of the project into their grant applications, and the committee shall utilize the statement of environmental benefits in the grant application and review process. The committee shall also develop appropriate outcome focused performance measures to be used both for management and performance assessment of the grant program. To the extent possible, the department should coordinate its performance measure system with other natural resource-related agencies. The committee shall consult with affected interest groups in implementing this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 77.85 RCW to read as follows:

In providing funding for habitat projects, the board shall require recipients to incorporate the environmental benefits of the project into their grant applications, and the board shall utilize the statement of environmental benefits in its prioritization and selection process. The board shall also develop appropriate outcome focused performance measures to be used both for management and performance assessment of the grant program. To the extent possible, the board should coordinate its performance measure system with other natural resource-related agencies. The board shall consult with affected interest groups in implementing this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 43.155 RCW to read as follows:

In providing loans for public works projects, the board shall require recipients to incorporate the environmental benefits of the project into their applications, and the board shall utilize the statement of environmental benefits in its prioritization and selection process. The board shall also develop appropriate outcome focused performance measures to be used both for management and performance assessment of the loan program. To the extent possible, the department should coordinate its performance measure system with other natural resource-related agencies. The board shall consult with affected interest groups in implementing this section."

Representative Alexander moved the adoption of the following amendment (058):

"Sec. 1. RCW 36.70A.367 and 1998 c 289 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In addition to the major industrial development allowed under RCW 36.70A.365, a county required or choosing to plan under RCW 36.70A.040 that meets the criteria in subsection (9) or subsection (10) of this section may establish, in consultation with cities consistent with provisions of RCW 36.70A.210, a process for designating a bank of no more than two master planned locations for major industrial activity outside urban growth areas.

(2) A master planned location for major industrial developments outside an urban growth area may be included in the urban industrial land bank for the county if criteria including, but not limited to, the following are met:

- (a) New infrastructure is provided for and/or applicable impact fees are paid;
- (b) Transit-oriented site planning and traffic demand management programs are implemented;
- (c) Buffers are provided between the major industrial development and adjacent nonurban areas;
- (d) Environmental protection including air and water quality has been addressed and provided for;
- (e) Development regulations are established to ensure that urban growth will not occur in adjacent nonurban areas;
- (f) Provision is made to mitigate adverse impacts on designated agricultural lands, forest lands, and mineral resource lands;
- (g) The plan for the major industrial development is consistent with the county's development regulations established for protection of critical areas; and
- (h) An inventory of developable land has been conducted as provided in RCW 36.70A.365.

(3) In selecting master planned locations for inclusion in the urban industrial land bank, priority shall be given to locations that are adjacent to, or in close proximity to, an urban growth area.

(4) Final approval of inclusion of a master planned location in the urban industrial land bank shall be considered an adopted amendment to the comprehensive plan adopted pursuant to RCW 36.70A.070, except that RCW 36.70A.130(2) does not apply so that inclusion or exclusion of master planned locations may be considered at any time.

(5) Once a master planned location has been included in the urban industrial land bank, manufacturing and industrial businesses that qualify as major industrial development under RCW 36.70A.365 may be located there.

(6) Nothing in this section may be construed to alter the requirements for a county to comply with chapter 43.21C RCW.

(7) (a) The authority of a county meeting the criteria of subsection (9) of this section to engage in the process of including or excluding master planned locations from the urban industrial land bank shall terminate on December 31, 1999. However, any location included in the urban industrial land bank on December 31, 1999, shall ~~((remain))~~ be available for major industrial development as long as the criteria of subsection (2) of this section ~~((continue to be))~~ are met.

(b) The authority of a county meeting the criteria of subsection (10) of this section to engage in the process of including or excluding master planned locations from the urban industrial land bank shall terminate on December 31, 2002. However, any location included in the urban industrial land bank on December 31, 2002, shall be available for major industrial development as long as the criteria of subsection (2) of this section are met.

(8) For the purposes of this section, "major industrial development" means a master planned location suitable for manufacturing or industrial businesses that: (a) Requires a parcel of land so large that no suitable parcels are available within an urban growth area; or (b) is a natural resource-based industry requiring a location near agricultural land, forest land, or mineral resource land upon which it is dependent; or (c) requires a location with characteristics such as proximity to transportation facilities or related industries such that there is no suitable location in an urban growth area. The major industrial development may not be for the purpose of retail commercial development or multitenant office parks.

(9) This section ~~((applies))~~ and the termination date specified in subsection (7)(a) of this section apply to a county that at the time the process is established under subsection (1) of this section:

(a) Has a population greater than two hundred fifty thousand and is part of a metropolitan area that includes a city in another state with a population greater than two hundred fifty thousand;

(b) Has a population greater than one hundred forty thousand and is adjacent to another country; or

(c) Has a population greater than forty thousand but less than seventy-five thousand and has an average level of unemployment for the preceding three years that exceeds the average state unemployment for those years by twenty percent; and

(i) Is bordered by the Pacific Ocean; or

(ii) Is located in the Interstate 5 or Interstate 90 corridor.

(10) This section and the termination date specified in subsection (7)(b) of this section apply to a county that at the time the process is established under subsection (1) of this section:

(a) Has a population greater than forty thousand but fewer than eighty thousand;

(b) Has an average level of unemployment for the preceding three years that exceeds the average state unemployment for those years by twenty percent; and

(c) Is located in the Interstate 5 or Interstate 90 corridor."

Substitute House Bill No. 1420 was read the second time.

With the consent of the House, amendment (057) was withdrawn.

Representative Roach moved the adoption of the following amendment (070):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 49.12 RCW to read as follows:

(1) An employer may not discharge from employment or discipline a volunteer fire fighter because of leave taken related to an alarm of fire or an emergency call.

(2)(a) A volunteer fire fighter who believes he or she was discharged or disciplined in violation of this section may file a complaint alleging the violation with the director. The volunteer fire fighter may allege a violation only by filing such a complaint within ninety days of the alleged violation.

(b) Upon receipt of the complaint, the director must cause an investigation to be made as the director deems appropriate and must determine whether this section has been violated. Notice of the director's determination must be sent to the complainant and the employer within ninety days of receipt of the complaint.

(c) If the director determines that this section was violated and the employer fails to reinstate the employee or withdraw the disciplinary action taken against the employee, whichever is applicable, within thirty days of receipt of notice of the director's determination, the volunteer fire fighter may bring an action against the employer alleging a violation of this section and seeking reinstatement or withdrawal of the disciplinary action.

(d) In any action brought under this section, the superior court shall have jurisdiction, for cause shown, to restrain violations under this section and to order reinstatement of the employee or withdrawal of the disciplinary action.

(3) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "Alarm of fire or emergency call" means responding to, working at, or returning from a fire alarm or an emergency call, but not participating in training or other nonemergency activities.

(b) "Employer" means any person who had twenty or more full-time equivalent employees in the previous year.

(c) "Reinstatement" means reinstatement with back pay, without loss of seniority or benefits, and with removal of any related adverse material from the employee's personnel file, if a file is maintained by the employer.

(d) "Withdrawal of disciplinary action" means withdrawal of disciplinary action with back pay, without loss of seniority or benefits, and with removal of any related adverse material from the employee's personnel file, if a file is maintained by the employer.

(e) "Volunteer fire fighter" means a fire fighter who:

(i) Is not paid;

(ii) Is not already at his or her place of employment when called to serve as a volunteer, unless the employer agrees to provide such an accommodation; and

(iii) Has been ordered to remain at his or her position by the commanding authority at the scene of the fire.

(4) The legislature declares that the public policies articulated in this section depend on the procedures established in this section and no civil or criminal action may be maintained relying on the public policies articulated in this section without complying with the procedures set forth in this section, and to that end all civil actions and civil causes of action for such injuries and all jurisdiction of the courts of this state over such causes are hereby abolished, except as provided in this section."

Representative Edwards moved the adoption of the following amendment (073) :

"Sec. 1. RCW 36.70B.070 and 1995 c 347 s 408 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Within twenty-eight days after receiving a project permit application, a local government planning pursuant to RCW 36.70A.040 shall mail or provide in person a written determination to the applicant, stating either:

(a) That the application is complete; or

(b) That the application is incomplete and listing in detail exactly what information is necessary to make the application complete.

To the extent known by the local government, the local government shall identify and inform the applicant of other agencies of local, state, or federal governments that may have jurisdiction over some aspect of the application.

(2) A project permit application is complete for purposes of this section when it meets the procedural submission requirements ~~((of))~~ identified in the local ((government)) government's development regulations required by RCW 36.70B.080 and is sufficient for continued processing even though additional information may be required or project modifications may be undertaken subsequently. The determination of completeness shall not preclude the local government from requesting additional information or studies either at the time of the notice of completeness or subsequently if new information is required or substantial changes in the proposed action occur.

(3) The determination of completeness may include the following as optional information:

- (a) A preliminary determination of those development regulations that will be used for project mitigation;
- (b) A preliminary determination of consistency, as provided under RCW 36.70B.040; or
- (c) Other information the local government chooses to include.

(4)(a) An application shall be deemed complete under this section if the local government does not provide a written determination to the applicant that the application is incomplete as provided in subsection (1)(b) of this section.

(b) Within fourteen days after an applicant has submitted to a local government additional information identified by the local government as being necessary for a complete application, the local government shall notify the applicant whether the application is complete or list in detail exactly what additional information is necessary.

(1) Development regulations adopted pursuant to RCW 36.70A.040 shall establish time periods for local government actions on specific project permit applications, with deadlines for issuing final decisions on specific project permit applications, and provide timely and predictable procedures to determine whether a completed project permit application meets the requirements of those development regulations.

(2) ~~((Such))~~ The development regulations identified in subsection (1) shall specify the contents of a completed project permit application necessary for the application of such time periods and procedures. The contents of a completed project permit application may include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) The legal description or the tax parcel number assigned pursuant to RCW 84.40.160 and the street address if available;

(b) The property owner's name, address, and telephone number;

(c) The business name, address, telephone number of any contractors and current state contractor registration number;

(d) The business name, address, and telephone number of the project permit applicants;

(e) Scaled drawings of the site of the proposed project permit;

(f) Scaled and dimensional drawings of existing and proposed structures on the site of the proposed project permit;

(g) A fully completed environmental checklist, except for project permit applications that either are exempt from the state environmental policy act or for which an environmental checklist under chapter 197-11 WAC is not required; and

(h) Any other studies, reports, plans, drawings, or calculations identified by the local government as necessary for continued processing of the specific project permit application.

(3) The deadlines for issuing final decisions on specific project permit applications should not exceed 120 days, unless the local government makes written findings that a specified amount of additional time is needed for complete processing of specific project permit applications.

