RESIGNATION LETTER

December 12, 2013

Governor Jay Inslee
Office of the Governor
PO Box 40002
Olympia, WA 98504-0002

Dear Governor Inslee:

Due to my recent election as the next Mayor of Seattle, I am writing to you today submit my notice of resignation from the Legislature. The effective date of my resignation as the Senator of the 43rd Legislative District will be at 12:00 p.m. on December 16, 2013.

Even though I will not assume office as Mayor of Seattle until January 1, the demands of the transition into office are considerable and deserve my full time and attention. In addition, the residents of the 43rd District deserve sufficient time and opportunity to select my replacement before the 2014 Legislative Session begins in January.

My 18-year career as a legislator, first as a member of the House and then as a member of the Senate, has been an honor and a privilege, and has provided me experiences under nearly every legislative scenario. I have served in the majority in both chambers, in the minority in both chambers, and in an effective tie in both chambers. As chair of all three budget committees, I have written Operating, Capital and Transportation budget proposals. And I have had the great opportunity of sponsoring and passing difficult but critical legislation that has made a positive difference in the lives of Washingtonians: from passing the largest transportation funding package in state history, doubling funding for low-income housing, and passing the highest emission standards in the nation, to achieving civil rights protections for gays and lesbians, securing three successive years of domestic partnership rights and, finally, passage marriage equality for all.

These are experiences I am proud of, humbled to have had, and will never forget. I look forward to keeping open lines of communication with you and with the Legislature in my new capacity as Mayor of Seattle, and to working collaboratively and productively to make progress on behalf of residents all across the great state of Washington.

Sincerely,
Edward B. Murray

RESIGANTION LETTER

Governor Jay Inslee
PO Box 40002
Olympia, WA 98504-0002

November 11, 2013

Dear Governor Inslee:

It is with sadness but without reservation, that I submit to you my notice of resignation as Senator of the 38th Legislative District effective immediately.

I have come to realize that my constituents and the people of our state would be better served by someone who can fully commit their time to a job that requires undivided dedication. The combination of legislative session, a series of special sessions and interim responsibilities are important, exciting work, but require full time attention. As a husband, father of two girls and an attorney, I feel that I am unable to meet that requirement.

I am proud of my time here in Olympia. It was an honor to be asked to work on bringing WSU to Everett as one of my first responsibilities. I was proud to lead the fight against gun violence and the fight for education funding and small businesses.

My three years as Senator are an experience I will never forget. Unfortunately my work in Olympia takes me away from my family far too much. They deserve a full-time husband and father just as the people of the 38th deserve a full-time Senator. I feel that I cannot be both at this time.

Thank you for your leadership and your understanding.

Nick Harper

RESIGNATION LETTER

January 7, 2014

The Honorable Jay Inslee
PO Box 40002

Dear Governor Inslee,

It is with deep regret that I must inform you of my decision to resign from the Washington State Senate, effective immediately. Although I had planned to retire from the Legislature at the end of my term later this year, I have reluctantly determined with the assistance of my family that recent health problems including my age, memory problems, and a recent diagnosis of Alzheimer's make it impossible for me to represent my constituents in the manner in which they deserve. I believe it is in everyone's best interest—my family, my constituents, the Senate, and the great State of Washington – for me to step down at this time.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your help and support over the years. It has been a tremendous privilege to be a member of the State Senate and work with such wonderful colleagues.

Sincerely,
Paul Shin
Washington State Senator
21st Legislative District

REMARKS BY MISS KATT NGUYEN

Miss Katt Nguyen: “Good afternoon everyone. As the 2013-2014 Capital Lakefair Queen I'm actually here today to welcome all of you to a new legislative session. My name is Katt Nguyen, short and sweet for Katherine, I am an International Bachelorette senior at Capital High School. As graduation seems to be coming closer and closer, I feel like I'm one step closer to pursuing my aspirations which is to be a pediatrician. I hope to attend the University of Washington this upcoming fall and I hope to major in bio chemistry. So, it's going to be a very long and hard journey but definitely very worthwhile one. Actually being a part of the Capital Lakefair program has helped me in regards as to my aspirations. The Capital Lakefair program offers twenty-eight thousand dollars in scholarships to its recipients each year and I, as the Capital Lakefair Queen, received five thousand dollars in scholarship while each of the other Princesses received twenty-five hundred dollars in scholarships. So on behalf of my Lakefair Court I would like to thank the Capital Lakefair program for its generosity and rewarding experiences. So, being a Capital Lakefair Queen I have learned that with the crown comes a lot of responsibilities. I represent not only my school but my community as I venture out throughout our community in Washington, Oregon and Canada. So, this Lakefair experience has opened not only my eyes but also my heart to all of the events and festivals that go on throughout the northwest I have been able to be a part of such things like the downtown Arts walk here in Olympia and various other events that go on throughout our northwest. This experience has taught me that the Lakefair experience is not just about myself but it's about what I can do to make the experiences of other people a lot better and more positive. So, I thank the Capital Lakefair program and because of the Capital Lakefair program I am honored to be here today. I have the privilege to welcome all of you to a new legislative session and it's not an experience every seventeen year-old can talk about. So, once again I would just like to say thank you for having me here. It is definitely quite an honor and I wish you all a very successful legislative session. Thank you.”

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Mr. Bob Barnes, Executive Director and Mrs. Serry Barnes, Capital Lakefair President, Ms. Peggy Brink, 2014 Royalty Chair; Mr. Thomas Nguyen, and Mrs. Angela Nguyen parents of Miss Nguyen who were all present in the gallery.

REMARKS BY SENATOR PARLETTE

Senator Parlette: "Well, it's with great honor I nominate Senator Sharon Brown for this office but it is with great sadness that at this time we do need to find a replacement and I know we will have our time later to honor Senator Shin. But President I am thrilled to nominate Sharon Brown for this position of the Office of Vice President Pro Tempore. Since the last time we were together in this chamber the number of women has increased by one and the number of women in our caucus has reached a record high. In that light it is an honor to nominate Senator Sharon Brown to the ranks of Senate leaders. As the mother of five she probably has a lot of experience in bringing order to a group but on top of that she is an accomplished attorney and has experience serving as the Mayor Pro Tempore for her home town of Kennebec. I am confident that she will quickly master the parliamentary procedures that are needed for this position."

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That Rule 56 is amended as follows:

President Owen: "Senator Benton has moved to separate the question between rule 56 and rule 41. Is that correct Senator? For clarification of members for those who follow the rules and I know all of you know them frontward and backwards so if this was a bill his motion would be out of order but this is a resolution. The President believes that it is appropriate; it is alright to divide the question. So, where we will divide obviously in Rule 41 after 15.15 Ways & Means.., 23 will be the first question that you'll be voting on, Rule 41 which is the make. Senator, did you wish to make comments?"

"Rule 56. All bills, joint resolutions, and joint memorials introduced shall be endorsed with a statement of the title and the name of the member introducing the same. Any member desiring to introduce a bill, joint resolution, or joint memorial shall file the same with the secretary of the senate by noon of the day before the convening of the session at which said bill, joint resolution, or joint memorial is to be introduced.

Senator Benton spoke in favor of the motion.

Provided that a vote has not been taken on final passage of a bill, joint resolution, or joint memorial, a member may add his or her name as a cosponsor until 2:00 p.m. of the day of its introduction. For any bill, joint resolution, or joint memorial that has been prefiled for a regular session, a member has until 2:00 p.m. of the day following introduction to add his or her name as a cosponsor.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of pertaining to Rule 41 to Senate Resolution No. 8667.

To be considered during a regular session, a bill must be introduced at least ten days before final adjournment of the legislature, unless the legislature directs otherwise by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, said vote to be taken by yeas and nays and entered upon the journal. The time limitation for introduction of bills shall not apply to substitute bills reported by standing committees for bills pending before such committees and general appropriation and revenue bills. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 36, State Constitution.)"

Senator Fain spoke in favor of the adoption of pertaining to Rule 41 to Senate Resolution No. 8667.

Senator Nelson spoke on adoption of pertaining to Rule 41 to Senate Resolution No. 8667.

Senator Hasegawa: "Thank you Mr. President. Do both sections have to pass in order for the underlying resolution to pass?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

President Owen: "The President believes no they do not. I would note that this is an unusual move so we're walking carefully on this."

Senator Benton: "8667 is a rule change?"

The motion by Senator Fain carried and Senate Resolution No. 8667 pertaining to Rule 41 was adopted by voice vote.

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "It is a rule change, yes."

Senator Fain moved that the appointments in the Standing Committees be confirmed.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Chase: “It looks to me that Human Services & Corrections are losing two, is that true? Is that how? I’m somewhat confused by these numbers. It appears that some of them are getting more and some of them are getting less. Is that correct?”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “That is what was stated in the previous motion on the make-up of the committees and the resolution. That is correct. There has been changes to the numbers. The President is not perfectly aware of what exactly the numbers are but you can see as they are stated on here. I mean compared to the previous committee assignments. If you look on the resolution I think that you will see that the old numbers are stricken out and the new numbers are underlined.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Fain that the appointments be confirmed.

Senator Benton demanded a roll call.

The President declared that one-sixth of the members did not support the demand and the demand was not sustained.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the appointments were confirmed by voice vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate reverted to the fifth order of business.

Eternal Well, Spring of Life, thank you. Thank you for this gift of Washington state. We are so blessed to live in this glorious place. Thank you for the rain, the trees, the rivers, for the Sound, for the orca, for the majestic American Bald Eagle who flies overhead, a sign of life renewed, a symbol of possibility and freedom. Eternal Source of Life, Loving Mother Father, Thank you. Thank you for all the courageous and kind souls who work diligently to keep safe the people of this state. Thank you for our leaders, our Governor, our law makers, everyone who has worked tirelessly over the past year to govern our state, increasingly towards vitality, peace, justice, health and prosperity. And thank you for the ordinary citizens of this state, the heroes all around us, who teach and pave, who bag and shelve, who litigate and heal, who care for children and the elderly. Thank you for all those very special people who we call my fellow Washingtonians. Eternal Source of Goodness, bless us in the year ahead. Bless us each and every one with your wisdom. Bless us with your strength and courage. Bless us with the ability to act. Bless us with the ability to always keep moving forward, for the ability to be flexible and creative as we move together toward our collective future as one. Bless us with over loving overflowing loving kindness so we can truly treat our fellow citizens in a manner that we ourselves want to be treated. Bless us with the ability to treat each other well and bless us with the opportunity to show what we can really do when we are all in even after we win the Superbowl. And now it is my privilege to bless you all the people of Washington state, individually and together, with a blessing that's been passed down to me from the time of Moses, Aaron, and Minerva. I bestow you with the priestly blessing. You are welcome to bow your head as a sign of acceptance of this ancient blessing: May God bless you and keep you, may God always shine upon you and be gracious to you, may God's face shine upon you and bless you with the most precious gift, may God bless you and may God bless us with the most precious gift the gift of peace of body, peace of mind, and peace of spirit. Amen"

STATE OF THE STATE

Good afternoon. "Thank you, Rabbi Kinberg, for the inspirational words you offered to help guide our work. And thank you, Rey Reynolds, for the outstanding and uplifting rendition of our national anthem as well as for your public service as a law enforcement officer. Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Madam Chief Justice, distinguished justices of the court, honored officials, members of the Washington State Legislature, tribal leaders, local government officials, members of the Consular Corps and my fellow Washingtonians.

This is my first opportunity to deliver a State of the State address, and I want to start off with good news. I'm pleased to report that under the Inslee administration, the Seattle Seahawks are having an amazing year, and on Sunday will play in the NFC championship game. It's possible that's just a coincidence.

As you know, I've been very fortunate to share this journey as Washington's governor with my wife, Trudi. Together, Trudi and I raised our three sons in the beautiful Yakima Valley and are now blessed with three wonderful grandchildren — who I may note are all more popular on my Facebook page than I am. My family helps shape how I see the world and how I see my responsibilities to Washington. When I think about my grandchildren, I know what we do here will affect them many years down the road. Will they be inspired in school? Will they find rewarding jobs? Will they make their home in Washington as the seventh generation of Inslee's to find a long, fulfilling life in the greatest state in the nation? In recent days I've been thinking particularly about my dad and brother who became teachers and never let me forget how important our public schools are. So — with a nod to Frank Senior and Frank Junior — I'd like to start today by talking about the state of education in Washington.

When I presented my supplemental budget a few weeks ago, I said this was a “hold steady” year as we get ready for bigger fiscal challenges in 2015. It was notable that this would be the first time in six years that the Legislature wasn't convening to face a major budget shortfall. That seemed to give us some breathing room. But I've had to rethink that approach. Or, to be candid, the Supreme Court has forced us all to look anew at funding our education system this year. The court issued an order last week on the state's efforts to comply with the constitutional requirement that we fully fund basic education. Last year, we made a down payment of nearly $1 billion toward meeting that obligation. The court said last week that — unlike previous years — in 2013 we took meaningful steps toward meeting our commitment to basic education and the reforms this Legislature passed in recent years. We all know that wasn't easy, but getting it done speaks to our ability to work together for a higher purpose. But the court also said we aren't moving fast enough. The court said it was troubled by a lack of progress in funding basic costs for schools as well as pay for educators and administrators, whom the justices rightly call the “heart of Washington's education system.” The court wrote that it wants to see “immediate, concrete action ... not simply promises.” I agree. Promises don't educate our children. Promises don't build our economy and promises don't satisfy our constitutional and moral obligations. We need to put several billion dollars more into funding our kindergarten-through-12th grade education system.

In the coming days I will propose a plan to make an investment of about $200 million in our schools this session. Most of that will go directly to your local school districts. It will also fund a long-overdue cost-of-living adjustment for our educators this session. Let's not forget that Washington voters spoke loudly in 2000, saying that educators should get this COLA every year. Yet repeatedly that mandate has been shunted aside. We're going to live up to that promise this year. Last year I proposed a $1.2 billion down payment on our obligation to schools, funded mostly by closing tax breaks that aren't as high a priority as our education needs. We weren't able to do as much of that as I thought we should. The court now says what we did wasn't enough and the need for immediate action could not be more apparent. Again we must weigh tax breaks against the increasing call for action.

I never envisioned my state, a state that educated so many of us here today, as a place that would need a Supreme Court order to tell it to adequately fund our children's education. We need to stop downplaying the significance of this court action. Education is the one paramount duty inscribed in our constitution. The court wrote last week that it doesn't want to be forced to give specific funding directives or hold the Legislature in contempt. The court was clear when it said that “this case remains fully subject to judicial enforcement.” We must not let that happen, and by working together we can live up to our responsibility and create a better Washington for generations to come. And we're going to have to do that in a way that doesn't rely on gimmicks, one-time fixes, cuts to services that protect our state's most vulnerable children and families or cuts to higher education. For too long the easy answer in Olympia was to cut those services. I was proud we stopped that last year, and we should not let it happen now. Here's why. Our job is to educate every child in the state of Washington, and it is very difficult to educate a homeless, hungry or sick child.

You can expect that again I will bring forward tax exemptions that I think fall short when weighed against the needs of our schools. And in some areas we need to do more than the court has mandated, such as early childhood education. Our children are our paramount duty at every age, not just from kindergarten to 12th grade. It would be a mistake to fall behind on early learning as we take care of funding K-12. Equal opportunity means every child in Washington starts kindergarten ready to learn, and that's why I'm asking for $4 million for these programs. And it would be a mistake to fall behind on funding our higher education system. Students who work hard and succeed in school should know there is a slot in our higher education system for them and financial aid will be available to them if they need it. And I'm talking about every bright, promising student who excels in Washington's high schools, including our young, aspiring citizens.

I met a young man from Lincoln High School in Tacoma who said to me, “Governor, people are always telling us how important it is for us to finish high school. But if I can't afford college and I can't qualify for financial aid because of my residency status, what's the point?” Yesterday, for the second time in as many years, the House came together in a truly bipartisan fashion to overwhelmingly pass the DREAM Act. I now call on the Senate to pass this bill. You send this bill to my desk and we'll send thousands of our students to college.

We've seen real and meaningful results when this Legislature decides to help more students succeed. My budget invests more than $11 million in the College Bound Scholarship program, a proven strategy to increase graduation rates in our state. But it's not enough to just graduate students. They have to graduate with a meaningful diploma that fully prepares them for life in the 21st century.

This Legislature already recognizes that Washington needs more STEM graduates — science, technology, engineering and math. Last year, you passed my bill creating a STEM Education Innovation Alliance, and I've appointed innovative leaders from education, business, labor and the nonprofit sector to serve on it. Now it's time to fund the alliance so we can align our education system with our goal for a Working Washington for everyone. I want to thank two outstanding ambassadors for STEM education in our state who have joined us today. One is Jeff Charbonneau, our 2013 National Teacher of the Year. He brought college-credit STEM courses to Zillah High School and has inspired students to challenge themselves and succeed in those courses. The other is Ifrah Abshir, a student at Rainier Beach High School who told me how a successful mentoring program helped her fall in love with computer science. Thank you, Jeff and Ifrah, for helping to spread the word about the great things that STEM education can do for Washington's students.

If education is the heart of our economy, then transportation is the backbone. That's why we need a transportation investment package. If we do not act, our state will face a 52 percent decrease in the maintenance budget for bridges and roads in the next two years. If we do not act, 71 additional bridges will become structurally deficient. Perhaps no one knows the importance of safety better than Mount Vernon Mayor Jill Boudreau and her colleagues in Skagit County who lost their lifeline to the rest of the state when the Skagit River bridge collapsed last May. We learned many things when that bridge fell. We learned about community resilience in the face of adversity. We learned about creativity in the midst of crisis. I couldn't be more pleased with the creative problem solving by our Secretary of Transportation, Lynn Peterson, and her team at the Department of Transportation. This was the first project my administration had tackled from start to finish and, to the astonishment of many experts, we got the temporary bridge up in 27 days and the permanent bridge in place 66 days later. This is the new direction of our Washington State Department of Transportation. The team that got that bridge up is changing the way the department works. They're fixing problems, putting important reforms in place and being accountable for the essential work they do. There are legacy problems the team at DOT still wrestles with, and I understand some of you are frustrated with that. You know what? So am I. But we can't let issues on megaprojects stop us from moving forward. The 520 Bridge has to be finished. We don't gain taxpayers' trust by building a bridge that stops before it gets to Interstate 5.

That doesn't make any sense. Transportation is much too important to let that happen. And it's not just important along the I-5 corridor. Our wheat farmers depend on the Palouse River and Coulee City Railroad to help feed the world, and yet several of its trestles are more than a century old and in disrepair. Train speed is severely limited in many areas. Traffic congestion is a problem on both sides of the Cascades. Just ask Susan Meyer, chief executive officer of the Spokane Transit Authority. Susan is working to develop a new central city transit line that will help alleviate traffic congestion in her city. Fundamentally, this is about safety, jobs, traffic relief and accountability.

You know, I've been pushing the Legislature to do something about this since my first day in office. The House passed a bill last year, and in the interim, the Senate hit the road to hear from the people about how they view our state's transportation system.

I then convened 12 negotiating sessions where you all made substantial progress on revenue and reform. But last month it became clear that process had run its course, and we agreed the next step was to continue the dialogue here when you convened for the 2014 legislative session.

The next logical step is for the Senate to produce a package of transportation improvements that has 25 votes. If this happens, I'm confident we can find agreement before this session ends. The goal cannot be for everyone to get everything they want. Instead, we must get agreement on what our state needs.

When I spoke to you one year ago, I said that that our top priority today, tomorrow and every day would be jobs. We've made progress on the Working Washington Agenda. We have secured thousands of aerospace jobs with the commitment from The Boeing Company to build its next generation jetliner here, in Washington state, by the best workers in the world. This new airplane holds tremendous promise for us. Building it here means Boeing will continue to invest hundreds of millions of dollars to expand and improve its facilities and employ tens of thousands of people in our state for decades to come. Building the 777X's carbon fiber wing here really is a big deal. We have lost too much aerospace work to other states and other countries. Today the wing for the 787 comes from Japan. Now we have reversed that trend of outsourcing. The legislation you passed in November also has unprecedented protections for workers who, for the first time, can be sure Boeing will not open a second line in South Carolina or someplace else. If the 777X work moves out of state, the tax incentives go away. The economic activity driven by these tax incentives will also return more than double that amount to the state — money that should be invested to help all Washingtonians. We wished that Boeing would have chosen Washington based just on our state's clear advantages and stellar record in aerospace manufacturing. But there were a couple dozen other states that were more than happy to take those jobs. Those states lined up to give away land, training and anything else they could to attract these new jobs. We were able to secure those jobs for Washington. But they came at a cost. The Machinists took a difficult vote, a vote that demands our respect because their work will benefit everyone in Washington state.

We should not forget that in both the public and private sector, Washington's outstanding workforce is our state's greatest asset. That includes our hard-working state workforce, whose members I want to thank personally. During this first year in office, I've made unannounced visits to many state agencies and seen the work state employees do every single day for the people of Washington. What I've seen is that we are incredibly fortunate to have a dedicated and talented workforce made up of people who take pride in their jobs. I'm proud of the way many have embraced the Lean philosophy of efficiency and effectiveness in state government, moving us toward the Results Washington goals I've set. They are big goals, but I know our workforce is up to the challenge.

The state of our state is looking better every day. Our aerospace industry is secured for decades. Our life sciences and global health industries are leading advances that improve the health and quality of life of people around the world. Our clean energy sector is growing across the state. And Washington is well-positioned for the future as the only state with a trade surplus with China. Our state pioneered commercial air travel and advanced cancer treatments, computers on every desktop and the purchase of anything online with a single click. Our farmers lead the way in pioneering sustainable agriculture practices while feeding the world. Those innovations have made our state, and our nation, more efficient, more productive and more prosperous than ever. But still, too many Washingtonians struggle. There are thousands of working moms and dads with full-time jobs — sometimes two or three jobs — who some days cannot afford to put adequate food on the table. That's why today I'm calling for a statewide increase in the minimum wage. In every community there are people who don't share in our state's prosperity. And we need to do something about that. I've lived on the both sides of the Cascades. I know that we can't measure the success of our economy by how things are going in the shadow of the Space Needle. Our rural areas, for example, still lag in this recovery. Look: Education is fundamental to reducing inequality. But we know that education alone won't lift everyone out of poverty. There are tens of thousands of jobs that people depend on that don't provide a living wage in our state. Every job offers dignity, but not every job offers a living wage. I don't have the exact number today for what our minimum wage should be. I want to work with my colleagues in the House and Senate from both parties and hear from people who depend on those jobs. It won't be a number that remedies 50 years of income inequality. But I believe that an increase in the range of $1.50 to $2.50 an hour is a step toward closing the widening economic gap. There is ample evidence that a raise in that range does not kill jobs. An increase in minimum wage means more money being spent in our economy. As I look out at this chamber today, I recognize the political realities of the split control of Olympia. But we must spend time and energy — and yes, political capital — helping make sure everyone in Washington is paid a fair wage. Second, in building a Working Washington that works for everyone, we need to help our small businesses. I will introduce legislation that says if your small business earns less than $50,000 in annual revenues, you will pay no business and occupation tax. Zero. This reform will help tens of thousands of businesses across Washington, and I'm asking you to join me in taking this step to unleash the creativity of small businesses in every corner of this state. Besides, you never know which of these businesses in a kitchen or a garage will grow up to be the next Microsoft or Amazon. You know, last month Bloomberg News named Washington the most innovative state in the entire nation. But I believe advances in economic justice are equally as important as advances in science and technology.

It will come as no surprise to anyone that I also believe we must advance when it comes to addressing climate change. Over the course of last year, I had the privilege to work directly with your appointed representatives on the Climate Legislative and Executive Workgroup. We were charged by you to recommend specific actions to ensure our state meets its statutory commitments to reduce carbon pollution. The key word here is actions. The independent review conducted for the climate workgroup concluded that while we have made progress, our statutory limits on carbon pollution will not be met without additional actions. By the end of next week, we will finalize the report of the climate workgroup and submit our best thoughts on next steps. I am committed to a set of actions to secure the additional carbon pollution reductions by the required dates. Rest assured, we will move forward. Going backward is not an option. Inaction is not an option. Whether you care about our environment or our economy, or hopefully both, tackling climate change makes sense. If we stop fighting over whether to act and instead work together on how to act, we can innovate our way to a better future. That's what we need to do now. I look forward to working with you on the policies that are best for Washington's unique environment and economy in the months ahead.

I want to take a moment to mention a great bipartisan success in the state of Washington, and that is the implementation of health care reform. It's one of the best things we've ever done to address economic inequality in our state. Isn't it great that our health exchange marketplace, Washington Healthplanfinder, was touted by The Washington Post as an example of how to do health care reform the right way? As of today, more than 250,000 Washingtonians have found new and affordable health coverage through the Washington Healthplanfinder. That's remarkable. And we should be proud of it. And we expect that number to keep growing as many more who lack health insurance today sign up for affordable care. Now we need to look forward. I am advancing three health initiatives this year. First is ensuring that every single child has the opportunity to grow up healthy. Research shows that, for the first time in our history, this generation is not expected to live as long as the previous generation. This should be unacceptable to us. We need to make the next generation the healthiest generation in the history of our state. Let's improve opportunities for children to be more active and have healthier food options. And let's take a page from President Kennedy's Council on Physical Fitness and establish a Governor's Council for the Healthiest Next Generation. Second, I ask this Legislature to work with me on better health care purchasing for our state. The costs we pay are rapidly becoming unaffordable for families, small businesses and taxpayers. We should be paying for outcomes, not just office visits. To do that, we need better and more accessible information. You wouldn't buy a car without knowing its price and quality, but that's how we purchase health care today. A recent study showed a difference of more than 500 percent in amounts paid for common medical procedures throughout the state. That's outrageous. We need to make that information accessible on the web so every consumer can compare costs and quality before deciding where to spend health care dollars. And third, I ask this Legislature to work with me on integrating care for people who are most in need so our mental health services, chemical dependency care and primary medical care all work better for patients and better for society. Better health care for the whole person leads to less homelessness, more people working and taxpayer savings.

I'd like to end with a story that I've thought a lot about through my first year in office. There's a sign in my office inspired by group of students whose elementary school burned down in Vancouver last year. That's a hard thing for those kids and those teachers. But the Crestline Elementary community rallied together to help each other get through this challenge. One student, fourth-grader Payton Rush, told me he and his mother made a sign that became that community's rallying cry. It says: We can do hard things. There's no reason that we shouldn't have the same attitude about the work ahead of us. It's why I'm optimistic about the future. It took us three sessions last year to agree on putting nearly $1 billion into K-12 education. But we did it. Getting health care coverage for more Washingtonians wasn't easy. But we did it. Rebuilding our economy after the greatest economic downturn since the Great Depression isn't easy. But we are doing it. So yes, we have done some hard things. And we can do more. We can make progress on addressing income inequality. We can cut the costs and improve the quality of health care. We can do a better job funding our schools and meeting our moral and constitutional obligations to our children. We can take meaningful action to address the threat of climate change. And we can get a transportation package done. President Lyndon B. Johnson once said, "There are no problems we cannot solve together, and very few that we can solve by ourselves." I know Washingtonians, and I know what we are capable of doing when we work together. That's why I won't give up. And neither should any of you. We have 59 days to do hard things this session. Let's get to work. Thank you!

MESSAGE FROM SECRETARY OF STATE

CERTIFICATION OF INITIATIVE TO THE LEGISLATURE
NO. 594

Pursuant to Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution, RCW 29A.72.230, and WAC 434-379-010, the Office of the Secretary of State has caused the signatures submitted in support of Initiative to the Legislature No. 594 to be examined in the following manner:

1. It was determined that 346,834 signatures were submitted by the sponsors of the initiative. A random sample of 10,588 signatures were taken from those submitted.
2. Each sampled signature was examined to determine if the signer was a registered voter of the state, if the signature was reasonably similar to the one appearing on the record of that voter, and if the same signature appeared more than once in the sample. We found 9,486 valid signatures, 1,100 signatures that were invalid and 2 pairs of duplicated signatures in the sample;
3. We calculated an allowance for the chance error of sampling (50) by multiplying the square root of the number of invalid signatures by 1.5;
4. We estimated the upper limit of the number of signatures on the initiative petition which were invalid (37,663) by dividing the sum of the number of invalid signatures in the sample and allowance for the chance of error of sampling by the sampling ratio;
5. We determined the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the petition (62, 799) by subtracting the sum of the number of signatures required by Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution (246,372) and the estimate of the upper limit of the number of invalid signatures on the petition from the number of signatures submitted;
6. We determined the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample (59) by multiplying the square of the sampling ratio by the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the initiative petition;
7. We determined the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample (46) by subtracting 1.65 times the square root of the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample from the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample; and
8. The number of pairs of signatures in the sample is less than the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample.

Therefore, I hereby declare initiative to the Legislature No. 594 to contain sufficient signatures.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Seal of the State of Washington this 22nd day of January, 2014.

KIM WYMAN,

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to allow Miss Erin Peek to address the Senate:

MISS ERIN PEEK

Miss Erin Peek: "Good morning everyone. My name is Erin Peek, I'm eighteen years old and I grew up on a small family hobby farm in Arlington, Washington. It wasn't until I was thirteen years old when my older sister started milking cows at one of the local dairies that I became involved with the dairy industry. I started showing Holstein heifers through the FFA and became a junior Holstein member. As the Dairy Farmers of Washington have welcomed me with open arms into their way of life, my knowledge and passion for this industry have only grown helping me become the proud Dairy Ambassador that I am today. Of the four hundred eight dairy farms in Washington State only two are not owned by the family that live and work on them. Meaning that over 99.9 percent of all dairy farms in Washington State are family owned, passed down from generation to generation. However, it isn't just the family business that is being passed down but progressive ideas and new innovations which have helped shape our farms into the 5.2 billion dollar industry that they are today. Examples of these innovations can be seen in every aspect of today's industry. Cows are no longer milked by hand but by machines and most recently robotic milking systems which have helped increased milk production and contributed to Washington ranked fourth in the US for total milk production per cow. Advances in manure management have led to animal waste being recycled for compost, animal bedding, high quality fertilizer for crops and even energy. In 2011, six anaerobic digesters processed manure for more than eleven thousand cows creating enough energy to power two thousand seven hundred homes. These innovations aren't just benefiting the dairy industry but the entire community as well. Community involvement is something that is cherished by the dairy farmers of Washington. In recent years dairy farmers have donated thousands of gallons of dairy products and milk, participated in food and cash drives and programs to help food banks get refrigeration equipment. They helped sponsor programs such as 'Fuel Up to Play 60' and WIAA events to encourage young people to be active and eat a healthy diet with at least three servings of dairy every single day. For these dairy families helping the community is the right thing to do and virtue is its own reward. We invite you to come and visit our family farms. You'll be welcomed with open arms the same way I was and you'll see how dairy is so much more than just an industry but a way of life for so many families. Thank you for allowing me the opportunity to speak with you this morning. I hope our paths cross again at a future dairy or agricultural event and I invite you to come and enjoy some delicious ice cream in the rotunda at noon. Thank you."

MOTION

Senator Holmquist Newbry moved that the following amendment by Senators Holmquist Newbry and Braun be adopted:

Beginning on page 1, line 5, strike all of section 1 and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 51.04.063 and 2013 c 23 s 104 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding RCW 51.04.060 or any other provision of this title, ((beginning on January 1, 2012,)) an injured worker ((who is at least fifty-five years of age on or after January 1, 2012, fifty-three years of age on or after January 1, 2015, or fifty years of age on or after January 1, 2016,)) may choose from the following:

(a) To continue to receive all benefits for which they are eligible under this title, (b) to participate in vocational training if eligible, or (c) to initiate and agree to a resolution of their claim with a structured settlement.

(2)(a) As provided in this section, the parties to an allowed claim may initiate and agree to resolve a claim with a structured settlement for all benefits other than medical. Parties as defined in (b) of this subsection may only initiate claim resolution structured settlements if at least one hundred eighty days have passed since the claim was received by the department or self-insurer and the order allowing the claim is final and binding. All requirements of this title regarding entitlement to and payment of benefits will apply during this period. All claim resolution structured settlement agreements must be approved by the board of industrial insurance appeals.

(b) For purposes of this section, "parties" means:

(i) For a state fund claim, the worker, the employer, and the department. The employer will not be a party if the costs of the claim or claims are no longer included in the calculation of the employer's experience factor used to determine premiums, if they cannot be located, are no longer in business, or they fail to respond or decline to participate after timely notice of the claim resolution settlement process provided by the board and the department.

(ii) For a self-insured claim, the worker and the employer.

(c) The claim resolution structured settlement agreements shall:

(i) Bind the parties with regard to all aspects of a claim except medical benefits unless revoked by one of the parties as provided in subsection (6) of this section;

(ii) Provide a periodic payment schedule to the worker equal to at least twenty-five percent but not more than one hundred fifty percent of the average monthly wage in the state pursuant to RCW 51.08.018, except for the initial payment which may be up to six times the average monthly wage in the state pursuant to RCW 51.08.018;

(iii) Not set aside or reverse an allowance order;

(iv) Not subject any employer who is not a signatory to the agreement to any responsibility or burden under any claim; and

(v) Not subject any funds covered under this title to any responsibility or burden without prior approval from the director or designee.

(d) For state fund claims, the department shall negotiate the claim resolution structured settlement agreement with the worker or their representative and with the employer or employers and their representative or representatives.

(e) For self-insured claims, the self-insured employer shall negotiate the agreement with the worker or his or her representative. Workers of self-insured employers who are unrepresented may request that the office of the ombuds for self-insured injured workers provide assistance or be present during negotiations.

(f) Terms of the agreement may include the parties' agreement that the claim shall remain open for future necessary medical or surgical treatment related to the injury where there is a reasonable expectation such treatment is necessary. The parties may also agree that specific future treatment shall be provided without the application required in RCW 51.32.160.

(g) Any claim resolution structured settlement agreement entered into under this section must be in writing and signed by the parties or their representatives and must clearly state that the parties understand and agree to the terms of the agreement.

(h) If a worker is not represented by an attorney at the time of signing a claim resolution structured settlement agreement, the parties must forward a copy of the signed agreement to the board with a request for a conference with an industrial appeals judge. The industrial appeals judge must schedule a conference with all parties within fourteen days for the purpose of (i) reviewing the terms of the proposed settlement agreement by the parties; and (ii) ensuring the worker has an understanding of the benefits generally available under this title and that a claim resolution structured settlement agreement may alter the benefits payable on the claim or claims. The judge may schedule the initial conference for a later date with the consent of the parties.

(i) Before approving the agreement, the industrial appeals judge shall ensure the worker has an adequate understanding of the agreement and its consequences to the worker.

(j) The industrial appeals judge may approve a claim resolution structured settlement agreement only if the judge finds that the agreement is in the best interest of the worker. When determining whether the agreement is in the best interest of the worker, the industrial appeals judge shall consider the following factors, taken as a whole, with no individual factor being determinative:

(i) The nature and extent of the injuries and disabilities of the worker;

(ii) The age and life expectancy of the injured worker;

(iii) Other benefits the injured worker is receiving or is entitled to receive and the effect a claim resolution structured settlement agreement might have on those benefits; and

(iv) The marital or domestic partnership status of the injured worker.

(k) Within seven days after the conference, the industrial appeals judge shall issue an order allowing or rejecting the claim resolution structured settlement agreement. There is no appeal from the industrial appeals judge's decision.

(1) If the industrial appeals judge issues an order allowing the claim resolution structured settlement agreement, the order must be submitted to the board.

(3) Upon receiving the agreement, the board shall approve it within thirty working days of receipt unless it finds that:

(a) The parties have not entered into the agreement knowingly and willingly;

(b) The agreement does not meet the requirements of a claim resolution structured settlement agreement;

(c) The agreement is the result of a material misrepresentation of law or fact;

(d) The agreement is the result of harassment or coercion; or

(e) The agreement is unreasonable as a matter of law.

(4) If a worker is represented by an attorney at the time of signing a claim resolution structured settlement agreement, the parties shall submit the agreement directly to the board without the conference described in this section. The requirements of a claim resolution structured settlement agreement for the purposes of subsection (3) of this section do not include the determination under subsection (2)(j) of this section if a worker is represented by an attorney at the time of signing a claim resolution structured settlement agreement.

(5) If the board approves the agreement, it shall provide notice to all parties. The department shall place the agreement in the applicable claim file or files.

(6) A party may revoke consent to the claim resolution structured settlement agreement by providing written notice to the other parties and the board within thirty days after the date the agreement is approved by the board.

(7) To the extent the worker is entitled to any benefits while a claim resolution structured settlement agreement is being negotiated or during the revocation period of an agreement, the benefits must be paid pursuant to the requirements of this title until the agreement becomes final.

(8) A claim resolution structured settlement agreement that meets the conditions in this section and that has become final and binding as provided in this section is binding on all parties to the agreement as to its terms and the injuries and occupational diseases to which the agreement applies. A claim resolution structured settlement agreement that has become final and binding is not subject to appeal.

(9) All payments made to a worker pursuant to a final claim resolution structured settlement agreement must be reported to the department as claims costs pursuant to this title. If a self-insured employer contracts with a third-party administrator for claim services and the payment of benefits under this title, the third-party administrator shall also disburse the structured settlement payments pursuant to the agreement.

(10) Claims closed pursuant to a claim resolution structured settlement agreement can be reopened pursuant to RCW 51.32.160 for medical treatment only. Further temporary total, temporary partial, permanent partial, or permanent total benefits are not payable under the same claim or claims for which a claim resolution structured settlement agreement has been approved by the board and has become final.

(11) Parties aggrieved by the failure of any other party to comply with the terms of a claim resolution structured settlement agreement have one year from the date of failure to comply to petition to the board. If the board determines that a party has failed to comply with an agreement, it will order compliance and will impose a penalty payable to the aggrieved party of up to twenty-five percent of the monetary amount unpaid at the time the petition for noncompliance was filed. The board will also decide on any disputes as to attorneys' fees for services related to claim resolution structured settlement agreements.