(4) (a) Counties subject to the requirements of RCW 36.70A.215 and the cities within those counties that have populations of at least twenty thousand shall identify the types of project permit applications for which decisions are issued according to the provisions of this chapter. For each type of project permit application identified, these counties and cities shall establish a deadline for issuing a notice of final decision as required by subsection (1) of this section and minimum requirements for applications to be deemed complete under RCW 36.70B.070 as required by subsection (2) of this section. Counties and cities subject to the requirements of this subsection also shall prepare quarterly performance reports that include, at a minimum, the following information for each type of project permit application:

(i) Total number of complete applications received during the quarter;

(ii) Number of complete applications received during the quarter for which a notice of final decision was issued before the deadline established under subsection (1) of this section;

(iii) Number of applications received during the quarter for which a notice of final decision was issued after the deadline established under subsection (1) of this section;

(iv) Number of applications received during the quarter for which an extension of time was mutually agreed upon by the applicant and the county or city; and

(iv) Variance of actual performance, excluding applications for which mutually agreed time extensions have occurred, to the deadline established under subsection (1) of this section during the quarter.

(b) On a quarterly basis, counties and cities subject to the requirements of this subsection shall provide notice of and access to the quarterly performance reports required by this subsection through the county's or city's web site. If a county or city subject to the requirements of this subsection does not maintain a web site, notice of the report shall be given by reasonable methods, including but not limited to those methods specified in RCW 36.70B.110(4).

(5) Nothing in this section prohibits a county or city from extending a deadline for issuing a decision for a specific project permit application for any reasonable period of time mutually agreed upon by the applicant and the local government."

The following real and personal property shall be exempt from taxation:

All lands, buildings, and personal property required for necessary administration and maintenance, used, or to the extent used, exclusively for public burying grounds or cemeteries without discrimination as to race, color, national origin or ancestry;

All churches, cathedrals, synagogues, temples, mosques, and other places of assembly for religious exercise purposes, personal property, and the ground, not exceeding ~~((five))~~ twenty acres in area, upon which a church ~~((of any nonprofit recognized religious denomination)), cathedral, synagogue, temple, mosque, or other place of assembly for religious exercise purposes~~ is or shall be built, together with a parsonage, or other clergy residence, convent, or other religious community residence, and buildings and improvements required for the maintenance and safeguarding of such property. The area exempted shall in any case include all ground covered by the church, cathedrals, synagogues, temples, mosques, and other place of assembly for religious exercise purposes, parsonage, or other clergy residence, convent, or other religious community residence, and buildings and improvements required for the maintenance and safeguarding of such property and the structures and ground necessary for street access, parking, light, and ventilation, but the area of unoccupied ground exempted in such cases, in connection with the church, cathedral, synagogue, temple, mosque, or other place of assembly for religious exercise purposes, parsonage, or other clergy residence, convent, or other religious community residence, and buildings and improvements required for the maintenance and safeguarding of such property, shall not exceed the equivalent of one ~~((hundred twenty by one hundred twenty feet))~~ and one-third acres except where additional unoccupied land may be required to conform with state or local codes, zoning, or licensing requirements. The parsonage, or other clergy residence, and convent, or other religious community residence, need not be on land contiguous to the church ~~((property)), cathedral, synagogue, temple, mosque, or other place of assembly for religious exercise purposes~~. To be exempt the property must be wholly used for ~~((church))~~ religious exercise purposes: PROVIDED, That the loan or rental of property otherwise exempt under this paragraph to a nonprofit organization, association, or corporation, or school for use for an eleemosynary activity shall not nullify the exemption provided in this paragraph if the rental income, if any, is reasonable and is devoted solely to the operation and maintenance of the property.

The following real and personal property shall be exempt from taxation:

(1) Property owned by nonprofit organizations or associations, organized and conducted for nonsectarian purposes, which shall be used for character-building, benevolent, protective or rehabilitative social services directed at persons of all ages. The sale of donated merchandise shall not be considered a commercial use of the property under this section if the proceeds are devoted to the furtherance of the purposes of the selling organization or association as specified in this paragraph.

(2) Property owned by any nonprofit ~~((church))~~ religious organization, denomination, or group of ~~((churches))~~ religious organizations, or ~~((an))~~ any organization or association, the membership of which is comprised solely of ~~((churches))~~ nonprofit religious organizations or their qualified representatives, which is utilized as a camp facility if used for organized and supervised recreational activities and ~~((church))~~ religious exercise purposes as related to such camp facilities. The exemption provided by this paragraph shall apply to a maximum of ~~((two))~~ four hundred acres of any such camp as selected by the ~~((church))~~ religious organization, including buildings and other improvements thereon.

(3) Property, including buildings and improvements required for the maintenance and safeguarding of such property, owned by nonprofit organizations or associations engaged in character building of boys and girls under eighteen years of age, and used for such purposes and uses, provided such purposes and uses are for the general public good: PROVIDED, That if existing charters provide that organizations or associations, which would otherwise qualify under the provisions of this paragraph, serve boys and girls up to the age of twenty-one years, then such organizations or associations shall be deemed qualified pursuant to this section.

(4) Property owned by all organizations and societies of veterans of any war of the United States, recognized as such by the department of defense, which shall have national charters, and which shall have for their general purposes and objects the preservation of the memories and associations incident to their war service and the consecration of the efforts of their members to mutual helpfulness and to patriotic and community service to state and nation. To be exempt such property must be used in such manner as may be reasonably necessary to carry out the purposes and objects of such societies.

The use of the property for pecuniary gain or to promote business activities, except as provided in this subsection (4), nullifies the exemption otherwise available for the property for the assessment year. The exemption is not nullified by:

(a) The collection of rent or donations if the amount is reasonable and does not exceed maintenance and operation expenses.

(b) Fund-raising activities conducted by a nonprofit organization.

(c) The use of the property for pecuniary gain for periods of not more than three days in a year.

(d) An inadvertent use of the property in a manner inconsistent with the purpose for which exemption is granted, if the inadvertent use is not part of a pattern of use. A pattern of use is presumed when an inadvertent use is repeated in the same assessment year or in two or more successive assessment years.

(5) Property owned by all corporations, incorporated under any act of congress, whose principal purposes are to furnish volunteer aid to members of the armed forces of the United States and also to carry on a system of national and international relief and to apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods, and other national calamities and to devise and carry on measures for preventing the same.

(6) Property owned by nonprofit organizations exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the internal revenue code of 1954, as amended, that are guarantee agencies under the federal guaranteed student loan program or that issue debt to provide or acquire student loans.

(7) To be exempt under this section, the property must be used exclusively for the purposes for which exemption is granted, except as provided in RCW 84.36.805.

As used in this chapter:

(1) "~~((Church))~~ Religious exercise purposes" means the use of real and personal property owned by a nonprofit religious organization for religious worship or related administrative, educational, eleemosynary, and social activities. This definition is to be broadly construed;

(2) "Convent or other religious community residence" means a house or set of buildings occupied by a community of clergy or nuns devoted to religious life under a superior;

(3) "Hospital" means any portion of a hospital building, or other buildings in connection therewith, used as a residence for persons engaged or employed in the operation of a hospital, or operated as a portion of the hospital unit;

(4) "Nonprofit" means an organization, association or corporation no part of the income of which is paid directly or indirectly to its members, stockholders, officers, directors or trustees except in the form of services rendered by the organization, association, or corporation in accordance with its purposes and bylaws and the salary or compensation paid to officers of such organization, association or corporation is for actual services rendered and compares to the salary or compensation of like positions within the public services of the state;

(5) "Parsonage or other clergy residence" means a residence occupied by a member of the clergy who has been designated for a particular congregation and who holds regular services ~~((therefor))~~;

(6) "Place of assembly for religious exercise purposes" means real and personal property owned by a nonprofit religious organization and used for religious exercise purposes.

Representative Delvin moved the adoption of the following amendment (077):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 66.04.010 and 2000 c 142 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

In this title, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Alcohol" is that substance known as ethyl alcohol, hydrated oxide of ethyl, or spirit of wine, which is commonly produced by the fermentation or distillation of grain, starch, molasses, or sugar, or other substances including all dilutions and mixtures of this substance. The term "alcohol" does not include alcohol in the possession of a manufacturer or distiller of alcohol fuel, as described in RCW 66.12.130, which is intended to be denatured and used as a fuel for use in motor vehicles, farm implements, and machines or implements of husbandry.

(2) "Beer" means any malt beverage or malt liquor as these terms are defined in this chapter.

(3) "Beer distributor" means a person who buys beer from a brewer or brewery located either within or beyond the boundaries of the state, beer importers, or foreign produced beer from a source outside the state of Washington, for the purpose of selling the same pursuant to this title, or who represents such brewer or brewery as agent.

(4) "Beer importer" means a person or business within Washington who purchases beer from a United States brewery holding a certificate of approval (B5) or foreign produced beer from a source outside the state of Washington for the purpose of selling the same pursuant to this title.

(5) "Brewer" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing beer and malt liquor. Brewer includes a brand owner of malt beverages who holds a brewer's notice with the federal bureau of alcohol, tobacco, and firearms at a location outside the state and whose malt beverage is contract-produced by a licensed in-state brewery, and who may exercise within the state, under a domestic brewery license, only the privileges of storing, selling to licensed beer distributors, and exporting beer from the state.

(6) "Board" means the liquor control board, constituted under this title.

(7) "Club" means an organization of persons, incorporated or unincorporated, operated solely for fraternal, benevolent, educational, athletic or social purposes, and not for pecuniary gain.

(8) "Consume" includes the putting of liquor to any use, whether by drinking or otherwise.

(9) "Dentist" means a practitioner of dentistry duly and regularly licensed and engaged in the practice of his profession within the state pursuant to chapter 18.32 RCW.

(10) "Distiller" means a person engaged in the business of distilling spirits.

(11) "Domestic brewery" means a place where beer and malt liquor are manufactured or produced by a brewer within the state.

(12) "Domestic winery" means a place where wines are manufactured or produced within the state of Washington.

(13) "Druggist" means any person who holds a valid certificate and is a registered pharmacist and is duly and regularly engaged in carrying on the business of pharmaceutical chemistry pursuant to chapter 18.64 RCW.

(14) "Drug store" means a place whose principal business is, the sale of drugs, medicines and pharmaceutical preparations and maintains a regular prescription department and employs a registered pharmacist during all hours the drug store is open.

(15) "Employee" means any person employed by the board(~~(, including a vendor, as hereinafter in this section defined)~~).

(16) "Fund" means 'liquor revolving fund.'

(17) "Hotel" means every building or other structure kept, used, maintained, advertised or held out to the public to be a place where food is served and sleeping accommodations are offered for pay to transient guests, in which twenty or more rooms are used for the sleeping accommodation of such transient guests and having one or more dining rooms where meals are served to such transient guests, such sleeping accommodations and dining rooms being conducted in the same building and buildings, in connection therewith, and such structure or structures being provided, in the judgment of the board, with adequate and sanitary kitchen and dining room equipment and capacity, for preparing, cooking and serving suitable food for its guests: PROVIDED FURTHER, That in cities and towns of less than five thousand population, the board shall have authority to waive the provisions requiring twenty or more rooms.

(18) "Importer" means a person who buys distilled spirits from a distillery outside the state of Washington and imports such spirituous liquor into the state for sale to ~~((the board))~~ an agency liquor vendor or for export.

(19) "Imprisonment" means confinement in the county jail.

(20) "Liquor" includes the four varieties of liquor herein defined (alcohol, spirits, wine and beer), and all fermented, spirituous, vinous, or malt liquor, or combinations thereof, and mixed liquor, a part of which is fermented, spirituous, vinous or malt liquor, or otherwise intoxicating; and every liquid or solid or semisolid or other substance, patented or not, containing alcohol, spirits, wine or beer, and all drinks or drinkable liquids and all preparations or mixtures capable of human consumption, and any liquid, semisolid, solid, or other substance, which contains more than one percent of alcohol by weight shall be conclusively deemed to be intoxicating. Liquor does not include confections or food products that contain one percent or less of alcohol by weight.

(21) "Manufacturer" means a person engaged in the preparation of liquor for sale, in any form whatsoever.

(22) "Malt beverage" or "malt liquor" means any beverage such as beer, ale, lager beer, stout, and porter obtained by the alcoholic fermentation of an infusion or decoction of pure hops, or pure extract of hops and pure barley malt or other wholesome grain or cereal in pure water containing not more than eight percent of alcohol by weight, and not less than one-half of one percent of alcohol by volume. For the purposes of this title, any such beverage containing more than eight percent of alcohol by weight shall be referred to as "strong beer."

(23) "Package" means any container or receptacle used for holding liquor.

(24) "Permit" means a permit for the purchase of liquor under this title.

(25) "Person" means an individual, copartnership, association, or corporation.

(26) "Physician" means a medical practitioner duly and regularly licensed and engaged in the practice of his profession within the state pursuant to chapter 18.71 RCW.

(27) "Prescription" means a memorandum signed by a physician and given by him to a patient for the obtaining of liquor pursuant to this title for medicinal purposes.

(28) "Public place" includes streets and alleys of incorporated cities and towns; state or county or township highways or roads; buildings and grounds used for school purposes; public dance halls and grounds adjacent thereto; those parts of establishments where beer may be sold under this title, soft drink establishments, public buildings, public meeting halls, lobbies, halls and dining rooms of hotels, restaurants, theatres, stores, garages and filling stations which are open to and are generally used by the public and to which the public is permitted to have unrestricted access; railroad trains, stages, and other public conveyances of all kinds and character, and the depots and waiting rooms used in conjunction therewith which are open to unrestricted use and access by the public; publicly owned bathing beaches, parks, and/or playgrounds; and all other places of like or similar nature to which the general public has unrestricted right of access, and which are generally used by the public.

(29) "Regulations" means regulations made by the board under the powers conferred by this title.

(30) "Restaurant" means any establishment provided with special space and accommodations where, in consideration of payment, food, without lodgings, is habitually furnished to the public, not including drug stores and soda fountains.

(31) "Sale" and "sell" include exchange, barter, and traffic; and also include the selling or supplying or distributing by any means whatsoever, of liquor, or of any liquid known or described as beer or by any name whatever commonly used to describe malt or brewed liquor or of wine by any person to any person; and also include a sale or selling within the state to a foreign consignee or his agent in the state. "Sale" and "sell" shall not include the giving, at no charge, of a reasonable amount of liquor by a person not licensed by the board to a person not licensed by the board, for personal use only. "Sale" and "sell" also does not include a raffle authorized under RCW 9.46.0315: PROVIDED, That the nonprofit organization conducting the raffle has obtained the appropriate permit from the board.

(32) "Soda fountain" means a place especially equipped with apparatus for the purpose of dispensing soft drinks, whether mixed or otherwise.

(33) "Spirits" means any beverage which contains alcohol obtained by distillation, including wines exceeding twenty-four percent of alcohol by volume.

(34) (~~"Store" means a state liquor store established under this title.~~

~~—————(35))~~ "Tavern" means any establishment with special space and accommodation for sale by the glass and for consumption on the premises, of beer, as herein defined.

~~((36))~~ (35) "Vendor" means ~~((a person employed by the board as a store manager under this title))~~ an agency liquor vendor store licensed by the board to sell liquor at retail.

~~((38))~~ (37) "Wine" means any alcoholic beverage obtained by fermentation of fruits (grapes, berries, apples, et cetera) or other agricultural product containing sugar, to which any saccharine substances may have been added before, during or after fermentation, and containing not more than twenty-four percent of alcohol by volume, including sweet wines fortified with wine spirits, such as port, sherry, muscatel and angelica, not exceeding twenty-four percent of alcohol by volume and not less than one-half of one percent of alcohol by volume. For purposes of this title, any beverage containing no more than fourteen percent of alcohol by volume when bottled or packaged by the manufacturer shall be referred to as "table wine," and any beverage containing alcohol in an amount more than fourteen percent by volume when bottled or packaged by the manufacturer shall be referred to as "fortified wine." However, "fortified wine" shall not include: (a) Wines that are both sealed or capped by cork closure and aged two years or more; and (b) wines that contain more than fourteen percent alcohol by volume solely as a result of the natural fermentation process and that have not been produced with the addition of wine spirits, brandy, or alcohol.

This subsection shall not be interpreted to require that any wine be labeled with the designation "table wine" or "fortified wine."

~~((39))~~ (38) "Wine distributor" means a person who buys wine from a vintner or winery located either within or beyond the boundaries of the state for the purpose of selling the same not in violation of this title, or who represents such vintner or winery as agent.

~~((40))~~ (39) "Wine importer" means a person or business within Washington who purchases wine from a United States winery holding a certificate of approval (W7) or foreign produced wine from a source outside the state of Washington for the purpose of selling the same pursuant to this title.

The administration of this title ~~((, including the general control, management and supervision of all liquor stores,))~~ shall be vested in the liquor control board, constituted under this title.

Sec. 3. RCW 66.08.026 and 1998 c 265 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

All administrative expenses of the board incurred on and after April 1, 1963 shall be appropriated and paid from the liquor revolving fund. These administrative expenses shall include, but not be limited to: The salaries and expenses of the board and its employees, ~~((the cost of establishing, leasing, maintaining, and operating state liquor stores and warehouses,))~~ legal services, pilot projects, annual or other audits, and other general costs of conducting the business of the board ~~((, and the costs of supplying, installing, and maintaining equipment used in state liquor stores and agency liquor vendor stores for the purchase of liquor by nonlicensees using debit or credit cards)).~~ The administrative expenses shall not, however, be deemed to include ~~((costs of liquor and lottery tickets purchased, the cost of transportation and delivery to the point of distribution, other costs pertaining to the acquisition and receipt of liquor and lottery tickets, packaging and repackaging of liquor, transaction fees associated with credit or debit card purchases for liquor in state liquor stores and in the stores of agency liquor vendors pursuant to RCW 66.16.040 and 66.16.041,))~~ agency commissions for agency liquor vendor stores, sales tax, and those amounts distributed pursuant to RCW 66.08.180, 66.08.190, 66.08.200, 66.08.210 and 66.08.220. Agency commissions for agency liquor vendor stores shall be established by the liquor control board after consultation with and approval by the director of the office of financial management. All expenditures and payment of obligations authorized by this section are subject to the allotment requirements of chapter 43.88 RCW.

(1) For the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this title according to their true intent or of supplying any deficiency therein, the board may make such regulations not inconsistent with the spirit of this title as are deemed necessary or advisable. All regulations so made shall be a public record and shall be filed in the office of the code reviser, and thereupon shall have the same force and effect as if incorporated in this title. Such regulations, together with a copy of this title, shall be published in pamphlets and shall be distributed as directed by the board.

(2) Without thereby limiting the generality of the provisions contained in subsection (1), it is declared that the power of the board to make regulations in the manner set out in that subsection shall extend to:

~~(a) ((regulating the equipment and management of stores and warehouses in which state liquor is sold or kept, and prescribing the books and records to be kept therein and the reports to be made thereon to the board;~~
~~(b))~~ Prescribing the duties of the employees of the board, and regulating their conduct in the discharge of their duties;

~~((c) governing the purchase of liquor by the state and the furnishing of liquor to stores established under this title;~~

~~((f) providing for the issuing and distributing of price lists showing the price to be paid by purchasers for each variety of liquor kept for sale under this title;~~

~~(g) prescribing an official seal and official labels and stamps and determining the manner in which they shall be attached to every package of liquor sold or sealed under this title, including the prescribing of different official seals or different official labels for different classes of liquor;~~

~~(h) providing for the payment by the board in whole or in part of the carrying charges on liquor shipped by freight or express;~~

~~(i))~~ (c) Prescribing forms to be used for purposes of this title or the regulations, and the terms and conditions to be contained in permits and licenses issued under this title;

~~((j))~~ (d) Prescribing the fees payable in respect of permits and licenses issued under this title for which no fees are prescribed in this title, and prescribing the fees for anything done or permitted to be done under the regulations;

~~((k))~~ (e) Prescribing the kinds and quantities of liquor which may be kept on hand by the holder of a special permit for the purposes named in the permit, regulating the manner in which the same shall be kept and disposed of, and providing for the inspection of the same at any time at the instance of the board;

~~((l))~~ (f) Regulating the sale of liquor kept by the holders of licenses which entitle the holder to purchase and keep liquor for sale;

~~((m))~~ (g) Prescribing the records of purchases or sales of liquor kept by the holders of licenses, and the reports to be made thereon to the board, and providing for inspection of the records so kept;

~~((n))~~ (h) Prescribing the kinds and quantities of liquor for which a prescription may be given, and the number of prescriptions which may be given to the same patient within a stated period;

~~((o))~~ (i) Prescribing the manner of giving and serving notices required by this title or the regulations, where not otherwise provided for in this title;

~~((p))~~ (j) Regulating premises in which liquor is kept for export from the state, or from which liquor is exported, prescribing the books and records to be kept therein and the reports to be made thereon to the board, and providing for the inspection of the premises and the books, records and the liquor so kept;

~~((q))~~ (k) Prescribing the conditions and qualifications requisite for the obtaining of club licenses and the books and records to be kept and the returns to be made by clubs, prescribing the manner of licensing clubs in any municipality or other locality, and providing for the inspection of clubs;

~~((#))~~ (l) Prescribing the conditions, accommodations and qualifications requisite for the obtaining of licenses to sell beer ~~((and))~~, wines, and spirits, and regulating the sale of beer ~~((and))~~, wines ~~((thereunder))~~, and spirits;

~~((s))~~ (m) Specifying and regulating the time and periods when, and the manner, methods and means by which manufacturers shall deliver liquor within the state; and the time and periods when, and the manner, methods and means by which liquor may lawfully be conveyed or carried within the state;

~~((#))~~ (n) Providing for the making of returns by brewers of their sales of beer shipped within the state, or from the state, showing the gross amount of such sales and providing for the inspection of brewers' books and records, and for the checking of the accuracy of any such returns;

~~((#))~~ (o) Providing for the making of returns by the ~~((wholesalers))~~ distributors of beer whose breweries are located beyond the boundaries of the state;

~~((#))~~ (p) Providing for the making of returns by any other liquor manufacturers, showing the gross amount of liquor produced or purchased, the amount sold within and exported from the state, and to whom so sold or exported, and providing for the inspection of the premises of any such liquor manufacturers, their books and records, and for the checking of any such return;

~~((#))~~ (q) Providing for the giving of fidelity bonds by any or all of the employees of the board: PROVIDED, That the premiums therefor shall be paid by the board;

~~((#))~~ (r) Providing for the shipment by mail or common carrier of liquor to any person holding a permit and residing in any unit which has by election pursuant to this title, prohibited the sale of liquor therein;

~~((#))~~ (s) Prescribing methods of manufacture, conditions of sanitation, standards of ingredients, quality and identity of alcoholic beverages manufactured, sold, bottled, or handled by licensees ~~((and the board))~~; and conducting from time to time, in the interest of the public health and general welfare, scientific studies and research relating to alcoholic beverages and the use and effect thereof;

~~((#))~~ (t) Seizing, confiscating and destroying all alcoholic beverages manufactured, sold or offered for sale within this state which do not conform in all respects to the standards prescribed by this title or the regulations of the board: PROVIDED, Nothing herein contained shall be construed as authorizing the liquor board to prescribe, alter, limit or in any way change the present law as to the quantity or percentage of alcohol used in the manufacturing of wine or other alcoholic beverages.