(12) Parties and their representatives may not use settlement offers or the claim resolution structured settlement agreement process to harass or coerce any party. If the department determines that an employer has engaged in a pattern of harassment or coercion, the employer may be subject to penalty or corrective action, and may be removed from the retrospective rating program or be decertified from self-insurance under RCW 51.14.030.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This act may be known and cited as the workers' recovery act."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Senator Holmquist Newbry spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Conway: "Would the good lady from the thirteenth district yield to a question? I just had a, you know we have dropped a, Chair Holmquist Newbry, we have dropped a striking amendment on a bill that has changed substively the fiscal implications of the bill that has been here, that was here on the floor last year now this one is dropped. This substitute of course was dropped at 10:20 and we're here now considering a completely different bill than the bill we considered last year. I think this bill was considered in committee two years ago and my concern here is that we're moving a bill forward with no understanding of its fiscal implications of its impact on the Board of Industrials Appeals..."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore: "Senator Conway, Senator Conway, can I interrupt. I think you need to form this in a form of question."

Senator Conway: "The question is, do we have a fiscal note on this bill?"

Senator Holmquist Newbry: "Thank you Senator Conway. This bill in its current form, this isn't a striking amendment by the way, this doesn't, the changes this does and let me be clear on this is that it does change because of our good Senator from the thirty sixth district had a gender neutrality bill that was passed into law and signed by the Governor and so this amendment before us changes the word ombudsman to ombuds. It does a title change and then it goes back to our original bill which was no age limitations. So this was the bill that we had a hearing on last year so within this biennium and if I recall, I'd have to double check there was a fiscal note on the original bill as well as the bill that moved off the senate floor with the amendment limiting it to age of forty so, I think we have a fiscal from last year which is in the current biennium to look at. This was the original bill."

Senator Conway spoke on adoption of the amendment.

Senator Holmquist Newbry spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Senator Kohl-Welles: "I object. I believe the speaker's impugning my motives and what I said, mischaracterizing them. I never said, 'thousands and thousands of individuals'."

SENATE RESOLUTION

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

By Senator Hargrove

President Pro Tempore: "Senator Ericksen, please continue but keep in mind Senator Kohl-Welles had admonition."

WHEREAS, The Washington State Senate is VERY confident the Seattle Seahawks will defeat the Denver Broncos on Sunday; and

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Ericksen on page 1, line 7 to Senate Bill No. 6523.

WHEREAS, With all due respect to the fine people of the State of Colorado, the 12th Man numbered 30,000 strong just to see their team off to the Super Bowl, while Colorado managed 300 or so to see their Broncos off; and

The motion by Senator Ericksen failed and the amendment was not adopted by voice vote.

WHEREAS, The Seattle Seahawks gave their fans much to be proud of, indeed, inspiring them to not just set the world record for stadium noise once, but TWICE in one season; and

WHEREAS, The 12th Man has been known to trigger seismic events (that would be earthquakes for you middle of the country folk), for real; and

WHEREAS, Colorado makes some fine craft beverages, but really? Do you want to start that fight with the state that invented the genre? Between fine coffee, brewers, and wineries, Seattle is the beverage capital of the United States, if not the world; and

WHEREAS, We wholeheartedly agree and hope that your admittedly incredible quarterback does resemble Mount Elbert: A little rocky and immobile; and

WHEREAS, Your 14ers are really nice, but c'mon, have you seen Mount Rainier? Cloaked in glaciers and rising nearly 2.5 miles above its surroundings, it is more singular, more monumental, and more intimidating than any of Colorado's 14ers, much like the Seahawks over the Broncos; and

WHEREAS, The Great State of Colorado has named 53 individual 14ers after 53 individual players, because the Broncos are a band of individuals, however the State of Washington resolves to name one magnificent mountain after the Seahawks because they are and act as a TEAM;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate does hereby rename Mount Rainier as "Mount Seattle Seahawks" from this point until 12:00 a.m. Monday, February 3, 2014; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Washington State Legislature respectfully request of the United States Department of the Interior that Mount Rainier's namesake National Park (yeah, our Mountain is that cool, it warrants its own National Park) be retitled "12th Man National Park" for the same time period; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That Sunday, February 2nd be proclaimed SEAHAWK SUNDAY in the great State of Washington.

Senators Hargrove, Angel, Kohl-Welles and Parlette spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Conway: "Mr. President, could you lead us in a 12th man chant for the Seahawks for their victory on Sunday?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore: "I would be pleased to lead us in a chant for recognizing the fantastic Seattle Seahawks. So, all at once, GO HAWKS!"

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8676.

The motion by Senator Hargrove carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

At 12:52 p.m., on motion of Senator Fain, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Monday, February 3, 2014.

MESSAGE FROM SECRETARY OF STATE

CERTIFICATION OF INITIATIVE TO THE LEGISLATURE NO 591

Pursuant to Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution, RCW 29A.72.230, and WAC 434.379.010, the Office of the Secretary of State has caused the signatures submitted in support of initiative to the Legislature No. 591 to be examined in the flowing manner:

1. It was determined that 349,860 signatures were submitted by the sponsors of the initiative. A random sample of 10,669 signatures was taken from those submitted;
2. Each sampled signature was examined to determine if the signer was a registered voter of the state, if the signature was reasonably similar to the one appearing on the record of that voter, and if the same signature appeared more than once in the sample. We found 9,286 valid signatures, 1,365 signatures that were invalid and 18 pairs of duplicated signatures in the sample;

3. We calculated an allowance for the chance error of sampling (55) by multiplying the square root of the number of invalid signatures by 1.5;
4. We estimated the upper limit of the number of signatures on the initiative petition which were invalid (46,579) by dividing the sum of the number of invalid signatures in the sample and allowance for the chance of error of sampling by the sampling ratio;
5. We determined the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the petition (56,909) by subtracting the sum of the number of signatures required by Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution (246,372) and the estimate of the upper limit of the number if invalid signatures on the petition from the number of signatures submitted;
6. We determined the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample (53) by multiplying the square of the sampling ratio by the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the initiative petition;
7. We determined the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample (41) by subtracting 1.65 times the square root of the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample from the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample; and
8. The number of pairs of signatures in the sample is less than the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample.

Therefore, I hereby declare initiative to the Legislature No. 591 to contain sufficient signatures.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Seal of the State of Washington this 30th day of January, 2014.

KIM WYMAN,
Secretary of State

I want to thank all of you for the opportunity to be a part of you and to pass this first bill with a majority vote. I have a little something from my district. Now, as you know, I have Gig Harbor, Bremerton and Port Orchard and there is something in there from all three. However, where I reside in Port Orchard is known nationally for the Seagull Calling Contest. It is my honor to be able to share with you today seagull splat candy made in Port Orchard. Thank you Mr. President.”

The other thing is that I’d like to also thank her since she is the first person called on to vote and I no longer have to have that privilege. Thank you.”

They said, ‘Vote for an Angel to represent you’ and they were very cute and I think they were coming out of a baby stroller if I recall. It was the epitome of cute I want to recognize that her last, her experience last summer and last fall was not as cute and I want to congratulate her on her achievement and welcome her to the Senate. REMARKS BY SENATOR ROACH

Senator Roach: "Thank you Mr. President, members of the Senate. Gee, this is a real privilege. You understand that today I get to stand and speak to the message that the voters of the State of Washington gave us with the vote on 1183, 1185. And this is the two-thirds majority vote. The reason that it's such a pleasure is because it makes state history. 1185 makes state history, with sixty-four percent of the people of the state of Washington voting for it. Sixty-four percent of the people of the state of Washington wanted to protect their property, their pocket books. They decided that they wanted to increase the incentive for the legislature to look at reforming government before raising taxes. That's what the message was. Reform government before, it's so easy right? To raise taxes. This is what the voters want. They want this particular resolution, joint resolution to go to them and give them the opportunity to change the constitution. They want it embedded in their constitution to protect themselves. By the way, this is not an unusual thing. Seventeen other states in the country have a super-majority required in their constitutions to raise taxes. We pride ourselves in being vanguards here in Washington State. We certainly have been on a number of issues but not when it comes to taxes. Now's the time. The people are vanguard but the legislature's not following what the people have to say. I wanted to just pull from the voting results and I'm going to not mention any names but I am going to mention district numbers because these are."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore: "Senator, are you asking for permission to read?"

Senator Roach: "Yes, may I?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore: "Permission granted to read."

Senator Roach: "Thank you Mr. President because I love this stuff."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ROACH

Senator Roach: "District number Five which is your Maple Valley, Black Diamond area, sixty eight percent of the people in the Fifth District voted for 1185. They wanted to make it tougher to raise taxes. Another speaker came out of the Eleventh District. The Eleventh District, we're talking Renton. Are you ready, sixty two percent of the people in the Eleventh District voted for 1185. Where's the confetti? Here we go, the Twenty Second District, Senator Fraser, in the heart of state government. Oops, wasn't going to say her name but I'll tell you what, fifty four percent of the people here voted to make sure government wouldn't be easily able to raise their taxes. I love the Twenty Fourth District out there where we want to put those logging trucks. These are blue collar workers. These are the people who have been out of a job and these are the people who struggle with the economy and they're smart people. They are informed people. I hate anybody call anybody's people in anybody's district not so. Sixty six percent of the people in that district out on the Peninsula where they suffer from the recession, where we would call it a depression, voted for 1185. So, I think we'll hear some discussion on the floor. I'd like to have people stand up and argue against what the people did. One little thing, I believe, one, two, three, four, five. Five legislative districts in the state of Washington voted against this. It's really hard to see this Mr. President; may I show my small little illustration?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore: "You may Senator Roach."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ROACH

Senator Roach: "Thank you Mr. President. This is a picture of the state of Washington and embedded there with that dark orange color, its bronco color I made sure, everything else is Seahawks color ok. So, in the Bronco color you will see these districts in downtown Seattle. Those are the only places that voted against 1185. And then this spring here, all this green stuff all that Seahawk green stuff, that's the rest of the state where we overwhelming to bring the average sixty four percent of the people voted for 1185. I look forward to the debate and the closing debate. Thank you Mr. President."

REMARKS BY SENATOR KLINE

Senator Kline: "Thank you Mr. President. Very often leadership consists of getting what the folks want. They elect you to go get it, you go get it. That's sometimes what defines leadership. Sometimes leadership consist of turning to the folks who want something and having to tell them why not. That's the tougher aspect of leadership. The good Senator that just read out the numbers also read out the numbers of districts represented by people that are going to show real leadership here. I appreciate that. It's easy to fight against taxes. Tax cuts are like candy in a candy store. All the kids want some. And like some parents we are sometimes in the position of having to say no for their own good. I know that sounds, what's the word? it sound parental. It sounds we know better. Sometimes its leadership and it's not funny and I don't have to worry about it. My district is one of those little districts in there colored so faithfully in Bronco colors. The fact is in my district the people understand the need for government to work. They do not want government to be so starved that it can be dragged into somebody's bathtub and drowned which is the purpose of all of this. So, they voted no and I urge you to vote no. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARGROVE

Senator Hargrove: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, I made it a history of standing for things consistently over thirty years and some of those over time aren't so popular and some of those things people on your side of the aisle appreciate even maybe not so popular in my district. I was full well ready to vote for this constitutional amendment had we dealt with the tax loophole issue, the transfer sheet, etc. I spent six months here last year, I spent way more time with Senator Hill than I did with my wife and family. It's not that you're a bad guy. It was a very difficult session to pull together a budget. And the two pieces of that budget that we pulled together that made it work was the Bracken fix and the telecom bill, both would have required a two-thirds vote. We just barely got through as it was before we caused a major disaster. So, when we're dealing with tax loop holes, and we're dealing with tax preferences and we're dealing with things that affect a small percentage of people in most cases, or at least could, in most cases and perhaps have even been through the tax preferences committee that says that they're not working and we're not talking about sales tax on food here. I don't believe that one has been before the sales preference committee. We're talking about lots of things that were set up at different points and time when things have changed. So, if we had made that amendment then I think that this would have been a reasonable constitutional amendment to put in because we would have been dealing with big new things, like the income tax or like raising the sales tax rate. I wanted to respond to one other point here. That is that the public was saying 'reform before taxes.' Well, over the last six years of the recessionary period, if we had just done carry forward on current programs without any new crimes of the day or whatever, our budget would be around forty four billion. And right now it's around thirty two billion. That's about a twenty five percent decrease in programs because of reforms we've done. We've essentially completely eliminated the GAU program for people who are unemployable right now. They don't get a cash grant anymore. We've cut housing programs. We've cut TANF grants. We've made cuts and reforms all through our budget to lower most of what we had to cover there, through reforms and cuts. And very little in revenue came in during that period. I think the natural tendency of the Legislature is to be very skeptical of taxes. The public's natural tendency is to be very skeptical of taxes. And, like I said, had this particular amendment been adopted and we limited it to big new things that I think certainly raises the level of two-thirds vote. But for small tax preferences, whether it be for bull semen or whatever else might get a tax preference, you know I'm not sure that raises to the two-thirds level. Also, I would like to just talk, my final point is about math because this isn't two-thirds. This is really twelve percent because the House could pass a tax loophole closure unanimously and send it over to the Senate and seventeen members in the Senate could stop that from being changed. So, that's twelve percent of the entire Legislature could stop a tax loophole. So, when you get down to that size of a vote then it raises questions about, are we going to have, well, even if we have a big emergency. Let's say we have a tsunami on the coast in that same area that's so depressed and our budget is totally turned upside down because I have cities under water. We could still people in other areas saying, 'you know, we agree we need more money, we need to raise taxes but only when we do this reform bill, that reform bill, this reform bill, that reform bill.' And we've seen that kind of scenario in the not-so-distant past. So I would just say, like I said, you can talk to our Whip if you want. I was prepared to vote for this with the amendment on it. Without the amendment on it, I think it creates all sorts of problems going forward and I'm going to be voting no."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BENTON

2014 REGULAR SESSION

Senator Benton: “Thank you Mr. President. Well I’d like to remind the body that whether or not you like the two-thirds concept, which I certainly like. There’s no reason to vote yes or no on this bill. The previous speaker said it could create some problems. They’re not any different than any problem that we have on any other piece of legislation we pass. The House passes anything a hundred percent, the same scenario applies. So, it’s not any different than regular business around here. It’s not an issue whether you like this bill or not. The issue is, do you believe the people have the right to say? You’re not voting today to create a two-thirds cap on requirement for raising taxes. The people of the state have already done that. Our activist Supreme Court decided they didn’t like it and threw it out which leaves the only recourse for the citizens of this state is to put it into the Constitution. And that’s what this vote here represents. It’s a vote to allow the citizens of this state. Now a few years ago the very same argument was made on the other side, Mr. President, that we should allow a simple majority for school levies to go to the vote of the people and that voting for it or against it on the floor had nothing to do with the actual content of the legislation. It had to do with whether or not you thought the people of this state had a right to vote on it. I submit to you the same argument me make here today. Your yes or no vote on this bill, SJR 8213, reflects whether or not you believe citizens in your district have a right to vote on a constitutional amendment proposed by the Legislature. And why is the Legislature proposing a constitutional amendment? Because the citizens by an overwhelming majority, forty five, forty four out of forty nine districts voted this in with a sixty percent plus vote. Yet the court knocked it down. That’s why. So, we say ok, we’re going to honor the will of the people of this state and we’re going to honor the will of the people in our district and we’re going to give them the opportunity to weigh in on this. If they like it, if they still like it, like they did last November then they’ll vote for it and if they don’t it will never become part of the Constitution. But make no mistake about it, your vote here today will be recorded as a vote not only on the measure but more importantly on whether or not you trust the citizens of this state to add items to their Constitution. The Constitution of this state puts all legislative power in the hands of the citizens and thank goodness for that. You know, very few states only about seventeen have referendums and initiative opportunities and that’s because the people that move west after living in states where they had tyrannical state governments decided that when they created these new states they wanted one last stop-gap measure to protect themselves from their government. And that’s why they put referendum and initiative clauses in this Constitution. And that’s why we have the right to amend our Constitution by putting a measure out to the people to vote on. Now, I believe citizens have a right to add or take away from their Constitution. Certainly the other side agreed to that when it was a simple majority for school levies. I certainly hope that those, especially in southwest Washington, which I represent, and I looked at every district Mr. President, if I may read from the list?”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore: “Senator Benton, you may read, briefly.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR BENTON

Senator Benton: “Thank you. That every district in southwest Washington Mr. President has passed this measure overwhelmingly. Even in downtown Vancouver, in the forty ninth district, sixty seven percent ,more than two-thirds of the citizens voting in downtown Vancouver have supported 1185. In every other district in southwest Washington has even a higher percentage than that and that’s pretty much true for most of the rest of the state. So I would say that the five districts that didn’t pass this, you want to represent your folks back home? Go ahead and vote no. But for the forty four districts that had an overwhelming vote on this measure, if you want to represent your citizens today, which you have been elected to do, you should give them an opportunity to vote on this measure by voting yes today and putting it on the ballot this November. Thank you Mr. President.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR LIAS

Senator Liias: “Thank you Mr. President. I appreciate this debate. I think it is about the heart of our democracy and that is how do we make decisions together? I appreciate the previous Senator’s comments about giving the people the choice to vote on this important issue and Mr. President when we look at our state Constitution, it is unique compared to some of these other western states. In Oregon and in California the people themselves can amend the constitution directly at the ballot box. But Mr. President here in Washington our framers decided they wanted the Legislature to play a role in determining in how we change our fundamental governing document. That’s why this issue is before us today. It isn’t just about what do the people of Washington State want or believe, it’s also about what do we, their elected representatives, believe is in the best interest in our state. That’s why I’m rising in opposition to this constitutional amendment. I believe that adopting this constitutional amendment would not move our state forward. It would not be a good decision for the people of the State of Washington and I have in a unique position. I get to represent the city of Mukilteo and one of my constituents has been a frequent sponsor of initiatives on this subject Mr. President. So, I hear a lot from my constituents about these particular issues. In fact, the constituents in my district have voted both for and against these proposals. Initiative 960 they voted against a super-majority requirement and in later votes they voted for it. So, I think the citizens of Washington are not firmly decided on how they want us to move forward. I think a couple of good reasons why this is not the right answer for our state. Firstly, our system is funded on majority rule. The majority makes the decisions in our system of government and I moved recently from a situation where I was in that majority and today I serve in a situation where I’m not in the majority that makes the decisions and yet I remain firmly fixed to that position. That the majority in the Senate, the majority in the House should be able to make the decisions on behalf of our people. Thomas Jefferson told us, a group of citizens in a letter that where the principal of majority rules ceases to exist their government ends. Our founding fathers really believe that giving the majority the right to make decisions is the only way that that system could work. Mr. President, I also rise in opposition because I believe that this enshrines the special interest tax breaks and loop holes in our tax code forever. We know that the special interest have a lot of voices in the legislative process and convincing seventeen members of this body to oppose a repeal is very simple, out of one hundred forty seven legislators. And so, requiring a two-thirds vote to get rid of even one of those loop holes, even loop holes that were created a long time ago that have no purpose today, that the commission on citizenship commission he said serve no purpose, that every newspaper in our state say have no purpose couldn’t be repealed if seventeen senators could be convinced to vote against it. The final reason I rise in opposition to this is because I believe it's time for Washington to invest in our transportation system. When I look back at 2003-2005, the last two times this state approved a transportation revenue package is to invest in congestion relief in my district and in yours. Neither of those bills received a two-thirds vote by either chamber of the Legislature. Our Legislature would not be able to make the difficult decisions around transportation if we were called to reach that super majority fairly. Raising taxes is difficult and so is deciding which projects to fund and if seventeen senators could say, 'I won't vote for this until my pet project is included,' that is what breaks down the system. That's why Thomas Jefferson said a majority should make the decisions. That's why I'm rising in opposition in this amendment and I hope you'll join me in standing up for the majority rule in Washington and for a transportation revenue investment package."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ERICKSEN

Senator Ericksen: "Thank you Mr. President. Rising to support of the Senate Joint Resolution, on the senate floor we can talk about the Constitution and we can view the tax increase issue from these chambers here. But I think it's important that every single decision that we make we think about it from the people on the ground, in our own communities of a family of four. What does it mean to them? What does it mean to a small business owner in our districts? Mr. President, I asked my staff this year to go through and add up all the tax proposed this year and how would that impact a family of four that live in Ferndale? And you look at all the ones that are out there, the tax increase that's coming up, that's proposed out of the House, the one percent for education from OSPI, gas taxes, weight fees, all the different taxes that are being proposed that are added on to the people of Washington State. For a family of four, we're looking at upwards of three thousand dollars in Ferndale in tax increases. And now, for those people, that's real money. For me, that's real money. And why the people all over Washington support the two-thirds requirement? Because they're worried about the government continuing reaching into their pockets and taking out their money. They're worried about how much Obama Care is going to cost them. They're worried about how much a low carbon fuel standards going to take out of their daily, their ability to get around and communicate and drive their kids around. There's real fear out there in our society about the government reaching in and taking money from you. And that's why the people support this. That's why we should let them vote on it. And I believe last year this legislative body, we came together and two-thirds voted to repeal the sales tax exemption on land lines for phones. We came together and did that, two-thirds vote. There are many times we have come together and said we can work together with the two-thirds vote to get these things done. Sometimes we don't even think about needing two-thirds, we just do it. And for how many years for all of these tax exemptions incentives been on the books when only a simple majority was required to repeal them and we never did? We never did with a simple majority either. So, what the people are asking for is a little bit of protection to feel safer in their homes, to feel the taxes, if we're going to go take more of their money out of their wallet it's going to be a little bit harder for us to do that here because as hard for us to get the two-thirds. Think how much harder for that family of four living in Ferndale to live with three thousand less dollars in their checking account because twenty-five people here and fifty people over there said they know how to use your money better. We're not saying, get rid of taxes. Taxes will continue to grow in Washington State. We'll still be getting more money coming in. And when we have an emergency, we should be able to come together. I believe in these institutions can put aside partisan politics in times of emergencies and crisis to come together and get the votes needed to protect the communities in Washington. We'll do that but the people need protection. They need to feel safe and they need to know that we aren't simply going to go out and reach into their pocket books, into their small businesses and take their money without having at least a two-thirds vote here in Olympia. This is a great initiative. The people deserve to have the chance to vote on this and I believe overwhelmingly they will support this and they will tell us in Olympia, 'Do your job better.'"

REMARKS BY SENATOR KEISER

Senator Keiser: "Thank you Mr. President. After a long debate and a long week in the Legislature I like to go home on Friday nights, turn on TV, kick back and watch a comedy show; Bill Maher. One of my favorite parts of the Bill Maher program is something called 'New Rules.' We're doing this today, we're doing new rule, it's called the rule of seventeen, it's called super minority rules and it's a bit of a comedy, in my opinion. We're talking about tax increases? The state sales tax has not been increased since 1983. Since 1983 how many tax loop holes have we passed? Count them up, dozens and dozens more. We're good at passing tax loop holes and in this proposal before us we will lock in every one of those tax loop holes. They will be there forever because we have new rules. I urge you to vote no."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ANGEL

Senator Angel: "Thank you Mr. President. I think the bottom line of this today is the will of the people. The people voted for this. They gave us our marching directions and in my district darned near seventy percent of those people said two-thirds is appropriate. We are here to do the peoples' work. They have spoken. Let's give them the chance to speak again. I believe they've already spoken but let's give them that chance again. 'The Will of The People.' Thank you Mr. President."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HASEGAWA

Senator Hasegawa: "Thank you Mr. President. The good Senator from the Thirty First called out the Eleventh District and she wanted a response so I'm more than willing to, happy to give that response. She said that sixty two percent of my district voted for the unconstitutional imitative that does what the constitutional amendment does. That's true. People think that the Eleventh District is this great bastion of liberalism. It's not that. They're just good down to earth, hardworking folk that are tired of seeing this huge disparity happen within our society. They're tired of, they're feeling over taxed. Maybe they are because over time there's been this huge shift of tax burdens from the corporations and the one percent onto working families and they're tired of it but this constitutional amendment doesn't help bring fairness back into our tax system. So, to respond to that sixty two percent that voted for the two-third initiative. Subsequent to that I was elected with almost seventy percent and my campaign issue has always been to bring fairness back into our tax system. It seems like, and as I mentioned earlier, those that have the most money to invest in our legislative process are able to get the best tax breaks. That's totally wrong. If our legislative body wants to re-shift and say let's bring fairness in our system again, we have to have the ability to do that. Our constituents elect us to do just that, to bring fairness into the system. This whole question of the two-thirds vote was addressed by our founders who wrote the Constitution. They specifically looked at this issue and rejected it because they knew that growing a state from the wilderness into one of the top thriving metropolis and centers of industries in the world required an investment. That investment comes in the form of taxes. Taxes are the dues that we pay to live in a civilized society. If we want to continue to have hope for our children and their future in a growing global economy, we have to be able to invest in it. It's not just going to spring up from the dirt. We are elected to represent our people and use our best judgment and if they don't like the decisions we, make vote us out. That's democracy. But a two-thirds, to impose a minority rule, that is, it's a blasphemy, against democracy. In our union, Teamster's Union, we use to have minority rule and I ran on a reform platform and we were able to get from minority rule back to majority rule. I am very proud of that accomplishment but to see our Legislature take a step backwards to minority rule just seems like blasphemy of democracy and what it is all about. So, I think this bill should probably be called 'the protect corporate tax loop holes act' because essentially that's what it does. It blocks us from bringing fairness back into our tax system. I very strongly urge a 'No' vote against this constitutional amendment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PEDERSEN

Senator Pedersen: "Thank you Mr. President. I rise to make two quick points, and I guess I will just note for the gentle lady from the Thirty First District my district is probably at one end of the spectrum in the voting on this and consistently opposed to the initiatives that were before the voters, but the two points are these: number one, there is nothing about the current system that prevents any tax payer from bringing an initiative to undo or for that matter bring a referendum petition to undo actions by this Legislature in quote unquote 'raising taxes.' If he or she is satisfied with those specific decisions made by the legislature. And in the relevantly rare cases where this Legislature has taken action to raise taxes, the citizens have not been bashful about exercising those constitutional rights. The other point that I would like to make is that although there has been repeated reference to the will of the tax payers and the strong support around the state for these initiatives, none of the five initiatives that have passed for the last twenty years came anywhere close to the level of support that the citizens across the state showed for teacher COLA and for reducing class sizes. And one of the pickles that this constitutional amendment would inevitably put us in is an inability to find our obligations to our kids in public schools. So, I think this is a bad policy direction for us and I urge rejection of the amendment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BRAUN

Senator Braun: "Thank you Mr. President. So, I rise in support of this resolution. This is easy for me I personally supported the initiatives. All five of them. My district supports them by seventy five percent. I believe in the wisdom of the people so perhaps you can draw from that that my district is wiser than other but I won't say that here. What I really want to talk about is I want to talk about is I want to address this notion that government would be unworkable with this constitutional amendment. I think that just going back one year will prove that to be false. We're all familiar with the five tax increases that would be subject to this that we passed last year. There were five on the advisory ballot. We all got to explain them in our districts. Four of those five passed by greater than two-thirds majority. Some of us didn't even realize that they were passing by greater than two-thirds. They were just the right thing to do so we did the right thing. The one that didn't was the Bracken decision. I'm familiar with that because I a role in negotiating it. I would submit, and even though I supported the ultimate solution, I would submit that we could still have gotten to a two-thirds support on that and we would have gotten a better result for the State of Washington. So, to suggest that we can't do our job well, or we can't do our job even, with this requirement is simply not the case. Yes, we have to do hard things but hard things are doable and this doesn't stop us from getting the will of the people done. So, with that, I would urge your support of the amendment. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR KOHL-WELLES

Senator Kohl-Welles: "Thank you Mr. President. I rise in opposition to this measure. And it's really interesting, we keep hearing about the will of the people. We cannot betray what the will the will of the people is, what our constituents want but we have had many initiatives that have been approved by the voters but there's one that was approved very sizably. However, there are those in this chamber who consistently, year after year, after year introduce legislation to repeal or amend this particular initiative that was approved by the voters overwhelmingly in 1998. It was Initiative 688 that was approved by sixty-six point fourteen percent. What was that imitative? It was Initiative to support the minimum wage. We have legislation this year to amend that, year after year after year. And it's really interesting to me that with that particular initiative the will of people apparently does not count."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MCAULIFFE

Senator McAuliffe: "Thank you Mr. President. I stand in opposition to Senate Joint Resolution No. 8213. We have a constitutional obligation to fully fund basic education. Our children deserve a strong education system that fully funds their opportunity to have a class size where they have the opportunity for individual attention. We have an obligation to make sure that those teachers in that classroom have the professional development and the tools they need in order to be a high quality teacher. They are the key to our children's education. The McCleary court order has told us that we must fully fund basic education, that we have not lived up to our constitutional obligation. Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, I say this because in 2007 we passed a simple majority and the vote was 33 to 16. It took us fifteen years to pass the simple majority, fifteen years. That is how difficult it is to get the kind of votes we need for our children when we talk about our need to fund education. So, we have until 2018 now. We need to approximately think about eight billion dollars to fully fund basic education and I will challenge you, each and every one of you to take a two-thirds vote on the taxes needed to fully fund education for our children. So, fifteen years, remember that. Our kids cannot wait. I ask you to vote no."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Braun and without objection, the remarks regarding on the final passage of Senate Joint Resolution No. 8213 were spread upon the Journal.

REMARKS BY SENATOR ROACH

Senator Roach: "Thank you Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. In closing debate I wanted to mention a few things. First of all, the good senator from the Forty Third, I think he's sitting there, mentioned the good senator from the Thirty-First, that would be me, talked about the number of people that voted for 1185. It is true, that 1185 did not have the percentage that was highest in state history but they had the number of voters, one point nine million people voted in favor of 1185. Every time, in the five times that this issues come before the voters, the number of voters has increased as has its percentage. I wanted to address the good senator from the Eleventh talking about a huge tax shifts and talking about tax breaks that there totally wrong and so forth. Well, a couple of things, the people of the state do have the right to referendum. If there's something there that they haven't liked, then that should go to the referendum but I will tell you that these things passed, the last time twenty five years we could say, under a very progressively dominate Legislature. I think the House was only in the hands of the Republican party for just a couple of years, there was a tie. I've served under the governor's, Governor Gardner, Governor Locke, Governor Gregoire, Governor Insee and those governors have to sign the bills. So, if we're complaining about what somebody might say is a loop whole obviously there was a more prevailing argument or they wouldn't have passed the more liberal body in both of these chambers as it's been historically or they would not have received a vote, a signature from the Governor. I want to talk about those people that are in need. I looked at these vote totals. The senator from the Seventh District, we've talked in committee about the unemployment rate, which is near thirty percent I believe. The income rate, average income is twenty four thousand dollars a year. These are people that we might logically think are benefiting greatly from the services that the government may give from food stamps, from a variety of programs and so forth and yet seventy-five percent of the people in the Seventh District did in fact vote in favor of 1185. It says something about their character probably that they want to be able to have that chance to succeed and they know they can't do if their taxes are too high and that they are prohibitive and if government doesn't reform itself. The good senator from the Nineteenth District, another area that I think most people think is not the most prosperous in our state, seventy percent of the people, seventy percent of the people, many of whom are availing themselves of the programs. The senator from I believe it is Senator Kline, I'm going to guess, Pardon? The Thirty Seventh District. Well, I think what you stated had to do with the fact that we needed more money to provide good government. In order to have that, we have to raise taxes and that is extremely well-stated for the people in your district Senator Kline, I always thought you did. You're my wonderful nemesis and sometimes we..."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

REMARKS BY SENATOR ROACH

Senator Roach: "Thank you Mr. President. So, what I would like to do is close by saying again that this measure has not been exceeded in state history by the number of registered voters who voted for the initiative but this measure has been passed in seventeen other states similar measures. This measure is one that the people of the state of Washington want and that we should be, as the previous speaker also said working together. That working together doesn't just mean here. Doesn't mean having a thought that we are better than or more educated than the people. It means we should be working with the people in my opinion and they liked 1185. And I think we should allow them to have a chance to vote for it in a form of a constitutional amendment. I urge passage of the resolution."

Senator Braun moved that all the remarks be spread upon the journal.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Senate Joint Resolution No. 8213.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 8213, having failed to receive the necessary constitutional majority, was declared lost.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

On February 5, the Senate considered Senate Joint Resolution No. 8213, which, if passed by a two-thirds supermajority, would have placed a proposed constitutional amendment before the people. That amendment would have, if passed, required a two-thirds vote in each chamber of the legislature in order to raise taxes. Upon final passage, the resolution received 25 'Yea' votes, eight short of number required for passage.

I was excused from voting by the President. Had I been present, I would have voted 'No'"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: "Thank you Mr. President. Last week the Secretary of the Senate sent out a small release on the passing of Robert Goldsworthy, Major General Bob Goldsworthy. What many of you don't know is the rest of the story. Representative, then Senator Robert Goldsworthy grew up as a farm boy in Rosalia. Attended WSU, seemed on his way to premier in the bright new industry of radio but service called. He flew a B-29 in World War II. Robert Goldsworthy was shot down over Tokyo, faced torture, near starvation as a POW and was released after V-J day. Came back and resumed farming, National Guard. After going through all of that Robert Goldsworthy came back for his country's call to duty for the Korean War where he again flew as a pilot for us. Bob Goldsworthy never forgot his alma meter of WSU, his background as a farmer, but his tenure in the House and the Senate is before any of our times probably. But what Bob Goldsworthy did while he was in the House was he was essentially the father of our community college system. A champion of WSU and higher education who also saw the value of creating our community college system as we know it today. Bob Goldsworthy served admirably both in the other body and then Senate. I think one of the most memorable events in my time in the other body is when we did Bob Goldsworthy's oral history. And he was at the rostrum with the Speaker Ballard. Bob Goldsworthy spent his time in captivity dreaming about the perfect meal, to pass his time. And him and his cell mate went through an elaborate process of what it would be of what was on the celery sticks, through the multiple appetizers, through the real meal and finally the proper dessert. Speaker Ballard was able to tell that veteran, that member, that day that, 'Bob, the cafeteria has fixed that perfect meal.' That man then was in his eighties. I was in my forty's. I could not eat as much as that eighty-some year old man did. He was legendary for, 'Well, if you have an extra steak I'll take it.' He literally consumed more than Speaker Ballard, myself, I think the Speaker Pro Tempore of the House from Vancouver was our guest as well. None of us could compare. Because of that time in captivity, the insatiable appetite. But the insatiable appetite that Bob Goldsworthy brought to agriculture and higher education, as a member of this body, the other body and public service. So, that's a little bit more about a great American from America's greatest generation that we lost just a little over a week ago. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rolfes: "This was Senator Pedersen's first bill. For those of you watching it's a senate tradition to razz the sponsor of his first bill on the day that he does that. And I want to personally welcome Senator Pedersen to the Senate. You are a great speaker. Don't listen to what other people say. I had the privilege and the joy of serving with Jamie since 2007 in the House and we will, this entire body will, benefit from the intelligence that he has as well as his profession expertise in corporate law. So, this is a very fitting first bill for him. Yes, he will have more boring bills coming before us and they are all important. Welcome to the Senate."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Pedersen: "Thank you Mr. President. I rise to thank the body for its indulgence and want to do a little bit of advertisement for my district. I cannot claim credit for the Seahawks T-Shirt that are on your desk. Those are not in the Forty-Third District but we do have a lot of great things that are in the Forty-Third District which stretches from downtown to Ravenna and Madison Park to Fremont. You have some Theo chocolate which is one of the manufactured products from my district as well as a little Pike's Place Market pen. What I really want to draw your attention to is though, is that the Forty-Third is really a great beneficiary of an amazing wealth of cultural institutions. And so you will find in the find in the packet some tickets to the Zoo, the Museum of History and Industry, to the Burke Museum and to the Seattle Art Museum. All of which are, I'm proud to say, are in the Forty-Third District. I want to put in a little plug for the bill on the floor calendar from the gentleman from the Forty-Fifth District on cultural access authorities. That would be very important for a lot of these and similar institutions around the state. I thank you again. I look forward to serving with all of you and I hope that you all make it to the middle of Seattle before too long. Thank you very much."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Padden: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, I also want to welcome the gentleman from the Forty-Third District to obviously gotten to know him last session as Chair of the Law & Justice when he was chairing some obscure committee in the other body that we dealt with. I found that he was a man of his word. I thought we worked well together and we're very happy to have him as a member of the Senate Law & Justice although we miss the former member greatly too. I want to point that out. Welcome to the Senate."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: "Thank you Mr. President. This is a fine start on breaking all the bad habits that the Senator learned in the other body. We trust that he will learn brevity and humbleness as all of the forty eight members have in this body."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator King: "Well, recognizing the fact that Senator Pedersen's first speech has come up a little short which might be the more appropriate way to say that. I have to say that I've had the privilege of working with him on a couple of issues over in the House and he was very helpful in getting a couple bills through over there. I won't say on my behalf but they happen to be my bills but he was a pleasure to work with and I believe that he will be so in this body. So, I welcome him to the Senate and I look forward to working with him. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Becker: "Thank you. Well, I would just like to welcome Senator Jamie Pedersen. We are working together on the Health Care Committee and it's been a pleasure. It's been a very much a pleasure. We've had meetings where we talk about bills, bring things up and he actually brings his laptop and can look bills up right on the moment and tell you the detail you need to know to make an informed decision. I have to say, that's totally appreciated and I welcome you to the Senate very warmly and for a long time."