Sec. 5. RCW 66.08.050 and 1997 c 228 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The board, subject to the provisions of this title and the rules, shall:

~~(1) ((Determine the localities within which state liquor stores shall be established throughout the state, and the number and situation of the stores within each locality;~~

~~————(2) Appoint in cities and towns and other communities, in which no state liquor store is located, liquor vendors. In addition, the board may appoint, in its discretion, a manufacturer that also manufactures liquor products other than wine under a license under this title, as a vendor for the purpose of sale of liquor products of its own manufacture on the licensed premises only. ~~————(4) Provide for the leasing for periods not to exceed ten years of all premises required for the conduct of the business; and for remodeling the same, and the procuring of their furnishings, fixtures, and supplies; and for obtaining options of renewal of such leases by the lessee. The terms of such leases in all other respects shall be subject to the direction of the board;~~

~~————(5) Determine the nature, form and capacity of all packages to be used for containing liquor kept for sale under this title;~~

~~————(6))~~ Execute or cause to be executed, all contracts, papers, and documents in the name of the board, under such regulations as the board may fix;

~~((#))~~ (2) Pay all customs, duties, excises, charges and obligations whatsoever relating to the business of the board;

~~((8))~~ (3) Require bonds from all employees in the discretion of the board, and to determine the amount of fidelity bond of each such employee;

~~((9) Perform services for the state lottery commission to such extent, and for such compensation, as may be mutually agreed upon between the board and the commission;~~

~~(10))~~ (4) Accept and deposit into the general fund-local account and disburse, subject to appropriation, federal grants or other funds or donations from any source for the purpose of improving public awareness of the health risks associated with alcohol consumption by youth and the abuse of alcohol by adults in Washington state. The board's alcohol awareness program shall cooperate with federal and state agencies, interested organizations, and individuals to effect an active public beverage alcohol awareness program;

~~((11))~~ (5) Perform all other matters and things, whether similar to the foregoing or not, to carry out the provisions of this title, and shall have full power to do each and every act necessary to the conduct of its business, including all buying, selling, preparation and approval of forms, and every other function of the business whatsoever, subject only to audit by the state auditor: PROVIDED, That the board shall have no authority to regulate the content of spoken language on licensed premises where wine and other liquors are served and where there is not a clear and present danger of disorderly conduct being provoked by such language.

No employee shall sell liquor in any ~~(other)~~ place, nor at any other time, nor otherwise than as authorized by the board under this title and the regulations.

Sec. 7. RCW 66.08.095 and 1993 c 26 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The liquor control board may provide ~~(liquor)~~ at no charge ~~(, including)~~ liquor forfeited under chapter 66.32 RCW ~~(,)~~ to recognized law enforcement agencies within the state when the law enforcement agency will be using the liquor for bona fide law enforcement training or investigation purposes.

Sec. 8. RCW 66.12.110 and 1999 c 281 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

A person twenty-one years of age or over may bring into the state from without the United States, free of tax ~~(and markup)~~, for his or her personal or household use such alcoholic beverages as have been declared and permitted to enter the United States duty free under federal law.

Such entry of alcoholic beverages in excess of that herein provided may be authorized by the board upon payment of an equivalent ~~(markup and)~~ tax as would be applicable to the purchase of the same or similar liquor at retail from ~~(a Washington state)~~ an agency liquor ~~(store)~~ vendor. The board shall adopt appropriate regulations pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section. The board may issue a spirits, beer, and wine private club license to a charitable or nonprofit corporation of the state of Washington, the majority of the officers and directors of which are United States citizens and the minority of the officers and directors of which are citizens of the Dominion of Canada, and where the location of the premises for such spirits, beer, and wine private club license is not more than ten miles south of the border between the United States and the province of British Columbia.

Notwithstanding any other provision of Title 66 RCW, a person twenty-one years of age or over may, free of tax ~~(and markup)~~, for personal or household use, bring into the state of Washington from another state no more than once per calendar month up to two liters of spirits or wine or two hundred eighty-eight ounces of beer. Additionally, such person may be authorized by the board to bring into the state of Washington from another state a reasonable amount of alcoholic beverages in excess of that provided in this section for personal or household use only upon payment of an equivalent ~~(markup and)~~ tax as would be applicable to the purchase of the same or similar liquor at retail from ~~(a state)~~ an agency liquor ~~(store)~~ vendor. The board shall adopt appropriate regulations pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this section.

Sec. 10. RCW 66.12.140 and 1982 c 85 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Nothing in this title shall prevent the use of beer, wine, and/or spirituous liquor, for cooking purposes only, in conjunction with a culinary or restaurant course offered by a college, university, community college, area vocational technical institute, or private vocational school. Further, nothing in this title shall prohibit the making of beer or wine in food fermentation courses offered by a college, university, community college, area vocational technical institute, or private vocational school.

(2) "Culinary or restaurant course" as used in this section means a course of instruction which includes practical experience in food preparation under the supervision of an instructor who is twenty-one years of age or older.

(3) Persons under twenty-one years of age participating in culinary or restaurant courses may handle beer, wine, or spirituous liquor for purposes of participating in the courses, but nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize consumption of liquor by persons under twenty-one years of age or to authorize possession of liquor by persons under twenty-one years of age at any time or place other than while preparing food under the supervision of the course instructor.

(4) Beer, wine, and/or spirituous liquor to be used in culinary or restaurant courses shall be purchased at retail from ~~((the board or))~~ a retailer licensed under this title. All such liquor shall be securely stored in the food preparation area and shall not be displayed in an area open to the general public.

(5) Colleges, universities, community colleges, area vocational technical institutes, and private vocational schools shall obtain the prior written approval of the board for use of beer, wine, and/or spirituous liquor for cooking purposes in their culinary or restaurant courses.

Except as otherwise provided by law, an employee ~~((in a state))~~ of an agency liquor ~~((store or agency))~~ vendor may sell liquor to any person of legal age to purchase alcoholic beverages and may also sell to holders of permits such liquor as may be purchased under such permits.

Where there may be a question of a person's right to purchase liquor by reason of age, such person shall be required to present any one of the following officially issued cards of identification which shows his/her correct age and bears his/her signature and photograph:

(1) Liquor control authority card of identification of any state or province of Canada.

(2) Driver's license, instruction permit or identification card of any state or province of Canada, or "identocard" issued by the Washington state department of licensing pursuant to RCW 46.20.117.

(3) United States armed forces identification card issued to active duty, reserve, and retired personnel and the personnel's dependents.

(4) Passport.

(5) Merchant Marine identification card issued by the United States Coast Guard.

The board may adopt such regulations as it deems proper covering the acceptance of such cards of identification.

~~((No liquor sold under this section shall be delivered until the purchaser has paid for the liquor in cash, except as allowed under RCW 66.16.041. The use of a personal credit card does not rely upon the credit of the state as prohibited by Article VIII, section 5 of the state Constitution.))~~

Sec. 12. RCW 66.16.100 and 1997 c 321 s 42 are each amended to read as follows:

No ~~((state))~~ agency liquor ~~((store))~~ vendor in a county with a population over three hundred thousand may sell fortified wine if the board finds that the sale would be against the public interest based on the factors in RCW 66.24.360. The burden of establishing that the sale would be against the public interest is on those persons objecting.

Sec. 13. RCW 66.16.110 and 1993 c 422 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The board shall cause to be posted in conspicuous places, in a number determined by the board, within each ~~((state))~~ licensed retail liquor ~~((store))~~ establishment, notices in print not less than one inch high warning persons that consumption of alcohol shortly before conception or during pregnancy may cause birth defects, including fetal alcohol syndrome and fetal alcohol effects.

Sec. 14. RCW 66.20.170 and 1973 1st ex.s. c 209 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

A card of identification may for the purpose of this title and for the purpose of procuring liquor, be accepted as an identification card by any licensee (~~(or store-employee)~~) and as evidence of legal age of the person presenting such card, provided the licensee (~~(or store-employee)~~) complies with the conditions and procedures prescribed herein and such regulations as may be made by the board.

Sec. 15. RCW 66.20.180 and 1973 1st ex.s. c 209 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

A card of identification shall be presented by the holder thereof upon request of any licensee, (~~store-employee,~~) peace officer, or enforcement officer of the board for the purpose of aiding the licensee, (~~store-employee,~~) peace officer, or enforcement officer of the board to determine whether or not such person is of legal age to purchase liquor when such person desires to procure liquor from a licensed establishment (~~(or state liquor store or agency)~~).

Sec. 16. RCW 66.20.190 and 1981 1st ex.s. c 5 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

In addition to the presentation by the holder and verification by the licensee (~~(or store-employee)~~) of such card of identification, the licensee (~~(or store-employee)~~) who is still in doubt about the true age of the holder shall require the person whose age may be in question to sign a certification card and record an accurate description and serial number of his or her card of identification thereon. Such statement shall be upon a five-inch by eight-inch file card, which card shall be filed alphabetically by the licensee (~~(or store-employee)~~) at or before the close of business on the day on which the statement is executed, in the file box containing a suitable alphabetical index and the card shall be subject to examination by any peace officer or agent or employee of the board at all times. The certification card shall also contain in bold-face type a statement stating that the signer understands that conviction for unlawful purchase of alcoholic beverages or misuse of the certification card may result in criminal penalties including imprisonment or fine or both.