A statement had been made by the prime sponsor that requested we vote on the policy and not who was the sponsor of the bill that individuals that voted against the bill last year perhaps voted against it because of the sponsor. I voted against the bill last year and I voted against the bill this year and I signed it without recommendation last year in committee because I thought there could be confusion on the part of the public. Paint and other visual displays can be very helpful to point out something relating to trespassing but until the public understands that that is what this is about I believe it is very appropriate to have signage for the first few years. It has nothing to do with who the sponsor of the bill is and I just wanted to make that statement that many of us were not voting on who the bill sponsor was in our voting ‘Nay’. Thank you Mr. President.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR LIAS

Senator Liias: "Thank you Mr. President. It is somewhat bitter sweet to rise in support of this, my first measure to come across the Senate floor. I thought that Senator Shin and I were going to get one more session together down here. I was pleased to serve with the Senator as his House mate for the last six years. One of the reasons which I enjoyed so much with the good Senator was our weekly lunches. I would come over to his office once a week and we would chat about the issues of the day and catch up on what we were working on. There were three fixtures to every lunch with Senator Shin: First was, he always reminded me I was his son; secondly, he reminded me how handsome I was; and third, he always asked me where my monkey brains were, why I hadn't brought those along. I think those three things really encapsulate the spirit that Senator Shin brought to public life into the Senate. That commitment to family. As much as he joked about how I was his son, I think that Senator Paull Shin truly views the people of the state of Washington as his brothers and sisters and his sons and daughters. When you look at his vast legislative record he took care of his family over the eighteen years. Working hard to make sure that hard-working Washingtonians had a leg up to get a better job. That our goods and products that were being produced here in Washington had markets overseas where we could sell them and bring that prosperity back. When it came to the cause of adoptees and others that had been forgotten by society or left, Paull Shin was there to stand up for them. When he called me handsome, it reminded me of that kindness and compassion. Now at the time, you know, I was a few pounds overweight and I didn't feel so handsome maybe but he was always there to remind me that deep inside of every single one of us there's something beautiful. There's a light inside each of us that is worth while. And he saw that in every one of those people that crossed his office and crossed his door as a Senator. As much as he joked with me about monkey brains, his sense of humor, I think every single person I've spoken to can cite some place and some time in their life when Paull Shin came up with that perfect one liner to deflate the mood and make sure that everybody wasn't taking themselves too seriously, that they were focused on the work at hand. Mr. President, Senator Shin's biography is so voluminous that I couldn't hope to go through all the fine points but I think we all bear remembering that this brave man came from some of the toughest circumstances that any of us could have ever known as a street orphan. Growing up on the streets of Korea, adopted by an American GI, truly living the American dream. He reminded all of us that he learned his ABCs, then he earned his GED and finished with a PhD and became a teacher and educator here in our state. Trying to give those gifts forward. In addition, a successful business owner. Owning real-estate and all sorts of investments, not just in our state but across the western states. Really bringing the opportunity for people to work and earn a living not just in what he said and did but in the businesses that he helped succeed. At end of all of that, he viewed his work here in the Senate as what he called his payback time. And I remember that lesson more dearly than any. And for the next whatever years I have the privilege of serving here I will view this as my payback time as well. Mr. President with your permission I would like to read a few comments from constituents that I received about Senator Shin."

2014 REGULAR SESSION

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator."

REMARKS BY SENATOR LIAS

Senator Lias: "So, I created an online thank you card and folks can still sign it at thankyoupaullshin.org. I received over three hundred and fifty thank you notes from people all across the state, all across our district and even some from outside of Washington state. Mary from Edmonds wrote 'I still remember you ringing our door bell in your first campaign for the State Senate. Your warmth, dedication, sincerity and intelligence impressed me then and I've seen those same traits displayed again and again in your dedicated and compassionate work on behalf of us all. Good luck and enjoy your retirement.' A lot of folks remember the first time he door belled them. A lot of folks in the grocery store hope that I'll doorbell them as often as Paull Shin did. So, that was a constant comment. Barbara from Edmonds writes; 'Thank you Senator Shin for your many years of service. On three occasions I brought my high school completion students from Edmonds Community College to Olympia to meet their legislators. You always came to talk with the students. The students were inspired by your words and wrote in their reflections after the visit about you specifically and what your words meant to them. You have touched their lives and I am so grateful.' It was that educator's heart coming back to reach out to students time and time again as they visited the Capitol. Carol from Edmonds wrote 'Mr. Shin, even though you and I are on different sides of aisle you so wonderfully represent the people of not the United States but you did a magnificent job for we residents of Washington State. Your attitude and graciousness makes me believe in my government. Thank you for your many years of rich service.' And then finally, Brandon Gyony Hu writes 'Congratulations Senator Shin. You're a hero for all of us Korean-Americans. Thank you for serving the state and being a great role model for all of us. Take care in your retirement.' In closing Mr. President, I think it's also worth remembering that behind every great man there is a wonderful woman. We are so grateful to Mrs. Shin and to the Shin family for giving us Senator Shin for eighteen years and putting up with all the demands of service in Olympia, all the work that's it's taken for him to represent his constituents. So, to Senator Paull Shin, to Mrs. Shin and the Shin family we say, (speaking Korean). Thank you for your service."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARGROVE

Senator Hargrove: "Thank you Mr. President. I, too, would like to speak in favor of this resolution. I think Paull Shin is the most patriotic person I know. He's not only very proud of the United States of America but certainly the veterans of this country and particularly veterans of the Korean War. Paull Shin has visited my district numerous times, including this last summer when I couldn't make the event to open the POW/MIA designation of a highway up in my district. I so appreciate him showing up at all of those to honor those veterans but I have tell you a little story. We were invited to a dedication in Port Townsend a few years ago of Inchon I believe a monument for Inchon. And, of course, I hardly knew what Inchon was, I'm sorry to say. And I was looking it up and trying to figure out what I was going to say. And of course, in front of us were all of these Korean War Veterans that are probably in their eighties now and I give a little speech. And Paull Shin gets up and he starts to talk to them and it made me feel like a Boy Scout. I'm not kidding. This guy had the presence and the understanding of that that just captured those veterans completely. Captured their hearts. And I kind of shrunk to the back and said I am never again showing up at a dedication with Paull Shin because he was a man of such stature. Paull Shin is also a man of faith. And over the years that I've have served with him I've seen him vote his convictions when it was very difficult, Paull, and I appreciate that very much very much. Also, I remember many times how highly he spoke of his wife and the support that he had from her. That came up frequently. How he was so blessed to have his wife and that support. So, Paull Shin, you finished well. You have a great reputation as we stand here honoring you. You didn't make any missteps like some of our political friends have done. And I can just say that we all aspire to have the legacy of Paull Shin as we move through our career. Thank you Paull."

REMARKS BY SENATOR SHELDON

Senator Sheldon: "Thank you Mr. President. Senator Shin. Paull, we will all miss you here very much. I know many people would like to speak and say a few words to you and I will be brief. I always enjoyed our times together. When I first met you, I think it was in the early 1990s, you'll recall, I was at my folk's house in Mukilteo. A knock at the door and there you were. My folks were so impressed. My folks are rock-ribbed Republicans but they were so impressed that you would come to the door and speak to them so personally. You make such a great connection with people when you first meet them. And not only that, you represent your district so well. I'll miss the times that you sat where Senator King was. In the mornings we always would shake hands. You're the most polite person I have ever met. Paull, we'll miss you very much. And good luck in everything that you do. Thank you.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR EIDE

Senator Eide: “Thank you Mr. President. I, too, stand in support of this resolution and I can’t look at you Paull. We came into the House of Representatives together back in 93-94 and I hadn’t a clue what I was getting myself into. I don’t know if Senator Shin did either by the way. The two of us, it was amazing. We ended up setting together, you know how you always have a partner in the house. I walk up to his desk and chair and look at this young man at that time. You know, we’ve kind of aged in our, we’ve been here what eighteen years Paull. I have to tell you this, there was a ton of cameras. There was TV and there was cameras. For days after that I had spots because of a famous man I was sitting next to. He was the very first Korean-American to be voted for in the United States of America for the State Senate and for the House of Representatives. The first very man. So one day, it was a couple days later, he’s on the front page of the Korean newspaper and he brings me a copy of it. And here we are the two of us with our hands up taking our oaths together. I couldn’t read one single word but boy it was a nice looking picture. Wasn’t it? So then we went on a little bit of I call it a sabbatical between 94 and 98. And the both of us came into the Senate together. This man I respect. This man has integrity. This man is humble. This man cares no matter who you are he accepts you. One of the times, he’s been in my district so many times I can’t remember to count them. And Donna we’ve had many a dinners together. And I have a radio station in my district the Korean American Hankook. And I have the first HMart that was brought to the west coast in my district. And I have, oh, the Han Woo-Ri festival every year which the good Senator and Mrs. Shin are both at. So we’ve had many a meal together. But this young man here has come to my district and helped me more than I can tell you. He’s always been by my side. He’s always said, ‘Tracey whatever you need.’ And he helped me speak a little bit of Korean because I know when I was on the radio station he had to translate for me and he had to repeat over and over and over because it was so hard for me to get my tongue around a few words but I can say, ‘Gam-s-ham-ninda’ (speaking Korean), because of you Paull. I have to tell just this one story. When Senator McAuliffe and I went to the airport, we were going to Korea. We were standing in line and I happen to look up and guess who was there? It was Senator Shin. I go Paull, ‘How are you? I didn’t know you were going to Korea.’ Oh man he took a look at us girls and he said, ‘Come on up here.’ He takes Senator McAuliffe and myself up to the front airline ticket area. The next thing I knew I was in first class ladies and gentleman. I will never be in first class again. Paull, it was my one and only time and I enjoyed the heck out of it. Thank you so much. It was a wonderful trip but when we landed they put the red carpet out for this man. He is highly regarded in Korea. They rolled out that red carpet and I tell you what, it’s a pleasure traveling with you Senator Shin because I got to go with you and I learned so much from you and I learned your culture. I enjoy traveling to Korea and I learned so much and I know Senator McAuliffe and I went to quite a few schools. We were looking at education at that time. But you don’t know somebody until you get to their homeland and you see how revered he was and continues to be, by the way. Donna, thank you for all the years you have shared Paull with us. And Paull you better be coming back to say ‘Hi’ every now and again. I want to say thank you for all the years that you have served the people of Washington State because you care more than any individual I’ve ever served with. You care and I love you for it.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR ROACH

Senator Roach: “Thank you Mr. President, members of the Senate. I just wanted to share a couple of experiences. I’ve been able to do a lot of traveling in my life and probably twenty years ago I was invited to go with Paull to Korea. Actually the trip was more than that. And I think it speaks to his willingness to put the effort into the people that aren’t so high up. He’s revered. He’s absolutely revered where he goes in South Korea. It’s more than that. It’s what he does for the people there. At the time there was a famine, there was a famine in North Korea. And the goal that Paull had was to get wheat, American wheat, Washington State wheat, to China so that they could put it in to North Korea. Several of us here were maybe on that trip, weren’t too many members but it was incredibly exciting and very, very different. We were way in Northern China, took a train that ran on coal fuel I guess, got to see, because this was in like October, what the country side looked like. And it was very, very poor. People picking up sticks to put in their fire just out in the woods. It was, people were starving and they didn’t have food because of this incredible hard winter. They were facing starvation. Yet Paull was there doing everything he could in a humanitarian effort that involved not only the United States but China and North Korea. I think it speaks to a man obviously he loves his home land and that includes those in North Korea as well as South Korea. They are Koreans. But it speaks to a man’s character that we would do these kinds of things and put that kind of work and effort into trying to help other people. And I so admire that in Paull. He is a gentleman always. And I told the caucus a more personal story and I’m going to share it with you because I think it also points to the kind of person he is on the inside. So, in all my years here I have never left session except for one time. My father passed away during session and he was, had been moved to a little tiny, tiny town in Utah. No stop light kind of town. There was however a little funeral place and I drove the long drive and thought of my dad the whole way. When I got there, there’s wasn’t much there. I mean all of his friends had passed away. He was eighty five and this was not where he had lived his life. He lived it in San Diego and here he is in this little podunk town. And I walked in and there was this incredible spray of flowers, much taller than I was, obviously this was going to be used on the casket. I looked at the card. Pulled the card like this and it was from my friend, Paull Shin. So, I don’t know how he found the spot. I have no idea and I don’t even know, they must of brought the flowers from Salt Lake City or something, but you know he did that quietly. He never said anything to anyone else. And I just shared it today with the caucus. This is the kind of man that leaves with love, with a mutual understanding of other individuals despite the differences they may have, who reaches across the aisle, who reaches across personality divides and puts the bad things behind. This is what we need more of in this Senate and we need it today. We need it today. If anything is to come of Paull’s having left us in an untimely fashion it should be that we take the lessons of Paull Shin and that we decide to apply them purposely. Not to have a fleeting thought that goes over our heads but to decide that we need to take these personality characteristics and apply them to this body which over the years, and I’ve been here twenty four of them, has been degraded because that’s what’s happened. We need to think higher. We need to act higher. We need be higher and Paull is the example of that. Many of you don’t know, he spent a couple of years in South Korea working in a mission for his church. He led the effort of hundreds of young people that came through. He was a hard and tireless worker. He paid his own way. Nobody pays for those kinds of things. He did those on his own and he and his wife Donna, who I imagine that’s not an easy thing to be essentially a parent for a couple hundred young people coming through. But he has a life of service and it's that it's for that I will remember Paull Shin. That and through those efforts the example which he provides for us. I've never heard him raise his voice. Always a kind man. He's had things, he been buffeted this way or another but he's risen above that to become the successful person that he has and, more importantly, the example that he is to us and to others. Senator Shin, I love you very much. He used to call me his daughter. I don't know, he never called me beautiful or cute though. Where are you Paul? Thank you."

THIRTIETH DAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2014

2014 REGULAR SESSION

REMARKS BY SENATOR BENTON

Senator Benton: "Thank you Mr. President. I can't let this come and go without saying a few words. Really there's only two words that I think need to be said, they've been said already by others but I think it's very important. There's two words that sum up Paull in my mind: Class act! Paull, you are a class act, my friend. You always have been. And there's no doubt in my mind you always will be. From the minute I met Paull Shin we became very good friends and we remain good close personal friends today. I'll miss him. He has offered me wise council over the years and God knows I've needed it. And I'll continue to need so I hope the phone lines stay open because I'll be calling. What a loss to this chamber and to this body. And I think the previous speaker said it well there are characteristics in this man that all of us could and should possess. We all need to work on a little of this and a little of that, myself included, but the character and the integrity is unequalled and unmatched. It is a loss not only to the citizens of your district but to the citizens of this state and really I think more importantly to us individually it is a great loss to have Senator Shin leave this chamber. I for one, sir, will miss your every single day. Thank you, Paull, for your service."

REMARKS BY SENATOR FRASER

Senator Fraser: "Thank you Mr. President. Rising in support of the resolution with great appreciation for Senator Shin, I remember when I first met Senator Shin. It was thirty five or forty years ago. He was, I don't know if he even remembers, but he was a speaker at the Olympia World Affairs Council. He was speaking on Asian history and contemporary affairs. And I remember he held us spell bound for you know a lengthy presentation and without a single note. We all learned so much and he was a professor at the time and he was, I was in awe of his abilities to convey information. I met him the second time when we were both on a trade mission to Korea and Japan with the Governor Spellman Administration. It was long before I thought I'd be a legislator and he was along because he was the President of I think the Korean-American Association here in the state of Washington, the Korean Association. And somehow we really clicked. He not only spoke Korean but Japanese and he gave me some great insights as we moved along through this trip. Then, of course, the third time was our lengthy periods of association here in the Senate. And he's been great leader on international trade as well all know. Totally committed to student educational opportunities. Committed to helping the poor and people with special needs, helping veterans, always attentive to the needs of the immigrant community, attentive to the needs of the adoptees and, as had been pointed out, always gracious and compassionate. He always is, as the resolution says, kind of the ultimate example of the American dream, Korean orphan, PhD, professor and senior State Senator and I'm glad he's honored in both countries and it great to be your friend. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PADDEN

Senator Padden: "Thank you very much Mr. President. I am very honored to speak in support of Senate Resolution No. 8680. I'm also kind of envious of all of you that have had the opportunity to serve with Senator Shin for such a long period of time. I've only served with him here a couple of years, and for those of you that haven't served with him at all you've really missed something. I can't think of any of us that is kinder, more gentle, just the most wonderful person that you could ever meet and so respected by everybody. I remember last year I had a little resolution to honor the Special Olympics. And there were a few of the athletes that had come here and they had participated in the Special Olympics in Korea that year and I asked Senator Shin, we were right at the, about ready to break for noon, if he would go out and get some pictures with those Special Olympics athletes. And, of course, he did and was so gracious and so gentle. One other story, one time we were just milling around, walking you know waiting, caucuses and I ran into him on the floor and just out of the blue he said, 'Mike Padden, I love you.' It was so meaningful to me, I will never forget that but I can't think of anybody that has had the respect of everybody here in the Senate more than you Paull. This is so fitting to honor you and I think we're all just a little bit in shock that you're still not with us. Thank you so much."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CONWAY

Senator Conway: "Thank you Mr. President, also rising in support of the resolution. It's a real honor to do this because Paull and I entered the Legislature together in 1993 along with Senator Eide. It was my honor to be with Paull here on the floor of the Senate in the last several years. You know, I kind of missed Paull in the House, spent a lot of years in the House but Paull and I would always meet in the Twenty-Ninth Legislative District because Paull had special interest with the Korean Women's Association in the Twenty-Ninth District, great social service group who's in our state now spread throughout our state. Also the great churches in the Twenty-Ninth District. Paull would always come by and say, 'Steve, you have some great Korean churches in your district. And he was always in the Twenty-Ninth District. As I sit here with Paull on the Senate floor, where we kind of renewed our relationship, and at that time Paull gave me a copy of his book. Mr. President, if I could use this?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CONWAY

Senator Conway: "Which he has made available to all of us called an "Exodus for Hope." And historian that I am, I've taken some time to kind of read this great book. You know, it's kind of unusual for a Senator to write a biography, autobiography before they leave the Senate. Usually you write them afterwards. And then we all read about ourselves in the books afterwards but Paull wrote his before. There is a real special story in there, I think it's not known about Paull and that was that Paull was actually interviewed as a finalist for U. S. Ambassador to Korea. That tells you something about this man. A finalist. It's an interesting story. I won't talk much about it because it's in his book, "An Exodus for Hope." But it's a fascinating story about his life and about his life in two countries. You know, it is also about religion. I know there's talk here, and it's about the unconditional love of Captain Paull. And how he impacted your life Paull. It's also, you know it's interesting as we read this book and I recommend it to you, it's a great book but his epitaph that he talks about for his grave stone, which he mentions in the book, and I want to mention it here because it speaks to the complexity and the beauty of this man. His epitaph, says 'Here, with your permission Mr. President?'"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CONWAY

Senator Conway: "'Here lays a man who found himself in two cultures and found the world.' Thank you Paull."

REMARKS BY SENATOR KOHL-WELLES

Senator Kohl-Welles: "I also rise in support of this resolution. I was in the House for one year when Paull and Senator Eide and some others here came into the House. So we're all very new and I think I'm not alone having a hard time speaking on this resolution today because it's difficult to not get choked up. That's because of the quality of this man and to me he's always served as the epitome of the public servant who thinks of policy over politics and that's testament given that we've had beautiful remarks made by members here on both sides of the aisle. I've never known Senator Shin in his time in the Legislature to put politics over policy, to put partisanship over policy. He's epitomized for me fairness and graciousness, not trying to take political advantage of anybody, not trying to position himself for gain but to look at what really is fair to do and what needs to get done for the people of his district and the people of the state. He's been a wonderful, wonderful public servant to we'll all remember. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR FROCKT

Senator Frockt: "Thank you Mr. President. Paull, I just want to say thank you. I am one of your newer friends having only known you for the last three years but there's a couple of things that I wanted to say and I wanted to wait till we had this resolution to say them. When I came to the senate three years ago, I came to replace Senator White who had tragically passed away and it was a pretty difficult and new thing for me to be here and I wasn't sure how it was going to, how I was going to react, and, you know, I didn't know any of my new colleagues. And you were the first person and the one who greeted me with open arms and I have never forgotten that. I think it just spoke so much to your character as to how you embraced me as I came in. And then as we got to know each other and you told me your story, which that I did not at that time. There's something that I never really told you but I wanted you to know because you would often tell the story about how you were an orphan and how you were adopted and came here but it always made me think of my own family. My own grandfather who had been, who I lost some years ago but would tell me when he was a soldier in Europe at the end of World War II, there was a young boy that he tried to adopt and take back with him, who had been left from the camps. He always told me the story and he was not able to that. And so whenever you told me that story about your own history and how you got here, it always made me think of my own family and my own grandfather who I didn't have anymore. I just thought it was a remarkable thing, what the life that you've lived. And the other thing that was so impressive was how, you've always said and you've said this on numerous occasions, no matter what we were doing, no matter how hot it got in here, whatever issues, you've always said how much you love this country. How this country gave you everything. I thought, what an amazing story, to go from being an orphan to being able to serve in the State Senate and to have the distinguished public career that you've had. I mean it's just an amazing, amazing story. So, I just wanted to say thank you. Thank you for your friendship and know that you've made a huge impression on a newer and somewhat younger colleague but it's one that I won't forget and I thank you and your family or giving us the service and the time you did with us. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ANGEL

Senator Angel: "Thank you Mr. President. I speak to the resolution as well. I met Paull while I was a Representative in the House, probably five to six years ago, through our Tuesday morning Fellowship, And I didn't know all these wonderful things about this man but his heart came through strong and clear. The love and the compassion that he has for all of us, I felt immediately. And, Paull, after then hearing your story at one of our breakfasts, your life and your heart and your caring, touched my life so strongly and I thank you for that and I thank you for the unconditional love you have shown each one of us every single day you were present. I wish to you God's blessings on your tomorrows and thank you for your yesterdays."

The motion by Senator Liias carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

REMARKS BY SENATOR PAULL SHIN

Senator Paul Shin: "What can I say? I don't know exactly how and what to say but my friends, colleagues and associates for the last eighteen years in this building for every session I want to thank you. I learned so much from you, each day to love you, care for you, care for each other. It's not just my doing, it's your doing that made this difference here. I have tremendous respect for the Lieutenant Governor, Brad Owen. You know he also has Korean adopted children. I as a Korean-American I want to thank you very much for that. My wife, we met fifty one years ago, actually fifty two years ago. We've been married fifty one years. Despite, this color, she faced a lot of discrimination and problems but she stuck with me and all these years. I don't know how to thank her. And we're together our children, grandchildren and living together. We work together. We pray together and eat together and have our parties together. We are all here celebrating this special occasion. My friends, it is you that has also taught me a great deal about ethics and life. Being a State Representative and

2014 REGULAR SESSION

Senator, it's not just a title. It's here to serve. I learn how you're all dedicated so much for the service of our state. I see Mark over there. He was a young kid when I met him. He's a gentleman now and he's sitting in my, Mark, I love you so much and I wish you all the best and all the things we learn from each other. I want to mention each one of your names and Tracey but all of you in lack of time. I just want to say thank you. We have left some books which was published. This is the way to share my love to you. If it wasn't for you I couldn't be what I am today. I learned as an orphan, no place to go, hungry, street corners begging food from age four. Nobody loved me. During the Korean War I was crying on a mountain. Crying for my mom who passed away. Missing her. And when I opened my eyes, tall American soldier, he says 'Why are you crying?' Could you imagine how embarrassed? Said, 'Go away.' He said, 'Why you crying?' 'Go away.' He hugged me so tight. He says, 'I have three children in the United States and when they cry they hurt inside. I want to know why.' He became my adopted father, brought me to America and no education he taught me, my mother also taught me ABC, GED and all the way through higher education. If it wasn't for the love I received from America, United States of America, I would not be here today. It's been my opinion it's payback time folks. I didn't do much just say thank you America. Thank you my brothers and sisters. Thank you to my friends, whatever taken contributions I made, if he made some difference, I feel very honored to be here. I would like you to know that our door is always open. As my friends, she has good cooking abilities. She makes good monkey brains, you know. You are always welcome. We have been together fifty one years. She's been through a lot of hardship with me too because of the social situation but we stuck together. All because the love that you have displayed I learned from you. And all because, Tracey looking at me. All I say, in the interest of time I must stop. Again Lieutenant Governor, thank you for giving me this time. If anytime you need me for anything or if I can be any help to you please don't hesitate to call. I'd be happy to come at your call. And if you're interested in travel around other countries like Korea and Japan and China, I speak the language, I'd be happy to be interpreter for you. How is that? Again thank you my brothers and sisters. Aloha to you, like in Hawaii. Thank you."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Well Senator, you'll be welcome down here at any time. I think it's pretty clear if you did come down it'd be pretty easy to find someone to buy your lunch while you're down here. Thank you very much for your friendship and for your service. Gamsahabnida. (speaking Korean)"

It is an honor to be here and I'm so grateful to have had the opportunity to take my first opportunity on the Senate floor to honor my friend, Senator Paull Shin. He taught me a long time ago you never lose an opportunity to promote a local business so later today you'll have delivered to your offices a growler from the Diamond Knot craft brewing company in Mukilteo. Employees one hundred fifty people in our district, and because I didn't know what everybody wanted to have in that growler, there's a ticket on there that invites you to join me and I will buy your first growler fill. And for those, like Senator Shin, that maybe don't want a beer they have root beer as well. So, we'll make sure to fill it up but you got to come visit me in the Senator Benton: "So, it's your intent with this amendment to continue to appropriate money to each budget department in the Department like we always do through the budgetary process. This is not hands off money that goes back to the Department without legislative appropriation?"

SENATE BILL NO. 6031, by Senator Sheldon

Concerning lake and beach management districts.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Sheldon moved that the following striking amendment by Senator Sheldon be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

Sec. 1. RCW 36.61.010 and 2008 c 301 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature finds that the environmental, recreational, and aesthetic values of many of the state's lakes are threatened by eutrophication and other deterioration and that existing governmental authorities are unable to adequately improve and maintain the quality of the state's lakes.

(2) The legislature intends that an ecosystem-based beach management approach should be used to help promote the health of aquatic ecosystems and that such a management approach be undertaken in a manner that retains ecosystem values within the state. This management approach should use long-term strategies that focus on reducing nutrient inputs from human activities affecting the aquatic ecosystem, such as decreasing nutrients into storm water sewers, decreasing fertilizer application, promoting the proper disposal of pet waste, promoting the use of vegetative borders, promoting the reduction of nutrients from on-site septic systems where appropriate, and protecting riparian areas. Organic debris, including vegetation, driftwood, seaweed, kelp, and organisms, are extremely important to beach ecosystems.

(3) The legislature further finds that it is in the public interest to promote the conservation and stewardship of shorelines and upland properties adjoining lakes and beaches in order to: (a) Conserve natural or scenic resources; (b) protect riparian habitats and water quality; (c) promote conservation of soils, wetlands, shorelines, or tidal marshes; (d) enhance the value of lakes or beaches to the public as well as the benefit of abutting or neighboring parks, forests, wildlife preserves, nature reservations or sanctuaries, or other open space; (e) enhance recreation opportunities; (f) preserve historic sites; and (g) protect visual quality along highway, road, street, trail, recreational, and other corridors or scenic vistas.

(4) It is the purpose of this chapter to establish a governmental mechanism by which property owners can embark on a program of lake or beach improvement and maintenance for their and the general public's benefit, health, and welfare. Public property, including state property, shall be considered the same as private property in this chapter, except liens for special assessments and liens for rates and charges shall not extend to public property. Lake bottom property and marine property below the line of the ordinary high water mark shall not be considered to be benefitted, shall not be subject to special assessments or rates and charges, and shall not receive voting rights under this chapter.

Sec. 2. RCW 36.61.020 and 2008 c 301 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any county may create lake or beach management districts to finance: (a) The improvement and maintenance of lakes or beaches located within or partially within the boundaries of the county; and (b) the acquisition of real property or property rights within or outside a lake or beach management district including, by way of example, conservation easements authorized under RCW 64.04.130, and to promote the conservation and stewardship of shorelines as well as the conservation and stewardship of upland properties adjoining lakes or beaches for conservation or for minimal development. All or a portion of a lake or beach and the adjacent land areas may be included within one or more lake or beach management districts. More than one lake or beach, or portions of lakes or beaches, and the adjacent land areas may be included in a single lake or beach management district.

(2) For the purposes of this chapter, the term "improvement" includes, among other things, the acquisition of real property and property rights within or outside a lake or beach management district for the purposes set forth in RCW 36.61.010 and this section.

(3) Special assessments or rates and charges may be imposed on the property included within a lake or beach management district to finance lake or beach improvement and maintenance activities, including: ~~((4))~~ (a) Controlling or removing aquatic plants and vegetation; ~~((2))~~ (b) improving water quality; ~~((3))~~ (c) controlling water levels; ~~((4))~~ (d) treating and diverting storm water; ~~((5))~~ (e) controlling agricultural waste; ~~((6))~~ (f) studying lake or marine water quality problems and solutions; ~~((7))~~ (g) cleaning and maintaining ditches and streams entering the lake or marine waters or leaving the lake; ~~((8))~~ (h) monitoring air quality; (i) the acquisition of real property and property rights; and ((9)) (j) the related administrative, engineering, legal, and operational costs, including the costs of creating the lake or beach management district.

(4) Special assessments or rates and charges may be imposed annually on all the land in a lake or beach management district for the duration of the lake or beach management district without a related issuance of lake or beach management district bonds or revenue bonds. Special assessments also may be imposed in the manner of special assessments in a local improvement district with each landowner being given the choice of paying the entire special assessment in one payment, or to paying installments, with lake or beach management district bonds being issued to obtain moneys not derived by the initial full payment of the special assessments, and the installments covering all of the costs related to issuing, selling, and redeeming the lake or beach management district bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 36.61 RCW to read as follows:

A proposal to acquire real property or property rights within or outside of a lake or beach management district in accordance with RCW 36.61.020 must, prior to the acquisition of the real property or property rights, have the written approval of a majority of the property owners of the district, as determined by the tax rolls of the county assessor.

Sec. 4. RCW 36.61.070 and 2008 c 301 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) After the public hearing, the county legislative authority may adopt a resolution submitting the question of creating the lake or beach management district to the owners of land within the proposed lake or beach management district, including publicly owned land, if the county legislative authority finds that it is in the public interest to create the lake or beach management district and the financing of the lake or beach improvement and maintenance activities is feasible. The resolution shall also include: ~~((4))~~ (a) A plan describing the proposed lake or beach improvement and maintenance activities which avoid adverse impacts on fish and wildlife and provide for appropriate measures to protect and enhance fish and wildlife; ~~((2))~~ (b) the number of years the lake or beach management district will exist; ~~((3))~~ (c) the amount to be raised by special assessments or rates and charges; ~~((4))~~ (d) if special assessments are to be imposed, whether the special assessments shall be imposed annually for the duration of the lake or beach management district or only once with the possibility of installments being imposed and lake or beach management bonds being issued, or both, and, if both types of special assessments are proposed to be imposed, the lake or beach improvement or maintenance activities proposed to be financed by each type of special assessment; ~~((5))~~ (e) if rates and charges are to be imposed, a description of the proposed rates and charges and the possibility of revenue bonds being issued that are payable from the rates and charges; and ~~((6))~~ (f) the estimated special assessment or rate and charge proposed to be imposed on each parcel included in the proposed lake or beach management district.

(2) No lake or beach management district may be created by a county that includes territory located in another county without the approval of the legislative authority of the other county.

Sec. 5. RCW 36.61.220 and 2008 c 301 s 21 are each amended to read as follows:

Within ~~((fifteen))~~ thirty days after a county creates a lake or beach management district, the county shall cause to be filed with the county treasurer, a description of the lake or beach improvement and maintenance activities proposed that the lake or beach management district finances, the lake or beach management district number, and a copy of the diagram or print showing the boundaries of the lake or beach management district and preliminary special assessment roll or abstract of the same showing thereon the lots, tracts, parcels of land, and other property that will be specially benefitted thereby and the estimated cost and expense of such lake or beach improvement and maintenance activities to be borne by each lot, tract, parcel of land, or other property. The treasurer shall immediately post the proposed special assessment roll upon his or her index of special assessments against the properties affected by the lake or beach improvement or maintenance activities.

Sec. 6. RCW 36.61.250 and 1985 c 398 s 25 are each amended to read as follows:

Except when lake or beach management district bonds are outstanding or when an existing contract might otherwise be impaired, the county legislative authority may stop the imposition of annual special assessments if, in its opinion, the public interest will be served by such action.

Sec. 7. RCW 36.61.260 and 2008 c 301 s 23 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Counties may issue lake or beach management district revenue bonds in accordance with this section. Lake or beach management district bonds may be issued to obtain money sufficient to cover that portion of the special assessments that are not paid within the thirty-day period provided in RCW 36.61.190.

(2) Whenever lake or beach management district revenue bonds are proposed to be issued, the county legislative authority shall create a special fund or funds for the lake or beach management district from which all or a portion of the costs of the lake or beach improvement and maintenance activities shall be paid. Lake or beach management district bonds shall not be issued in excess of the costs and expenses of the lake or beach improvement and maintenance activities and shall not be issued prior to twenty days after the thirty days allowed for the payment of special assessments without interest or penalties.

(3) Lake or beach management district revenue bonds shall be exclusively payable from the special fund or funds and from a guaranty fund that the county may have created out of a portion of proceeds from the sale of the lake or beach management district bonds.

~~((2))~~ (4)(a) Lake or beach management district revenue bonds shall not constitute a general indebtedness of the county issuing the bond nor an obligation, general or special, of the state. The owner of any lake or beach management district revenue bond shall not have any claim for the payment thereof against the county that issues the bonds except for: (i) With respect to revenue bonds payable from special assessments, payment from the special assessments made for the lake or beach improvement or maintenance activities for which the lake or beach management district bond was issued and from the special fund or funds, and a lake or beach management district guaranty fund, that may have been created; and (ii) with respect to revenue bonds payable from rates and charges, payment from rates and charges deposited in the special fund or funds that the county may have created for that purpose. Revenue bonds may be payable from both special assessments and from rates and charges. The county shall not be liable to the owner of any lake or beach management district bond for any loss to ~~((the))~~ a lake or beach management district guaranty fund occurring in the lawful operation of the fund. The owner of a lake or beach management district bond shall not have any claim against the state arising from the lake or beach management district bond, rates and charges, special assessments, or guaranty fund. Tax revenues shall not be used to secure or guarantee the payment of the principal of or interest on lake or beach management district bonds. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, nothing in this section may be interpreted as limiting a county's issuance of bonds pursuant to RCW 36.67.010 in order to assist in the financing of improvements to lakes or beaches located within or partially within the boundaries of the county, including without limitation lakes or beaches located within a lake or beach management district.

(b) The substance of the limitations included in this subsection ~~(4)~~ shall be plainly printed, written, engraved, or reproduced on: ~~((a))~~ (i) Each lake or beach management district bond that is a physical instrument; ~~((b))~~ (ii) the official notice of sale; and ~~((c))~~ (iii) each official statement associated with the lake or beach management district bonds.

~~((3))~~ (5) If the county fails to make any principal or interest payments on any lake or beach management district bond or to promptly collect any special assessment securing ~~((the))~~ lake or beach management district revenue bonds when due, the owner of the lake or beach management district revenue bond may obtain a writ of mandamus from any court of competent jurisdiction requiring the county to collect the special assessments, foreclose on the related lien, and make payments out of the special fund or guaranty fund if one exists. Any number of owners of lake or beach management districts may join as plaintiffs.

~~((4))~~ (6) A county may create a lake or beach management district bond guaranty fund for each issue of lake or beach management district bonds. The guaranty fund shall only exist for the life of the lake or beach management district bonds with which it is associated. A portion of the bond proceeds may be placed into a guaranty fund. Unused moneys remaining in the guaranty fund during the last two years of the installments shall be used to proportionally reduce the required level of installments and shall be transferred into the special fund into which installment payments are placed. A county may, in the discretion of the legislative authority of the county, deposit amounts into a lake or beach management district bond guaranty fund from any money legally available for that purpose. Any amounts remaining in the guaranty fund after the repayment of all revenue bonds secured thereby and the payment of assessment installments, may be applied to lake or beach improvement and maintenance activities or to other county purposes.

~~((5))~~ (7) Lake or beach management district bonds shall be issued and sold in accordance with chapter 39.46 RCW. The authority to create a special fund or funds shall include the authority to create accounts within a fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 36.61 RCW to read as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 36.61 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In connection with the acquisition of real property or property rights within or outside a lake or beach management district, a county may: (a) Own real property and property rights, including without limitation conservation easements; (b) transfer real property and property rights to another state or local governmental entity; (c) contract with a public or private entity, including without limitation a financial institution with trust powers, a municipal corporation, or a nonprofit corporation, to hold real property or property rights such as conservation easements in trust for the purposes of the lake and beach management district, and, in connection with those services, to pay the reasonable costs of that financial institution or nonprofit corporation; (d) monitor and enforce the terms of a real property right such as a conservation easement, or for that purpose to contract with a public or private entity, including without limitation a financial institution with trust powers, a municipal corporation, or a nonprofit corporation; (e) impose terms, conditions, and encumbrances upon real property or property rights acquired in respect of a lake or beach management district, and amend the same; and (f) accept gifts, grants, and loans in connection with the acquisition of real property and property rights for lake or beach management district purposes.

(2) If a county contracts with a financial institution, municipal corporation, or nonprofit corporation to hold that property or property rights in trust for purposes of the district, the terms of the contract must provide that the financial institution, municipal corporation, or nonprofit corporation may not sell, pledge, or hypothecate the property or property rights for any purpose, and must further provide for the return of the property or property rights back to the county in the event of a material breach of the terms of the contract.

(3) Before a lake or beach management district in existence as of the effective date of this section exercises the powers set forth in this section, the legislative authority of the county must provide for an amended resolution of intention and modify the plan for the district, with a public hearing, all as provided in RCW 36.61.050."

What exactly does that mean? And is it, I understood the striker was, within the district and that's what we were talking about. This says 'within or outside.'"

Senator Sheldon: "Well, Mr. President, without knowing the, having the RCW in front of me I can't tell you exactly. But I can tell you, in the case of Lake Nahwatzel, it's adjacent to the lake, to the lake shore. They'd like to acquire this conservation easement. REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President did have the great privilege of serving with Senator Fleming a number of years ago. He was so passionate that I remember us being out some place having a diet Coke or something and he spent the next hour an half talking to me about nursing homes. He also beat me in 1988 for this job but we were still friends. It's a great privilege for me to introduce to you the most distinguished and honored gentleman, Senator George Fleming."

REMARKS BY GEORGE FLEMING

George Fleming: "Mr. President, and assembled guests, and a special acknowledgement to all the distinguished members of this legislative body. Kind of hard for me not to get emotional, so bear with me. I also want to say to the ladies and gentlemen, my fellow Washingtonians, thank you so much. Words cannot explain the depth and the appreciation I have for you. This ceremony today, this is most memorable. I realize that you have more important things to do, pass bills and other things so I don't plan on taking too much of your time. but I do appreciate the recognition of my career in public service is truly special. I also want to thank my family for being there. I must say that things have changed quite a bit since I've served here in the chamber and what you legislators go through today is simply amazing. I must say that, much has changed when I was serving here but yet some things remain the same. Sometime it feels like things are so divisive and breaks down along party lines. I'm glad to say that that never happened to our slim majorities but the reason we all got into this business, You and I was because of the people who gave us their vote and placed their trust in us. They wanted us to gather here in sixty or one hundred five days to take care of business that they wanted done. See, to them it was not about republicans, democrats, male or female, it's truly about whether their issues would be addressed or not. I've worked with a bunch of peoples with whom I disagreed with throughout the state, both sides of the aisles. In fact you heard earlier by the Senator some of the things that were there then and not now. I have members of this adjust body refuse to ride the same elevator with me but despite our differences we were able to pass some pretty substantial land mark, pieces of legislation, many of which still stand today. However, while time won't allow that I would like to thank a lot of people, I do thank Senator Kline and Lieutenant Governor Owen for this ceremony. Also those great former staff people who supported me, the members with whom I served, the lobbyist who provided so much great information who really helped to make this place operate. There was no greater privilege than there being chose to support my constituents. I love this country, I love this state, where else could a poor kid from the south establish a home, get a job and within ten years be chosen by the people of his community to represent their hopes and dreams. To then stay there for over twenty years to the same constituents and I thank them. The George Fleming story is nothing short of an American tale. One that is repeated so many times, so, as you continue with your careers and in some cases you bring them to a close just remember your name may never get on the side of a building or a street named after you, remember, remember that this was really about expectations that you would make the world and the state a better place. If you've done either then I salute you and say 'Job well done', never in my wildest dreams growing up in the south did I imagine the places I'd go to, China, Taiwan, people I got to meet. It has been an amazing journey and I'm pleased and blessed that I got to spend it with people like you. Thank you."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Pedersen: "Thank you. I believe that the amendment that's been offered is outside the scope and object of the bill. I think briefly that the underlying bill is quite specifically about under age access to tanning devices. The amendment that's been offered expands the scope and object of the bill dramatically to include any surgical procedures undergone by minors. Thank you."

Senator Benton spoke against the point of order.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Pedersen on the scope and object of Senate Bill No. 6065, the President finds and rules as follows: The President finds that the original bill is a measure that regulates only the tanning industry by prohibiting individuals under the age of eighteen from using an ultraviolet tanning device. An owner of a tanning facility who violates this provision is liable for a civil penalty. In contrast, the amendment provides that a parent must be notified before his or her child may receive any surgical procedure.

The President finds that this amendment is clearly outside of both the scope and the object of this bill, and Senator Pedersen's point is well taken."

Senator Keiser spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Senate Bill No. 6065.

parties shall also prepare a schedule of at least five negotiation dates for the following year, absent an agreement to the contrary. The parties shall execute a written agreement before November 1st of each odd-numbered year setting forth the names of the members of the arbitration panel and the dates reserved for bargaining and arbitration. This subsection imposes minimum obligations only and is not intended to define or limit a party's full, good faith bargaining obligation under other sections of this chapter.

(2) The mediator or arbitration panel may consider only matters that are subject to bargaining under section 1(2)(e)(i) of this act, and may not consider matters that are subject to bargaining under section 1(2)(e)(iii) of this act, the number of names to be certified for vacancies, promotional preferences, and the dollar amount expended on behalf of each employee for health care benefits.

(3) The decision of an arbitration panel is not binding on the legislature and, if the legislature does not approve the funds necessary to implement the compensation and fringe benefit provisions in an arbitrated collective bargaining agreement, is not binding on the state or western state hospital and eastern state hospital.

(4) In making its determination, the arbitration panel shall be mindful of the legislative purpose enumerated in RCW 41.56.430 and, as additional standards or guidelines to aid it in reaching a decision, shall take into consideration the following factors:

(a) The financial ability of the department to pay for the provisions of a collective bargaining agreement;

(b) The constitutional and statutory authority of the employer;

(c) Stipulations of the parties;

(d) Comparison of the terms and conditions of employment relevant to employee safety of personnel involved in the proceedings with the terms and conditions of employment relevant to employee safety of like personnel of like employers of similar size on the west coast of the United States;

(e) Changes in any of the factors listed in this subsection during the pendency of the proceedings; and

(f) Such other factors, not confined to those listed in this subsection, which are normally or traditionally taken into consideration in the determination of matters that are subject to bargaining under section 1(2)(e)(i) of this act and mediation or arbitration under this section.

Sec. 4. RCW 41.80.020 and 2013 2nd sp.s. c 4 s 972 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the matters subject to bargaining include wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment, and the negotiation of any question arising under a collective bargaining agreement.

(2) The employer is not required to bargain over matters pertaining to:

(a) Health care benefits or other employee insurance benefits, except as required in subsection (3) of this section;

(b) Any retirement system or retirement benefit; or

(c) Rules of the human resources director, the director of enterprise services, or the Washington personnel resources board adopted under RCW 41.06.157.

(3) Matters subject to bargaining include the number of names to be certified for vacancies, promotional preferences, and the dollar amount expended on behalf of each employee for health care benefits. However, except as provided otherwise in this subsection for institutions of higher education, negotiations regarding the number of names to be certified for vacancies, promotional preferences, and the dollar amount expended on behalf of each employee for health care benefits shall be conducted between the employer and one coalition of all the exclusive bargaining representatives subject to this chapter and all the exclusive bargaining representatives subject to section 1 of this act. The exclusive bargaining representatives for employees that are subject to chapter 47.64 RCW shall bargain the dollar amount expended on behalf of each employee for health care benefits with the employer as part of the coalition under this subsection. Any such provision agreed to by the employer and the coalition shall be included in all master collective bargaining agreements negotiated by the parties. For institutions of higher education, promotional preferences and the number of names to be certified for vacancies shall be bargained under the provisions of RCW 41.80.010(4). For agreements covering the 2013-2015 fiscal biennium, any agreement between the employer and the coalition regarding the dollar amount expended on behalf of each employee for health care benefits is a separate agreement and shall not be included in the master collective bargaining agreements negotiated by the parties.

(4) The employer and the exclusive bargaining representative shall not agree to any proposal that would prevent the implementation of approved affirmative action plans or that would be inconsistent with the comparable worth agreement that provided the basis for the salary changes implemented beginning with the 1983-1985 biennium to achieve comparable worth.

(5) The employer and the exclusive bargaining representative shall not bargain over matters pertaining to management rights established in RCW 41.80.040.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, if a conflict exists between an executive order, administrative rule, or agency policy relating to wages, hours, and terms and conditions of employment and a collective bargaining agreement negotiated under this chapter, the collective bargaining agreement shall prevail. A provision of a collective bargaining agreement that conflicts with the terms of a statute is invalid and unenforceable.

(7) This section does not prohibit bargaining that affects contracts authorized by RCW 41.06.142.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 41.56 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Collective bargaining negotiations between the state and bargaining units of employees working for western state hospital and eastern state hospital under this chapter shall commence no later than July 1, 2014. A collective bargaining agreement between the state and any bargaining unit of employees working for western state hospital and eastern state hospital entered into under this chapter shall not be effective prior to July 1, 2015.

(2) Any collective bargaining agreement between the state and any bargaining unit of employees working for western state hospital and eastern state hospital entered into under chapter 41.80 RCW before July 1, 2014, that expires after July 1, 2014, shall, unless a superseding agreement complying with this chapter is negotiated by the parties, remain in full force during its duration, but the agreement may not be renewed or extended beyond July 1, 2015, or until superseded by a collective bargaining agreement entered into under this chapter, whichever is later.

(3) The duration of any collective bargaining agreement between the state and bargaining units of employees working for western state hospital and eastern state hospital under this chapter shall not exceed one fiscal biennium." Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Padden: "Thank you Mr. President. I believe that the amendment offered is beyond the scope and object of the underlying bill. The underlying bill amends a criminal statute regarding assault under RCW 9A.36.031. The changes proposed by the bill would elevate a simple misdemeanor assault to a felony when the victim is an employee, contractor, intern or volunteer of Western State Hospital, Eastern State Hospital or the Child Study Treatment Center when the person is performing his or her official duties at the time of the assault. By contrast Mr. President, the amendment deals with collective bargaining for employees of Western and Eastern State Hospitals under RCW Chapter 41.56. It grandfathers in certain bargaining units and mandates certain arbitrations. For these reasons I believe the amendment offered is outside the scope and object of the underlying bill and I respectfully request a ruling on this matter. Thank you.”

We met, my roommate actually introduced us, and it's when I was a stewardess and we came over and we all had dinner and he played a game of spoons and he cheated. I told him that I couldn't even begin to talk to people that cheated. So we have now been married for forty one years and we dated for three years before that and the interesting thing is we got married on my mom and dad's anniversary. My mom will be ninety six in April and so I just want to say, 'Mom, if dad was alive, it'd be Happy Anniversary to you too. SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5540, by Senate Committee on Ways & Means (originally sponsored by Senators Parlette, Schlicher, Becker, Bailey, Dammeier, Keiser, Rolfes and Frockt)

Expanding opportunities to purchase health care coverage from out-of-state carriers.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Parlette moved that the following striking amendment by Senator Parlette be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

- (1) "Qualifying reciprocal insurer" means a foreign insurer that:
 - (a) Meets the definition of "issuer" pursuant to P.L. 111-148 of 2010, as amended;
 - (b) Is authorized in a state that is a member of the consortium authorized in section 4 of this act;
 - (c) Proposes to sell in Washington only a qualifying reciprocal plan;
 - (d) Has and maintains total adjusted capital that is greater than three times its authorized control level risk-based capital; and
 - (e) To the extent required by the reciprocity agreement between the primary state of issue and the commissioner, complies with state laws applicable to issuers in the state of Washington.
- (2) "Qualifying reciprocal plan" means a plan that:
 - (a) Contains an essential health benefits package that is substantially equal to the essential health benefit benchmark plan designated pursuant to RCW 48.43.715 and provides minimum essential coverage as required by P.L. 111-148 of 2010, as amended;
 - (b) Has been approved by a state regulator for a state with which the commissioner has a reciprocity agreement;
 - (c) Is not a health savings account or qualified high deductible health plan; and
 - (d) Complies with the market rules established in RCW 48.43.700 and 48.43.705.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) Each qualifying reciprocal plan issued or renewed must contain the following declaration in bold face type at the beginning of the document:

"The benefits in this policy may not include each of the benefits required by the state of Washington. (Name of state) initially approved this policy for sale, and the benefit requirements of that state are reflected in the policy. The rates applied to calculate premium were not approved by the state of Washington, but by (Name of state). Those requirements may be different from the requirements for policies approved by Washington. Please consult your insurance agent or insurer to determine which health benefits are covered under the policy."

(2) Each qualifying reciprocal insurer offering a qualifying reciprocal plan must provide applicants with a written side by side comparison of health benefits under the plan, including differences in definition of each benefit between Washington law and the law of the approving state, whether the benefit is required under Washington law, and the difference in the premium rate due to the difference in state laws. Where a producer is offering the plan to an applicant, the producer must provide the written comparison.

(3) A qualifying reciprocal insurer offering qualifying reciprocal plans must offer the plan through producers licensed under chapter 48.17 RCW. Electronic marketing and sales of out-of-state policies are permitted under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) A qualifying reciprocal plan must use a premium rate schedule approved by its state of issue for the plan, and apply the standards for calculating the premium required by the United States department of health and human services for out-of-state coverage.

(2) The premium rate schedule for a qualifying reciprocal plan may not be adjusted more frequently than once a year.

(3) A qualifying reciprocal plan may only be offered in the small group market in Washington.

(4) A qualifying reciprocal plan is not required to include health benefit mandates required under this title that are not included in the qualifying reciprocal plan.

(5) A qualifying reciprocal plan must be filed with the commissioner for approval prior to use pursuant to RCW 48.18.100. The commissioner shall approve the plan for use in Washington state if the plan meets the requirements of this chapter and shall disapprove it if it does not. When determining whether the qualifying reciprocal plan contains an essential health benefits package that is substantially equal to the essential health benefit benchmark plan designated pursuant to RCW 48.43.715, the commissioner shall utilize the same standards and procedures applicable to carriers licensed in Washington. The commissioner may not rely upon the determination of a member consortium state as to whether the qualifying reciprocal plan contains an essential health benefits package substantially equal to the essential health benefit benchmark plan designated pursuant to RCW 48.43.715.

(6) Except as provided in this section, RCW 48.18.110 may not be grounds for disapproval of a qualifying reciprocal plan.

(7) To the extent consistent with federal law, and except as provided in this chapter, the requirements of chapter 48.43 RCW do not apply to a qualifying reciprocal plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) Beginning July 1, 2015, the commissioner is authorized to contract with other states to establish and operate a consortium formed through written agreement governing the sale to small groups of a qualifying reciprocal plan, by qualifying reciprocal insurers admitted in one of the states in the consortium. A reciprocity agreement must be executed between the commissioner and the appropriate entity in a participating state prior to the offer and issue of a qualifying reciprocal plan under this chapter. The consortium is not intended to operate as a compact.

(2) The commissioner may not enter into a reciprocity agreement until the commissioner has identified a minimum of five states whose regulatory requirements for the offer and issue of health benefit plans meets or exceeds those of Washington in the areas of network adequacy, consumer protection, marketing requirements, and claims adjudication and processing. The consortium may commence with a reciprocity agreement with just one of the states.

(3) A state may not join the consortium if it has admitted two or more issuers domiciled in Washington that offer health benefit plans, unless five or more other states have joined the consortium.

(4) The commissioner may enter into separate reciprocity agreements, or one uniform agreement. Each reciprocity agreement must establish rules for the management of consumer questions and complaints related to health benefit plans approved by one member state but sold in another. The commissioner may adopt rules to implement consortium rules as necessary to comply with the consortium agreement.

(5) Consortium member states must agree to provide the commissioner with a list of approved qualifying reciprocal plans that meet the standards under this chapter, and their premium rate schedules as they are approved. If a qualifying reciprocity plan is disapproved or otherwise removed from the market pursuant to regulatory action or order, the primary state of issue must notify the commissioner of this action.

(6) The reciprocity agreement must establish a mechanism for payment of premium tax pursuant to chapter 48.14 RCW, payment of regulatory surcharge pursuant to RCW 48.02.190, and collection of any reinsurance or risk adjustment assessments that would otherwise be applicable but for the domicile of the selling insurer.

(7) Qualifying reciprocal insurers must inform each consortium state in writing of the intent to offer a qualifying reciprocal policy in a state not less than sixty days prior to the first date of offer.

THIRTY FIRST DAY, FEBRUARY 12, 2014

2014 REGULAR SESSION

Reciprocity consortium member states may establish additional requirements for notification and offer applicable to that state.

(8) The commissioner may enter into one or more personal services contracts with third-party contractors to provide services necessary to accomplish the commissioner's responsibilities under this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A qualifying reciprocal plan may be certified as a qualified health plan through the exchange only if it, and its qualifying reciprocal insurer, meet the requirements of the exchange for certification as a qualified health plan, and if the plan follows the market rules established in RCW 48.43.700.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) By January 1, 2015, the commissioner must report to the legislature which states have been identified under section 4(2) of this act, and include a plan for seeking a reciprocity agreement with at least one state.

(2) The commissioner must report to the legislature by December 1, 2016, and December 1st of each year following, the status of the reciprocity consortium's formation, membership, the number of qualifying reciprocal plans offered in Washington through the consortium, the effect on the marketplace in Washington, including the health benefits exchange, and must recommend whether continuing reciprocity sales serves the public health and welfare.

Sec. 7. RCW 48.05.070 and 1947 c 79 s .05.07 are each amended to read as follows:

To apply for an original certificate of authority an insurer shall:

- (1) File with the commissioner its request therefor showing:
 - (a) Its name, home office location, type of insurer, organization date, and state or country of its domicile.
 - (b) The kinds of insurance it proposes to transact.
 - (c) Additional information as the commissioner may reasonably require.
- (2) File with the commissioner:

 - (b) A copy of its bylaws, certified by its proper officer.
 - (c) A statement of its financial condition, management, and affairs on a form satisfactory to or furnished by the commissioner.
 - (d) If a foreign or alien insurer, or a domestic reciprocal insurer, an appointment of the commissioner as its attorney to receive service of legal process.
 - (e) If an alien insurer, a copy of the appointment and authority of its United States manager, certified by its proper officer.
 - (f) If a foreign or alien insurer, a certificate from the proper public official of its state or country of domicile showing that it is duly organized and is authorized to transact the kinds of insurance proposed to be transacted.
 - (g) If a domestic reciprocal insurer, the declaration required by RCW 48.10.090 of this code.
 - (h) Other documents or stipulations as the commissioner may reasonably require to evidence compliance with the provisions of this code.

(3) A qualifying reciprocal insurer, as defined in section 1 of this act, is not required to comply with subsection (2)(a), (b), (c), (e), or (g) of this section.

(4) Deposit with the commissioner the fees required by this code to be paid for filing the accompanying documents, and for the certificate of authority, if granted.

Sec. 8. RCW 48.21.047 and 2010 c 292 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) An insurer may not offer any health benefit plan to any small employer without complying with RCW 48.21.045(3).
- (2) Employers purchasing health plans provided through associations or through member-governed groups formed specifically for the purpose of purchasing health care are not small employers and the plans are not subject to RCW 48.21.045(3).

(3) A qualifying reciprocal plan as defined in section 1 of this act, is not subject to RCW 48.21.045.

(4) For purposes of this section, "health benefit plan," "health plan," and "small employer" mean the same as defined in RCW 48.43.005.

~~((4))~~ (5) For purposes of this section, "census date" has the same meaning as defined in RCW 48.44.010.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Padden that amendment number 418 by Senator Conway expands the scope and object of Senate Bill 6022, the President finds and rules as follows: Senate Bill 6022 is a narrow, one section bill that focuses exclusively on the definition of third degree assault. It provides that when an assault victim is an employee of Western State Hospital, Eastern State Hospital or the Child Study Treatment Center, the penalty is increased to the felony level. Amendment number 418 by Senator Conway focuses entirely on collective bargaining. Among other things, it applies the Public Employees' Collective Bargaining Act to employees of Eastern and Western State hospitals, including mediation and arbitration for employee safety issues. While one might argue that both the amendment and the underlying bill deal very broadly with the issue of employee safety, the underlying bill is narrow, making it much more difficult to find an amendment to be within its limited scope and object. In this case, the body of the underlying bill limits its scope to a definition in a criminal statute. At this point, the President would like to remind the members that while the title of the bill may be important, and even controlling in other bodies, in this body, the President looks to the scope and object of the bill itself, without regard to the bill's title.

For these reasons, the President, finds that the amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and Senator Padden's point of order is well taken."

shoreline areas. The legislature also recognizes that, as affirmed in chapter 212, Laws of 2011, existing floating homes are an important cultural amenity and an element of the state's maritime history and economy. The 2011 legislation, which clarified the legal status of floating homes, was intended to ensure the vitality and long-term survival of existing floating single-family home communities.

(2) The legislature finds that further clarification of the status of other residential uses on water that meet specific requirements and share important cultural, historical, and economic commonalities with floating homes, is necessary.

(3) The legislature, therefore, intends to: Preserve the existence and vitality of current, floating on-water residential uses; establish greater clarity and regulatory uniformity for these uses; and respect the well-established authority of local governments to determine compliance with regulatory requirements applicable to their jurisdiction.

Sec. 2. RCW 90.58.270 and 2011 c 212 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Nothing in this (~~statute~~) section shall constitute authority for requiring or ordering the removal of any structures, improvements, docks, fills, or developments placed in navigable waters prior to December 4, 1969, and the consent and authorization of the state of Washington to the impairment of public rights of navigation, and corollary rights incidental thereto, caused by the retention and maintenance of said structures, improvements, docks, fills or developments are hereby granted: PROVIDED, That the consent herein given shall not relate to any structures, improvements, docks, fills, or developments placed on tidelands, shorelands, or beds underlying said waters which are in trespass or in violation of state statutes.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be construed as altering or abridging any private right of action, other than a private right which is based upon the impairment of public rights consented to in subsection (1) (~~hereof~~) of this section.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed as altering or abridging the authority of the state or local governments to suppress or abate nuisances or to abate pollution.

(4) Subsection (1) of this section shall apply to any case pending in the courts of this state on June 1, 1971 relating to the removal of structures, improvements, docks, fills, or developments based on the impairment of public navigational rights.

(5)(a) A floating home permitted or legally established prior to January 1, 2011, must be classified as a conforming preferred use.

(b) For the purposes of this subsection:

(i) "Conforming preferred use" means that applicable development and shoreline master program regulations may only impose reasonable conditions and mitigation that will not effectively preclude maintenance, repair, replacement, and remodeling of existing floating homes and floating home moorages by rendering these actions impracticable.

(ii) "Floating home" means a single-family dwelling unit constructed on a float, that is moored, anchored, or otherwise secured in waters, and is not a vessel, even though it may be capable of being towed.

(6)(a) A floating on-water residence legally established prior to July 1, 2014, must be considered a conforming use and accommodated through reasonable shoreline master program regulations, permit conditions, or mitigation that will not effectively preclude maintenance, repair, replacement, and remodeling of existing floating on-water residences and their moorages by rendering these actions impracticable.

(b) For the purpose of this subsection, "floating on-water residence" means any floating structure other than a floating home, as defined under subsection (5) of this section, that: (i) Is designed or used primarily as a residence on the water and has detachable utilities; and (ii) whose owner or primary occupant has held an ownership interest in space in a marina, or has held a lease or sublease to use space in a marina, since a date prior to July 1, 2014.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kline: "Mr. President, I would like to address the clipping that I've circulated among the group. It's not appropriate to any particular legislation that's on our agendas or our orders of consideration today but it is appropriate to one of the concerns that we have in this body about law enforcement, about our responsibility to the citizens, to the police and to the public security for maintaining our police officers. There is I think sometimes endemic in our culture, a kind of inequality not only along racial lines but along economic lines as well. And we as a legislature are required to keep tabs and sometimes keep tight control on those governmental officers who have contact with folks in the way that you see illustrated, a little graphically, right here. There's an old saying that the law in all its majesty prevents the rich as well as the poor from sleeping under bridges and begging crusts of bread. We I think would do well to understand the way ordinary, hardworking and very poor folks see the world. Looking from the bottom up it's a lot different than we sometimes see it from our perch right here in the Legislature. Thank you."

MOTION

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"PART 1
INVASIVE SPECIES—MANAGEMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 101. The legislature finds that:

(1) The state's fish, wildlife, and habitat are exceptionally valuable environmental resources for the state's citizens.

(2) The state's fish, wildlife, and habitat also provide exceptionally valuable economic, cultural, and recreational resources. These include hydroelectric power, agriculture, forests, water supplies, commercial and recreational fisheries, aquaculture, and public access to outdoor recreational opportunities.

(3) Invasive species pose a grave threat to these environmental and economic resources, especially to salmon recovery and state and federally listed threatened and endangered species. Because of the significant harm invasive species can cause, invasive species constitute a public nuisance.

(4) If allowed to become established, invasive species can threaten human health and cause environmental and economic disasters affecting not only our state, but other states and nations.

(5) The risk of invasive species spreading into Washington increases as travel and commerce grows in volume and efficiency.

(6) Prevention of invasive species is a cost-effective, successful, and proven management strategy. Prevention is the state's highest management priority with an emphasis on education and outreach, inspections, and rapid response.

THIRTY THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 14, 2014

2014 REGULAR SESSION

(7) The integrated management of invasive species through pathways regulated by the department is critical to preventing the introduction and spread of a broad range of such species, including plants, diseases, and parasites.

(8) Washington's citizens must work together to protect the state from invasive species.

(9) Public and private partnerships, cooperative agreements, and compacts are important for preventing new arrivals and managing existing populations of invasive species, and coordinating these actions on local, state, national, and international levels.

(10) The department requires authority for this mission to effectively counter the unpredictable nature of invasive species' introductions and spread, enable the utilization of new advances in invasive ecology science, and implement applicable techniques and technology to address invasive species.

(11) An integrated management approach provides the best way for the state to manage invasive species and includes opportunities for creating an informed public, encouraging public involvement, and striving for local, regional, national, and international cooperation and consistency on management standards. An integrated management approach also applies sound science to minimize the chance that invasive species used for beneficial purposes will result in environmental harm.

(12) This chapter provides authority for the department to effectively address invasive species using an integrated management approach.

(13) The department of fish and wildlife currently has sufficient statutory authority to effectively address invasive species risks posed through discharge of ballast water under chapter 77.120 RCW and by private sector shellfish aquaculture operations regulated under chapter 77.115 RCW. The programs developed by the department under these chapters embody the principles of prevention as the highest priority, integrated management of pathways, public-private partnerships, clean and drain principles, and rapid response capabilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 102. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Aquatic conveyance" means transportable personal property having the potential to move an aquatic invasive species from one aquatic environment to another. Aquatic conveyances include but are not limited to watercraft and associated equipment, float planes, construction equipment, fish tanker trucks, hydroelectric and irrigation equipment, personal fishing and hunting gear, and materials used for aquatic habitat mitigation or restoration.

(2) "Aquatic invasive species" means an invasive species of the animal kingdom with a life cycle that is at least partly dependent upon fresh, brackish, or marine waters. Examples include nutria, waterfowl, amphibians, fish, and shellfish.

(3) "Aquatic plant" means a native or nonnative emergent, submersed, partially submersed, free-floating, or floating-leaved plant species that is dependent upon fresh, brackish, or marine water ecosystems and includes all stages of development and parts.

(4) "Certificate of inspection" means a department-approved document that declares, to the extent technically or measurably possible, that an aquatic conveyance does not carry or contain an invasive species. Certification may be in the form of a decal, label, rubber stamp imprint, tag, permit, locking seal, or written statement.

(5) "Clean and drain" means to remove the following from areas on or within an aquatic conveyance to the extent technically and measurably possible:

(a) Visible native and nonnative aquatic animals, plants, or other organisms; and

(b) Raw water.

(6) "Commercial watercraft" means a management category of aquatic conveyances:

(a) Required to have valid marine documentation as a vessel of the United States or similar required documentation for a country other than the United States; and

(b) Not subject to watercraft registration requirements under chapter 88.02 RCW or ballast water requirements under chapter 77.120 RCW.

(7) "Cryptogenic species" means a species that scientists cannot commonly agree are native or nonnative or are part of the animal kingdom.

(8) "Decontaminate" means, to the extent technically and measurably possible, the application of a treatment to kill, destroy, remove, or otherwise eliminate all known or suspected invasive species carried on or contained within an aquatic conveyance or structural property by use of physical, chemical, or other methods. Decontamination treatments may include drying an aquatic conveyance for a time sufficient to kill aquatic invasive species through desiccation.

(9) "Detect" means the verification of invasive species' presence as defined by the department.

(10) "Eradicate" means, to the extent technically and measurably possible, to kill, destroy, remove, or otherwise eliminate an invasive species from a water body or property using physical, chemical, or other methods.

(11) "Infested site management" means management actions as provided under section 109 of this act that may include long-term actions to contain, control, or eradicate a prohibited species.

(12) "Introduce" means to intentionally or unintentionally release, place, or allow the escape, dissemination, or establishment of an invasive species on or into a water body or property as a result of human activity or a failure to act.

(13) "Invasive species" means nonnative species of the animal kingdom that are not naturally occurring in Washington for purposes of breeding, resting, or foraging, and that pose an invasive risk of harming or threatening the state's environmental, economic, or human resources. Invasive species include all stages of species development and body parts. They may also include genetically modified or cryptogenic species.

(14) "Invasive species council" means the Washington invasive species council established in RCW 79A.25.310 or a similar collaborative state agency forum. The term includes the council and all of its officers, employees, agents, and contractors.

(15) "Mandatory check station" means a location where a person transporting an aquatic conveyance must stop and allow the conveyance to be inspected for aquatic invasive species.

(16) "Possess" means to have authority over the use of an invasive species or use of an aquatic conveyance that may carry or contain an invasive species. For the purposes of this subsection, "authority over" includes the ability to intentionally or unintentionally hold, import, export, transport, purchase, sell, barter, distribute, or propagate an invasive species.

(17) "Prohibited species" means a classification category of nonnative species as provided in section 104 of this act.

(18) "Property" means both real and personal property.

(19) "Quarantine declaration" means a management action as provided under section 107 of this act involving the prohibition or conditioning of the movement of aquatic conveyances and waters from a place or an area that is likely to contain a prohibited species.

(20) "Rapid response" means expedited management actions as provided under section 108 of this act triggered when invasive species are detected, for the time-sensitive purpose of containing or eradicating the species before it spreads or becomes further established.

(21) "Raw water" means water from a water body and held on or within property. "Raw water" does not include water from precipitation that is captured in a conveyance, structure, or depression that is not otherwise intended to function as a water body, or water from a potable water supply system, unless the water contains visible aquatic organisms.

(22) "Regulated species" means a classification category of nonnative species as provided in section 104 of this act.

(23) "Registered watercraft" means a management category of aquatic conveyances required to register as vessels under RCW 88.02.550 or similar requirements for a state other than Washington or a country other than the United States.

(24) "Seaplane" means a management category of aquatic conveyances capable of landing on or taking off from water and required to register as an aircraft under RCW 47.68.250 or similar registration in a state other than Washington or a country other than the United States.

(25) "Small watercraft" means a management category of aquatic conveyances:

(a) Including inflatable and hard-shell watercraft used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on the water, such as kayaks, canoes, sailboats, and rafts that:

(i) Do not meet watercraft registration requirements under chapter 88.02 RCW; and

(ii) Are ten feet or more in length with or without mechanical propulsion or less than ten feet in length and fitted with mechanical propulsion.

(b) Excluding nonmotorized aquatic conveyances of any size not designed or modified to be used as a means of transportation on the water, such as inflatable air mattresses and tubes, beach and water toys, surf boards, and paddle boards.

(26) "Water body" means an area that carries or contains a collection of water, regardless of whether the feature carrying or containing the water is natural or nonnatural. Examples include basins, bays, coves, streams, rivers, springs, lakes, wetlands, reservoirs, ponds, tanks, irrigation canals, and ditches.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 103. (1) The department is the lead agency for managing invasive species of the animal kingdom statewide. informed public and assist the department in meeting the intent of this chapter;

(g) Enter into partnerships, cooperative agreements, and state or interstate compacts as necessary to accomplish the intent of this chapter;

(h) Research and develop invasive species management tools, including standard methods for decontaminating aquatic conveyances and controlling or eradicating invasive species from water bodies and properties;

(i) Post invasive species signs and information at port districts, privately or publicly owned marinas, state parks, and all boat launches owned or leased by state agencies or political subdivisions; and

(j) Adopt rules as needed to implement the provisions of this chapter.

(3) The department may delegate selected and clearly identified elements of its authorities and duties to another agency of the state with appropriate expertise or administrative capacity upon cooperative agreement with that agency. This delegation may include provisions of funding for implementation of the delegations. The department retains primary authority and responsibility for all requirements of this chapter unless otherwise directed in this chapter.

(4) This chapter does not apply to the possession or introduction of nonnative aquatic animal species by:

(a) Ballast water held or discharged by vessels regulated under chapter 77.120 RCW; or

(b) Private sector aquaculture operations, transfers, or conveyances regulated under chapter 77.115 RCW.

(5) This chapter does not preempt or replace other department species classification systems or other management requirements under this title. However, the department must streamline invasive species requirements under this chapter into existing permits and cooperative agreements as possible.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 104. (1) The department, in consultation with the invasive species council, may classify or reclassify and list by rule nonnative aquatic animal species as prohibited level 1, level 2, or level 3, based on the degree of invasive risk, the type of management action required, and resources available to conduct the management action.

(a) Species classified as prohibited level 1 pose a high invasive risk and are a priority for prevention and expedited rapid response management actions.

(b) Species classified as prohibited level 2 pose a high invasive risk and are a priority for long-term infested site management actions.

(c) Species classified as prohibited level 3 pose a moderate to high invasive risk and may be appropriate for prevention, rapid response, or other prohibited species management plan actions by the department, another agency, a local government, tribes, or the public.

(2) The department, in consultation with the invasive species council, may classify and list by rule regulated type A species. This classification is used for nonnative aquatic animal species that pose a low to moderate invasive risk that can be managed based on intended use or geographic scope of introduction, have a beneficial use, and are a priority for department-led or department-approved management of the species' beneficial use and invasive risks.

(3) Nonnative aquatic animal species not classified as prohibited level 1, level 2, or level 3 under subsection (1) of this section, or as regulated type A species under subsection (2) of this section, are automatically managed statewide as regulated type B species or regulated type C species and do not require listing by rule.

(a) Species managed as regulated type B pose a low or unknown invasive risk and are possessed for personal or commercial purposes, such as for aquariums, live food markets, or as nondomesticated pets.

(b) Species managed as regulated type C pose a low or unknown invasive risk and include all other species that do not meet the criteria for management as a regulated type B invasive species.

(4) Classification of prohibited and regulated species:

(a) May be by individual species or larger taxonomic groups up to the family name;

(b) Must align, as practical and appropriate, with regional and national classification levels;

(c) Must be statewide unless otherwise designated by a water body, property, or other geographic region or area; and

(d) May define general possession and introduction conditions acceptable under department authorization, a permit, or as otherwise provided by rule.

(5) Prior to or at the time of classifying species by rule as prohibited or regulated under subsections (1) and (2) of this section, the department, in consultation with the invasive species council, must adopt rules establishing standards for determining invasive risk levels and criteria for determining beneficial use that take into consideration environmental impacts, and especially effects on the preservation of native species, salmon recovery, and threatened or endangered species.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 105. (1) Until the department adopts rules classifying species pursuant to chapter 77.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 122 of this act), species and classifications identified in this section are automatically managed as follows:

(a) Zebra mussels (Dreissena polymorpha), quagga mussels (Dreissena rostriformis bugensis), European green crab (Carcinus maenas), and all members of the genus Eriocheir (including Chinese mitten crab), all members of the walking catfish family (Clariidae), all members of the snakehead family (Channidae), silver carp (Hypophthalmichthys molitrix), largescale silver carp (Hypophthalmichthys harmandi), black carp (Mylopharyngodon piceus), and bighead carp (Hypophthalmichthys nobilis) are prohibited level 1 species statewide;

(b) Prohibited aquatic animal species classified under WAC 220-12-090(1), in effect on July 1, 2014, except those as noted in this subsection are prohibited level 3 species statewide;

(c) Regulated aquatic animal species classified under WAC 220-12-090(2), in effect on July 1, 2014, are regulated type A species statewide; and

(d) Nonnative aquatic animal species classified as game fish under WAC 232-12-019, in effect on July 1, 2014, or food fish under WAC 220-12-010, in effect on July 1, 2014, are regulated type A species statewide.

(2) The department, in consultation with the invasive species council, may change these classifications by rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 106. (1) Prohibited level 1, level 2, and level 3 species may not be possessed, introduced on or into a water body or property, or trafficked, without department authorization, a permit, or as otherwise provided by rule.

(2) Regulated type A, type B, and type C species may not be introduced on or into a water body or property without department authorization, a permit, or as otherwise provided by rule.

(3) Regulated type B species, when being actively used for commercial purposes, must be readily and clearly identified in writing by taxonomic species name or subspecies name to distinguish the subspecies from another prohibited species or a regulated type A species. Nothing in this section precludes using additional descriptive language or trade names to describe regulated type B species as long as the labeling requirements of this section are met.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 107. (1) If the department determines it is necessary to protect the environmental, economic, or human health interests of the state from the threat of a prohibited level 1 or level 2 species, the department may declare a quarantine against a water body, property, or region within the state. The department may prohibit or condition the movement of aquatic conveyances and waters from such a quarantined place or area that are likely to contain a prohibited species.

(2) A quarantine declaration under this section may be implemented separately or in conjunction with rapid response management actions under section 108 of this act and infested site management actions under section 109 of this act in a manner and for a duration necessary to protect the interests of the state from the threat of a prohibited level 1 or level 2 species. A quarantine declaration must include:

(a) The reasons for the action including the prohibited level 1 or level 2 species triggering the quarantine;

(b) The boundaries of the area affected;

(c) The action timeline;

(d) Types of aquatic conveyances and waters affected by the quarantine and any prohibition or conditions on the movement of those aquatic conveyances and waters from the quarantine area; and

(e) Inspection and decontamination requirements for aquatic conveyances.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 108. (1) The department may implement rapid response management actions where a prohibited level 1 species is detected in or on a water body or property. Rapid response management actions may: Include expedited actions to contain, control, or eradicate the prohibited species; and, if applicable, be implemented in conjunction with a quarantine declaration. Rapid response management actions must be terminated by the department when it determines that the targeted prohibited level 1 species are:

(a) Eradicated;

(b) Contained or controlled without need for further management actions;

(c) Reclassified for that water body; or

(d) Being managed under infested site management actions pursuant to section 109 of this act.

(2) If a rapid response management action exceeds seven days, the department may implement an incident command system for rapid response management including scope, duration, and types of actions and to support mutual assistance and cooperation between the department and other affected state and federal agencies, tribes, local governments, and private water body or property owners. The purpose of this system is to coordinate a rapid, effective, and efficient response to contain, control, and eradicate if feasible, a prohibited level 1 species. Mutual assistance and coordination by other state agencies is especially important to assist the department in expediting necessary state and federal environmental permits.

(3) The department may enter into cooperative agreements with national, regional, state, and local rapid response management action partners to establish incident command system structures, secure or prepare submission-ready environmental permits, and identify mutual assistance commitments in preparation for potential future actions.

(4) The department may perform simulated rapid response exercises, testing, or other training activities to prepare for future rapid response management actions.

(5) In implementing rapid response management actions, the department may enter upon property consistent with the process established under section 119 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 109. (1) The department may implement infested site management actions where a prohibited level 2 species is detected in or on a water body or property. Infested site management actions may: Include long-term actions to contain, control, or eradicate the prohibited species; and, if applicable, be implemented in conjunction with a quarantine declaration. Infested site management actions must be terminated by the department when it determines that the targeted prohibited level 2 species are:

- (a) Eradicated;
- (b) Contained or controlled without need for further management actions; or
- (c) Reclassified for that water body.

(2) The department must consult with affected state and federal agencies, tribes, local governments, and private water body or property owners prior to implementing infested site management actions. The purpose of the consultation is to support mutual assistance and cooperation in providing an effective and efficient response to contain, control, and eradicate, if feasible, a prohibited level 2 species.