It shall be unlawful for the owner of a card of identification to transfer the card to any other person for the purpose of aiding such person to procure alcoholic beverages from any licensee (~~(or store-employee)~~). Any person who shall permit his or her card of identification to be used by another or transfer such card to another for the purpose of aiding such transferee to obtain alcoholic beverages from a licensee (~~(or store-employee)~~) or gain admission to a premises or portion of a premises classified by the board as off-limits to persons under twenty-one years of age, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable as provided by RCW 9A.20.021, except that a minimum fine of two hundred fifty dollars shall be imposed and any sentence requiring community service shall require not fewer than twenty-five hours of such service. Any person not entitled thereto who unlawfully procures or has issued or transferred to him or her a card of identification, and any person who possesses a card of identification not issued to him or her, and any person who makes any false statement on any certification card required by RCW 66.20.190, as now or hereafter amended, to be signed by him or her, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable as provided by RCW 9A.20.021, except that a minimum fine of two hundred fifty dollars shall be imposed and any sentence requiring community service shall require not fewer than twenty-five hours of such service.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 66.24 RCW to read as follows:

There shall be a license for spirits distributors to sell spirituous liquor, purchased from licensed Washington manufacturers, spirituous liquor certificate of approval holders, licensed liquor importers, or suppliers of foreign liquor located outside the state of Washington, to retailers licensed for off-premises consumption and other spirits distributors and to export spirits from the state of Washington; fee fifteen thousand dollars per year for each distributing unit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A new section is added to chapter 66.24 RCW to read as follows:

A manufacturer of spirits located outside the state of Washington must hold a certificate of approval to allow sales and shipment of the certificate of approval holder's spirituous liquor to licensed Washington spirits distributors or liquor importers. The certificate of approval shall not be granted unless the manufacturer of spirituous liquor has made a written agreement with the board to furnish to the board, on or before the twentieth day of each month, a report under oath, on a form to be prescribed by the board, showing the quantity of spirits sold or delivered to each licensed spirits distributor or liquor importer during the preceding month, and has further agreed with the board that the manufacturers, all general sales corporations or agencies maintained by them, and all of their trade representatives, will faithfully comply with all laws of the state of Washington pertaining to the sale of intoxicating liquors and with all rules and regulations of the Washington state liquor control board. A violation of the terms of this agreement will authorize the board to take action to suspend or revoke such certificate.

The fee for the certificate of approval, issued under the provisions of this title shall be one hundred dollars per year, which sum must accompany the application for the certificate.

Sec. 20. RCW 66.24.160 and 1981 1st ex.s. c 5 s 30 are each amended to read as follows:

A liquor importer's license may be issued to any qualified person, firm or corporation, entitling the holder thereof to import into the state any liquor other than beer or wine; to store the same within the state, and to sell and export the same from the state; fee six hundred dollars per annum. Such liquor importer's license shall be subject to all conditions and restrictions imposed by this title or by the rules and regulations of the board, and shall be issued only upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the board. ~~((No liquor importer's license shall be required in sales to the Washington state liquor control board.))~~

Sec. 21. RCW 66.24.210 and 1997 c 321 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) There is hereby imposed upon all wines except cider sold to wine distributors ~~((and the Washington state liquor control board.))~~ within the state a tax at the rate of twenty and one-fourth cents per liter. There is hereby imposed on all cider sold to wine distributors ~~((and the Washington state liquor control board.))~~ within the state a tax at the rate of three and fifty-nine one-hundredths cents per liter: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That wine sold or shipped in bulk from one winery to another winery shall not be subject to such tax. The tax provided for in this section shall be collected by direct payments based on wine purchased by wine distributors. Every person purchasing wine under the provisions of this section shall on or before the twentieth day of each month report to the board all purchases during the preceding calendar month in such manner and upon such forms as may be prescribed by the board, and with such report shall pay the tax due from the purchases covered by such report unless the same has previously been paid. Any such purchaser of wine whose applicable tax payment is not postmarked by the twentieth day following the month of purchase will be assessed a penalty at the rate of two percent a month or fraction thereof. The board may require that every such person shall execute to and file with the board a bond to be approved by the board, in such amount as the board may fix, securing the payment of the tax. If any such person fails to pay the tax when due, the board may forthwith suspend or cancel the license until all taxes are paid.

(2) An additional tax is imposed equal to the rate specified in RCW 82.02.030 multiplied by the tax payable under subsection (1) of this section. All revenues collected during any month from this additional tax shall be transferred to the state general fund by the twenty-fifth day of the following month.

(3) An additional tax is imposed on wines subject to tax under subsection (1) of this section, at the rate of one-fourth of one cent per liter for wine sold after June 30, 1987. After June 30, 1996, such additional tax does not apply to cider. An additional tax of five one-hundredths of one cent per liter is imposed on cider sold after June 30, 1996. The additional taxes imposed by this subsection (3) shall cease to be imposed on July 1, 2001. All revenues collected under this subsection (3) shall be disbursed quarterly to the Washington wine commission for use in carrying out the purposes of chapter 15.88 RCW.

(4) An additional tax is imposed on all wine subject to tax under subsection (1) of this section. The additional tax is equal to twenty-three and forty-four one-hundredths cents per liter on fortified wine as defined in RCW 66.04.010(37) when bottled or packaged by the manufacturer, one cent per liter on all other wine except cider, and eighteen one-hundredths of one cent per liter on cider. All revenues collected during any month from this additional tax shall be deposited in the violence reduction and drug enforcement account under RCW

(5)(a) An additional tax is imposed on all cider subject to tax under subsection (1) of this section. The additional tax is equal to two and four one-hundredths cents per liter of cider sold after June 30, 1996, and before July 1, 1997, and is equal to four and seven one-hundredths cents per liter of cider sold after June 30, 1997.

(b) All revenues collected from the additional tax imposed under this subsection (5) shall be deposited in the health services account under RCW 43.72.900.

(6) For the purposes of this section, "cider" means table wine that contains not less than one-half of one percent of alcohol by volume and not more than seven percent of alcohol by volume and is made from the normal alcoholic fermentation of the juice of sound, ripe apples or pears. "Cider" includes, but is not limited to, flavored, sparkling, or carbonated cider and cider made from condensed apple or pear must.

Sec. 22. RCW 66.24.290 and 1999 c 281 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any microbrewer or domestic brewery or beer distributor licensed under this title may sell and deliver beer to holders of authorized licenses direct, but to no other person, (~~other than the board;~~) and every such brewery or beer distributor shall report all sales to the board monthly, pursuant to the regulations, and shall pay to the board as an added tax for the privilege of manufacturing and selling the beer within the state a tax of one dollar and thirty cents per barrel of thirty-one gallons on sales to licensees within the state and on sales to licensees within the state of bottled and canned beer shall pay a tax computed in gallons at the rate of one dollar and thirty cents per barrel of thirty-one gallons. Any brewery or beer distributor whose applicable tax payment is not postmarked by the twentieth day following the month of sale will be assessed a penalty at the rate of two percent per month or fraction thereof. Beer shall be sold by breweries and distributors in sealed barrels or packages. The moneys collected under this subsection shall be distributed as follows: (a) Three-tenths of a percent shall be distributed to border areas under RCW 66.08.195; and (b) of the remaining moneys: (i) Twenty percent shall be distributed to counties in the same manner as under RCW 66.08.200; and (ii) eighty percent shall be distributed to incorporated cities and towns in the same manner as under RCW 66.08.210.

(2) An additional tax is imposed on all beer subject to tax under subsection (1) of this section. The additional tax is equal to two dollars per barrel of thirty-one gallons. All revenues collected during any month from this additional tax shall be deposited in the violence reduction and drug enforcement account under RCW 69.50.520 by the twenty-fifth day of the following month.

(3)(a) An additional tax is imposed on all beer subject to tax under subsection (1) of this section. The additional tax is equal to ninety-six cents per barrel of thirty-one gallons through June 30, 1995, two dollars and thirty-nine cents per barrel of thirty-one gallons for the period July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1997, and four dollars and seventy-eight cents per barrel of thirty-one gallons thereafter.

(b) The additional tax imposed under this subsection does not apply to the sale of the first sixty thousand barrels of beer each year by breweries that are entitled to a reduced rate of tax under 26 U.S.C. Sec. 5051, as existing on July 1, 1993, or such subsequent date as may be provided by the board by rule consistent with the purposes of this exemption.

(c) All revenues collected from the additional tax imposed under this subsection (3) shall be deposited in the health services account under RCW 43.72.900.

(4) An additional tax is imposed on all beer that is subject to tax under subsection (1) of this section that is in the first sixty thousand barrels of beer by breweries that are entitled to a reduced rate of tax under 26 U.S.C. Sec. 5051, as existing on July 1, 1993, or such subsequent date as may be provided by the board by rule consistent with the purposes of the exemption under subsection (3)(b) of this section. The additional tax is equal to one dollar and forty-eight and two-tenths cents per barrel of thirty-one gallons. By the twenty-fifth day of the following month, three percent of the revenues collected from this additional tax shall be distributed to border areas under RCW 66.08.195 and the remaining moneys shall be transferred to the state general fund.

(5) The board may make refunds for all taxes paid on beer exported from the state for use outside the state.

(6) The board may require filing with the board of a bond to be approved by it, in such amount as the board may fix, securing the payment of the tax. If any licensee fails to pay the tax when due, the board may forthwith suspend or cancel his or her license until all taxes are paid.

(7) The tax imposed under this section shall not apply to "strong beer" as defined in this title.

(1) No person shall canvass for, solicit, receive, or take orders for the purchase or sale of liquor, nor contact any licensees of the board in goodwill activities, unless such person shall be the accredited representative of a person, firm, or corporation holding a certificate of approval issued pursuant to RCW 66.24.270 or 66.24.206, a beer distributor's license, a microbrewer's license, a domestic brewer's license, a beer importer's license, a domestic winery license, a wine importer's license, ~~((or))~~ a wine distributor's license, or a spirits distributor's license within the state of Washington, or the accredited representative of a distiller, manufacturer, importer, or distributor of spirituous liquor, or foreign produced beer or wine, and shall have applied for and received a representative's license: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to drivers who deliver beer or wine;

(2) Every representative's license issued under this title shall be subject to all conditions and restrictions imposed by this title or by the rules and regulations of the board; the board, for the purpose of maintaining an orderly market, may limit the number of representative's licenses issued for representation of specific classes of eligible employers;

(3) Every application for a representative's license must be approved by a holder of a certificate of approval issued pursuant to RCW 66.24.270 or 66.24.206, a licensed beer distributor, a licensed domestic brewer, a licensed beer importer, a licensed microbrewer, a licensed domestic winery, a licensed wine importer, a licensed wine distributor, or by a distiller, manufacturer, importer, or distributor of spirituous liquor, or foreign produced beer or wine, as the rules and regulations of the board shall require;

(4) The fee for a representative's license shall be twenty-five dollars per year;

(5) An accredited representative of a distiller, manufacturer, importer, or distributor of spirituous liquor may, after he or she has applied for and received a representative's license, contact ~~((retail licensees))~~ agency liquor vendors of the board only in goodwill activities pertaining to spirituous liquor products.

There shall be a spirits, beer, and/or wine ~~((retailer's))~~ agency liquor vendor license to be designated as a grocery store license to sell spirits, beer, and/or wine at retail in bottles, cans, and original containers, not to be consumed upon the premises where sold, at any store ~~((other than the state liquor stores))~~.

(1) Licensees obtaining a written endorsement from the board may also sell malt liquor in kegs or other containers capable of holding less than five and one-half gallons of liquid.

(2)(a) The annual fee for the grocery store license is one hundred fifty dollars for each store selling beer or wine but not spirits.

(b) The annual fee for the grocery store license is three thousand dollars for each store selling spirits.