(3) The department may enter into cooperative agreements with national, regional, state, and local infested site management action partners to establish management responsibilities, secure or prepare submission-ready environmental permits, and identify mutual assistance commitments.

(4) In implementing infested site management actions, the department may enter upon property consistent with the process established under section 119 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 110. (1) To the extent possible, the department's quarantine declarations under section 107 of this act, rapid response management actions under section 108 of this act, and infested site management actions under section 109 of this act must be implemented in a manner best suited to contain, control, and eradicate prohibited level 1 and level 2 species while protecting human safety, minimizing adverse environmental impacts to a water body or property, and minimizing adverse economic impacts to owners of an affected water body or property.

(2) The department is the lead agency for quarantine declarations, rapid response, and infested site management actions. Where the infested water body is subject to tribal, federal, or other sovereign jurisdiction, the department:

(a) Must consult with appropriate federal agencies, tribal governments, other states, and Canadian government entities to develop and implement coordinated management actions on affected water bodies under shared jurisdiction;

(b) May assist in infested site management actions where these actions may prevent the spread of prohibited species into state water bodies; and

(c) May assist other states and Canadian government entities, in the Columbia river basin, in management actions on affected water bodies outside of the state where these actions may prevent the spread of the species into state water bodies.

(3)(a) The department must provide notice of quarantine declarations, rapid response, and infested site management actions to owners of an affected water body or property. Notice may be provided by any reasonable means, such as in person, by United States postal service, by publication in a local newspaper, by electronic publication including social media or postings on the department's public web site, or by posting signs at the water body.

(b) The department must provide updates to owners of an affected water body or property based on management action type as follows:

(i) Every seven days for a rapid response management action and, if applicable, a quarantine declaration implemented in conjunction with a rapid response management action;

(ii) Every six months for a separate quarantine declaration;

(iii) Annually for the duration of an infested site management action and, if applicable, a quarantine declaration implemented in conjunction with an infested site management action; and

(iv) A final update at the conclusion of any management action.

(c) In addition to owners of an affected water body or property, the department must provide notice of a quarantine declaration to members of the public by any reasonable means for an area subject to a quarantine declaration, such as by publication in a local newspaper, by electronic publication including social media or postings on the department's public web site, or by posting signs at the water body. The department must provide updates at reasonable intervals and a final update at the conclusion of the quarantine declaration.

(4) The department must publicly list those water bodies or portions of water bodies in which a prohibited level 1 or level 2 species has been detected. The department may list those areas in which a prohibited level 3 species has been detected.

(5) When posting signs at a water body or property where a prohibited species has been detected, the department must consult with owners of the affected water body or property regarding placement of those signs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 111. (1) If the director finds that there exists an imminent danger of a prohibited level 1 or level 2 species detection that seriously endangers or threatens the environment, economy, human health, or well-being of the state of Washington, the director must ask the governor to order, under RCW 43.06.010(14), emergency measures to prevent or abate the prohibited species. The director's findings must contain an evaluation of the effect of the emergency measures on environmental factors such as fish listed under the endangered species act, economic factors such as public and private access, human health factors such as water quality, or well-being factors such as cultural resources.

(2) If an emergency is declared pursuant to RCW 43.06.010(14), the director may consult with the invasive species council to advise the governor on emergency measures necessary under RCW 43.06.010(14) and this section, and make subsequent recommendations to the governor. The invasive species council must involve owners of the affected water body or property, state and local governments, federal agencies, tribes, public health interests, technical service providers, and environmental organizations, as appropriate.

(3) Upon the governor's approval of emergency measures, the director may implement these measures to prevent, contain, control, or eradicate invasive species that are the subject of the emergency order, notwithstanding the provisions of chapter 15.58 or 17.21 RCW or any other statute. These measures, after evaluation of all other alternatives, may include the surface and aerial application of pesticides.

(4) The director must continually evaluate the effects of the emergency measures and report these to the governor at intervals of not less than ten days. The director must immediately advise the governor if the director finds that the emergency no longer exists or if certain emergency measures should be discontinued.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 112. (1) A person in possession of an aquatic conveyance who enters Washington by road, air, or water is required to have a certificate of inspection. A person must provide this certificate of inspection upon request by a fish and wildlife officer or ex officio fish and wildlife officer.

(2) The department must adopt rules to implement this section including:

(a) Types of aquatic conveyances required to have a certificate of inspection;

(b) Allowable certificate of inspection forms including passport type systems and integration with existing similar permits;

(c) Situations when authorization can be obtained for transporting an aquatic conveyance not meeting inspection requirements to a specified location within the state where certificate of inspection requirements can be provided; and

THIRTY THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 14, 2014

2014 REGULAR SESSION

(d) Situations where aquatic conveyances are using shared boundary waters of the state, such as portions of the Columbia river, lake Osoyoos, and the Puget Sound.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 113. (1) A person in possession of an aquatic conveyance must meet clean and drain requirements after the conveyance's use in or on a water body or property. A certificate of inspection is not needed to meet clean and drain requirements.

(2) A fish and wildlife officer or ex officio fish and wildlife officer may order a person transporting an aquatic conveyance not meeting clean and drain requirements to:

(a) Clean and drain the conveyance at the discovery site, if the department determines there are sufficient resources available; or

(b) Transport the conveyance to a reasonably close location where resources are sufficient to meet the clean and drain requirements.

(3) This section may be enforced immediately on the transportation of aquatic plants by registered watercraft, small watercraft, seaplanes, and commercial watercraft. The department must adopt rules to implement all other aspects of clean and drain requirements, including:

(a) Other types of aquatic conveyances subject to this requirement;

(b) When transport of an aquatic conveyance is authorized if clean and drain services are not readily available at the last water body used; and

(c) Exemptions to clean and drain requirements where the department determines there is minimal risk of spreading invasive species.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 114. (1) The department may establish mandatory check stations to inspect aquatic conveyances for clean and drain requirements and aquatic invasive species. The check stations must be operated by at least one fish and wildlife officer, an ex officio fish and wildlife officer in coordination with the department, or department-authorized representative, and must be plainly marked by signs and operated in a safe manner.

(2) Aquatic conveyances required to stop at mandatory check stations include registered watercraft, commercial watercraft, and small watercraft. The department may establish rules governing other types of aquatic conveyances that must stop at mandatory check stations. The rules must provide sufficient guidance so that a person transporting the aquatic conveyance readily understands that he or she is required to stop.

(3) A person who encounters a mandatory check station while transporting an aquatic conveyance must:

(a) Stop at the mandatory check station;

(b) Allow the aquatic conveyance to be inspected for clean and drain requirements and aquatic invasive species;

(c) Follow clean and drain orders if clean and drain requirements are not met pursuant to section 113 of this act; and

(d) Follow decontamination orders pursuant to section 115 of this act if an aquatic invasive species is found.

(4) A person who complies with the department directives under this section is exempt from criminal penalties under sections 205 and 206 of this act, civil penalties under RCW 77.15.160(4), and civil forfeiture under RCW 77.15.070, unless the person has a prior conviction for an invasive species violation within the past five years.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 115. (1) Upon discovery of an aquatic conveyance that carries or contains an aquatic invasive species without department authorization, a permit, or as otherwise provided by rule, a fish and wildlife officer or ex officio fish and wildlife officer may issue a decontamination order:

(a) Requiring decontamination at the discovery site, if the situation presents a low risk of aquatic invasive species introduction, and sufficient department resources are available at the discovery site;

(b) Prohibiting the launch of the aquatic conveyance in a water body until decontamination is completed and certified, if the situation presents a low risk of aquatic invasive species introduction, and sufficient department resources are not available at the discovery site;

(c) Requiring immediate transport of the conveyance to an approved decontamination station, and prohibiting the launch of the conveyance in a water body until decontamination is completed and certified, if the situation presents a moderate risk of aquatic invasive species introduction, and sufficient department resources are not available at the discovery site; or

(d) Seizing and transporting the aquatic conveyance to an approved decontamination station until decontamination is completed and certified, if the situation presents a high risk of aquatic invasive species introduction, and sufficient department resources are not available at the discovery site.

(2) The person possessing the aquatic conveyance that is subject to orders issued under subsection (1)(b) through (d) of this section must bear any costs for seizure, transportation, or decontamination.

(3) Orders issued under subsection (1)(b) through (d) of this section must be in writing and must include notice of the opportunity for a hearing pursuant to section 116 of this act to determine the validity of the orders.

(4) If a decontamination order is issued under subsection (1)(d) of this section, the department may seize the aquatic conveyance for two working days or a reasonable additional period of time thereafter as needed to meet decontamination requirements. The decontamination period must be based on factors including conveyance size and complexity, type and number of aquatic invasive species present, and decontamination station resource capacity.

(5) If an aquatic conveyance is subject to forfeiture under RCW 77.15.070, the timelines and other provisions under that section apply to the seizure.

(6) Upon decontamination and issuing a certificate of inspection, an aquatic conveyance must be released to the person in possession of the aquatic conveyance at the time the decontamination order was issued, or to the owner of the aquatic conveyance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 116. (1) A person aggrieved or adversely affected by a quarantine declaration under section 107 of this act, a rapid response management action under section 108 of this act, an infested site management action under section 109 of this act, or a decontamination order under section 115 of this act may contest the validity of the department's actions by requesting a hearing in writing within twenty days of the department's actions.

(2) Hearings must be conducted pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW and the burden of demonstrating the invalidity of agency action is on the party asserting invalidity. The hearing may be conducted by the director or the director's designee and may occur telephonically.

(3) A hearing on a decontamination order is limited to the issues of whether decontamination was necessary and the reasonableness of costs assessed for any seizure, transportation, and decontamination. If the person in possession of the aquatic conveyance that was decontaminated prevails at the hearing, the person is entitled to reimbursement by the department for any costs assessed by the department or decontamination station operator for the seizure, transportation, and decontamination. If the department prevails at the hearing, the department is not responsible for and may not reimburse any costs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 117. (1) The department may operate aquatic conveyance inspection and decontamination stations statewide for voluntary use by the public or for mandatory use where directed by the department to meet inspection and decontamination requirements of this chapter. Decontamination stations can be part of or separate from inspection stations. Inspection and decontamination stations are separate from commercial vehicle weigh stations operated by the Washington state patrol.

(2) Inspection station staff must inspect aquatic conveyances to determine whether the conveyances carry or contain aquatic invasive species. If an aquatic conveyance is free of aquatic invasive species, then inspection station staff must issue a certificate of inspection. A certificate of inspection is valid until the conveyance's next use in a water body.

(3) If a conveyance carries or contains aquatic invasive species, then inspection station staff must require the conveyance's decontamination before issuing a certificate of inspection. The certificate of inspection is valid until the conveyance's next use in a water body.

(4) The department must identify, in a way that is readily available to the public, the location and contact information for inspection and decontamination stations.

(5) The department must adopt by rule standards for inspection and decontamination that, where practical and appropriate, align with regional, national, and international standards.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 118. (1) The department may authorize representatives to operate its inspection and decontamination stations and mandatory check stations. Department-authorized representatives may be department volunteers, other law enforcement agencies, or independent businesses.

(2) The department must adopt rules governing the types of services that department-authorized representatives may perform under this chapter.

(3) Department-authorized representatives must have official identification, training, and administrative capacity to fulfill their responsibilities under this section.

(4) Within two years of the effective date of this section, the department must provide the legislature with recommendations for a fee schedule that department-authorized representatives may charge users whose aquatic conveyances receive inspection and decontamination services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 119. (1) The department may enter upon a property or water body at any reasonable time for the purpose of administering this chapter, including inspecting and decontaminating aquatic conveyances, collecting invasive species samples, implementing rapid response management actions or infested site management actions, and containing, controlling, or eradicating invasive species.

(2) Prior to entering the property or water body, the department shall make a reasonable attempt to notify the owner of the property or water body as to the purpose and need for the entry. Should the department be denied access to any property or water body where access is sought for the purposes set forth in this chapter, the department may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for a warrant authorizing access to the property.

(3) Upon such an application, the court may issue the warrant for the purposes requested where the court finds reasonable cause to believe it is necessary to achieve the purposes of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 120. (1) Funds from the watercraft excise tax proceeds that are deposited into the aquatic invasive species prevention account established under RCW 77.12.879 and the aquatic invasive species enforcement account established under RCW 43.43.400 may be used by the department to develop and implement an aquatic invasive species local management grant program. The grant program may expend up to two hundred fifty thousand dollars per fiscal year as competitive grants to state agencies, cities, counties, tribes, special purpose districts, academic institutions, and nonprofit groups to:

(a) Manage prohibited level 1 or level 2 aquatic species at a local level;

(b) Develop rapid response management cooperative agreements for local water bodies;

(c) Develop or implement prohibited species management cooperative agreements for local water bodies; and

(d) Conduct innovative applied research that directly supports on-the-ground prevention, control, and eradication efforts.

(2) The department must give preference to projects that have matching funds, provide in-kind services, or maintain or enhance outdoor recreational opportunities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 121. The provisions of this chapter must be liberally construed to carry out the intent of the legislature.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 122. Sections 102 through 104 and 106 through 121 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 77 RCW.

PART 2 INVASIVE SPECIES—ENFORCEMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. A new section is added to chapter 77.15 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Based upon reasonable suspicion that a person possesses an aquatic conveyance that has not been cleaned and drained or carries or contains aquatic invasive species in violation of this title, fish and wildlife officers or ex officio fish and wildlife officers may temporarily stop the person and inspect the aquatic conveyance for compliance with the requirements of this title.

(2) Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in both RCW 77.08.010 and section 102 of this act apply throughout this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 202. A new section is added to chapter 77.15 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Upon a showing of probable cause that there has been a violation of an invasive species law of the state of Washington, or upon a showing of probable cause to believe that evidence of such a violation may be found at a place, a court must issue a search warrant or arrest warrant. Fish and wildlife officers or ex officio fish and wildlife officers may execute any such search or arrest warrant reasonably necessary to carry out their duties under this title with regard to an invasive species law and may seize invasive species or any evidence of a crime and the fruits or instrumentalities of a crime as provided by warrant. The court may have property opened or entered and the contents examined.

(2) Seizure of property as evidence of a crime does not preclude seizure of the property for forfeiture as authorized by law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 203. A new section is added to chapter 77.15 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Upon a showing of probable cause that a water body or property has an invasive species in or on it, and the owner refuses permission to allow inspection of the water body or property, a court in the county in which the water body or property is located may, upon the request of the director or the director's designee, issue a warrant to the director or the director's designee authorizing the taking of specimens of invasive species, general inspection of the property or water body, and the performance of containment, eradication, or control work.

(2) Application for issuance, execution, and return of the warrant authorized by this section must be in accordance with the applicable rules of the superior courts or the district courts.

Sec. 204. RCW 77.15.160 and 2013 c 307 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6078, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rolfes: "Thank you Mr. President. It's already been noted on the floor. This is Senator McCoy's first bill. It's not his maiden speech but it's his first bill so we'll be honoring him today. I wanted to say a couple of things about Senator McCoy if I might? Well, he brought to us this awesome piece of legislation that I think will be particularly noted in the schools in our state for years to come. In this body we have a tremendous resource in Senator McCoy, not just for his expertise on tribal issues and his background on those things. What I think a lot of people don't know about Senator McCoy is that he served twenty years in the United States Air Force. He got training in the Air Force in computer and technical skills; worked in the White House for a few years as a computer technician; went into the private sector; came back to Washington about two decades ago to work with the Tulalip Tribe; and retired from there a couple of years ago having reached position of General Manager of the Quil Ceda Business Park essentially. He managed the lands that had the Casino, the outlet malls and all of the small business activities there. So, he's a resource to us on veteran issues, on business issues, on technology issues as well as the background he's gained in the Legislature for more than decade that he served in the House. So, I want welcome Senator McCoy to the Senate and you're just a great asset for all of us. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Billig: "Thank you Mr. President. So, when I arrived in the House four years ago I didn't know anything. Some people might say that I still don't know anything. That may be fair but Senator McCoy was the Chair of one of the committees that I served on. And, you know, he is this distinguished senior member and he really took me under his arm and helped me a lot. He helped me with my first bill, created the Office of Native Education in OSPI and I won't ever forget his support and his help in my legislative career. So, I want to welcome Senator McCoy to this body but as improbable as it may have seemed when we were in the House, I would like to remind him I do have seniority over him. Thank you Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator King: "Well, I would like to say welcome to the good Senator. I have one piece of advice for him. We have members on this floor that can talk for ever and ever on a given bill and so, we have a three minute rule that's implemented here on occasion and you know there's a lot of us on this floor that can say a lot things in three minutes. I believe in his maiden speech today, I want him to be aware of that three minute rule because I think he may have set a record for saying the fewest words in three minutes. so, I just want to remind him on occasion we have that rule and we might want to speed up just a little bit more but Senator welcome, great to have you here."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Angel: "Thank you Mr. President. I too want to welcome Senator McCoy. He was very kind. We served together. I was the ranking member on Tribal Affairs and he helped me learn a lot about tribal cultures and it was a great experience. I am looking forward to working with him here in the Senate.”

THIRTY THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 14, 2014

2014 REGULAR SESSION

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCoy: “Thank you Mr. President. As with the custom of this chamber that after your first bill you provide a gift. Well, to further your education in my culture, we always give a gift after something like this. We do it at whatever occasion may be, it’s called a potlatch. So, consequently we are celebrating a potlatch and me providing traditional gifts from my culture. Now, the first one I want to draw your attention to is the one that’s got the basket weave and the note. This is from the children of the Tulalip Quil Ceda Elementary School. And the reason they teach the basket weave because it’s a basic math, hand and eye coordination, hand dexterity and other things. Within, in the Tulalip Quil Ceda elementary curriculum culture is inter-woven with their classwork. So, the same on the inside of the card was from each child in the school. So, this is actually a gift from the children and then the children also were the ones that made this necklace for me. And then, the second item, the rose. The cedar rose is also a traditional gift that we always give at whatever function that we’re at. So, both of these, the basket weave and the cedar rose can we worn as boutonnieres or I even have some folks that tie some yarn to it and then use it as a book mark. So, you can be creative how you use these items in my culture. So, you know I didn’t think I would ever come over to the Senate. In fact, a couple of years ago I said, ‘No way would I come over here’ but circumstances always change and I always leave my options open and ok, but basically every ten to twelve years I always change my job. I was in the House for eleven years so it was time for me to change and so here I am. Thank you for accepting me.”

One of the members of that council would be a member of a parent organization, parent teacher organization. And then there’s also the bill contemplates a pilot project for an extended school year. So, I imagine that those local planning groups are going to be clearly talking about how to implement all these services and so I know that there a number of counties that use the one tenth of one percent tax authority to support their drug courts and I'm not sure that we at this level mandate how local governments use those dollars."

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed an international delegation of five young people from Indonesia visiting the capital while studying their program theme, "Young Leaders Working for Peaceful Change and Democratic Societies," focused on leadership, women and politics who were present in the gallery together with representatives of their sponsors, the World Affairs Council of Seattle, International Visitors Program and the U. S. Department of State.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fain: "Thank you Mr. President. On this last bill I didn't have an opportunity to speak and I was really puzzled about whether I was going to speak. One of the concerns that I have and I think that Boeing is a very important issue but I was little disappointed in the maker of the motion and the sponsor of the bill because just yesterday I had-and this is tough to talk about-I had a striped shirt and a plaid tie and he really on multiple occasions had to point that out how big of a fashion faux pas that was. And it hurt me. It hurt me. I just wanted to take this opportunity to say that and to share my concerns and while I am pleased that you are here in the Senate and I think you're a wonderful addition I just hope that we can work on some of our more emotive and interpersonal skills in the future because many of us, particularly on the Majority Coalition side, we're just very sensitive people and we need to be treated with respect. Welcome aboard."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Nelson: "Well Mr. President, I too was very disappointed with Senator Liias' second speech. He took debate. He was a key debater at one time. This is a bill that you can be passionate about. This is a bill that should of make this chamber resonate and instead, instead, nice steady voice, discussing bullying in schools. I expect more in the future Senator Liias. Use our debate skills, please on the Senate floor. I apologize but I'm so disappointed."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Pearson: "Yes, Mr. President. I hate to say it but his speech was like an empty growler bottle."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Billig: "Well, I wanted to welcome Senator Liias. I served with him in the other body and so in the other body there are ninety eight members or over twenty committees so statistically, the chances of serving on all three committees with another member is very small. That was the case, we served on all three committees together for two years and we were the two Co-Vice Chairs of the Transportation Committee. So, one of the reasons I came to the Senate was to get away from him and then he came over and followed me. We have something else in common. We both went to Georgetown University. Not the same year, I'm not sure who's older or younger but and I know his Latin is a little rusty but I wanted to welcome him to the Senate with the Georgetown motto which is; 'Hoya Saxa' Senator Liias."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ranker: "Thank you Mr. President. I actually have a question for you which is rather important. And I'm kind of discouraged Mr. President that there was such a dramatic rule change and I don't believe any of us were aware of it. So, mostly I'm curious, when was the rule changed that began allowing Pages to introduce legislation?"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hobbs: "Well, the good Senator from the Twenty-First District introduced a resolution for Senator Paull Shin. We all remember Paull Shin and you told the stories, Senator, that he was telling you that you were handsome and bright. So, I was curious what you know if we could back that up? And what Paull said in his book, 'An Exodus For Hope'. Mr. President, if you don't mind I'd like to read from the book? When Marko Liias came to my office I remember telling him, that 'foolish ugly kid Marco, that he was handsome and that he was my adopted son. What a rube.' I even told him my famous monkey brain joke. And he laughed but everyone laughs at that joke and I don't know why. Besides, everyone knows Senator Hobbs is the most good looking and intelligent member of the Senate and I love him like a son'."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Liias: "Mr. President, I take it as a special victory that my first speech was on the Senator Shin resolution when no one dared to speak against it and the second time that I'm being bullied is on my anti school bullying bill. So, I feel like those are moral victories. I would like to personally apologize to the good Floor Leader. I was just trying to help improve the way that he was viewed on television by our television audiences. So, I will try to be more gentle and respectful in the future. And to Senator Hobbs, I'd hoped that he wouldn't read that passage. I mean it is sort of a tough passage for me in the book but I'd hoped he wouldn't share it with the public. And to you Mr. President, you asked me to make sure that when I gave my real maiden speech that we would have perhaps a second round of hospitality. You haven't let me go home this week so I don't have it yet but come Monday morning, I promise you'll get a second round of wonderful treats from the Twenty First. And to Senator Pearson, we're going to bring some growler fills to the session by the end of this sixty days. So, we're going to solve these problems. I'm glad to be here."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Liias, you clearly have a lot to learn about who's in control of the Senate. I haven't let you go home?! And speaking of fashion, well, that's another subject."

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that oil transportation by train and vessel poses a potential hazard to the health and well-being of Washington residents and the natural resources and economic vitality of the state. Recent accidents, such as the oil train explosions in North Dakota, Alabama, New Brunswick, and Quebec, as well as the frequent incidence of leaks and spills from pipelines, railcars, and vessels carrying oil across the nation, highlight the risks to human health and the environment caused by the transportation of oil. Furthermore, as the location and type of oil extracted in North America changes with the advent of new technology, there are associated changes in the patterns and methods of transporting crude oil and refined petroleum products. According to the United States department of transportation, the new types of oil being transported through the state may also be particularly flammable and dangerous. Measures to prevent spills from oil trains and tank vessels are critical to lowering risks to the state's natural resources and economic base. It is therefore the intent and purpose of this act to establish appropriate measures to reduce the risk of oil spills from vessels, to encourage the adoption of spill prevention measures, to ensure that the public has access to information about the movement of oil through the state, and to ensure that communities are fully informed about any risks posed to their safety by the transportation of oil.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 90.56 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall make available on its web site a quarterly report on the maritime and terrestrial transportation of oil in Washington. The report must include information including, but not limited to, the following sources:

(1) Information submitted to the department pursuant to section 3 of this act;

(2) Advanced notices of transfer and other information provided to the department pursuant to RCW 88.46.165, including aggregated information on the quantities and types of oil being transferred, the frequency and duration of oil transfers, and the locations of product transfers;

(3) Reported information on spills, accidents, discharges, or other prohibited occurrences submitted to the department pursuant to RCW 90.56.050(1), 90.56.280, or 88.46.100; and

(4) Relevant information about the volume and type of oil transported through Washington that is collected by federal agencies including the United States department of transportation, United States coast guard, United States department of energy, and United States army corps of engineers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 90.56 RCW to read as follows:

THIRTY THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 14, 2014

2014 REGULAR SESSION

(1) The owner or operator for each facility other than a transmission pipeline shall submit to the department the following information:

- (a) The number of tank vessels and railcars that transferred or delivered oil at the facility each week;
- (b) The volume and type of oil that arrived at and departed from the facility each week, including the volume and type of oil:
 - (i) By mode of arrival at the facility, including but not limited to arrival by vessel, rail, pipeline, or motor vehicle;
 - (ii) By mode of departure from the facility, including but not limited to departure by vessel, rail, pipeline, or motor vehicle;
- (c) The route taken by any oil that arrived at the facility by railcar.

(2) Beginning November 1, 2014, the owner or operator of each facility must submit the information required pursuant to subsection (1) of this section by February 1st, May 1st, August 1st, and November 1st of each year and each quarterly submission must include the information in subsection (1) of this section for each week of the quarter covered by the submission. The department may develop a reporting form and guidance for the submission of the information in subsection (1) of this section by facility owners or operators. To the extent feasible, the department must integrate the reporting form with other forms used by facilities to submit information to the department, including forms used to submit the information required by RCW 88.46.165.

(3)(a) Prior to making any confidential information submitted pursuant to this section available on its web site, the department must aggregate the submitted information to the extent necessary to ensure confidentiality if public disclosure of the specific information or data would result in an unfair competitive disadvantage to the owner or operator submitting the information.

(b) The department may not make publicly available specific information about the volume of oil or the number of vessels or railcars that arrive at or depart from individual facilities. Instead, information about facility-specific arrivals and departures of oil must be aggregated prior to disclosure in order to prevent unfair competitive disadvantage to the owner or operator submitting the information.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) Washington State University shall consult with the department of ecology and the emergency management division of the military department to conduct a study regarding the state's capacity to respond to and recover from accidents involving railcars transporting oil. In conducting this study, Washington State University shall consider the potential near-term increase in the volume of oil being transported via rail through Washington as a result of proposed new or expanded oil refining and storage facilities. Washington State University shall seek the input of relevant stakeholders and other state agencies in carrying out this study.

(2) The study required under subsection (1) of this section must:

- (a) Examine the current and projected prevalence of oil transportation by railcar through Washington communities;
- (b) Make a preliminary identification of the communities at the greatest risk of an accident involving oil transportation by railcar;
- (c) Examine, generally, the extent to which state and local emergency plans, oil spill contingency plans developed pursuant to chapter 90.56 RCW, and geographic response plans address this threat;
- (d) Examine the roles and responsibilities of federal, state, local, and tribal entities in preparing for emergencies or oil spills;
- (e) Determine whether adequate resources are available to respond to and recover from such an accident in a timely and effective manner; and

(f) Address the potential impacts to transportation networks and other critical infrastructure from an accident involving oil transported by railcar.

(3) Washington State University shall report its findings from the study to the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 2014.

(4) This section expires June 30, 2015.

(1) The board of pilotage commissioners shall:

(a) Adopt rules, pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW, necessary for the enforcement and administration of this chapter, except for rules adopted after July 1, 2014, that implement RCW 88.16.190, 88.16.195, 88.16.200, and section 12 of this act, for which the department of ecology may adopt rules as described in section 8 of this act;

However, under no circumstances shall the state be obligated to fund or pay for any portion of retirement payments for pilots or retired pilots;

(f) File annually with the governor and the chairs of the transportation committees of the senate and house of representatives a report which includes, but is not limited to, the following: The number, names, ages, pilot license number, training license number, and years of service as a Washington licensed pilot of any person licensed by the board as a Washington state pilot or trainee; the names, employment, and other information of the members of the board; the total number of pilotage assignments by pilotage district, including information concerning the various types and sizes of vessels and the total annual tonnage; the annual earnings or stipends of individual pilots and trainees before and after deduction for expenses of pilot organizations, including extra compensation as a separate category; the annual expenses of private pilot associations, including personnel employed and capital expenditures; the status of pilotage tariffs, extra compensation, and travel; the retirement contributions paid to pilots and the disposition thereof; the number of groundings, marine occurrences, or other incidents which are reported to or investigated by the board, and which are determined to be accidents, as defined by the board, including the vessel name, location of incident, pilot's or trainee's name, and disposition of the case together with information received before the board acted from

(3) The board may pay stipends to pilot trainees under subsection (1)(b) of this section.

Sec. 6. RCW 88.16.170 and 1991 c 200 s 601 are each amended to read as follows:

Because of the danger of spills, the legislature finds that the transportation of crude oil and refined petroleum products by tankers on the Columbia river, Grays Harbor, and on Puget Sound and adjacent waters creates a great potential hazard to important natural resources of the state and to jobs and incomes dependent on these resources.

The legislature recognizes that the Columbia river has many natural obstacles to navigation and shifting navigation channels that create the risk of an oil spill. The legislature also recognizes Grays Harbor and Puget Sound and adjacent waters are (a) relatively confined salt water environments with irregular shorelines and therefore there is a greater than usual likelihood of long-term damage from any large oil spill.

The legislature further recognizes that certain areas of the Columbia river, Grays Harbor, and Puget Sound and adjacent waters have limited space for maneuvering a large oil tanker and that these waters contain many natural navigational obstacles as well as a high density of commercial and pleasure boat traffic.

For these reasons, it is important that large oil tankers be piloted by highly skilled persons who are familiar with local waters and that such tankers have sufficient capability for rapid maneuvering responses.

It is therefore the intent and purpose of RCW 88.16.180 and 88.16.190 to decrease the likelihood of oil spills on the Columbia river, Grays Harbor, and on Puget Sound and its shorelines by requiring all oil tankers above a certain size to employ licensed pilots and to be escorted by a tug or tugs while navigating on certain areas of Puget Sound and adjacent waters, and also in Grays Harbor and the Columbia river if deemed prudent by the department of ecology.

Sec. 7. RCW 88.16.190 and 1994 c 52 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ((Any oil tanker, whether enrolled or registered, of greater than one hundred and twenty-five thousand deadweight tons shall be prohibited from proceeding beyond a point east of a line extending from Discovery Island light south to New Dungeness light.

(2) An oil tanker, whether enrolled or registered, of forty to one hundred and twenty-five thousand deadweight tons may proceed beyond the points enumerated in subsection (1) if such tanker possesses all of the following standard safety features:

(a) Shaft horsepower in the ratio of one horsepower to each two and one-half deadweight tons; and

(b) Twin screws; and

(c) Double bottoms, underneath all oil and liquid cargo compartments; and

(d) Two radars in working order and operating, one of which must be collision avoidance radar; and

(e) Such other navigational position location systems as may be prescribed from time to time by the board of pilotage commissioners:

PROVIDED, That, if such forty to one hundred and twenty-five thousand deadweight ton tanker is in ballast or is under escort of a tug or tugs with an aggregate shaft horsepower equivalent to five percent of the deadweight tons of that tanker, subsection (2) of this section shall not apply: PROVIDED FURTHER, That additional tug shaft horsepower equivalencies may be required under certain conditions as established by rule and regulation of the Washington utilities and transportation commission pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW: PROVIDED FURTHER, That)) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, an oil tanker of greater than forty thousand deadweight tons may enter any of the waters in (a) of this subsection, to the extent that these waters are within the territorial boundaries of Washington, only if the oil tanker is under the escort of a tug or tugs in compliance with the requirements of subsection (3) of this section and section 8 of this act:

(a) East of a line extending from Discovery Island light south to New Dungeness light and all points in the Puget Sound area, including but not limited to Haro Strait, Rosario Strait, the Strait of Georgia, Puget Sound, Hood Canal, and those portions of the Strait of Juan de Fuca east of the line between New Dungeness light and Discovery Island light;

(b) The department of ecology may designate the following additional areas by rule where tug escorts are required:

(i) Within a two mile radius of the Grays Harbor pilotage district as defined by RCW 88.16.050;

(ii) Within three miles of Cape Disappointment at the mouth of the Columbia river; or

(iii) Any inland portion of the Columbia river up to Bonneville dam.

(2)(a) If an oil tanker is in ballast, the tug requirements of subsection (1) of this section do not apply.

(b) If an oil tanker is a single-hulled oil tanker of greater than five thousand gross tons, the requirements of subsection (1)(a) of this section do not apply and the oil tanker must instead comply with 33 C.F.R. Part 168, as of the effective date of this section.

(3) Oil tankers of greater than forty thousand deadweight tons must ensure that any escort tugs they use have an aggregate shaft horsepower equivalent to at least five percent of the deadweight tons of the escorted oil tanker. The department of ecology may adopt rules to ensure that escort tugs have sufficient capacity for safe escort.

(4) A tanker assigned a deadweight of less than forty thousand deadweight tons at the time of construction or reconstruction as reported in Lloyd's Register of Ships is not subject to the provisions of RCW 88.16.170 through 88.16.190.

THIRTY THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 14, 2014

2014 REGULAR SESSION

(5) For the purposes of this section, "oil tanker" means a self-propelled deep draft tank vessel designed to transport oil in bulk. "Oil tanker" does not include an articulated tug-barge tank vessel.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 88.16 RCW to read as follows:

(1)(a) Prior to adopting rules pursuant to this section, the department of ecology must seek the input of stakeholders including maritime safety forums such as the Puget Sound, Grays Harbor, and lower Columbia region harbor safety committees. Both prior to and in adopting rules pursuant to this section, the department of ecology must consider the net benefits to navigational safety of any new tug escort requirements. Both prior to and in adopting rules applicable to the area described in RCW 88.16.190(1)(a), the department of ecology must also consider the data and findings of the 2014 vessel traffic risk assessment completed under the direction of the Puget Sound partnership and maritime experts.

(b) Prior to adopting rules pursuant to this section, the department of ecology must submit a report to the legislature by December 1, 2014. The report must include a recommendation on the merits of establishing additional tug escort safeguards by rule pursuant to this section.

(c) Unless the 2015 legislature acts to repeal the department of ecology's rule-making authority based on the recommendations of the report, the department may adopt rules pursuant to this section.

(2) Beginning July 1, 2015, the department of ecology may adopt rules to require the escort of oil tankers by a tug or tugs in the areas listed in RCW 88.16.190(1).

(3) Beginning July 1, 2015, the department of ecology may adopt rules that require additional safeguards related to tanker escorts to address specific spill risks based on season, adverse weather conditions, the type of oil, as defined in RCW 90.56.010, being transported by the tanker, or geographic location. However, if an oil tanker is equipped with fully redundant systems, the department of ecology may not:

(a) Require escort by more than one tug; and

(b) Subject the oil tanker to any requirements adopted by rule under this subsection (3).

(4) In developing rules for Grays Harbor and the Columbia river, the department of ecology must recognize the differences between these areas and Puget Sound, including differences in the physical environment, vessel traffic, weather, and other relevant factors. The department of ecology must appropriately account for these unique local circumstances in any rules adopted pursuant to this section.

(5) The authority of the department of ecology to initiate rule making to adopt additional tug escort safety requirements pursuant to this section and RCW 88.16.190 expires January 1, 2020.

(6) For the purposes of this section, "redundant systems" includes, at minimum, all of the following features:

(a) A double hull;

(b) Two independent propellers each with a dedicated engine or motor, propulsion system, electrical system, fuel system, lube oil system, and any other system required to provide an independent means of propulsion;

(c) Two independent rudders, each with separate steering systems; and

(d) The arrangement of the propulsion and steering systems in (b) and (c) of this subsection such that a fire or flood in one space will not affect the equivalent system in the other space or spaces.

Sec. 9. RCW 88.16.200 and 2008 c 128 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

Any vessel designed for the purpose of carrying as its cargo liquefied natural or liquefied petroleum gas shall adhere to the

Sec. 10. RCW 82.23B.020 and 2006 c 256 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An oil spill response tax is imposed on the privilege of receiving: (a) Crude oil or petroleum products at a marine terminal within this state from a waterborne vessel or barge operating on the navigable waters of this state; and (b) crude oil at a bulk oil terminal within this state from a rail tank car. The tax imposed in this section is levied upon the owner of the crude oil or petroleum products immediately after receipt of the same into the storage tanks of a marine or bulk terminal from a rail tank car or waterborne vessel or barge at the rate of one cent per barrel of crude oil or petroleum product received.

(2) In addition to the tax imposed in subsection (1) of this section, an oil spill administration tax is imposed on the privilege of receiving: (a) Crude oil or petroleum products at a marine terminal within this state from a waterborne vessel or barge operating on the navigable waters of this state; and (b) crude oil at a bulk oil terminal

(3) The taxes imposed by this chapter ~~((shall))~~ must be collected by the marine or bulk oil terminal operator from the taxpayer. If any person charged with collecting the taxes fails to bill the taxpayer for the taxes, or in the alternative has not notified the taxpayer in writing of the ~~((imposition of the))~~ taxes imposed, or having collected the taxes, fails to pay them to the department in the manner prescribed by this chapter, whether such failure is the result of the person's own acts or the result of acts or conditions beyond the person's control, he or she ~~((shall)),~~ nevertheless, ~~((be))~~ is personally liable to the state for the amount of the taxes. Payment of the taxes by the owner to a marine or bulk oil terminal operator ~~((shall))~~ must relieve the owner from further liability for the taxes.

(4) Taxes collected under this chapter ~~((shall))~~ must be held in trust until paid to the department. Any person collecting the taxes who appropriates or converts the taxes collected ~~((shall be))~~ is guilty of a gross misdemeanor if the money required to be collected is not available for payment on the date payment is due. The taxes required by this chapter to be collected ~~((shall))~~ must be stated separately from other charges made by the marine or bulk oil terminal operator in any invoice or other statement of account provided to the taxpayer.

(5) If a taxpayer fails to pay the taxes imposed by this chapter to the person charged with collection of the taxes and the person charged with collection fails to pay the taxes to the department, the department may, in its discretion, proceed directly against the taxpayer for collection of the taxes.

(6) The taxes ~~((shall be))~~ are due from the marine or bulk oil terminal operator, along with reports and returns on forms prescribed by the department, within twenty-five days after the end of the month in which the taxable activity occurs.

(7) The amount of taxes, until paid by the taxpayer to the marine or bulk oil terminal operator or to the department, ~~((shall))~~ constitute a debt from the taxpayer to the marine or bulk oil terminal operator. Any person required to collect the taxes under this chapter who, with intent to violate the provisions of this chapter, fails or refuses to do so as required and any taxpayer who refuses to pay any taxes due under this chapter ~~((, shall be))~~ is guilty of a misdemeanor as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(8) Upon prior approval of the department, the taxpayer may pay the taxes imposed by this chapter directly to the department. The department ~~((shall))~~ must give its approval for direct payment under this section whenever it appears, in the department's judgment, that direct payment will enhance the administration of the taxes imposed under this chapter. The department ~~((shall))~~ must provide by rule for the issuance of a direct payment certificate to any taxpayer qualifying for direct payment of the taxes. Good faith acceptance of a direct payment certificate by a terminal operator ~~((shall))~~ must relieve the marine or bulk oil terminal operator from any liability for the collection or payment of the taxes imposed under this chapter.

(9) All receipts from the tax imposed in subsection (1) of this section ~~((shall))~~ must be deposited into the state oil spill response account. All receipts from the tax imposed in subsection (2) of this section shall be deposited into the oil spill prevention account.

(10) Within forty-five days after the end of each calendar quarter, the office of financial management ~~((shall))~~ must determine the balance of the oil spill response account as of the last day of that calendar quarter. Balance determinations by the office of financial management under this section are final and ~~((shall))~~ may not be

The office of financial management ((shall)) must promptly notify the departments of revenue and ecology of the account balance once a determination is made. (b) Tax was not imposed under subsection (1) of this section during the immediately preceding calendar quarter, and the most recent quarterly balance is more than eight million dollars.

The taxes imposed under this chapter ((shall)) only apply to the first receipt of crude oil or petroleum products at a marine or bulk oil terminal in this state and not to the later transporting and subsequent receipt of the same oil or petroleum product, whether in the form originally received at a marine or bulk oil terminal in this state or after refining or other processing.

Sec. 12. RCW 82.23B.040 and 1992 c 73 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

By Senators Honeyford, Hatfield, Hobbs, Brown, Schoesler, Holmquist Newbry, Angel, Hewitt, Benton, Becker, Ericksen, Bailey, Parlette, Hill, Dammeier, Rivers, Braun, Fraser, Padden, Pearson, Conway, Hasegawa, Sheldon, Fain, Chase, Rolfes, Nelson, King, Litzow, Baumgartner, and O'Ban

WHEREAS, The Civil Air Patrol was born on December 1, 1941, just days before the attack on Pearl Harbor, for the purposes of liaison flying and interdiction of infiltrators on the east coast and the southern border of the United States, and the Civil Air Patrol insignia, a red three-bladed propeller in the Civil Defense white-triangle-in-blue-circle, began appearing everywhere; and

WHEREAS, When German submarines began to prey on American ships, the Civil Air Patrol's mission grew to include a 1,000-member coastal patrol, 64 of whom died in service and 26 of whom were lost at sea; and

WHEREAS, After Civil Air Patrol planes were issued bombs and depth charges in response to a crew watching in vain as a grounded sub off Cape Canaveral, Florida, escaped before the military arrived, the Civil Air Patrol Coastal flew 24 million miles and found 173 subs, attacked 57, hit 10, and sank two; and

WHEREAS, By presidential executive order, the Civil Air Patrol became an auxiliary of the Army Air Force on April 28, 1943, and some months later the Germans withdrew coastal U-boat operations "because of those damned little red and yellow airplanes"; and

WHEREAS, The Civil Air Patrol went on to target-towing operations, courier service for the Army, liaison and cargo flights between war plants, and southern border patrol against enemy infiltrators crossing from Mexico, and air, search and rescue, and nonflying Civil Air Patrol members guarded airfields and trained a rapidly growing corps of Civil Air Patrol cadets; and

WHEREAS, During the postwar years, the Civil Air Patrol was put to work in search and rescue missions, saving the United States millions of dollars in operational costs, because there was no other organization with the equipment and training to continue this vital job as military aircraft was far too expensive to operate and flew too fast to accurately spot downed planes and personnel; and

WHEREAS, During floods and other natural disasters, the Civil Air Patrol has flown vital serum and vaccines to areas unreachable by heavier aircraft, and ground teams have helped in the evacuation of cities and towns; and

WHEREAS, The Civil Air Patrol has a cadet program with over 24,000 young people between the ages of 12 and 20, one of its major attractions being the aerospace program which provides both classroom and practical instruction in flight and rocketry, and each cadet is offered the opportunity to participate in orientation flights in both powered and glider aircraft, while learning search and rescue techniques and many other valuable skills, with an emphasis on military history, leadership, and service to others both within the squadron and the community as a whole; and

WHEREAS, Today's Civil Air Patrol continues its service and commitment to our state and country with three primary missions: Aerospace Education, Cadet Programs, and Emergency Services; and

WHEREAS, In Washington state alone, the Civil Air Patrol is composed of 734 senior members and 638 cadets who flew their eleven aircraft 2,304 hours in service to our state and, primarily for cadet aerospace education, their Washington state gliders took 696 flights, at a value of 3 million dollars in volunteer hours; and

WHEREAS, The Washington Wing was ranked first for hours flown per aircraft above all Wings in the CAP Pacific Region, which is comprised of Wings from Alaska, Oregon, California, Hawaii, Washington, and Nevada, and the Washington Wing ranked 14th for hours flown per wing out of the 57 CAP units nationwide;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington state Senate recognize the Washington state wing of the Civil Air Patrol for its courageous and unwavering dedication to our citizens; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Civil Air Patrol Wing Commander, Colonel David Lehman, and to Civil Air Patrol Colonel, Theodore Tax.

Senators Honeyford and O'Ban spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Keiser: "Would Senator Honeyford yield to a question? I always admire a man in a dashing uniform and it's a wonder to see it on you and I'd like you to tell me a little more about your uniform today. Would you?"

I received that for being the Legislative Squadron leader but I also participate with the Yakima squadron and their training and these ribbons are some of the ribbons that have been earned since I have been in Civil Air Patrol."

"Sec. 2. RCW 9.94A.535 and 2013 2nd sp.s. c 35 s 37 are each amended to read as follows:

Excused: Senator Baumgartner

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6050, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for an offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence. Facts supporting aggravated sentences, other than the fact of a prior conviction, shall be determined pursuant to the provisions of RCW 9.94A.537.

Whenever a sentence outside the standard sentence range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard sentence range shall be a determinate sentence.

If the sentencing court finds that an exceptional sentence outside the standard sentence range should be imposed, the sentence is subject to review only as provided for in RCW 9.94A.585(4).

A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.589 (1) and (2) governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in this section, and may be appealed by the offender or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.585 (2) through (6).

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 6415, by Senators Fain, Angel, Tom, Dammeier, Hill, Becker, Eide, Hobbs, King, Brown, Bailey, Litzow, Schoesler, Braun and Rolfes

Concerning consecutive sentences for driving under the influence or physical control of a vehicle under the influence of intoxicating liquor, marijuana, or any drug.

(1) Mitigating Circumstances - Court to Consider

The measure was read the second time.

The court may impose an exceptional sentence below the standard range if it finds that mitigating circumstances are established by a preponderance of the evidence. The following are illustrative only and are not intended to be exclusive reasons for exceptional sentences.

(a) To a significant degree, the victim was an initiator, willing participant, aggressor, or provoker of the incident.

(b) Before detection, the defendant compensated, or made a good faith effort to compensate, the victim of the criminal conduct for any damage or injury sustained.

(c) The defendant committed the crime under duress, coercion, threat, or compulsion insufficient to constitute a complete defense but which significantly affected his or her conduct.

(d) The defendant, with no apparent predisposition to do so, was induced by others to participate in the crime.

(e) The defendant's capacity to appreciate the wrongfulness of his or her conduct, or to conform his or her conduct to the requirements of the law, was significantly impaired. Voluntary use of drugs or alcohol is excluded.

(f) The offense was principally accomplished by another person and the defendant manifested extreme caution or sincere concern for the safety or well-being of the victim.

(g) The operation of the multiple offense policy of RCW 9.94A.589 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly excessive in light of the purpose of this chapter, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.

(h) The defendant or the defendant's children suffered a continuing pattern of physical or sexual abuse by the victim of the offense and the offense is a response to that abuse.

(i) The defendant was making a good faith effort to obtain or provide medical assistance for someone who is experiencing a drug-related overdose.

(j) The current offense involved domestic violence, as defined in RCW 10.99.020, and the defendant suffered a continuing pattern of coercion, control, or abuse by the victim of the offense and the offense is a response to that coercion, control, or abuse.

(2) Aggravating Circumstances - Considered and Imposed by the Court

The trial court may impose an aggravated exceptional sentence without a finding of fact by a jury under the following circumstances:

(a) The defendant and the state both stipulate that justice is best served by the imposition of an exceptional sentence outside the standard range, and the court finds the exceptional sentence to be consistent with and in furtherance of the interests of justice and the purposes of the sentencing reform act.

(b) The defendant's prior unscored misdemeanor or prior unscored foreign criminal history results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient in light of the purpose of this chapter, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.

(c) The defendant has committed multiple current offenses and the defendant's high offender score results in some of the current offenses going unpunished.

(d) The failure to consider the defendant's prior criminal history which was omitted from the offender score calculation pursuant to RCW 9.94A.525 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient.

(3) Aggravating Circumstances - Considered by a Jury - Imposed by the Court

Except for circumstances listed in subsection (2) of this section, the following circumstances are an exclusive list of factors that can support a sentence above the standard range. Such facts should be determined by procedures specified in RCW 9.94A.537.

(a) The defendant's conduct during the commission of the current offense manifested deliberate cruelty to the victim.

(b) The defendant knew or should have known that the victim of the current offense was particularly vulnerable or incapable of resistance.

(c) The current offense was a violent offense, and the defendant knew that the victim of the current offense was pregnant.

(d) The current offense was a major economic offense or series of offenses, so identified by a consideration of any of the following factors:

(i) The current offense involved multiple victims or multiple incidents per victim;

(ii) The current offense involved attempted or actual monetary loss substantially greater than typical for the offense;

(iii) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning or occurred over a lengthy period of time; or

(iv) The defendant used his or her position of trust, confidence, or fiduciary responsibility to facilitate the commission of the current offense.

(e) The current offense was a major violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, chapter 69.50 RCW (VUCSA), related to trafficking in controlled substances, which was more onerous than the typical offense of its statutory definition: The presence of ANY of the following may identify a current offense as a major VUCSA:

(i) The current offense involved at least three separate transactions in which controlled substances were sold, transferred, or possessed with intent to do so;

(ii) The current offense involved an attempted or actual sale or transfer of controlled substances in quantities substantially larger than for personal use;

(iii) The current offense involved the manufacture of controlled substances for use by other parties;

(iv) The circumstances of the current offense reveal the offender to have occupied a high position in the drug distribution hierarchy;

(v) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning, occurred over a lengthy period of time, or involved a broad geographic area of disbursement; or

(vi) The offender used his or her position or status to facilitate the commission of the current offense, including positions of trust, confidence or fiduciary responsibility (e.g., pharmacist, physician, or other medical professional).

(f) The current offense included a finding of sexual motivation pursuant to RCW 9.94A.835.

(g) The offense was part of an ongoing pattern of sexual abuse of the same victim under the age of eighteen years manifested by multiple incidents over a prolonged period of time.

(h) The current offense involved domestic violence, as defined in RCW 10.99.020, or stalking, as defined in RCW 9A.46.110, and one or more of the following was present:

(i) The offense was part of an ongoing pattern of psychological, physical, or sexual abuse of a victim or multiple victims manifested by multiple incidents over a prolonged period of time;

(ii) The offense occurred within sight or sound of the victim's or the offender's minor children under the age of eighteen years; or

(iii) The offender's conduct during the commission of the current offense manifested deliberate cruelty or intimidation of the victim.

(i) The offense resulted in the pregnancy of a child victim of rape.

(j) The defendant knew that the victim of the current offense was a youth who was not residing with a legal custodian and the defendant established or promoted the relationship for the primary purpose of victimization.

(k) The offense was committed with the intent to obstruct or impair human or animal health care or agricultural or forestry research or commercial production.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 76.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The owner of public or private forested lands may bring a civil action in superior court for property damage to public or private forested lands, including real and personal property on those lands, when the damage results from a fire that started on or spread from public or private forested lands.

(2) Liability under this section attaches to the extent that evidence demonstrates that:

(a) An action or inaction by a person relating to the start or spread of the fire from public or private forested lands constituted negligence or a higher degree of fault; and

(b) The action or inaction under (a) of this subsection was a proximate cause of the property damage.

(3) Recoverable damages under this section are limited to:

(a) Either: (i) The difference in the fair market value of the damaged property immediately before and after the fire. For real property, the state-certified general real estate appraiser must identify and analyze all relevant characteristics and uses of the property including cultural, recreational, and environmental characteristics and uses, to the extent such characteristics or uses contribute to the fair market value of the property based on the highest and best use of the property. The state-certified general real estate appraiser shall expressly address the assumptions and conditions used to evaluate such characteristics and uses, consistent with standards of professional appraisal practice adopted under chapter 18.140 RCW; or (ii) the reasonable cost of restoring the damaged property to the general condition it was in immediately before the fire. However, recovery for the cost of restoration may not exceed the difference in the fair market value of the damaged property immediately before and after the fire;

(b) The reasonable expenses incurred to suppress or extinguish the fire unless otherwise provided for in this chapter; and

(c) Any other objectively verifiable monetary loss, that is not duplicative of the recovery specified under (a) or (b) of this subsection including, but not limited to: Out-of-pocket expenses; loss of earnings; loss of use of property; or loss of business or employment opportunities. Such loss must be established by evidence of prefire investments, income, expenses, or contracts specific to the damaged property.

(4) This section provides the exclusive cause of action for property damage to public or private forested lands, including real and personal property on those lands, resulting from a fire that started on or spread from public or private forested lands.

(5) The definitions in this subsection only apply throughout this section relating to the specification of damages for fire damage to public and private forested lands, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, and do not apply to and are not intended as a source for interpretation of other sections of this chapter.

(a) "Fair market value" means the amount that a willing buyer would pay to a willing seller for property in an arms-length transaction if both parties were fully informed about all advantages and disadvantages of the property and neither party is acting under a compulsion to sell, as determined by: (i) For real property, a state-certified general real estate appraiser as defined under RCW 18.140.010; and (ii) for personal property, an appraiser qualified to appraise the property based on training and experience. For real property, the state-certified general real estate appraiser must identify and analyze all relevant characteristics and uses of the property including cultural, recreational, and environmental characteristics and uses, to the extent such characteristics or uses contribute to the fair market value of the property based on the highest and best use of the property. The state-certified general real estate appraiser shall expressly address the assumptions and conditions used to evaluate such characteristics and uses, consistent with standards of professional appraisal practice adopted under chapter 18.140 RCW.

(b) "Forest tree species" means a tree species that is capable of producing logs, fiber, or other wood materials that are suitable for the production of lumber, sheeting, pulp, firewood, or other forest products.

(c) "Owner of public or private forested lands" means any person in actual control of public or private forested lands, whether the control is based either on legal or equitable title, or on any other interest entitling the holder to sell or otherwise dispose of any or all of the timber on the land in any manner.

(d) "Person" includes: An individual; a corporation; a public or private entity or organization; a local, state, or federal government or governmental entity; any business organization, including corporations and partnerships; or a group of two or more individuals acting with a common purpose.

(e) "Public or private forested lands" means any lands used or biologically capable of being used for growing forest tree species regardless of the existing use of the land except when the predominant physical use of the land at the time of the fire is not consistent with the growing, conservation, or preservation of forest tree species. Examples of inconsistent uses include, but are not limited to, buildings, airports, parking lots, mining, solid waste disposal, cropfields, orchards, vineyards, pastures, feedlots, communication sites, and home sites that may include up to ten acres. Public or private forested lands do not include state highways, county roads, railroad rights-of-way, and utility rights-of-way that cross over, under, or through such lands.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Padden: "Mr. President, the underlying bill deals with the display and replacement of license plates and primarily modifies Chapter 46. Whereas the amendment offered by the gentleman from the Twenty-First District not only has a brand new title but goes into Chapter 47 and also deals with the purpose of revenue and where that revenue is going; makes changes, in addition, to State Patrol Highway account; the RV account; transportation partnership account; Puget Sound ferry account. All of these are new items and believe changes the scope and object of the original bill."

Senator Liias spoke against the point of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, further consideration of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5785 was deferred and the bill held its place on the second reading calendar.

(8) In addition to the requirements of the administrative procedure act established in chapter 34.05 RCW, the commissioner must provide notice of proposed rule making on matters related to health care insurance to the health care committees of the legislature, the health benefit exchange established under chapter 43.71 RCW, the health care authority established under chapter 41.05 RCW, and the governor. Concerning representation of children in dependency matters.

THIRTY SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 17, 2014

2014 REGULAR SESSION

On motion of Senator O'Ban, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6126 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6126 and the second substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator O'Ban moved that the following striking amendment by Senator O'Ban and others be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature recognizes that many children languish in foster care following the termination of the parent and child relationship. These children have legal rights but no longer have a parent or advocate to represent their unique interests to the court. The legislature finds that providing attorneys for children following the termination of the parent and child relationship is fundamental to protecting the child's legal rights and to accelerate permanency.

(2) Although the legislature recognizes that many jurisdictions provide attorneys to children prior to termination of the parent and child relationship, nothing in this act may be construed against the parent's fundamental liberty interest in parenting the child prior to termination of the parent and child relationship as stated in In re Dependency of K.N.J., 171 Wn.2d 568, 574 (2011) and In re Welfare of Lusier, 84 Wn.2d 135, 136-37 (1974), unless such a position would jeopardize the child's right to conditions of basic nurture, health, or safety.

Sec. 2. RCW 13.34.100 and 2010 c 180 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for a child who is the subject of an action under this chapter, unless a court for good cause finds the appointment unnecessary. The requirement of a guardian ad litem may be deemed satisfied if the child is represented by an independent ((counsel)) attorney in the proceedings. The court shall attempt to match a child with special needs with a guardian ad litem who has specific training or education related to the child's individual needs.

(2) If the court does not have available to it a guardian ad litem program with a sufficient number of volunteers, the court may appoint a suitable person to act as guardian ad litem for the child under this chapter. Another party to the proceeding or the party's employee or representative shall not be so appointed.

(3) Each guardian ad litem program shall maintain a background information record for each guardian ad litem in the program. The background information record shall include, but is not limited to, the following information:

- (a) Level of formal education;
- (b) General training related to the guardian ad litem's duties;
- (c) Specific training related to issues potentially faced by children in the dependency system;
- (d) Specific training or education related to child disability or developmental issues;
- (e) Number of years' experience as a guardian ad litem;
- (f) Number of appointments as a guardian ad litem and the county or counties of appointment;
- (g) The names of any counties in which the person was removed from a guardian ad litem registry pursuant to a grievance action, and the name of the court and the cause number of any case in which the court has removed the person for cause;
- (h) Founded allegations of abuse or neglect as defined in RCW 26.44.020;

(i) The results of an examination of state and national criminal identification data. The examination shall consist of a background check as allowed through the Washington state criminal records privacy act under RCW 10.97.050, the Washington state patrol criminal identification system under RCW 43.43.832 through 43.43.834, and the federal bureau of investigation. The background check shall be done through the Washington state patrol criminal identification section and must include a national check from the federal bureau of investigation based on the submission of fingerprints; and

(j) Criminal history, as defined in RCW 9.94A.030, for the period covering ten years prior to the appointment.

The background information record shall be updated annually. As a condition of appointment, the guardian ad litem's background information record shall be made available to the court. If the appointed guardian ad litem is not a member of a guardian ad litem program a suitable person appointed by the court to act as guardian ad litem shall provide the background information record to the court.

Upon appointment, the guardian ad litem, or guardian ad litem program, shall provide the parties or their attorneys with a copy of the background information record. The portion of the background information record containing the results of the criminal background check and the criminal history shall not be disclosed to the parties or their attorneys. The background information record shall not include identifying information that may be used to harm a guardian ad litem, such as home addresses and home telephone numbers, and for volunteer guardians ad litem the court may allow the use of maiden names or pseudonyms as necessary for their safety.

(4) The appointment of the guardian ad litem shall remain in effect until the court discharges the appointment or no longer has jurisdiction, whichever comes first. The guardian ad litem may also be discharged upon entry of an order of guardianship.

(5) A guardian ad litem through ~~((counsel))~~ an attorney, or as otherwise authorized by the court, shall have the right to present evidence, examine and cross-examine witnesses, and to be present at all hearings. A guardian ad litem shall receive copies of all pleadings and other documents filed or submitted to the court, and notice of all hearings according to court rules. The guardian ad litem shall receive all notice contemplated for a parent or other party in all proceedings under this chapter.

(6)(a) The court must appoint an attorney for a child in a dependency proceeding six months after granting a petition to terminate the parent and child relationship pursuant to RCW 13.34.180 and when there is no remaining parent with parental rights.

The court must appoint an attorney for a child when there is no remaining parent with parental rights for six months or longer prior to the effective date of this section if the child is not already represented.

The court may appoint one attorney to a group of siblings, unless there is a conflict of interest, or such representation is otherwise inconsistent with the rules of professional conduct.

(b) Legal services provided by an attorney appointed pursuant to (a) of this subsection do not include representation of the child in any appellate proceedings relative to the termination of the parent and child relationship.

(c)(i) Subject to the availability of amounts appropriated for this specific purpose, the state may pay the costs of legal services provided by an attorney appointed pursuant to (a) of this subsection, if the legal services are provided in accordance with the standards of practice, voluntary training, and caseload limits developed and recommended by the statewide children's representation work group pursuant to section 5, chapter 180, Laws of 2010. Caseload limits must be calculated pursuant to (c)(ii) of this subsection.

(ii) Counties are encouraged to set caseloads as low as possible and to account for the individual needs of the children in care. Notwithstanding the caseload limits developed and recommended by the statewide children's representation work group pursuant to section 5, chapter 180, Laws of 2010, when one attorney represents a sibling group, the first child is counted as one case, and each child thereafter is counted as one-half case to determine compliance with the caseload standards pursuant to (c)(i) of this subsection and section 3 of this act.

(iii) The office of civil legal aid is responsible for implementation of (c)(i) and (ii) of this subsection as provided in section 3 of this act.

(7)(a) The court may appoint an attorney to represent the child's position in any dependency action on its own initiative, or upon the request of a parent, the child, a guardian ad litem, a caregiver, or the department.

(b) If the court has not already appointed an attorney for a child, or the child is not represented by a privately retained attorney:

(i) The child's caregiver, or any individual, may refer the child to an attorney for the purposes of filing a motion to request appointment of an attorney at public expense; or

(ii) The child or any individual may retain an attorney for the child for the purposes of filing a motion to request appointment of an attorney at public expense.

(c) Pursuant to this subsection, the department or supervising agency and the child's guardian ad litem shall each notify a child of his or her right to request (~~(counsel)~~) an attorney and shall ask the child whether he or she wishes to have (~~(counsel)~~) an attorney. The department or supervising agency and the child's guardian ad litem shall notify the child and make this inquiry immediately after:

(i) The date of the child's twelfth birthday;

(ii) Assignment of a case involving a child age twelve or older; or

(iii) July 1, 2010, for a child who turned twelve years old before July 1, 2010.

~~((b))~~ (d) The department or supervising agency and the child's guardian ad litem shall repeat the notification and inquiry at least annually and upon the filing of any motion or petition affecting the child's placement, services, or familial relationships.

~~((c))~~ (e) The notification and inquiry is not required if the child has already been appointed (~~(counsel)~~) an attorney.

~~((d))~~ (f) The department or supervising agency shall note in the child's individual service and safety plan, and the guardian ad litem shall note in his or her report to the court, that the child was notified of the right to request (~~(counsel)~~) an attorney and indicate the child's position regarding appointment of (~~(counsel)~~) an attorney.

~~((e))~~ (g) At the first regularly scheduled hearing after:

(i) The date of the child's twelfth birthday;

(ii) The date that a dependency petition is filed pursuant to this chapter on a child age twelve or older; or

The court shall make an additional inquiry at the first regularly scheduled hearing after the child's fifteenth birthday. No inquiry is necessary if the child has already been appointed (~~(counsel)~~) an attorney.

((f) If the child requests legal counsel and is age twelve or older, or if the guardian ad litem or the court determines that the child needs to be independently represented by counsel, the court may appoint an attorney to represent the child's position.

(7)) (8) For the purposes of child abuse prevention and treatment act (42 U.S.C. Secs. 5101 et seq.) grants to this state under P.L. 93-247, or any related state or federal legislation, a person appointed pursuant to this section shall be deemed a guardian ad litem ((to represent the best interests of the minor in proceedings before the court)).

~~((9))~~ (9) When a court-appointed special advocate or volunteer guardian ad litem is requested on a case, the program shall give the court the name of the person it recommends. The program shall attempt to match a child with special needs with a guardian ad litem who has specific training or education related to the child's individual needs. The court shall immediately appoint the person recommended by the program.

~~((9))~~ (10) If a party in a case reasonably believes the court-appointed special advocate or volunteer guardian ad litem is inappropriate or unqualified, the party may request a review of the appointment by the program. The program must complete the review within five judicial days and remove any appointee for good cause. If the party seeking the review is not satisfied with the outcome of the review, the party may file a motion with the court for the removal of the court-appointed special advocate or volunteer guardian ad litem on the grounds the advocate or volunteer is inappropriate or unqualified.

"Sec. 1. RCW 46.70.045 and 1997 c 432 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The director may deny a license under this chapter when the application is a subterfuge that conceals the real person in interest whose license has been denied, suspended, or revoked for cause under this chapter and the terms have not been fulfilled or a civil penalty has not been paid, ~~((¶))~~ the director finds that the application was not filed in good faith, or the issuance of a new license or subagency would cause a manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative, or an agent, officer, parent company, wholly or partially owned subsidiary, affiliated entity, or other person controlled by or under common control with a manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative, to be in violation of chapter 46.96 RCW. This section does not preclude the department from taking an action against a current licensee.

Sec. 2. RCW 46.96.020 and 2003 c 21 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(2) "New motor vehicle dealer" means a motor vehicle dealer engaged in the business of buying, selling, exchanging, or otherwise dealing in new motor vehicles or new and used motor vehicles at an established place of business, under a franchise, sales and service agreement, or contract with the manufacturer of the new motor vehicles. However, ~~((the term))~~ "new motor vehicle dealer" does not include a miscellaneous vehicle dealer as defined in RCW 46.70.011~~((3))~~ (17)(c) or a motorcycle dealer as defined in chapter 46.94 RCW.

(3) "Franchise" means one or more agreements, whether oral or written, between a manufacturer and a new motor vehicle dealer, under which the new motor vehicle dealer is authorized to sell, service, and repair new motor vehicles, parts, and accessories under a common name, trade name, trademark, or service mark of the manufacturer.

"Franchise" includes an oral or written contract and includes a dealer agreement, either expressed or implied, between a manufacturer and a new motor vehicle dealer that purports to fix the legal rights and liabilities between the parties and under which (a) the dealer is granted the right to purchase and resell motor vehicles manufactured, distributed, or imported by the manufacturer; (b) the dealer's business is associated with the trademark, trade name, commercial symbol, or advertisement designating the franchisor or the products distributed by the manufacturer; and (c) the dealer's business relies on the manufacturer for a continued supply of motor vehicles, parts, and accessories.

(4) "Good faith" means honesty in fact and fair dealing in the trade as defined and interpreted in RCW 62A.2-103.

(5) "Designated successor" means:

(b) A qualified person experienced in the business of a new motor vehicle dealer who has been nominated by the owner of a new motor vehicle dealership as the successor in a written, notarized, and witnessed instrument submitted to the manufacturer; or

(7) "Person" means every natural person, partnership, corporation, association, trust, estate, or any other legal entity.

(8) "Completed vehicle" means a vehicle that requires no further manufacturing operations to perform its intended function.

(9) "Dealer management computer system" means a computer hardware and software system that is owned or leased by a new motor vehicle dealer, including the dealer's use of internet applications, software, or hardware, whether located at an existing dealership facility or provided at a remote location, that provides access to customer records and transactions by a motor vehicle dealer located in this state, and that allows the new motor vehicle dealer timely information in order to sell vehicles, parts, or services through the existing dealership facility.

(10) "Dealer management computer system vendor" means a seller or reseller of dealer management computer systems, to the extent that the seller or reseller is engaged in such activities.

(11) "Final-stage manufacturer" means a person who purchases an incomplete vehicle from a licensed motor vehicle dealer and performs such manufacturing operations that the incomplete vehicle becomes a completed vehicle.

Any incident of unauthorized access to and acquisition of records or data containing dealer or dealer customer information, or any incident of disclosure of dealer customer information to one or more third parties that has not been specifically authorized by the dealer or dealer's customer, constitutes a security breach.

Sec. 3. RCW 46.96.060 and 1989 c 415 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding the terms of a franchise or the terms of a waiver, and except as otherwise provided in RCW 46.96.070(2) (a) through (d), good cause exists for termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal when there is a failure by the new motor vehicle dealer to comply with a provision of the franchise that is both reasonable and of material significance to the franchise relationship, if the new motor vehicle dealer was notified of the failure within one hundred eighty days after the manufacturer first acquired knowledge of the failure and the new motor vehicle dealer did not correct the failure after being requested to do so.

If, however, the failure of the new motor vehicle dealer relates to the performance of the new motor vehicle dealer in sales, service, or level of customer satisfaction, good cause is the failure of the new motor vehicle dealer to comply with reasonable performance standards determined by the manufacturer in accordance with uniformly applied criteria, and:

(a) The new motor vehicle dealer was advised, in writing, by the manufacturer of the failure;

(b) The notice under this subsection stated that notice was provided of a failure of performance under this section;

(c) The manufacturer provided the new motor vehicle dealer with specific, reasonable goals or reasonable performance standards with which the dealer must comply, together with a suggested timetable or program for attaining those goals or standards, and the new motor vehicle dealer was given a reasonable opportunity, for a period not less than one hundred eighty days, to comply with the goals or standards; and

(d) The new motor vehicle dealer did not substantially comply with the manufacturer's performance standards during that period and the failure to demonstrate substantial compliance was not due to market or economic factors within the new motor vehicle dealer's relevant market area that were beyond the control of the dealer.

(2) If the new motor vehicle dealer claims insufficient allocation, a manufacturer does not have good cause for termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal, unless:

(a) The manufacturer or distributor allocated sufficient inventory in the new motor vehicle dealer's primary allocation, both in quantity and product mix, for the dealers' assigned market area. The inventory must have been delivered in a manner that allowed the dealer to reasonably meet the manufacturer's performance standards; and

(b) The manufacturer provides to the new motor vehicle dealer, upon the dealers' request, documentation sufficient to develop a market analysis. This documentation must include, but is not limited to, the allocation of inventory to the dealer and other dealers in the same zone during the period established by the manufacturer, and must not be shared by the dealer with any party not involved in preparing a market analysis or otherwise engaged in the termination proceeding.

(3) The manufacturer has the burden of proof of establishing good cause and good faith for the termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal of the franchise under this section.

Sec. 4. RCW 46.96.080 and 2009 c 12 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon the termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal of a franchise, the manufacturer shall pay the new motor vehicle dealer, at a minimum:

(a) Dealer cost plus any charges by the manufacturer for distribution, delivery, and taxes, less all allowances paid or credited to the dealer by the manufacturer, of unused, undamaged, and unsold new motor vehicles in the new motor vehicle dealer's inventory that were acquired from the manufacturer or another new motor vehicle dealer of the same line make in the ordinary course of business within the previous twelve months;

(b) Dealer cost for all unused, undamaged, and unsold supplies, parts, and accessories in original packaging, except that in the case of sheet metal, a comparable substitute for original packaging may be used, if the supply, part, or accessory was acquired from the manufacturer or from another new motor vehicle dealer ceasing operations as a part of the new motor vehicle dealer's initial inventory as long as the supplies, parts, and accessories appear in the manufacturer's current parts catalog, list, or current offering;

(c) Dealer cost for all unused, undamaged, and unsold inventory, whether vehicles, parts, or accessories, the purchase of which was required by the manufacturer;

(d) The fair market value of each undamaged sign owned by the new motor vehicle dealer that bears a common name, trade name, or trademark of the manufacturer, if acquisition of the sign was recommended or required by the manufacturer and the sign is in good and usable condition less reasonable wear and tear, and has not been depreciated by the dealer more than fifty percent of the value of the sign;

(e) The fair market value of all equipment, furnishings, and special tools owned or leased by the new motor vehicle dealer that were acquired from the manufacturer or sources approved by the manufacturer and that were recommended or required by the manufacturer and are in good and usable condition, less reasonable wear and tear. However, if the equipment, furnishings, or tools are leased by the new motor vehicle dealer, the manufacturer shall pay the new motor vehicle dealer such amounts that are required by the lessor to terminate the lease under the terms of the lease agreement; and

(f) The cost of transporting, handling, packing, and loading of new motor vehicles, supplies, parts, accessories, signs, special tools, equipment, and furnishings purchased from the manufacturer or manufacturer-approved vendor.

To the extent the franchise agreement provides for payment or reimbursement to the new motor vehicle dealer in excess of that specified in this section, the provisions of the franchise agreement shall control.

(2)(a) For the nonrenewal or termination of a franchise that is implemented as a result of the sale of assets or stock of the motor vehicle dealer, the party purchasing the assets or stock of the motor vehicle dealer may negotiate for the purchase or other transfer of some or all unused, undamaged, and unsold new motor vehicles in the selling new motor vehicle dealer's inventory that were acquired from the manufacturer or another new motor vehicle dealer of the same line make in the ordinary course of business within the previous twelve months.

(b) For the nonrenewal or termination of a franchise that is implemented as a result of the sale of assets or stock of the motor vehicle dealer, this section does not prohibit a manufacturer from negotiating with the purchasing party for the purchase or other transfer of some or all unused, undamaged, and unsold new motor vehicles in the selling new motor vehicle dealer's inventory that were acquired from the manufacturer or another new motor vehicle dealer of the same line make in the ordinary course of business within the previous twelve months.

(c) A manufacturer's obligation under (a) of this subsection extends only to vehicles not purchased or otherwise transferred to the party purchasing the assets or stock of the motor vehicle dealer.

(3) The manufacturer shall pay the new motor vehicle dealer the sums specified in subsection (1) of this section (a) within ninety days after the termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal of the franchise, if the new motor vehicle dealer has clear title to the property or can provide clear title to the property upon payment by the manufacturer and is in a position to convey that title to the manufacturer, or (b) on the date of delivery of the assets to the manufacturer, whichever is earlier.

(4) In the case of motor homes, this section applies only to manufacturer-initiated termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal of a franchise.

Sec. 5. RCW 46.96.090 and 2010 c 178 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In the event of a termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal under this chapter, except for termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal under RCW 46.96.070(2) or a voluntary termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal initiated by the dealer, the manufacturer shall, at the request and option of the new motor vehicle dealer, also pay to the new motor vehicle dealer the dealer costs for any relocation, substantial alteration, or remodeling of a dealer's facilities required by a manufacturer for the granting of a franchise or the continuance or renewal of a franchise agreement completed within three years of the termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal and:

(a) A sum equivalent to rent for the unexpired term of the lease or one year, whichever is less, or such longer term as provided in the franchise, if the new motor vehicle dealer is leasing the new motor vehicle dealership facilities from a lessor other than the manufacturer; or

(b) A sum equivalent to the reasonable rental value of the new motor vehicle dealership facilities for one year or until the facilities are leased or sold, whichever is less, if the new motor vehicle dealer owns the new motor vehicle dealership facilities.

(2) The rental payment required under subsection (1) of this section is only required to the extent that the facilities were used for activities under the franchise and only to the extent the facilities were not leased for unrelated purposes. If the rental payment under subsection (1) of this section is made, the manufacturer is entitled to possession and use of the new motor vehicle dealership facilities for the period rent is paid.

Sec. 6. RCW 46.96.105 and 2010 c 178 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each manufacturer shall specify in its franchise agreement, or in a separate written agreement, with each of its dealers licensed in this state, the dealer's obligation to perform warranty work or service on the manufacturer's products. Each manufacturer shall provide each of its dealers with a schedule of compensation to be paid to the dealer for any warranty work or service, including parts, labor, and diagnostic work, required of the dealer by the manufacturer in connection with the manufacturer's products. The schedule of compensation must not be less than the rates charged by the dealer for similar service to retail customers for nonwarranty service and repairs, and must not be less than the schedule of compensation for an existing dealer as of June 10, 2010.

(a) The rates charged by the dealer for nonwarranty service or work for parts means the price paid by the dealer for those parts, including all shipping and other charges, increased by the franchisee's average percentage markup. A dealer must establish and declare the dealer's average percentage markup by submitting to the manufacturer one hundred sequential customer-paid service repair orders or ninety days of customer-paid service repair orders, whichever is less, covering repairs made no more than one hundred eighty days before the submission. A change in a dealer's established average percentage markup takes effect thirty days following the submission. A manufacturer may not require a dealer to establish average percentage markup by another methodology. A manufacturer may not require information that the dealer believes is unduly burdensome or time consuming to provide, including, but not limited to, part-by-part or transaction-by-transaction calculations. In calculating the retail rate customarily charged by the dealer for parts and labor, the following work must not be included in the calculation:

(i) Repairs for manufacturer or distributor special events, specials, or promotional discounts for retail customer repairs;

(ii) Parts sold at wholesale or at reduced or specially negotiated rates for insurance repairs;

(iii) Routine maintenance not covered under warranty, such as fluids, filters, and belts not provided in the course of repairs;

(iv) Nuts, bolts, fasteners, and similar items that do not have an individual part number;

(v) Tires;

(vi) Batteries and light bulbs; and

(vii) Vehicle reconditioning.