(3) The board shall issue a restricted grocery store license authorizing the licensee to sell beer and only table wine, if the board finds upon issuance or renewal of the license that the sale of fortified wine would be against the public interest. In determining the public interest, the board shall consider at least the following factors:

(a) The likelihood that the applicant will sell fortified wine to persons who are intoxicated;

(b) Law enforcement problems in the vicinity of the applicant's establishment that may arise from persons purchasing fortified wine at the establishment; and

(c) Whether the sale of fortified wine would be detrimental to or inconsistent with a government-operated or funded alcohol treatment or detoxification program in the area.

If the board receives no evidence or objection that the sale of fortified wine would be against the public interest, it shall issue or renew the license without restriction, as applicable. The burden of establishing that the sale of fortified wine by the licensee would be against the public interest is on those persons objecting.

(4) Licensees holding a grocery store license must maintain a minimum three thousand dollar inventory of food products for human consumption, not including pop, spirits, beer, or wine.

(5) Only grocery store licensees whose contiguous business premises measure five thousand or more square feet of floor space and who meet the requirements of subsection (4) of this section may sell at retail.

spirituous liquor in its original container. The board shall determine by rule, criteria for establishing qualifying floor space.

(6) Until July 1, 2004, the board may issue a retailer's license under this section to agency liquor vendors appointed by the board on or before January 1, 2001. Subsections (4) and (5) of this section do not apply to liquor vendors who qualify under this subsection (6), but such vendors are subject to the remainder of this section.

(7) Upon approval by the board, the grocery store licensee may also receive an endorsement to permit the international export of beer and wine.

(a) Any beer or wine sold under this endorsement must have been purchased from a licensed beer or wine distributor licensed to do business within the state of Washington.

(b) Any beer and wine sold under this endorsement must be intended for consumption outside the state of Washington and the United States and appropriate records must be maintained by the licensee.

(c) A holder of this special endorsement to the grocery store license shall be considered not in violation of RCW 66.28.010.

(d) Any beer or wine sold under this license must be sold at a price no less than the acquisition price paid by the holder of the license.

(e) The annual cost of this endorsement is five hundred dollars and is in addition to the license fees paid by the licensee for a grocery store license.

Sec. 25. RCW 66.24.371 and 1997 c 321 s 23 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) There shall be a beer and/or wine (~~retailer's~~) agency liquor vendor license to be designated as a beer and/or wine specialty shop license to sell beer and/or wine at retail in bottles, cans, and original containers, not to be consumed upon the premises where sold, at any store (~~other than the state liquor stores~~). Licensees obtaining a written endorsement from the board may also sell malt liquor in kegs or other containers capable of holding less than five and one-half gallons of liquid. The annual fee for the beer and/or wine specialty shop license is one hundred dollars for each store.

(2) Licensees under this section may provide, free or for a charge, single-serving samples of two ounces or less to customers for the purpose of sales promotion. Sampling activities of licensees under this section are subject to RCW 66.28.010 and 66.28.040 and the cost of sampling under this section may not be borne, directly or indirectly by any manufacturer, importer, or distributor of liquor.

(3) The board shall issue a restricted beer and/or wine specialty shop license, authorizing the licensee to sell beer and only table wine, if the board finds upon issuance or renewal of the license that the sale of fortified wine would be against the public interest. In determining the public interest, the board shall consider at least the following factors:

(a) The likelihood that the applicant will sell fortified wine to persons who are intoxicated;

(b) Law enforcement problems in the vicinity of the applicant's establishment that may arise from persons purchasing fortified wine at the establishment; and

(c) Whether the sale of fortified wine would be detrimental to or inconsistent with a government-operated or funded alcohol treatment or detoxification program in the area.

If the board receives no evidence or objection that the sale of fortified wine would be against the public interest, it shall issue or renew the license without restriction, as applicable. The burden of establishing that the sale of fortified wine by the licensee would be against the public interest is on those persons objecting.

(4) Licensees holding a beer and/or wine specialty shop license must maintain a minimum three thousand dollar wholesale inventory of beer and/or wine.

There shall be a retailer's license to be designated as a special occasion license to be issued to a not-for-profit society or organization to sell spirits, beer, and wine by the individual serving for on-premises consumption at a specified event, such as at picnics or other special occasions, at a specified date and place; fee sixty dollars per day.

(1) The not-for-profit society or organization is limited to sales of no more than twelve calendar days per

(2) The licensee may sell beer and/or wine in original, unopened containers for off-premises consumption if permission is obtained from the board prior to the event.

(3) Sale, service, and consumption of spirits, beer, and wine is to be confined to specified premises or designated areas only.

(4) Spirituous liquor sold under this special occasion license must be purchased ~~((at a state liquor store or agency without discount at retail prices, including all taxes))~~ from a licensed spirits distributor.

(5) Any violation of this section is a class 1 civil infraction having a maximum penalty of two hundred fifty dollars as provided for in chapter 7.80 RCW.

Sec. 27. RCW 66.24.481 and 1969 ex.s. c 250 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

No public place or club, or agent, servant or employee thereof, shall keep or allow to be kept, either by itself, its agent, servant or employee, or any other person, any liquor in any place maintained or conducted by such public place or club, nor shall it permit the drinking of any liquor in any such place, unless the sale of liquor in said place is authorized by virtue of a valid and subsisting license issued by the Washington state liquor control board, or the consumption of liquor in said place is authorized by a special banquet permit issued by said board. Every person who violates any provision of this section shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

"Public place," for purposes of this section only, shall mean in addition to the definition set forth in RCW 66.04.010~~((24))~~, any place to which admission is charged or in which any pecuniary gain is realized by the owner or operator of such place in selling or vending food or soft drinks.

There shall be a retailer's license to be designated as a motel license. The motel license may be issued to a motel regardless of whether it holds any other class of license under this title. No license may be issued to a motel offering rooms to its guests on an hourly basis. The license authorizes the licensee to:

(1) Sell, at retail, in locked honor bars, spirits in individual bottles not to exceed fifty milliliters, beer in individual cans or bottles not to exceed twelve ounces, and wine in individual bottles not to exceed one hundred eighty-seven milliliters, to registered guests of the motel for consumption in guest rooms.

(a) Each honor bar must also contain snack foods. No more than one-half of the guest rooms may have honor bars.

(b) All spirits to be sold under the license must be purchased from ~~((the board))~~ a licensed spirits distributor.

(c) The licensee shall require proof of age from the guest renting a guest room and requesting the use of an honor bar. The guest shall also execute an affidavit verifying that no one under twenty-one years of age shall have access to the spirits, beer, and wine in the honor bar.

(2) Provide without additional charge, to overnight guests of the motel, beer and wine by the individual serving for on-premises consumption at a specified regular date, time, and place as may be fixed by the board. Self-service by attendees is prohibited. All beer and wine service must be done by an alcohol server as defined in RCW 66.20.300 and comply with RCW 66.20.310.

"Motel" as used in this section means a transient accommodation licensed under chapter 70.62 RCW.

As used in this section, "spirits," "beer," and "wine" have the meanings defined in RCW 66.04.010.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. A new section is added to chapter 66.28 RCW to read as follows:

A retail spirits licensee may sell spirits only during the hours of twelve o'clock noon and eight o'clock p.m. each day, except Sundays.

Sec. 30. RCW 66.28.030 and 1997 c 321 s 47 are each amended to read as follows:

Every licensed brewer, domestic brewer and microbrewer, domestic winery, manufacturer holding a certificate of approval, licensed wine importer, and licensed beer importer shall be responsible for the conduct of any licensed spirits, beer, or wine distributor in selling, or contracting to sell, to retail licensees, spirits, beer, or wine manufactured by such brewer, domestic brewer and microbrewer, domestic winery, manufacturer holding a certificate of approval, or imported by such liquor, beer, or wine importer. Where the board finds that any licensed spirits, beer, or wine distributor has violated any of the provisions of this title or of the regulations of the board in selling or contracting to sell spirits, beer, or wine to retail licensees, the board may, in addition to any punishment inflicted or imposed upon such distributor, prohibit the sale of the brand or brands of spirits, beer, or wine involved in such violation to any or all retail licensees within the trade territory usually served by such distributor for such period of time as the board may fix, irrespective of whether the brewer manufacturing such beer or the beer importer importing such beer or the domestic winery manufacturing such wine or the wine importer importing such wine or the certificate of approval holder manufacturing such spirits, beer, or wine actually participated in such violation.

Except as permitted by the board under RCW 66.20.010, no brewery, distributor, distiller, winery, importer, rectifier, or other manufacturer of liquor shall, within the state, give to any person any liquor; but nothing in this section nor in RCW 66.28.010 shall prevent a brewery, distributor, winery, distiller, or importer from furnishing samples of beer, wine, or spirituous liquor to authorized licensees for the purpose of negotiating a sale, in accordance with regulations adopted by the liquor control board, provided that the samples are subject to taxes imposed by RCW 66.24.290 and 66.24.210, and in the case of spirituous liquor, any product used for samples must be purchased at retail from ~~((the board; nothing in this section shall prevent the furnishing of samples of liquor to the board for the purpose of negotiating the sale of liquor to the state liquor control board))~~ an agency liquor vendor; nothing in this section shall prevent a brewery, winery, distillery, or distributor from furnishing beer, wine, or spirituous liquor for instructional purposes under RCW 66.28.150 and 66.28.155; nothing in this section shall prevent a winery or distributor from furnishing wine without charge, subject to the taxes imposed by RCW 66.24.210, to a not-for-profit group organized and operated solely for the purpose of enology or the study of viticulture which has been in existence for at least six months and that uses wine so furnished solely for such educational purposes or a domestic winery, or an out-of-state certificate of approval holder, from furnishing wine without charge or a domestic brewery, or an out-of-state certificate of approval holder, from furnishing beer without charge, subject to the taxes imposed by RCW 66.24.210 or 66.24.290, to a nonprofit charitable corporation or association exempt from taxation under section 501(c)(3) of the internal revenue code of 1986 (26 U.S.C. Sec. 501(c)(3)) for use consistent with the purpose or purposes entitling it to such exemption; nothing in this section shall prevent a brewer from serving beer without charge, on the brewery premises; nothing in this section shall prevent donations of wine for the purposes of RCW 66.12.180; and nothing in this section shall prevent a domestic winery from serving wine without charge, on the winery premises.

Sec. 32. RCW 66.28.060 and 1933 ex.s. c 62 s 26 are each amended to read as follows:

Every distillery licensed under this title shall make monthly reports to the board pursuant to the regulations. No such distillery shall make any sale of spirits within the state of Washington except to ~~((the board))~~ a licensed spirits distributor.

Sec. 33. RCW 66.28.070 and 1994 c 201 s 5 and 1994 c 63 s 2 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, it shall be unlawful for any retail spirits, beer, or wine licensee to purchase spirits, beer, or wine, except from a duly licensed ~~((wholesaler or the board))~~ distributor, and it shall be unlawful for any brewer, winery, or spirits, beer, or wine ~~((wholesaler))~~ distributor to purchase spirits, beer, or wine, except from a duly licensed spirits, beer, or wine ~~((wholesaler))~~ distributor or importer.

(2) A spirits, beer, or wine retailer licensee may purchase spirits, beer, or wine from a government agency which has lawfully seized spirits, beer, or wine from a licensed spirits, beer, or wine retailer, or from a board-authorized retailer, or from a licensed retailer which has discontinued business if the ~~((wholesaler))~~ distributor has refused to accept spirits, beer, or wine from that retailer for return and refund. Spirits, beer, and wine purchased under this subsection shall meet the quality standards set by its manufacturer.

(3) Special occasion licensees holding (~~either a class G or J~~) a special occasion license may only purchase beer or wine from a beer or wine retailer duly licensed to sell beer or wine for off-premises consumption(~~(, the board,)~~) or from a duly licensed beer or wine (~~wholesaler~~) distributor.

Sec. 34. RCW 66.28.180 and 1997 c 321 s 51 are each amended to read as follows:

It is unlawful for a person, firm, or corporation holding a certificate of approval issued under RCW 66.24.270 or 66.24.206, a spirits distributor's license, a beer distributor's license, a domestic brewer's license, a microbrewer's license, a beer importer's license, a beer distributor's license, a domestic winery license, a wine importer's license, or a wine distributor's license within the state of Washington to modify any prices without prior notification to and approval of the board.

(1) Intent. This section is enacted, pursuant to the authority of this state under the twenty-first amendment to the United States Constitution, to promote the public's interest in fostering the orderly and responsible distribution of (~~malt~~) alcoholic beverages (~~and wine~~) towards effective control of consumption; to promote the fair and efficient three-tier system of distribution of such beverages; and to confirm existing board rules as the clear expression of state policy to regulate the manner of selling and pricing of (~~wine and malt~~) alcoholic beverages by licensed suppliers and distributors.

(2) Spirits, beer, and wine distributor price posting.

(a) Every spirits, beer, or wine distributor shall file with the board at its office in Olympia a price posting showing the wholesale prices at which any and all brands of spirits, beer, and wine sold by such (~~beer and/or wine~~) distributor shall be sold to retailers within the state.

(b) Each price posting shall be made on a form prepared and furnished by the board, or a reasonable facsimile thereof, and shall set forth:

(i) All brands, types, packages, and containers of beer offered for sale by such beer and/or wine distributor;

(ii) The wholesale prices thereof to retail licensees, including allowances, if any, for returned empty containers.

(c) No spirits, beer, and/or wine distributor may sell or offer to sell any package or container of spirits, beer, or wine to any (~~retail licensee~~) agency liquor vendor at a price differing from the price for such package or container as shown in the price posting filed by the (~~beer and/or wine~~) distributor and then in effect, according to rules adopted by the board.

(d) Quantity discounts are prohibited. No price may be posted that is below acquisition cost plus ten percent of acquisition cost. However, the board is empowered to review periodically, as it may deem appropriate, the amount of the percentage of acquisition cost as a minimum mark-up over cost and to modify such percentage by rule of the board, except such percentage shall be not less than ten percent.

(e) Distributor prices on a "close-out" item shall be accepted by the board if the item to be discontinued has been listed on the state market for a period of at least six months, and upon the further condition that the distributor who posts such a close-out price shall not restock the item for a period of one year following the first effective date of such close-out price.

(f) The board may reject any price posting that it deems to be in violation of this section or any rule, or portion thereof, or that would tend to disrupt the orderly sale and distribution of beer, spirits, and wine. Whenever the board rejects any posting, the licensee submitting the posting may be heard by the board and shall have the burden of showing that the posting is not in violation of this section or a rule or does not tend to disrupt the orderly sale and distribution of spirits, beer, and wine. If the posting is accepted, it shall become effective at the time fixed by the board. If the posting is rejected, the last effective posting shall remain in effect until such time as an amended posting is filed and approved, in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(g) All price postings filed as required by this section shall at all times be open to inspection to all trade buyers within the state of Washington and shall not in any sense be considered confidential.

(h) Any spirits, beer, and/or wine distributor or employee authorized by the distributor-employer may sell spirits, beer, and/or wine at the distributor's posted prices to (~~any annual~~) an agency liquor vendor or special occasion retail licensee upon presentation to the distributor or employee at the time of purchase of a special permit issued by the board to such licensee.

(i) Every ~~((annual))~~ agency liquor vendor or special occasion retail licensee, upon purchasing any beer and/or wine from a distributor, shall immediately cause such beer or wine to be delivered to the licensed premises, and the licensee shall not thereafter permit such beer to be disposed of in any manner except as authorized by the license.

(ii) Spirits, beer, and wine sold as provided in this section shall be delivered by the distributor or an authorized employee either to the ~~((retailer's))~~ agency liquor vendor's licensed premises or directly to the ~~((retailer))~~ vendor at the distributor's licensed premises. A distributor's prices to ~~((retail licensees))~~ agency liquor vendors shall be the same at both such places of delivery.

(3) Beer and wine suppliers' price filings, contracts, and memoranda.

(a) Every brewery and winery offering beer and/or wine for sale within the state shall file with the board at its office in Olympia a copy of every written contract and a memorandum of every oral agreement which such brewery or winery may have with any beer or wine distributor, which contracts or memoranda shall contain a schedule of prices charged to distributors for all items and all terms of sale, including all regular and special discounts; all advertising, sales and trade allowances, and incentive programs; and all commissions, bonuses or gifts, and any and all other discounts or allowances. Whenever changed or modified, such revised contracts or memoranda shall forthwith be filed with the board as provided for by rule. The provisions of this section also apply to certificate of approval holders, beer and/or wine importers, and beer and/or wine distributors who sell to other beer and/or wine distributors.

Each price schedule shall be made on a form prepared and furnished by the board, or a reasonable facsimile thereof, and shall set forth all brands, types, packages, and containers of beer or wine offered for sale by such licensed brewery or winery; all additional information required may be filed as a supplement to the price schedule forms.

(b) Prices filed by a brewery or winery shall be uniform prices to all distributors on a statewide basis less bona fide allowances for freight differentials. Quantity discounts are prohibited. No price shall be filed that is below acquisition/production cost plus ten percent of that cost, except that acquisition cost plus ten percent of acquisition cost does not apply to sales of beer or wine between a beer or wine importer who sells beer or wine to another beer or wine importer or to a beer or wine distributor, or to a beer or wine distributor who sells beer or wine to another beer or wine distributor. However, the board is empowered to review periodically, as it may deem appropriate, the amount of the percentage of acquisition/production cost as a minimum mark-up over cost and to modify such percentage by rule of the board, except such percentage shall be not less than ten percent.

(c) No brewery, winery, certificate of approval holder, beer or wine importer, or beer or wine distributor may sell or offer to sell any beer or wine to any persons whatsoever in this state until copies of such written contracts or memoranda of such oral agreements are on file with the board.

(d) No brewery or winery may sell or offer to sell any package or container of beer or wine to any distributor at a price differing from the price for such package or container as shown in the schedule of prices filed by the brewery or winery and then in effect, according to rules adopted by the board.

(e) The board may reject any supplier's price filing, contract, or memorandum of oral agreement, or portion thereof that it deems to be in violation of this section or any rule or that would tend to disrupt the orderly sale and distribution of beer or wine. Whenever the board rejects any such price filing, contract, or memorandum, the licensee submitting the price filing, contract, or memorandum may be heard by the board and shall have the burden of showing that the price filing, contract, or memorandum is not in violation of this section or a rule or does not tend to disrupt the orderly sale and distribution of beer or wine. If the price filing, contract, or memorandum is accepted, it shall become effective at a time fixed by the board. If the price filing, contract, or memorandum, or portion thereof, is rejected, the last effective price filing, contract, or memorandum shall remain in effect until such time as an amended price filing, contract, or memorandum is filed and approved, in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(f) All prices, contracts, and memoranda filed as required by this section shall at all times be open to inspection to all trade buyers within the state of Washington and shall not in any sense be considered confidential.

Sec. 35. RCW 66.28.190 and 1997 c 321 s 52 are each amended to read as follows:

RCW 66.28.010 notwithstanding, persons licensed under RCW 66.24.200 as wine distributors ~~((and)),~~ persons licensed under RCW 66.24.250 as beer distributors, and persons licensed under section 18 of this act may sell at wholesale nonliquor food products on thirty-day credit terms to persons licensed as retailers under this title, but complete and separate accounting records shall be maintained on all sales of nonliquor food products to ensure that such persons are in compliance with RCW 66.28.010.

For the purpose of this section, "nonliquor food products" includes all food products for human consumption as defined in RCW 82.08.0293 as it exists on July 1, 1987, except that for the purposes of this section bottled water and carbonated beverages, whether liquid or frozen, shall be considered food products.

Sec. 36. RCW 66.40.140 and 1933 ex.s. c 62 s 88 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever a majority of qualified voters voting upon said question in any such unit shall have voted "Against sale of liquor", the county auditor shall file with the liquor control board a certificate showing the result of the canvass at such election; and thereafter, except as hereinafter provided, it shall not be lawful for ~~((a liquor store to be operated therein nor for))~~ licensees to maintain and operate licensed premises therein except as hereinafter provided:

~~((1))~~ ~~((As to any stores maintained by the board within any such unit at the time of such licensing, the board shall have a period of thirty days from and after the date of the canvass of the vote upon such election to continue operation of its store or stores therein.~~

~~—————~~ ~~((2))~~ As to any premises licensed hereunder within any such unit at the time of such election, such licensee shall have a period of sixty days from and after the date of the canvass of the vote upon such election in which to discontinue operation of its store or stores therein.

~~((3))~~ ~~((2))~~ Nothing herein contained shall prevent any distillery, brewery, rectifying plant or winery or the licensed operators thereof from selling its manufactured product, manufactured within such unit, outside the boundaries thereof.

~~((4))~~ ~~((3))~~ Nothing herein contained shall prevent any person residing in any unit in which the sale of liquor shall have been forbidden by popular vote as herein provided, who is otherwise qualified to receive and hold a permit under this title, from lawfully purchasing without the unit and transporting into or receiving within the unit, liquor lawfully purchased by him outside the boundaries of such unit.

Sec. 37. RCW 66.44.150 and 1955 c 289 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((F))~~ ~~Any~~ person in this state who buys alcoholic beverages from any person other than ~~((the board,))~~ a ~~((state liquor store,))~~ licensee or some person authorized by the board to sell ~~((them, he shall be))~~ it is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 38. RCW 66.44.160 and 1955 c 289 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided in this title, any person who has or keeps or transports alcoholic beverages other than those purchased from ~~((the board,))~~ a ~~((state liquor store,))~~ licensee or some person authorized by the board to sell ~~((them, shall be))~~ it is guilty of a violation of this title.

Sec. 39. RCW 66.44.318 and 1995 c 100 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Licensees holding nonretail class liquor licenses are permitted to allow their employees between ~~((the))~~ the ages of eighteen and twenty-one to stock, merchandise, and handle spirits, beer, or wine on or about the nonretail premises if there is an adult twenty-one years of age or older on duty supervising such activities on the premises.