(b) A manufacturer shall compensate a dealer for labor and diagnostic work at the rates charged by the dealer to its retail customers for such work and for any documentation work required by the manufacturer to authorize or verify the work including, but not limited to, photographs, paperwork, and electronic data entry. However, a manufacturer is not required to compensate a dealer more than once for the same documentation work. If a manufacturer can demonstrate that the rates unreasonably exceed those of all other franchised motor vehicle dealers in the same relevant market area offering the same or a competitive motor vehicle line, the manufacturer is not required to honor the rate increase proposed by the dealer. If the manufacturer is not required to honor the rate increase proposed by the dealer, the dealer is entitled to resubmit a new proposed rate for labor and diagnostic work.

(c) A dealer may not be granted an increase in the average percentage markup or labor and diagnostic work rate more than ~~(twice)~~ once in one calendar year.

(2) All claims for warranty work for parts and labor made by dealers under this section ~~(shall)~~ must be submitted to the manufacturer within ~~((one year))~~ ninety days of the date the work was performed. All claims submitted must be paid by the manufacturer within thirty days following receipt, provided the claim has been approved by the manufacturer. The manufacturer has the right to audit claims for warranty work and to charge the dealer for any unsubstantiated, incorrect, or false claims for a period of ~~((one year))~~ nine months following payment. However, the manufacturer may audit and charge the dealer for any fraudulent claims during any period for which an action for fraud may be commenced under applicable state law.

(3) All claims submitted by dealers on the forms and in the manner specified by the manufacturer shall be either approved or disapproved within thirty days following their receipt. The manufacturer shall notify the dealer in writing of any disapproved claim, and shall set forth the reasons why the claim was not approved. Any claim not specifically disapproved in writing within thirty days following receipt is approved, and the manufacturer is required to pay that claim within thirty days of receipt of the claim.

(4) A manufacturer may not otherwise recover all or any portion of its costs for compensating its dealers licensed in this state for warranty parts and service either by reduction in the amount due to the dealer or by separate charge, surcharge, or other imposition.

Sec. 7. RCW 46.96.185 and 2010 c 178 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding the terms of a franchise agreement, a manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative, or an agent, officer, parent company, wholly or partially owned subsidiary, affiliated entity, or other person controlled by or under common control with a manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative, shall not:

(a) Discriminate between new motor vehicle dealers by selling or offering to sell a like vehicle to one dealer at a lower actual price than the actual price offered to another dealer for the same model similarly equipped;

(b) Discriminate between new motor vehicle dealers by selling or offering to sell parts or accessories to one dealer at a lower actual price than the actual price offered to another dealer;

(c) Discriminate between new motor vehicle dealers by using a promotion plan, marketing plan, or other similar device that results in a lower actual price on vehicles, parts, or accessories being charged to one dealer over another dealer;

(d) Discriminate between new motor vehicle dealers by adopting a method, or changing an existing method, for the allocation, scheduling, or delivery of new motor vehicles, parts, or accessories to its dealers that is not fair, reasonable, and equitable. Upon the request of a dealer, a manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative shall disclose in writing to the dealer the method by which new motor vehicles, parts, and accessories are allocated, scheduled, or delivered to its dealers handling the same line or make of vehicles;

(e) Discriminate against a new motor vehicle dealer by preventing, offsetting, or otherwise impairing the dealer's right to request a documentary service fee on affinity or similar program purchases. This prohibition applies to, but is not limited to, any promotion plan, marketing plan, manufacturer or dealer employee or employee friends or family purchase programs, or similar plans or programs;

(f) Give preferential treatment to some new motor vehicle dealers over others by refusing or failing to deliver, in reasonable quantities and within a reasonable time after receipt of an order, to a dealer holding a franchise for a line or make of motor vehicles sold or distributed by the manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative, a new vehicle, parts, or accessories, if the vehicle, parts, or accessories are being delivered to other dealers, or require a dealer to purchase unreasonable advertising displays or other materials, or unreasonably require a dealer to remodel or renovate existing facilities as a prerequisite to receiving a model or series of vehicles;

(g) Compete with a new motor vehicle dealer of any make or line by acting in the capacity of a new motor vehicle dealer, or by owning, operating, or controlling, whether directly or indirectly, a motor vehicle dealership in this state. It is not, however, a violation of this subsection for:

(i) A manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative to own or operate a dealership for a temporary period, not to exceed two years, during the transition from one owner of the dealership to another where the dealership was previously owned by a franchised dealer and is currently for sale to any qualified independent person at a fair and reasonable price. The temporary operation may be extended for one twelve-month period on petition of the temporary operator to the department. The matter will be handled as an adjudicative proceeding under chapter 34.05 RCW. A dealer who is a franchisee of the petitioning manufacturer or distributor may intervene and participate in a proceeding under this subsection (1)(g)(i). The temporary operator has the burden of proof to show justification for the extension and a good faith effort to sell the dealership to an independent person at a fair and reasonable price;

(ii) A manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative to own or operate a dealership in conjunction with an independent person in a bona fide business relationship for the purpose of broadening the diversity of its dealer body and enhancing opportunities for qualified persons who are part of a group who have historically been underrepresented in its dealer body, or other qualified persons who lack the resources to purchase a dealership outright, and where the independent person: (A) Has made, or within a period of two years from the date of commencement of operation will have made, a significant, bona fide capital investment in the dealership that is subject to loss; (B) has an ownership interest in the dealership; and (C) operates the dealership under a bona fide written agreement with the manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative under which he or she will acquire all of the ownership interest in the dealership within a reasonable period of time and under reasonable terms and conditions. The manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative has the burden of proof of establishing that the acquisition of the dealership by the independent person was made within a reasonable period of time and under reasonable terms and conditions. Nothing in this subsection (1)(g)(ii) relieves a manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative from complying with (a) through (f) of this subsection;

(iii) A manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative to own or operate a dealership in conjunction with an independent person in a bona fide business relationship where the independent person: (A) Has made, or within a period of two years from the date of commencement of operation will have made, a significant, bona fide capital investment in the dealership that is subject to loss; (B) has an ownership interest in the dealership; and (C) operates the dealership under a bona fide written agreement with the manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative under which he or she will acquire all of the ownership interest in the dealership within a reasonable period of time and under reasonable terms and conditions. The manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative has the burden of proof of establishing that the acquisition of the dealership by the independent person was made within a reasonable period of time and under reasonable terms and conditions. The number of dealerships operated under this subsection (1)(g)(iii) may not exceed four percent rounded up to the nearest whole number of a manufacturer's total of new motor vehicle dealer franchises in this state. Nothing in this subsection (1)(g)(iii) relieves a manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative from complying with (a) through (f) of this subsection;

(iv) A truck manufacturer to own, operate, or control a new motor vehicle dealership that sells only trucks of that manufacturer's line make with a gross vehicle weight rating of 12,500 pounds or more, and the truck manufacturer has been continuously engaged in the retail sale of the trucks at least since January 1, 1993; (~~(e)~~)

2014 REGULAR SESSION

(v) A manufacturer to own, operate, or control a new motor vehicle dealership trading exclusively in a single line make of the manufacturer if (A) the manufacturer does not own, directly or indirectly, in the aggregate, in excess of forty-five percent of the total ownership interest in the dealership, (B) at the time the manufacturer first acquires ownership or assumes operation or control of any such dealership, the distance between any dealership thus owned, operated, or controlled and the nearest new motor vehicle dealership trading in the same line make of vehicle and in which the manufacturer has no ownership or control is not less than fifteen miles and complies with the applicable provisions in the relevant market area sections of this chapter, (C) all of the manufacturer's franchise agreements confer rights on the dealer of that line make to develop and operate within a defined geographic territory or area, as many dealership facilities as the dealer and the manufacturer agree are appropriate, and (D) as of January 1, 2000, the manufacturer had no more than four new motor vehicle dealers of that manufacturer's line make in this state, and at least half of those dealers owned and operated two or more dealership facilities in the geographic territory or area covered by their franchise agreements with the manufacturer;

(vi) A final-stage manufacturer to own, operate, or control a new motor vehicle dealership; or

(vii) A manufacturer that held a vehicle dealer license in this state on January 1, 2014, to own, operate, or control a new motor vehicle dealership that sells new vehicles that are only of that manufacturer's makes or lines and that are not sold new by a licensed independent franchise dealer, or to own, operate, or control or contract with companies that provide finance, leasing, or service for vehicles that are of that manufacturer's makes or lines;

(h) Compete with a new motor vehicle dealer by owning, operating, or controlling, whether directly or indirectly, a service facility in this state for the repair or maintenance of motor vehicles under the manufacturer's new car warranty and extended warranty. Nothing in this subsection (1)(h), however, prohibits a manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative from owning or operating a service facility for the purpose of providing or performing maintenance, repair, or service work on motor vehicles that are owned by the manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative;

(i) Use confidential or proprietary information obtained from a new motor vehicle dealer to unfairly compete with the dealer. For purposes of this subsection (1)(i), "confidential or proprietary information" means trade secrets as defined in RCW 19.108.010, business plans, marketing plans or strategies, customer lists, contracts, sales data, revenues, or other financial information;

(j)(i) Terminate, cancel, or fail to renew a franchise with a new motor vehicle dealer based upon any of the following events, which do not constitute good cause for termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal under RCW 46.96.060: (A) The fact that the new motor vehicle dealer owns, has an investment in, participates in the management of, or holds a franchise agreement for the sale or service of another make or line of new motor vehicles; (B) the fact that the new motor vehicle dealer has established another make or line of new motor vehicles or service in the same dealership facilities as those of the manufacturer or distributor; (C) that the new motor vehicle dealer has or intends to relocate the manufacturer or distributor's make or line of new motor vehicles or service to an existing dealership facility that is within the relevant market area, as defined in RCW 46.96.140, of the make or line to be relocated, except that, in any nonemergency circumstance, the dealer must give the manufacturer or distributor at least sixty days' notice of his or her intent to relocate and the relocation must comply with RCW 46.96.140 and 46.96.150 for any same make or line facility; or (D) the failure of a franchisee to change the location of the dealership or to make substantial alterations to the use or number of franchises on the dealership premises or facilities.

(ii) Notwithstanding the limitations of this section, a manufacturer may, for separate consideration, enter into a written contract with a dealer to exclusively sell and service a single make or line of new motor vehicles at a specific facility for a defined period of time. The penalty for breach of the contract must not exceed the amount of consideration paid by the manufacturer plus a reasonable rate of interest;

(k) Coerce or attempt to coerce a motor vehicle dealer to refrain from, or prohibit or attempt to prohibit a new motor vehicle dealer from acquiring, owning, having an investment in, participating in the management of, or holding a franchise agreement for the sale or service of another make or line of new motor vehicles or related products, or establishing another make or line of new motor vehicles or service in the same dealership facilities, if the prohibition against acquiring, owning, investing, managing, or holding a franchise for such additional make or line of vehicles or products, or establishing another make or line of new motor vehicles or service in the same dealership facilities, is not supported by reasonable business considerations. The burden of proving that reasonable business considerations support or justify the prohibition against the additional make or line of new motor vehicles or products or nonexclusive facilities is on the manufacturer;

(l) Require, by contract or otherwise, a new motor vehicle dealer to make a material alteration, expansion, or addition to any dealership facility, unless the required alteration, expansion, or addition is uniformly required of other similarly situated new motor vehicle dealers of the same make or line of vehicles and is reasonable in light of all existing circumstances, including economic conditions. In any proceeding in which a required facility alteration, expansion, or addition is an issue, the manufacturer or distributor has the burden of proof. Except for a program or any renewal or modification of a program that is in effect with one or more new motor vehicle dealers in this state on the effective date of this section, a manufacturer shall not require, coerce, or attempt to coerce any new motor vehicle dealer by program, policy, standard, or otherwise to change the location of the dealership or construct, replace, renovate, or make any substantial changes, alterations, or remodeling to a new motor vehicle dealer's sales or service facilities, except as necessary to comply with health or safety laws or to comply with technology requirements without which a dealer would be unable to service a vehicle the dealer has elected to sell, before the tenth anniversary of the date of issuance of the certificate of occupancy or the manufacturer's approval, whichever is later, from:

(i) The date construction of the dealership at that location was completed if the construction was in substantial compliance with standards or plans provided by a manufacturer, distributor, or representative or through a subsidiary or agent of the manufacturer, distributor, or representative; or

(ii) The date a prior change, alteration, or remodel of the dealership at that location was completed if the construction was in substantial compliance with standards or plans provided by a manufacturer, distributor, or representative or through a subsidiary or agent of the manufacturer, distributor, or representative;

(m) Prevent or attempt to prevent by contract or otherwise any new motor vehicle dealer from changing the executive management of a new motor vehicle dealer unless the manufacturer or distributor, having the burden of proof, can show that a proposed change of executive management will result in executive management by a person or persons who are not of good moral character or who do not meet reasonable, preexisting, and equitably applied standards of the manufacturer or distributor. If a manufacturer or distributor rejects a proposed change in the executive management, the manufacturer or distributor shall give written notice of its reasons to the dealer within sixty days after receiving written notice from the dealer of the proposed change and all related information reasonably requested by the manufacturer or distributor, or the change in executive management must be considered approved; ~~((o))~~

(n) Condition the sale, transfer, relocation, or renewal of a franchise agreement or condition manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative sales, services, or parts incentives upon the manufacturer obtaining site control, including rights to purchase or lease the dealer's facility, or an agreement to make improvements or substantial renovations to a facility. For purposes of this section, a substantial renovation has a gross cost to the dealer in excess of five thousand dollars;

(o) Fail to provide to a new motor vehicle dealer purchasing or leasing building materials or other facility improvements the right to purchase or lease franchisor image elements of like kind and quality from an alternative vendor selected by the dealer if the goods or services are to be supplied by a vendor selected, identified, or designated by the manufacturer or distributor. If the vendor selected by the manufacturer or distributor is the only available vendor of like kind and quality materials, the new motor vehicle dealer must be given the opportunity to purchase the franchisor image elements at a price substantially similar to the capitalized lease costs of the elements. This subsection (1)(o) must not be construed to allow a new motor vehicle dealer or vendor to gain additional intellectual property rights they are not otherwise entitled to or to impair or eliminate the intellectual property rights of the manufacturer or distributor or to permit a new motor vehicle dealer to erect or maintain signs that do not conform to the reasonable intellectual property usage guidelines of the manufacturer or distributor;

(p) Take any adverse action against a new motor vehicle dealer including, but not limited to, charge backs or reducing vehicle allocations, for sales and service performance within a designated area of primary responsibility unless that area is reasonable in light of proximity to relevant census tracts to the dealership and competing dealerships, highways and road networks, state borders, any natural or man-made barriers, demographics, including economic factors, and buyer behavior information; or

(q) Require, coerce, or attempt to coerce any new motor vehicle dealer by program, policy, facility guide, standard, or otherwise to order or accept delivery of any service or repair appliances, equipment, parts, or accessories, or any other commodity not required by law, which the dealer has not voluntarily ordered or which the dealer does not have the right to return unused for a full refund within ninety days or a longer period as mutually agreed upon by the dealer and manufacturer.

(2) Subsection (1)(a), (b), and (c) of this section do not apply to sales to a motor vehicle dealer: (a) For resale to a federal, state, or local government agency; (b) where the vehicles will be sold or donated for use in a program of driver's education; (c) where the sale is made under a manufacturer's bona fide promotional program offering sales incentives or rebates; (d) where the sale of parts or accessories is under a manufacturer's bona fide quantity discount program; or (e) where the sale is made under a manufacturer's bona fide fleet vehicle discount program. For purposes of this subsection, "fleet" means a group of fifteen or more new motor vehicles purchased or leased by a dealer at one time under a single purchase or lease agreement for use as part of a fleet, and where the dealer has been assigned a fleet identifier code by the department of licensing.

(3) The following definitions apply to this section:

(a) "Actual price" means the price to be paid by the dealer less any incentive paid by the manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative, whether paid to the dealer or the ultimate purchaser of the vehicle.

(b) "Control" or "controlling" means (i) the possession of, title to, or control of ten percent or more of the voting equity interest in a person, whether directly or indirectly through a fiduciary, agent, or other intermediary, or (ii) the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, through director control, by contract, or otherwise, except as expressly provided under the franchise agreement.

(c) "Motor vehicles" does not include trucks that are 14,001 pounds gross vehicle weight and above or recreational vehicles as defined in RCW 43.22.335.

(d) "Operate" means to manage a dealership, whether directly or indirectly.

(e) "Own" or "ownership" means to hold the beneficial ownership of one percent or more of any class of equity interest in a dealership, whether the interest is that of a shareholder, partner, limited liability company member, or otherwise. To hold an ownership interest means to have possession of, title to, or control of the ownership interest, whether directly or indirectly through a fiduciary, agent, or other intermediary.

(4) A violation of this section is deemed to affect the public interest and constitutes an unlawful and unfair practice under chapter 19.86 RCW. A person aggrieved by an alleged violation of this section may petition the department to have the matter handled as an adjudicative proceeding under chapter 34.05 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 46.96 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding the terms or conditions of any consent, authorization, release, novation, franchise, or other contract or agreement, whenever any manufacturer, factory branch, distributor, distributor branch, dealer management computer system vendor, or any third party acting on behalf of or through, or approved, referred, endorsed, authorized, certified, granted preferred status, or recommended by, any manufacturer, factory branch, distributor, distributor branch, or dealer management computer system vendor, requires that a new motor vehicle dealer provide any other new motor vehicle dealer, consumer, or customer data or information through direct access to the dealer's management computer system, the new motor vehicle dealer is not required to provide, and may not be required to consent to provide in any written agreement, such direct access to its management computer system.

However, the new motor vehicle dealer may provide any other new motor vehicle dealer, consumer, or customer data or information specified by the requesting party by timely obtaining and pushing or otherwise furnishing the requested data to the requesting party in a widely accepted file format, such as comma delimited, provided that when a new motor vehicle dealer would otherwise be required to provide direct access to its management computer system under the terms of a consent, authorization, release, novation, franchise, or other contract or agreement, a new motor vehicle dealer that elects to provide data or information through other means may be charged a reasonable initial set-up fee and reasonable processing fee based on the actual incremental costs incurred by the party requesting the data for establishing and implementing the process for the dealer. Any term or provision contained in any consent, authorization, release, novation, franchise, or other contract or agreement that is inconsistent with this subsection is voidable at the option of the new motor vehicle dealer.

(2) Notwithstanding the terms or conditions of any consent, authorization, release, novation, franchise, or other contract or agreement, every manufacturer, factory branch, distributor, distributor branch, or any third party acting on behalf of or through any manufacturer, factory branch, distributor, or distributor branch, having electronic access to consumer or customer data or other information in a computer system utilized by a new motor vehicle dealer, or who has otherwise been provided consumer or customer data or information by the dealer, shall fully indemnify and hold harmless the dealer from whom it has acquired the consumer or customer data or other information from all damages, costs, and expenses incurred by the dealer including, but not limited to, judgments, settlements, fines, penalties, litigation costs, defense costs, court costs, costs related to the disclosure of security breaches, and attorneys' fees arising out of complaints, claims, security breaches, civil or administrative actions, and, to the fullest extent allowable under the law, governmental investigations and prosecutions to the extent caused by the manufacturer, factory branch, distributor, distributor branch, or third party acting on behalf of the manufacturer, factory branch, distributor, or distributor branch's access, storage, maintenance, use, sharing, disclosure, or retention of the dealer's consumer or customer data or other information, or maintenance or services provided to any computer system utilized by the dealer by the manufacturer, factory branch, distributor, distributor branch, or third party acting on behalf of or through the manufacturer, factory branch, distributor, or distributor branch.

(3) Notwithstanding the terms or conditions of any consent, authorization, release, novation, franchise, or other contract or agreement, a dealer management computer system vendor or any third party acting on behalf of or through any dealer management computer system vendor, having electronic access to consumer or customer data or other information in a computer system utilized by a new motor vehicle dealer, or who has otherwise been provided consumer or customer data or information by the dealer, shall fully indemnify and hold harmless the dealer from whom it has acquired the consumer or customer data or other information from all damages, costs, and expenses incurred by the dealer including, but not limited to, judgments, settlements, fines, penalties, litigation costs, defense costs, court costs, costs related to the disclosure of security breaches, and attorneys' fees arising out of complaints, claims, security breaches, civil or administrative actions, and, to the fullest extent allowable under the law, governmental investigations and prosecutions to the extent caused by the dealer management computer system vendor or any third party acting on behalf of the dealer management computer system vendor's access, storage, maintenance, use, sharing, disclosure, or retention of the dealer's consumer or customer data or other information, or maintenance or services provided to any computer system utilized by the dealer, by the dealer management computer system vendor or third party acting on behalf of or through the dealer management computer system vendor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. This act applies to all franchises and contracts between manufacturers and new motor vehicle dealers amended, renewed, or entered into after the effective date of this section. For purposes of chapter 46.96 RCW, an agreement between a manufacturer and new motor vehicle dealer entered into after the effective date of this section, addressing any issues governed by chapter 46.96 RCW, is considered an amendment to an existing franchise."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "As the President stated earlier, every year we have the privilege of having outstanding Scouts from across the state join us. And in that they present the annual report to the state recognizing the thousands of hours of volunteerism that they participate in projects. Making that report this year is, from the Chief Seattle Council, is Ryan Barr from Troop 171 in Seattle."

REMARK BY MR. RYAN BARR

Ryan Barr: "Good morning. My name is Ryan Barr and I'm an Eagle Scout with Boy Scout Troop 171 in Seattle Washington. I and nineteen other Eagle Scouts are here today representing the six Boy Scout Councils in our state. Collectively, we are here today to present the annual report to the State of Washington. This past year nearly sixty-three thousand young people in Washington State participated in Scouting programs with the mentorship of more than twenty thousand adults volunteers. Of these Scouts, twenty-six thousand seven hundred nineteen attended camp. A record of one thousand three hundred forty-nine achieved the pinnacle of scouting by earning the rank of Eagle in our state last year. The Boy Scouts of America was founded on the premise, to be a good citizen you must do for others. Since its inception, the Scouts and volunteers have committed to serving others at all times with enthusiasm and conviction. Over the years Scouts have also worked diligently to protecting the environment and learn the value of 'leave no trace.' Through these and many other efforts the Boy Scouts of American have established a tradition of service. In 2013 Washington State Scouts and volunteers donated more than three hundred twenty-seven hours of community service to our state. This volunteer time is valued nearly at 7.4 million dollars. By continuing to recruit quality leadership and finding youths from all backgrounds and circumstances to join and offering a fun and exciting program we seek to help ordinary young people become extraordinary adults. On behalf of the Boy Scout Councils in Washington State I would like to present Lieutenant Governor Brad Owen the copy of the 2014 report."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "As the President said, as demonstrated by the three hundred twenty-seven thousand hours of community service that you are a great asset to the state of Washington. Researches has demonstrated that when young people have something positive to contribute to and be involved in that they're less likely to get into negative behavior. The President would strongly urge all the Scouts that are here today to be mentors to other young people as you are examples to them and they will follow your lead. So, the President would like to recognize all of these outstanding Washington citizens that are with us today. So, if all the Scouts in the gallery would please stand and be recognized the President would appreciate it very much."

SENATE RESOLUTION 8686

By Senators O'Ban, Pedersen, Angel, King, Baumgartner, Tom, Bailey, Honeyford, Parlette, Dansel, Becker, Braun, Hill, Hewitt,

THIRTY SEVENTH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2014

2014 REGULAR SESSION

Ericksen, Sheldon, Hasegawa, Keiser, Kohl-Welles, Cleveland, Liias, Rolfes, Hatfield, Hobbs, McCoy, Hargrove, Darneille, Rivers, Dammeier, Kline, Conway, McAuliffe, Frockt, Billig, Chase, Fraser, Eide, Nelson, Padden, and Roach

WHEREAS, For his acts of heroism and selflessness, Captain William Swenson was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor in 2013; and

WHEREAS, During his military service, William Swenson served as an adviser with the Afghan Border Police Mentor Team in support of the 1st Battalion, 32nd Infantry Regiment, 3rd Brigade Combat Team, and the 10th Mountain Division; and

WHEREAS, On September 8, 2009, Captain Swenson and others were engaged by anti-Afghan forces in the Ganjgal Valley within 100 meters of Ganjgal Village, forcing Captain Swenson to simultaneously return fire while directing troops where to go to provide cover fire for soldiers pinned down by the insurgents' initial volley; and

WHEREAS, Captain Swenson called for immediate suppression on preplanned targets and for smoke to cover the withdrawal of the lead element, but due to the close proximity of insurgent fighters and the unavailability of smoke, multiple indirect fire missions were unsuccessful in deterring the enemy's advance; and

WHEREAS, Enemy soldiers began moving to flank the forces pinned down behind terraces and in trenches, where Captain Swenson discovered his partner advisor and noncommissioned officer-in-charge, Sgt. 1st Class Kenneth Westbrook, who was hit in the face and chest and lay exposed in an open area; and

WHEREAS, Captain Swenson returned accurate fire and repelled the enemy, despite coming under direct fire that killed two adjacent soldiers and wounded another, and immediately began rendering first aid; and

WHEREAS, As the anti-Afghan forces began firing and calling for Swenson and his group to surrender, Swenson halted first aid just long enough to throw a grenade, eliminating the immediate threat to their position and forcing the enemy back, an act of resistance that inspired the pinned troops to rally, and their subsequent response disrupted the enemy attack and pushed them back beyond hand grenade range; and

WHEREAS, Captain Swenson helped carry his wounded partner, Westbrook, with rocket-propelled grenades striking close-by, across 200 meters of terraced open ground where they successfully loaded Westbrook into a waiting MedEvac helicopter which took him to the support hospital at Forward Operating Base Wright; and

WHEREAS, Swenson and others then manned unarmored vehicles and reentered the kill zone two times to evacuate wounded and bring them to the casualty collection point, while Swenson communicated via radio with the air support pilot attempting to determine the location of missing soldiers; and

WHEREAS, When it became clear that a third return to the combat zone with the unarmored vehicle would be impossible, Captain Swenson gathered all available combat power to lead a return to the kill zone using a small convoy of Humvees and armored trucks, an armored ABP truck, and two ANA vehicles; and

WHEREAS, Despite accurate rocket-propelled grenade and machine gun fire, Captain Swenson and others succeeded in rescuing and recovering several wounded and dead, but were forced by the volume of fire to drive past several marked positions deeper into the ambush; and

WHEREAS, Having finally verified the location of the last missing soldiers, Captain Swenson and others drove up through the kill zone one final time, successfully finding their comrades in a deep trench that had been impossible to see from ground angles during previous trips and recovered the bodies of their fallen comrades while providing covering fire; and

WHEREAS, Captain William Swenson, graduate of United States Army Ranger and Airborne School, received his commission as an Infantry Officer in 2002, and served courageously and with valor while stationed three times in Iraq and twice in Afghanistan; and

WHEREAS, For his bravery, Captain Swenson received numerous revered honors and awards including the Bronze Star Medal, the Purple Heart, and the Combat Infantry Badge; and

WHEREAS, He dutifully served as a mentor to members of the Afghan National Security Forces and was deservedly promoted to the esteemed position of Army captain; and

WHEREAS, Captain Swenson fought nobly and gallantly to protect and serve his country, fellow military men and women, and the Afghan and Iraqi people; and

WHEREAS, Captain Swenson always went above the call of duty, remained in control, and protected his fellow soldiers; and

WHEREAS, Captain Swenson eventually retired from military duty in 2011, settling in Seattle, Washington;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate humbly honor United States Army Captain William Swenson, who fought nobly and gallantly to protect his country and fellow soldiers and earned the distinguished Congressional Medal of Honor, for his bravery and sacrifice, and give due recognition for his courage, selflessness, and devotion to the United States of America; and

REMARKS BY CAPTAIN WILLIAM SWENSON

Captain William Swenson: "Lieutenant Governor, Senator O'Ban, members of the Senate. First off, thank you very much for having me out here today. Washington State, as I continually have to remind some East Coasters, is Washington State. This is my home. This is where my heart is. This is what I fight for. You take care of it. And now I sit in a room with people who share a very similar trait to my own. I'm beginning to like to hear myself talk. In all seriousness, my battle ended several years ago but my responsibilities do carry on, my responsibilities to carry on the memories of my fallen colleagues, to carry on the responsibility of reminding the American people that we still have service members down range and to remind the American people that we have veterans who are home but their battles continue. You sitting in this body have a responsibility as well to those veterans and those service members that reside in Washington State. And I ask you to always remember that as you sit here in this room that some of our members have come home and still need continued help. So, I'll do my part to remind Washington State and the American people of what their responsibility is to our veterans and our service members but I ask you to continue doing the same. So, again, thank you for having me here today. Thank you for giving me the chance to talk. This is really a privilege. Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Padden: "Would the gentleman from the Seventeenth District yield to a question? Senator, does this legislation, 6077, remove money that's supposed to go to fight the storm water problem?"

Senator Benton: "Thank you for your question Senator Padden. Absolutely not. The previous speaker is mistaken and maybe the bill report is incorrect but perhaps there's not a clear understanding of how these funds work. All clean water fees pay into the clean water system, whether they're from commercial, residential or DOT, are paid into what is called an enterprise fund. State law protects all of that money and it can only be used for clean water activities. This money is no different. It doesn't do anything about this money. There's a state statute that was put into effect when these laws were passed many years ago that wanted to make sure that this money was used, that the state paid, was only used for state owned facilities. There is no longer a need for that and that we're built out and all these facilities feed into the same storm water system. So, setting money aside that can only be used for DOT storm water facility is not necessary and it ties the hands of local government. So, the money is not being diverted to anything else. It is still going to be used for storm water. So, it is inaccurate to portray this bill as a bill that stops this money from being used from storm water. That is not the case. I know that's hard to believe based on the sponsor of the bill but the fact of the matter is this is a great bill that helps local governments do a better job managing their storm water facilities and not one dime, not one dime is removed from the intended purpose of the money and that is to manage storm water runoff. Thank you Mr. President."

Creating demonstration projects for preserving agricultural land and public infrastructure in flood plains.

MOTION

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 43.23 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The legislature intends that the state conservation commission and the departments of ecology, agriculture, fish and wildlife, and natural resources work together cooperatively, efficiently, and productively to facilitate the expeditious construction of two demonstration projects. The legislature expects that the joint and contemporaneous participation of all these state agencies will expedite the permitting of these demonstration projects. The legislature further intends that the collaborative process that the stakeholder group creates, including local stakeholders among others, will be used as a model for river management throughout the state.

(2) The legislature finds that the excessive accumulation of sediment and gravel in certain rivers of the state poses a threat to farmland and to the recovery or enhancement of certain fish populations. The legislature also finds that the failure to manage sediment and gravel accumulation has contributed to erosion and resulted in the loss of productive farmland and mature treed riparian zones that cool the waters, flooding in residential areas, loss of recreational access to rivers, and loss of public infrastructure.

(3) The state conservation commission and the departments of agriculture, natural resources, fish and wildlife, and ecology must jointly identify and implement two demonstration projects that test the effectiveness and costs of river management by using various sediment management strategies and techniques as applied to accomplish the following goals:

- (a) Protection of agricultural lands;
- (b) Restoration or enhancement of fish runs; and
- (c) Protection of public infrastructure and recreational access.

(4)(a) The state conservation commission must convene a stakeholder group consisting of the departments of agriculture, natural resources, fish and wildlife, and ecology, local and statewide agricultural organizations, tribes, land conservation organizations, and local governments with interest and experience in the use of sediment management techniques to provide for flood control. The stakeholder group must develop and implement two demonstration projects, one located in Whatcom county and one located in Grays Harbor county.

(b) In developing and implementing these demonstration projects, the departments must examine sediment management conducted in the Fraser river, British Columbia, Canada and include any potentially applicable practices in the demonstration projects.

(c) The departments must: (i) Examine and find whether and how the Fraser river experience applies to the goals of this act; and (ii) set benchmarks and a timetable for progress toward achievement of the goals of this act.

(d) Any gravel resources removed as a result of these pilot projects must be: (i) Used at the departments' discretion in projects related to fish programs in the local area of the project or by property owners adjacent to the project; (ii) made available to a local tribe for its use; or (iii) sold and the proceeds applied to funding the demonstration projects.

(5) At a minimum, the pilot projects must include the following sediment management strategies and techniques:

- (a) At all times of sediment or gravel removal, a person must be on hand to observe that the practices follow established pilot project protocols and protect fish life;
- (b) Gravel or sediment may not be removed at times when fish runs are known to be in the river; and
- (c) Reasonable steps must be taken to reduce turbidity resulting from gravel and sediment removal activities.

(6) The departments must consider other sediment management strategies and techniques including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) Reducing turbidity caused by year-round stream bank erosion that is caused by accumulation of excess sediment and gravel that changes the river course;

(b) Providing deeper, cooler holes for fish life;

(c) Providing deeper river channels for fish passage;

(d) Ensuring that any management activities leave sufficient gravel and sediment for fish spawning and rearing;

(e) Providing stable river banks that will allow for long-term growth of riparian enhancement efforts, such as planting shade trees and hedgerows;

(f) Protecting existing mature treed riparian zones that cool the waters;

(g) Removing excess sediment and gravel that causes diversion of water and erosion of river banks and farmland;

(h) Restoring previously existing bank contours that protect the land from erosion caused by more intense and more frequent flooding; and

(i) Developing management practices that reduce the amount of gravel, sediment, and woody debris deposited into farm fields.

(7) The departments must report to the legislative committees with oversight of agriculture, water, rural economic development, ecology, fish and wildlife, and natural resources by December 31, 2014, on: (a) Their examination and findings of the applicability of the Fraser river experience to the goals of this act; (b) their progress toward setting benchmarks and meeting the stakeholder group's timetable; (c) any decisions made in implementing the projects; and (d) agency recommendations for funding of the projects from federal grants, federal loans, state grants and loans, and private donations, or if other funding sources are not available or complete, submitting the two projects for consideration in the biennial capital budget request to the governor and the legislature. The departments must report annually thereafter by December 31st of each year.

(8) The stakeholder group must be staffed jointly by the departments. Costs of the stakeholder group, including staffing, must be borne jointly by the departments."

MOTION

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the availability of affordable, fresh, and nourishing foods is essential for individuals to maintain a healthy lifestyle. The legislature also finds that new methods of purchasing and delivering fresh, nourishing foods are emerging and lowering the costs of these foods. The legislature further finds that the new business models for purchasing and delivering fresh, nourishing foods are being inappropriately classified as food service establishments. Therefore, it is the intent of the legislature to establish a pass-through food distributor license for businesses that sell and collect payment only through a web site for prepackaged foods obtained from a food processor either licensed or inspected, or both, by a state or federal regulatory agency and that deliver the food directly to consumers without any interim storage.

THIRTY SEVENTH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2014

2014 REGULAR SESSION

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 69.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department shall issue a license to operate as a pass-through wholesale food distributor to any entity that:

(a) Submits a completed application on forms approved by the department;

(b) Provides the department with a list of all leased, rented, or owned vehicles used by the applicant's business to deliver food;

(c) Maintains food temperature logs or uses a device to monitor the temperature of the packages in real time for all food while in transport; and

(d) Submits all the appropriate fees to the department.

(2) By rule, the department shall develop an annual license and renewal fee to defray the costs of administering the licensing and inspection program created by this section. All moneys received by the department under the provisions of this section must be paid into the food processing inspection account within the agricultural local fund and must be used solely to carry out the provisions of this section.

(3) A licensed pass-through wholesale food distributor shall protect food from contamination while in transport. Food must be transported under conditions that protect food against physical, chemical, and microbial contamination, as well as against deterioration of the food and its container. This includes, but is not limited to, the separation of raw materials in such a fashion that they avoid cross-contamination of other food products, particularly ready-to-eat food. For example, during the transport of raw fish and seafood, meat, poultry, and other food which inherently contains pathogenic and spoilage microorganisms, as well as soil and other foreign material, must not come into direct contact with other food in the same container or in any other cross-contaminating circumstance.

(4) In the event of a food recall or when required by the department, a federal, state, or local health authority in response to a food borne illness outbreak, a licensed pass-through food distributor shall use its client listserv to notify customers of the recall and any other relevant information.

(5) The department shall:

(a) Conduct inspections of vehicles used by the entity, storage, food handling areas, refrigeration equipment, and product packaging used by the entity;

(b) Audits of temperature logs and other food handling records as appropriate;

(c) Investigate any complaints against a licensed pass-through wholesale food distributor for the failure to maintain food safety; and

(d) Adopt rules, in consultation with the department of health and local health jurisdictions, necessary to administer and enforce the program consistent with federal regulations.

(6) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "Department" means the department of agriculture.

(b) "Pass-through food distributor" means an entity that receives prepackaged food from a food processor either licensed or inspected, or both, by a state or federal regulatory agency or department and that delivers the food directly to consumers who only placed and paid for an order on the entity's web site, without opening the packaging and without dividing it into smaller packages and no interim storage by the pass-through food distributor, and is delivered, by means of vehicles that are equipped with either refrigeration or freezer units, or both, and that meet the requirements of rules authorized by this chapter. "Pass-through food distributor" includes an entity that, prior to delivery to the consumer, temporarily stores the prepackaged food in a food storage facility either licensed or inspected, or both, by a state or federal regulatory agency or department.

(7) Pass-through food distributors that have a license from the department under section 2 of this act are exempt from the permitting requirements of food service rules adopted by the state board of health and any local health jurisdiction."

Data elements shall be reported in conformance with a uniform reporting system established by the department. This includes data elements identifying each hospital's revenues, expenses, contractual allowances, charity care, bad debt, other income, total units of inpatient and outpatient services, and other financial and employee compensation information reasonably necessary to fulfill the purposes of this section. Data elements relating to use of hospital services by patients shall be the same as those currently compiled by hospitals through inpatient discharge abstracts. The department shall encourage and permit reporting by electronic transmission or hard copy as is practical and economical to reporters.

(2) In identifying financial reporting requirements, the department may require both annual reports and condensed quarterly reports from hospitals, so as to achieve both accuracy and

To the greatest extent possible, the form shall follow the format and reporting requirements of the portion of the internal revenue service form 990 schedule relating to compensation information. If the internal revenue service substantially revises its schedule, the department shall update its form.

(4) The health care data collected, maintained, and studied by the department shall only be available for retrieval in original or processed form to public and private requestors pursuant to subsection (7) of this section and shall be available within a reasonable period of time after the date of request. The cost of retrieving data for state officials and agencies shall be funded through the state general appropriation. The cost of retrieving data for individuals and organizations engaged in research or private use of data or studies shall be funded by a fee schedule developed by the department that reflects the direct cost of retrieving the data or study in the requested form.