Sec. 40. RCW 66.44.340 and 1999 c 281 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

Employers holding ~~((grocery store or beer and/or wine specialty shop))~~ retail liquor licenses exclusively for off-premises consumption are permitted to allow their employees, between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one years, to sell, stock, and handle spirits, beer, or wine in, on, or about any establishment holding ~~((a grocery store or beer and/or wine specialty shop))~~ such license exclusively: PROVIDED, That there is an adult twenty-one years of age or older on duty supervising the sale of liquor at the licensed premises: PROVIDED, That minor employees may make deliveries of spirits, beer, and/or wine purchased from licensees holding ~~((grocery store or beer and/or wine specialty shop))~~ agency liquor vendor licenses exclusively for off-premises consumption, when delivery is made to cars of customers adjacent to such licensed premises but only, however, when the minor employee is accompanied by the purchaser.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 41. A new section is added to chapter 66.44 RCW to read as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to advertise any spirituous liquor beverage product through outdoor advertising or print media within the state of Washington. However, one sign at the retail outlet for such products using the words retail, alcohol, liquor, store, or any combination of such words may be allowed. For purposes of this section, "outdoor advertising" means all signs, visible to the general public, whether permanent or temporary, advertising spirituous liquor, except for the one sign allowed for each retail outlet.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 42. A new section is added to chapter 66.24 RCW to read as follows:

There is hereby imposed upon all spirits sold by spirits distributors licensed under this title, a tax at the rate of one dollar and sixty-two cents per liter. The tax provided for in this section shall be collected by direct payments based on spirits sold by spirits distributors. Every person selling spirits under the provisions of this section shall on or before the twentieth day of each month report to the board all sales during the preceding calendar month in such manner and upon such forms as may be prescribed by the board, and with such report shall pay the tax due from the sales covered by such report unless the same has previously been paid. Any such seller of spirits whose applicable tax payment is not postmarked by the twentieth day following the month of purchase will be assessed a penalty at the rate of two percent a month or fraction thereof. The board may require that every such person execute and file with the board a bond to be approved by the board, in such amount as the board may fix, securing the payment of the tax. If any such person fails to pay the tax when due, the board may forthwith suspend or cancel the license until all taxes are paid. All revenues collected under this section shall be deposited in the liquor revolving fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 43. A new section is added to chapter 66.08 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A consumption surcharge is established to be paid by spirits distributors on the sale or transfer of spirits from the distributor to the retailer.

(2) The board shall establish the annual base consumption rate determined by the total liter volume per capita of spirits sold through state liquor stores and vendor agencies and to spirits, beer, and wine restaurant licensees during calendar year 2000.

(3) Beginning on January 1, 2003, and each year thereafter, the board shall monitor sales and transfers of spirits by spirits distributors. If during calendar year 2003 the total liter volume per capita of spirits sold or transferred reaches the 2000 annual liter volume per capita, the board shall collect from each spirits distributor, beginning April 1, 2004, a surcharge of two dollars per liter of spirits sold or transferred between April 1, 2004, and March 31, 2005.

(4) If the total liter volume per capita of spirits sold or transferred during calendar year 2004 falls below the base consumption rate established in 2000, imposition of the consumption surcharge shall be terminated beginning April 1, 2005.

(5) Beginning with calendar year 2006, and each year thereafter, if the total liter volume per capita of spirits exceeds the total liter volume per capita of spirits sold or transferred in the base consumption year of 2000, the board shall impose a surcharge, beginning on April 1st of the following year, on the sale or transfer of spirits by spirit distributors to spirit retailers for a period of three hundred fifty-two days.

(6) Revenue generated by the consumption surcharge shall be deposited in the liquor revolving fund and the surcharge, when imposed, shall be collected by the board annually from distributors.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 44. A new section is added to chapter 66.08 RCW to read as follows:

The liquor control board must determined annually per capita consumption levels and total volume by liter of spirits sold or transferred during the calendar year by a spirits distributor to an agency liquor vendor authorized to sell spirits. The board may recommend consumption surcharge adjustments to respond to any increase in consumption above the base level established for 2000. It is the intent of the legislature that as consumption increases over the level established by the board for calendar year 2000, a surcharge be imposed that increases the cost of the product as a means of controlling consumption.

Sec. 45. RCW 66.08.170 and 1961 ex.s. c 6 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

There shall be a fund, known as the "liquor revolving fund", which shall consist of all license fees, permit fees, penalties, forfeitures, consumption surcharge revenues, and all other moneys, income, or revenue received by the board. The state treasurer shall be custodian of the fund. All moneys received by the board or any employee thereof, except for change funds and an amount of petty cash as fixed by the board within the authority of law shall be deposited each day in a depository approved by the state treasurer and transferred to the state treasurer to be credited to the liquor revolving fund. Disbursements from the revolving fund shall be on authorization of the board or a duly authorized representative thereof. In order to maintain an effective expenditure and revenue control the liquor revolving fund shall be subject in all respects to chapter 43.88 RCW but no appropriation shall be required to permit expenditures and payment of obligations from such fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 46. A new section is added to chapter 66.08 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any licensee that employs a former state liquor store employee during calendar year 2003 may deduct from his or her annual license fee for the subsequent year one dollar for each hour the employee is employed by the licensee up to the license fee amount.

(2) For purposes of this section, "former state liquor store employee" means an individual employed full time by the liquor control board at a state liquor store for at least six months prior to the effective date of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 47. (1) The liquor control board shall begin the process of terminating its operations involving the retail sale and wholesale distribution of liquor. The board and the office of financial management shall determine those actions necessary to terminate the board's direct involvement in the retail sale and wholesale distribution of liquor by July 1, 2003, and make recommendations to the legislature by December 1, 2001, on the following:

(a) Disposition of equipment and inventory under the control of the liquor control board used in the operation of state liquor stores and agency vendor stores;

(b) Disposition of all warehousing facilities and other equipment and vehicles used in the wholesale distribution of liquor;

(c) The status of contracts and other obligations;

(d) Determine the impact on sales and availability of spirits to the public during the period of decreasing state liquor store operation and the implementation of private retail and wholesaling of spirits;

(e) Identification of issues and a plan for treatment of personnel; and

(f) Any other actions determined necessary by the reporting agencies.

(2) The board is authorized to take actions necessary to implement the spirits distributor's license and the spirits retail license for grocery stores by July 1, 2003.

(3) The board shall exercise due diligence to reduce any liabilities associated with discontinuing board retailing and wholesaling operations including contract commitments for the acquisition of alcoholic beverages or interests in real estate used for the retailing and wholesaling of alcoholic beverages past July 1, 2003.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 48. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

(1) RCW 66.08.070 (Purchase of liquor by board--Consignment not prohibited--Warranty or affirmation not required for wine or malt purchases) and 1985 c 226 s 2, 1973 1st ex.s. c 209 s 1, & 1933 ex.s. c 62 s 67;

NEW SECTION. Sec. 50. Sections 1 through 46 and 48 of this act take effect July 1, 2003."

Correct the title.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Kessler requested a scope and object ruling on the amendment (077) to Substitute House Bill No. 1781.

SPEAKERS' RULING

Speaker Ballard: "Substitute House Bill No. 1781 is entitled 'AN ACT related to payment of agency commissions for agency liquor vendor stores'. The bill has a limited purpose - authorizing the use of the liquor revolving fund to pay agency commissions for vendor stores. Amendment No. 077 restructures the entire liquor code. It is clearly beyond the scope and object of the bill.

Representative Kessler, your point of order is well taken."

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Sommers and Sehlin spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Speaker Ballard stated the question before the House to be the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1781.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1781 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 98, Nays - 0, Absent - 0, Excused - 0.

Voting yea: Representatives Ahern, Alexander, Anderson, Armstrong, Ballasiotes, Barlean, Benson, Berkey, Boldt, Buck, Bush, Cairnes, Campbell, Carrell, Casada, B. Chandler, G. (1) The practice of optometry is defined as the examination of the human eye, the examination and ascertaining any defects of the human vision system and the analysis of the process of vision. The practice of optometry may include, but not necessarily be limited to, the following:

(a) The employment of any objective or subjective means or method, including the use of drugs (~~((topically applied to the eye))~~), for diagnostic and therapeutic purposes by those licensed under this chapter and who meet the requirements of subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and the use of any diagnostic instruments or devices for the examination or analysis of the human vision system, the measurement of the powers or range of human vision, or the determination of the refractive powers of the human eye or its functions in general; and

(b) The prescription and fitting of lenses, prisms, therapeutic or refractive contact lenses and the adaption or adjustment of frames and lenses used in connection therewith; and

(c) The prescription and provision of visual therapy, therapeutic aids, and other optical devices (~~((--and the~~ treatment with topically applied drugs by those licensed under this chapter and who meet the requirements of subsections (2) and (3) of this section)); and

(d) The ascertainment of the perceptible, neural, muscular, or pathological condition of the visual system; and

(e) The adaptation of prosthetic eyes.

(2)(a) Those persons using drugs for diagnostic purposes in the practice of optometry shall have a minimum of sixty hours of didactic and supervised clinical instruction in general and ocular pharmacology as applied to optometry, ~~((and for therapeutic purposes, an additional minimum of seventy five hours of didactic and clinical instruction))~~ as established by the board, and certification from an institution of higher learning, accredited by those agencies recognized by the United States office of education or the council on postsecondary accreditation to qualify for certification by the optometry board of Washington to use drugs for diagnostic and therapeutic purposes.

(b) Those persons using or prescribing topical drugs for therapeutic purposes in the practice of optometry shall be certified under (a) of this subsection, and shall have an additional minimum of seventy-five hours of didactic and supervised clinical instruction as established by the board, and certification from an institution of higher learning, accredited by those agencies recognized by the United States office of education or the council on postsecondary accreditation to qualify for certification by the optometry board of Washington to use drugs for therapeutic purposes.

(c) Those persons using or prescribing drugs administered orally for therapeutic purposes in the practice of optometry shall be certified under (b) of this subsection, and shall have an additional minimum of sixteen hours of didactic and eight hours of supervised clinical instruction as established by the board, and certification from an institution of higher learning, accredited by those agencies recognized by the United States office of education or the council on postsecondary accreditation to qualify for certification by the optometry board of Washington to administer, dispense, or prescribe oral drugs for therapeutic purposes.

(d) Those persons administering epinephrine by injection for treatment of anaphylactic shock in the practice of optometry must be certified under (b) of this subsection and must have an additional minimum of four hours of didactic and supervised clinical instruction, as established by the board, and certification from an institution of higher learning, accredited by those agencies recognized by the United States office of education or the council on postsecondary accreditation to qualify for certification by the optometry board to administer epinephrine by injection.

(e) Such course or courses shall be the fiscal responsibility of the participating and attending optometrist.

(3) The board shall establish a schedule of drugs for diagnostic and treatment purposes limited to the practice of optometry, and no person licensed pursuant to this chapter shall prescribe, dispense, purchase, possess, or administer drugs except as authorized and to the extent permitted by the board.