The district must certify to the superintendent of public instruction that evaluative criteria have been so prepared by the district.

(2)(a) Pursuant to the implementation schedule established in subsection (7)(c) of this section, every board of directors shall, in accordance with procedures provided in RCW 41.59.010 through 41.59.170, 41.59.910, and 41.59.920, establish revised evaluative criteria and a four-level rating system for all certificated classroom teachers.

(b) The minimum criteria shall include: (i) Centering instruction on high expectations for student achievement; (ii) demonstrating effective teaching practices; (iii) recognizing individual student learning needs and developing strategies to address those needs; (iv) providing clear and intentional focus on subject matter content and curriculum; (v) fostering and managing a safe, positive learning environment; (vi) using multiple student data elements to modify instruction and improve student learning; (vii) communicating and collaborating with parents and the school community; and (viii) exhibiting collaborative and collegial practices focused on improving instructional practice and student learning. Student growth data, as determined under (f) of this subsection, must be a substantial factor in evaluating the summative performance of certificated classroom teachers for at least three of the evaluation criteria listed in this subsection.

(c) The four-level rating system used to evaluate the certificated classroom teacher must describe performance along a continuum that indicates the extent to which the criteria have been met or exceeded. The summative performance ratings shall be as follows: Level 1 -unsatisfactory; level 2 - basic; level 3 - proficient; and level 4 -distinguished. A classroom teacher shall receive one of the four summative performance ratings for each of the minimum criteria in (b) of this subsection and one of the four summative performance ratings for the evaluation as a whole, which shall be the comprehensive summative evaluation performance rating. By December 1, 2012, the superintendent of public instruction must adopt rules prescribing a common method for calculating the comprehensive summative evaluation performance rating for each of the preferred instructional frameworks, including for a focused evaluation under subsection (12) of this section, giving appropriate weight to the indicators evaluated under each criteria and maximizing rater agreement among the frameworks.

(d) By December 1, 2012, the superintendent of public instruction shall adopt rules that provide descriptors for each of the summative performance ratings, based on the development work of pilot school districts under subsection (7) of this section. Any subsequent changes to the descriptors by the superintendent may only be made following consultation with a group broadly reflective of the parties represented in subsection (7)(a) of this section.

(e) By September 1, 2012, the superintendent of public instruction shall identify up to three preferred instructional frameworks that support the revised evaluation system. The instructional frameworks shall be research-based and establish definitions or rubrics for each of the four summative performance ratings for each evaluation criteria. Each school district must adopt one of the preferred instructional frameworks and post the selection on the district's web site. The superintendent of public instruction shall establish a process for approving minor modifications or adaptations to a preferred instructional framework that may be proposed by a school district.

(f)(i) Student growth data that is relevant to the teacher and subject matter must be a factor in the evaluation process and must be based on multiple measures that can include classroom-based, school-based, district-based, and state-based tools. However, for teachers who teach reading or language arts or mathematics in a grade in which the federally mandated statewide student assessments are administered, one of the multiple measures of student growth must be the student results on the relevant assessments. The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall provide to each school district the relevant state-level assessment information necessary to determine student growth for the purpose of teacher evaluations.

(ii) Student growth data elements may include the teacher's performance as a member of a grade-level, subject matter, or other instructional team within a school when the use of this data is relevant and appropriate.

(iii) Any rules adopted by the office of the superintendent of public instruction regarding student growth goals set by a teacher and principal must assume that students achieve one year of student growth in a given academic year. The goal may be less than one full year of student growth when there are unavoidable circumstances on an individual student basis.

(iv) Student growth data elements may also include the teacher's performance as a member of the overall instructional team of a school when use of this data is relevant and appropriate. As used in this subsection (2), "student growth" means the change in student achievement between two points in time.

THIRTY SEVENTH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2014

2014 REGULAR SESSION

(g) Student input may also be included in the evaluation process.

(3)(a) Except as provided in subsection (11) of this section, it shall be the responsibility of a principal or his or her designee to evaluate all certificated personnel in his or her school. During each school year all classroom teachers and certificated support personnel shall be observed for the purposes of evaluation at least twice in the performance of their assigned duties. Total observation time for each employee for each school year shall be not less than sixty minutes. An employee in the third year of provisional status as defined in RCW 28A.405.220 shall be observed at least three times in the performance of his or her duties and the total observation time for the school year shall not be less than ninety minutes. Following each observation, or series of observations, the principal or other evaluator shall promptly document the results of the observation in writing, and shall provide the employee with a copy thereof within three days after such report is prepared. New employees shall be observed at least once for a total observation time of thirty minutes during the first ninety calendar days of their employment period.

(b) As used in this subsection and subsection (4) of this section, "employees" means classroom teachers and certificated support personnel except where otherwise specified.

(4)(a) At any time after October 15th, an employee whose work is not judged satisfactory based on district evaluation criteria shall be notified in writing of the specific areas of deficiencies along with a reasonable program for improvement. For classroom teachers who have been transitioned to the revised evaluation system pursuant to the district implementation schedule adopted under subsection (7)(c) of this section, the following comprehensive summative evaluation performance ratings based on the evaluation criteria in subsection (2)(b) of this section mean a classroom teacher's work is not judged satisfactory:

(i) Level 1; or

(ii) Level 2 if the classroom teacher is a continuing contract employee under RCW 28A.405.210 with more than five years of teaching experience and if the level 2 comprehensive summative evaluation performance rating has been received for two consecutive years or for two years within a consecutive three-year time period.

(b) During the period of probation, the employee may not be transferred from the supervision of the original evaluator. Improvement of performance or probable cause for nonrenewal must occur and be documented by the original evaluator before any consideration of a request for transfer or reassignment as contemplated by either the individual or the school district. A probationary period of sixty school days shall be established. Days may be added if deemed necessary to complete a program for improvement and evaluate the probationer's performance, as long as the probationary period is concluded before May 15th of the same school year. The probationary period may be extended into the following school year if the probationer has five or more years of teaching experience and has a comprehensive summative evaluation performance rating as of May 15th of less than level 2. The establishment of a probationary period does not adversely affect the contract status of an employee within the meaning of RCW 28A.405.300. The purpose of the probationary period is to give the employee opportunity to demonstrate improvements in his or her areas of deficiency. The establishment of the probationary period and the giving of the notice to the employee of deficiency shall be by the school district superintendent and need not be submitted to the board of directors for approval. During the probationary period the evaluator shall meet with the employee at least twice monthly to supervise and make a written evaluation of the progress, if any, made by the employee. The evaluator may authorize one additional certificated employee to evaluate the probationer and to aid the employee in improving his or her areas of deficiency. Should the evaluator not authorize such additional evaluator, the probationer may request that an additional certificated employee evaluator become part of the probationary process and this request must be implemented by including an additional experienced evaluator assigned by the educational service district in which the school district is located and selected from a list of evaluation specialists compiled by the educational service district. Such additional certificated employee shall be immune from any civil liability that might otherwise be incurred or imposed with regard to the good faith performance of such evaluation. If a procedural error occurs in the implementation of a program for improvement, the error does not invalidate the probationer's plan for improvement or evaluation activities unless the error materially affects the effectiveness of the plan or the ability to evaluate the probationer's performance. The probationer must be removed from probation if he or she has demonstrated improvement to the satisfaction of the evaluator in those areas specifically detailed in his or her initial notice of deficiency and subsequently detailed in his or her program for improvement. A classroom teacher who has been transitioned to the revised evaluation system pursuant to the district implementation schedule adopted under subsection (7)(c) of this section must be removed from probation if he or she has demonstrated improvement that results in a new comprehensive summative evaluation performance rating of level 2 or above for a provisional employee or a continuing contract employee with five or fewer years of experience, or of level 3 or above for a continuing contract employee with more than five years of experience. Lack of necessary improvement during the established probationary period, as specifically documented in writing with notification to the probationer constitutes grounds for a finding of probable cause under RCW 28A.405.300 or 28A.405.210.

(c) When a continuing contract employee with five or more years of experience receives a comprehensive summative evaluation performance rating below level 2 for two consecutive years, the school district shall, within ten days of the completion of the second comprehensive summative (~~(comprehensive [comprehensive summative])~~) evaluation or May 15th, whichever occurs first, implement the employee notification of discharge as provided in RCW 28A.405.300.

(d) Immediately following the completion of a probationary period that does not produce performance changes detailed in the initial notice of deficiencies and program for improvement, the employee may be removed from his or her assignment and placed into an alternative assignment for the remainder of the school year. In the case of a classroom teacher who has been transitioned to the revised evaluation system pursuant to the district implementation schedule adopted under subsection (7)(c) of this section, the teacher may be removed from his or her assignment and placed into an alternative assignment for the remainder of the school year immediately following the completion of a probationary period that does not result in the required comprehensive summative evaluation performance ratings specified in (b) of this subsection. This reassignment may not displace another employee nor may it adversely affect the probationary employee's compensation or benefits for the remainder of the employee's contract year. If such reassignment is not possible, the district may, at its option, place the employee on paid leave for the balance of the contract term.

(5) Every board of directors shall establish evaluative criteria and procedures for all superintendents, principals, and other administrators. It shall be the responsibility of the district superintendent or his or her designee to evaluate all administrators.

Except as provided in subsection (6) of this section, such evaluation shall be based on the administrative position job description. Such criteria, when applicable, shall include at least the following categories: Knowledge of, experience in, and training in recognizing good professional performance, capabilities and development; school administration and management; school finance; professional preparation and scholarship; effort toward improvement when needed; interest in pupils, employees, patrons and subjects taught in school; leadership; and ability and performance of evaluation of school personnel.

(6)(a) Pursuant to the implementation schedule established by subsection (7)(b) of this section, every board of directors shall establish revised evaluative criteria and a four-level rating system for principals.

(b) The minimum criteria shall include: (i) Creating a school culture that promotes the ongoing improvement of learning and teaching for students and staff; (ii) demonstrating commitment to closing the achievement gap; (iii) providing for school safety; (iv) leading the development, implementation, and evaluation of a data-driven plan for increasing student achievement, including the use of multiple student data elements; (v) assisting instructional staff with alignment of curriculum, instruction, and assessment with state and local district learning goals; (vi) monitoring, assisting, and evaluating effective instruction and assessment practices; (vii) managing both staff and fiscal resources to support student achievement and legal responsibilities; and (viii) partnering with the school community to promote student learning. Student growth data, as determined under (f) of this subsection, must be a substantial factor in evaluating the summative performance of the principal for at least three of the evaluation criteria listed in this subsection.

(c) The four-level rating system used to evaluate the principal must describe performance along a continuum that indicates the extent to which the criteria have been met or exceeded. The summative performance ratings shall be as follows: Level 1 - unsatisfactory; level 2 - basic; level 3 - proficient; and level 4 - distinguished. A principal shall receive one of the four summative performance ratings for each of the minimum criteria in (b) of this subsection and one of the four summative performance ratings for the evaluation as a whole, which shall be the comprehensive summative evaluation performance rating.

(d) By December 1, 2012, the superintendent of public instruction shall adopt rules that provide descriptors for each of the summative performance ratings, based on the development work of pilot school districts under subsection (7) of this section. Any subsequent changes to the descriptors by the superintendent may only be made following consultation with a group broadly reflective of the parties represented in subsection (7)(a) of this section.

(e) By September 1, 2012, the superintendent of public instruction shall identify up to three preferred leadership frameworks that support the revised evaluation system. The leadership frameworks shall be research-based and establish definitions or rubrics for each of the four performance ratings for each evaluation criteria. Each school district shall adopt one of the preferred leadership frameworks and post the selection on the district's web site. The superintendent of public instruction shall establish a process for approving minor modifications or adaptations to a preferred leadership framework that may be proposed by a school district.

(f)(i) Student growth data that is relevant to the principal must be a factor in the evaluation process and must be based on multiple measures that can include classroom-based, school-based, district-based, and state-based tools. However, for principals assigned to a school in which reading or language arts or mathematics are taught in at least one of the grades in which the federally mandated statewide assessments are administered, one of the multiple measures of student growth must be the student results on the relevant assessments. The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall provide to each school district the relevant state-level assessment information necessary to determine student growth for the purpose of principal evaluations.

(ii) As used in this subsection (6), "student growth" means the change in student achievement between two points in time.

(g) Input from building staff may also be included in the evaluation process.

(h) For principals who have been transitioned to the revised evaluation system pursuant to the district implementation schedule adopted under subsection (7)(c) of this section, the following comprehensive summative evaluation performance ratings mean a principal's work is not judged satisfactory:

(i) Level 1; or

(ii) Level 2 if the principal has more than five years of experience in the principal role and if the level 2 comprehensive summative evaluation performance rating has been received for two consecutive years or for two years within a consecutive three-year time period.

(7)(a) The superintendent of public instruction, in collaboration with state associations representing teachers, principals, administrators, school board members, and parents, to be known as the steering committee, shall create models for implementing the evaluation system criteria, student growth tools, professional development programs, and evaluator training for certificated classroom teachers and principals. Human resources specialists, professional development experts, and assessment experts must also be consulted. Due to the diversity of teaching assignments and the many developmental levels of students, classroom teachers and principals must be prominently represented in this work. The models must be available for use in the 2011-12 school year.

(b) A new certificated classroom teacher evaluation system that implements the provisions of subsection (2) of this section and a new principal evaluation system that implements the provisions of subsection (6) of this section shall be phased-in beginning with the 2010-11 school year by districts identified in (d) of this subsection and implemented in all school districts beginning with the 2013-14 school year.

(c) Each school district board of directors shall adopt a schedule for implementation of the revised evaluation systems that transitions a portion of classroom teachers and principals in the district to the revised evaluation systems each year beginning no later than the 2013-14 school year, until all classroom teachers and principals are being evaluated under the revised evaluation systems no later than the 2015-16 school year. A school district is not precluded from completing the transition of all classroom teachers and principals to the revised evaluation systems before the 2015-16 school year. The schedule adopted under this subsection (7)(c) must provide that the following employees are transitioned to the revised evaluation systems beginning in the 2013-14 school year:

(i) Classroom teachers who are provisional employees under RCW 28A.405.220;

(ii) Classroom teachers who are on probation under subsection (4) of this section;

(iii) Principals in the first three consecutive school years of employment as a principal;

(iv) Principals whose work is not judged satisfactory in their most recent evaluation; and

(v) Principals previously employed as a principal by another school district in the state of Washington for three or more consecutive school years and in the first full year as a principal in the school district.

(d) A set of school districts shall be selected by the superintendent of public instruction to participate in a collaborative process resulting in the development and piloting of new certificated classroom teacher and principal evaluation systems during the

2014 REGULAR SESSION

2010-11 and 2011-12 school years. These school districts must be selected based on: (i) The agreement of the local associations representing classroom teachers and principals to collaborate with the district in this developmental work and (ii) the agreement to participate in the full range of development and implementation activities, including: Development of rubrics for the evaluation criteria and ratings in subsections (2) and (6) of this section; identification of or development of appropriate multiple measures of student growth in subsections (2) and (6) of this section; development of appropriate evaluation system forms; participation in professional development for principals and classroom teachers regarding the content of the new evaluation system; participation in evaluator training; and participation in activities to evaluate the effectiveness of the new systems and support programs. The school districts must submit to the office of the superintendent of public instruction data that is used in evaluations and all district-collected student achievement, aptitude, and growth data regardless of whether the data is used in evaluations. If the data is not available electronically, the district may submit it in nonelectronic form. The superintendent of public instruction must analyze the districts' use of student data in evaluations, including examining the extent that student data is not used or is underutilized. The superintendent of public instruction must also consult with participating districts and stakeholders, recommend appropriate changes, and address statewide implementation issues. The superintendent of public instruction shall report evaluation system implementation status, evaluation data, and recommendations to appropriate committees of the legislature and governor by July 1, 2011, and at the conclusion of the development phase by July 1, 2012. In the July 1, 2011, report, the superintendent shall include recommendations for whether a single statewide evaluation model should be adopted, whether modified versions developed by school districts should be subject to state approval, and what the criteria would be for determining if a school district's evaluation model meets or exceeds a statewide model. The report shall also identify challenges posed by requiring a state approval process.

(e)(i) The steering committee in (a) of this subsection ~~((7)(a) of this section))~~ and the pilot school districts in (d) of this subsection ~~((7)(d) of this section))~~ shall continue to examine implementation issues and refine tools for the new certificated classroom teacher evaluation system in subsection (2) of this section and the new principal evaluation system in subsection (6) of this section during the 2013-14 through 2015-16 implementation phase.

(ii) Particular attention shall be given to the following issues:

(A) Developing a report for the legislature and governor, due by December 1, 2013, of best practices and recommendations regarding how teacher and principal evaluations and other appropriate elements shall inform school district human resource and personnel practices. The legislature and governor are provided the opportunity to review the report and recommendations during the 2014 legislative session;

(B) Taking the new teacher and principal evaluation systems to scale and the use of best practices for statewide implementation;

(C) Providing guidance regarding the use of student growth data to assure it is used responsibly and with integrity;

(D) Refining evaluation system management tools, professional development programs, and evaluator training programs with an emphasis on developing rater reliability;

(E) Reviewing emerging research regarding teacher and principal evaluation systems and the development and implementation of evaluation systems in other states;

(F) Reviewing the impact that variable demographic characteristics of students and schools have on the objectivity, reliability, validity, and availability of student growth data; and

(G) Developing recommendations regarding how teacher evaluations could inform state policies regarding the criteria for a teacher to obtain continuing contract status under RCW 28A.405.210. In developing these recommendations the experiences of school districts and teachers during the evaluation transition phase must be considered. Recommendations must be reported by July 1, 2016, to the legislature and the governor.

(iii) To support the tasks in (e)(ii) of this subsection, the superintendent of public instruction may contract with an independent research organization with expertise in educator evaluations and knowledge of the revised evaluation systems being implemented under this section.

(iv) The superintendent of public instruction shall monitor the statewide implementation of revised teacher and principal evaluation systems using data reported under RCW 28A.150.230 as well as periodic input from focus groups of administrators, principals, and teachers.

(v) The superintendent of public instruction shall submit reports detailing findings, emergent issues or trends, recommendations from the steering committee, and pilot school districts, and other recommendations, to enhance implementation and continuous improvement of the revised evaluation systems to appropriate committees of the legislature and the governor beginning July 1, 2013, and each July 1st thereafter for each year of the school district implementation transition period concluding with a report on December 1, 2016.

(8)(a) Beginning with the 2015-16 school year, evaluation results for certificated classroom teachers and principals must be used as one of multiple factors in making human resource and personnel decisions. Human resource decisions include, but are not limited to: Staff assignment, including the consideration of an agreement to an assignment by an appropriate teacher, principal, and superintendent; and reduction in force. Nothing in this section limits the ability to collectively bargain how the multiple factors shall be used in making human resource or personnel decisions, with the exception that evaluation results must be a factor.

(b) The office of the superintendent of public instruction must report to the legislature and the governor regarding the school district implementation of the provisions of (a) of this subsection by December 1, 2017.

(9) Each certificated classroom teacher and certificated support personnel shall have the opportunity for confidential conferences with his or her immediate supervisor on no less than two occasions in each school year. Such confidential conference shall have as its sole purpose the aiding of the administrator in his or her assessment of the employee's professional performance.

(10) The failure of any evaluator to evaluate or supervise or cause the evaluation or supervision of certificated classroom teachers and certificated support personnel or administrators in accordance with this section, as now or hereafter amended, when it is his or her specific assigned or delegated responsibility to do so, shall be sufficient cause for the nonrenewal of any such evaluator's contract under RCW 28A.405.210, or the discharge of such evaluator under RCW 28A.405.300.

(11) After a certificated classroom teacher or certificated support personnel has four years of satisfactory evaluations under subsection (1) of this section, a school district may use a short form of evaluation, a locally bargained evaluation emphasizing professional growth, an evaluation under subsection (1) or (2) of this section, or any combination thereof. The short form of evaluation shall include either a thirty minute observation during the school year with a written summary or a final annual written evaluation based on the criteria in subsection (1) or (2) of this section and based on at least two observation periods during the school year totaling at least sixty minutes without a written summary of such observations being prepared. A locally bargained short-form evaluation emphasizing professional growth must provide that the professional growth activity conducted by the certificated classroom teacher be specifically linked to one or more of the certificated classroom teacher evaluation criteria. However, the evaluation process set forth in subsection (1) or (2) of this section shall be followed at least once every three years unless this time is extended by a local school district under the bargaining process set forth in chapter 41.59 RCW. The employee or evaluator may require that the evaluation process set forth in subsection (1) or (2) of this section be conducted in any given school year. No evaluation other than the evaluation authorized under subsection (1) or (2) of this section may be used as a basis for determining that an employee's work is not satisfactory under subsection (1) or (2) of this section or as probable cause for the nonrenewal of an employee's contract under RCW 28A.405.210 unless an evaluation process developed under chapter 41.59 RCW determines otherwise. The provisions of this subsection apply to certificated classroom teachers only until the teacher has been transitioned to the revised evaluation system pursuant to the district implementation schedule adopted under subsection (7)(c) of this section.

(12) All certificated classroom teachers and principals who have been transitioned to the revised evaluation systems pursuant to the district implementation schedule adopted under subsection (7)(c) of this section must receive annual performance evaluations as provided in this subsection:

(a) All classroom teachers and principals shall receive a comprehensive summative evaluation at least once every four years. A comprehensive summative evaluation assesses all eight evaluation criteria and all criteria contribute to the comprehensive summative evaluation performance rating.

(b) The following categories of classroom teachers and principals shall receive an annual comprehensive summative evaluation:

(i) Classroom teachers who are provisional employees under RCW 28A.405.220;

(ii) Principals in the first three consecutive school years of employment as a principal;

(iii) Principals previously employed as a principal by another school district in the state of Washington for three or more consecutive school years and in the first full year as a principal in the school district; and

(iv) Any classroom teacher or principal who received a comprehensive summative evaluation performance rating of level 1 or level 2 in the previous school year.

(c)(i) In the years when a comprehensive summative evaluation is not required, classroom teachers and principals who received a comprehensive summative evaluation performance rating of level 3 or above in the previous school year are required to complete a focused evaluation. A focused evaluation includes an assessment of one of the eight criteria selected for a performance rating plus professional growth activities specifically linked to the selected criteria.

(ii) The selected criteria must be approved by the teacher's or principal's evaluator and may have been identified in a previous comprehensive summative evaluation as benefiting from additional attention. A group of teachers may focus on the same evaluation criteria and share professional growth activities. A group of principals may focus on the same evaluation criteria and share professional growth activities.

(iii) The evaluator must assign a comprehensive summative evaluation performance rating for the focused evaluation using the methodology adopted by the superintendent of public instruction for the instructional or leadership framework being used.

(iv) A teacher or principal may be transferred from a focused evaluation to a comprehensive summative evaluation at the request of the teacher or principal, or at the direction of the teacher's or principal's evaluator.

(v) Due to the importance of instructional leadership and assuring rater agreement among evaluators, particularly those evaluating teacher performance, school districts are encouraged to conduct comprehensive summative evaluations of principal performance on an annual basis.

(vi) A classroom teacher or principal may apply the focused evaluation professional growth activities toward the professional growth plan for professional certificate renewal as required by the professional educator standards board.

(13) Each school district is encouraged to acknowledge and recognize classroom teachers and principals who have attained level 4 -distinguished performance ratings."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, all measures listed on the Introduction and First Reading report were referred to the committees as designated with the exception of House Bill No. 2436 which was referred to the Committee on Ways & Means.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate advanced to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

Senator Rolfes moved adoption of the following resolution:

By Senators Hasegawa, Hobbs, McCoy, Dammeier, Nelson, McAuliffe, Chase, Brown, Kline, Hill, Kohl-Welles, Rolfes, Benton, Mullet, Eide, Schoesler, Becker, Litzow, Roach, Angel, Billig, Braun, Tom, Frockt, Dansel, Ranker, Hatfield, Keiser, Conway, Pedersen, Hargrove, Hewitt, Holmquist Newbry, King, Liias, Fain, Honeyford, Fraser, Bailey, Cleveland, Parlette, Eriksen, Pearson, O'Ban, Darneille, Rivers, and Padden

WHEREAS, Seventy-two years ago, on February 19, 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued Executive Order 9066, which authorized the forced removal, exclusion, and internment of approximately 13,000 Japanese-Americans (American citizens of Japanese descent) residing in the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, The order for forced removal and detention at Camp Harmony on the Puyallup Fairgrounds in Puyallup, Washington, prior to the exclusion and subsequent incarceration, caused Japanese-American citizens from the state of Washington to lose millions of dollars in property and assets, to suffer immeasurable physical and psychological damage, and to be deprived of their constitutional liberties without due process of law; and

WHEREAS, The alleged purpose of this drastic course of action was to prevent Japanese-Americans, all of whom were deemed disloyal and untrustworthy by our government, from committing acts of espionage and sabotage against the United States during the period of its involvement in World War II; and

WHEREAS, In 1943, an overwhelming number of Japanese-Americans from the state of Washington responded to challenges of their loyalty and patriotism by volunteering from within barbed wire and armed guarded camps to serve in the United States Army, organizing into the famed 442nd Regimental Combat Team, and amassing a battle record that is unmatched in United States military history with seven Presidential Unit Citations, 21 Medals of Honor, 29 Distinguished Service Crosses, 1 Distinguished Service Medal, 588 Silver Stars, more than 4,000 Bronze Stars, 22 Legion of Merit Medals, 15 Soldier's Medals, 9,486 Purple Hearts, and a total of 16 decorations from France and Italy; and student Gordon Hirabayashi, were willing to face imprisonment to seek justice by challenging the constitutionality of the exclusion and incarceration orders. Korematsu and Hirabayashi were eventually awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom for their principled actions and sacrifices; and

WHEREAS, Through the fact-finding work of the Commission on Wartime Relocation and Internment of Civilians, the United States Congress later found "there was no military or security reason for the internment" of individuals of Japanese ancestry. Rather, it "was caused by racial prejudice, war hysteria, and a failure of political leadership"; and

WHEREAS, In 1976 President Gerald Ford formally rescinded Executive Order 9066 saying, "I call upon the American people to affirm with me this American Promise--that we have learned from the tragedy of that long-ago experience forever to treasure liberty and justice for each individual American, and resolve that this kind of action shall never again be repeated"; and

WHEREAS, In 1979, newly elected Congressman Mike Lowry of Washington State Introduced H.R. 5977 to provide reparations and an apology to former Japanese-American incarcerates, thus initiating a ten-year legislative quest that ended when President Ronald Reagan signed the Civil Liberties Act of 1988; and

WHEREAS, In 1988, President Ronald Reagan signed the Civil Liberties Act apologizing to the survivors of American incarceration camps saying, "what is most important in this bill has less to do with property than with honor. For here we admit a wrong; here we reaffirm our commitment as a nation to equal justice under the law."; and

WHEREAS, In 2010, the United States Congress recognized the unparalleled record of Nisei soldiers by authorizing the creation of "a single gold medal of appropriate design to the 100th Infantry Battalion, the 442nd Regimental Combat Team, and the Military Intelligence Service, United States Army," and in November 2011, President Barack Obama bestowed this highest civilian honor on these units collectively; and

WHEREAS, Throughout Washington State, survivors of the European and Asian Pacific battlefields of World War II and of American incarceration camps continue to live their golden years quietly, in unassuming contrast to their extraordinary acts of patriotism, conscience, and valor;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate, along with the people of Washington State, pause to acknowledge and reflect on the significance of Executive Order 9066 and its effect in denying constitutional freedoms and protections, our democracy's greatness in recognizing and correcting this failing, the need for constant vigilance to protect our constitutional rights and freedoms, and to recognize the Japanese-American internees and World War II veterans from the state of Washington, to honor their patience, heroism, sacrifice, and loyalty, and to remember the lessons, rights, and responsibilities that come with the phrase, "liberty and justice for all"; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Nisei Veterans Committee, the Military Intelligence Service - Northwest Association, the Japanese-American Citizens League National and Seattle Chapter, the Japanese Cultural & Community Center of Washington State, and the Wing Luke Museum of the Asian Pacific American Experience.

Senator Rolfes spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8687.

The motion by Senator Rolfes carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

At 10:05 a.m., on motion of Senator Fain, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Thursday, February 20, 2014.

REMARKS BY QUEEN ROSLYN THOMPSON

Miss Roslyn: "On behalf of myself, Princess Caroline Dahl and Princess Nikara Morgan, we are so thankful for the chance to represent the ninety-fifth annual Wenatchee Apple Blossom Festival. As ambassadors for the 2014 Festival we would like to invite all of you at our states capitol to join us this year for our festival activities in the beautiful valley that is Wenatchee. The Apple Blossom Festival is held at the peak of spring, with the warm days where you feel the sun shining but are protected by the trees at Memorial Park. The smell of funnel cakes and gyros are vibrant in the air and the sweet sound of a local band is playing in the background. Wenatchee is not just a city of with a lot of apples. We are a community that comes together to celebrate the beautiful valley that we are so lucky to be a part of. A valley that lies almost in the prefect center of our state which is similar to the way this town presents and show cases each of the four seasons in perfect harmony. One of the most unique things about Wenatchee is that we are technically two different cities entirely. Wenatchee and East Wenatchee and about three hundred fifty days out of the year we act like it, whether that is from our strong high school rivalry or just about the citizens themselves. However, when Apple Blossom time rolls around we become one community in perfect harmony together. No longer separated by the great divide that is known as the Columbia River. Each year the Wenatchee Apple Blossom Festival is given a theme and this year's theme is 'Living the Dream' which is easy to do in a city that gets almost three hundred days of sunshine every year. The festival will run from April 24 to May 4 with our Grand Parade being held on May 3. This festival will include a variety of activities from our family friendly fund run to live entertainment in the park. The Wenatchee Valley Apple Blossom Festival is a time where our community show cases the talents, kindness, generosity and pride that the citizens of this valley have. So, whether you're enjoying a shiskaberry while eating at the park, or watching the Grand Parade or hanging out at the carnival, there is never a dull moment at the festival. All three of us are so proud to have been chosen to represent our valley in such a unique and amazing way that reflects all the diverse beauty of this valley. We are so honored to be here today. We would love to invite you to come and see how Wenatchee Washington is a perfect place to experience 'living the dream.' We hope to see you this spring in Wenatchee where the sun is shining, the food is enticing and the community is amazing. Thank you guys for having us today."

We shouldn't sink the ship," he concluded, expressing his deep commitment to values transcending partisanship; and

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 39.10.330 and 2013 c 222 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Contracts for design-build services shall be awarded through a competitive process using public solicitation of proposals for design-build services. The public body shall publish at least once in a legal newspaper of general circulation published in, or as near as possible to, that part of the county in which the public work will be done, a notice of its request for qualifications from proposers for design-build services, and the availability and location of the request for proposal documents. The request for qualifications documents shall include:

(a) A general description of the project that provides sufficient information for proposers to submit qualifications;

(b) The reasons for using the design-build procedure;

(c) A description of the qualifications to be required of the proposer including, but not limited to, submission of the proposer's accident prevention program;

(d) A description of the process the public body will use to evaluate qualifications and finalists' proposals, including evaluation factors and the relative weight of factors and any specific forms to be used by the proposers;

(i) Evaluation factors for request for qualifications shall include, but not be limited to, technical qualifications, such as specialized experience and technical competence; capability to perform; past performance of the proposers' team, including the architect-engineer and construction members; and other appropriate factors. Evaluation factors may also include: (A) The proposer's past performance in utilization of small business entities; and (B) disadvantaged business enterprises. Cost or price-related factors are not permitted in the request for qualifications phase;

(ii) Evaluation factors for finalists' proposals shall include, but not be limited to, the factors listed in (d)(i) of this subsection, as well as technical approach design concept; ability of professional personnel; past performance on similar projects; ability to meet time and budget requirements; ability to provide a performance and payment bond for the project; recent, current, and projected workloads of the firm; location; and cost or price-related factors that may include operating costs. The public body may also consider a proposer's outreach plan to include small business entities and disadvantaged business enterprises as subcontractor and suppliers for the project. Alternatively, if the public body determines that all finalists will be capable of producing a design that adequately meets project requirements, the public body may award the contract to the firm that submits the responsive proposal with the lowest price;

(e) Protest procedures including time limits for filing a protest, which in no event may limit the time to file a protest to fewer than four business days from the date the proposer was notified of the selection decision;

(f) The form of the contract to be awarded;

(g) The honorarium to be paid to finalists submitting responsive proposals and who are not awarded a design-build contract;

(h) The schedule for the procurement process and the project; and

(i) Other information relevant to the project.

(2) The public body shall establish an evaluation committee to evaluate the responses to the request for qualifications based solely on the factors, weighting, and process identified in the request for qualifications and any addenda issued by the public body. Based on the evaluation committee's findings, the public body shall select not more than five responsive and responsible finalists to submit proposals. The public body may, in its sole discretion, reject all proposals and shall provide its reasons for rejection in writing to all proposers.

(3) The public body must notify all proposers of the finalists selected to move to the next phase of the selection process. The process may not proceed to the next phase until two business days after all proposers are notified of the committee's selection decision. At the request of a proposer not selected as a finalist, the public body must provide the requesting proposer with a scoring summary of the evaluation factors for its proposal. Proposers filing a protest on the selection of the finalists must file the protest in accordance with the published protest procedures. The selection process may not advance to the next phase of selection until two business days after the final protest decision is transmitted to the protestor.

FORTY FIFTH DAY, FEBRUARY 26, 2014

2014 REGULAR SESSION

(4) Upon selection of the finalists, the public body shall issue a request for proposals to the finalists, which shall provide the following information:

(a) A detailed description of the project including programmatic, performance, and technical requirements and specifications; functional and operational elements; building performance goals and validation requirements; minimum and maximum net and gross areas of any building; and, at the discretion of the public body, preliminary engineering and architectural drawings; and

(b) The target budget for the design-build portion of the project.

(5) The public body shall establish an evaluation committee to evaluate the proposals submitted by the finalists. Design-build contracts shall be awarded using the procedures in (a) or (b) of this subsection. The public body must identify in the request for qualifications which procedure will be used.

(a) The finalists' proposals shall be evaluated and scored based solely on the factors, weighting, and process identified in the initial request for qualifications and in any addenda published by the public body. Public bodies may request best and final proposals from finalists. The public body may initiate negotiations with the firm submitting the highest scored proposal. If the public body is unable to execute a contract with the firm submitting the highest scored proposal, negotiations with that firm may be suspended or terminated and the public body may proceed to negotiate with the next highest scored firm. Public bodies shall continue in accordance with this procedure until a contract agreement is reached or the selection process is terminated.

(b) If the public body determines that all finalists are capable of producing a design that adequately meets project requirements, the public body may award the contract to the firm that submits the responsive proposal with the lowest price.

(6) The public body shall notify all finalists of the selection decision and make a selection summary of the final proposals available to all proposers within two business days of such notification. If the public body receives a timely written protest from a finalist firm, the public body may not execute a contract until two business days after the final protest decision is transmitted to the protestor. The protestor must submit its protest in accordance with the published protest procedures.

(7) The firm awarded the contract shall provide a performance and payment bond for the contracted amount.

(8) The public body shall provide appropriate honorarium payments to finalists submitting responsive proposals that are not awarded a design-build contract. Honorarium payments shall be sufficient to generate meaningful competition among potential proposers on design-build projects. In determining the amount of the honorarium, the public body shall consider the level of effort required to meet the selection criteria.

Sec. 2. RCW 39.10.470 and 2005 c 274 s 275 are each amended to read as follows:

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Before we start Senator Eide: the President believes that he recalls that every twenty eighth an extraordinary large bouquet of roses is brought to your desk by about three pages. They're delivered from your wonderful husband Judge Mark Eide to celebrate your anniversary. The President believes that tomorrow, since we will not be on the floor, that it would be appropriate for him to wish you and Judge Eide a Happy Thirty-Eighth Wedding Anniversary. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Sheldon: "I don't want to follow this news that I received with very happy news with Senator Eide but a friend of mine recently went down to Sacramento to visit a friend who had a terrible time with prostate cancer and we learned today that Joe Dear had passed away. A good friend of a lot of us here in this chamber, known him for a long time. Of course Joe was an L&I Director and worked under the Clinton Administration in Washington D. C. and also for Governor Locke as his Chief of Staff and Joe subsequently went down to California to really turn around their pension system down there and did a fantastic job. Many people have known Joe for a long time, a long time Olympia resident as well. So we sure note his passing and wish his family the best."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Conway: "I as well want to send my condolences to all the friends and family members of Joe Dear. Joe started out with the Washington State Labor Council as a research director in his early years and then got picked up, frankly by the Locke Administration. One critical thing that was not said and I appreciate the comments here, was that Joe Dear actually left I think the Locke Administration, went down to work for Frank Russell Company for many years and became a great investment counselor down there for Frank Russell. Joe then came back here to the State Investment Board. And I know all of us here realized that one of the great assets we have in Washington State is the State Investment Board. His role in organizing that State Investment Board was critical and he got picked up by California because he was so good. That's why it happened. So we, it's sad that he was so young, that he should go so young. We're going to miss him. I know his wife here lives in our state still. His former wife lives here in the state. So my heart is with Joe and his family and with his staff over at the State Investment Board and with the staff he worked with so many years. Thank you Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Keiser: "I just want to join with Senator Sheldon and Conway in my condolences to Joe's family. I too worked with Joe Dear beginning way back when in the Labor Council. Back in the dawn of ages. It was a joy to work with him as he went through the Department of Labor and Industries and then on to the Investment Board. He was always had wise counsel for individuals, whether they were on one side of the aisle or the other and we all miss him. All our condolences to his family and his children."

Also, the Ways & Means and Transportation Committees will also be starting later. At this point it looks to be that those committees will start around 4:00 to give us a little bit more time on the floor and not to compress the 1:30 Committee hearings. FOR THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION--FOR SCHOOL EMPLOYEE COMPENSATION ADJUSTMENTS

General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 2015) $50,676,000

The appropriation in this section is subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1)((~~1~~)) $50,676,000 of the general fund--state appropriation is provided solely for the following:

(a) A cost of living adjustment of 1.2 percent effective September 1, 2014, pursuant to Initiative Measure No. 732.

(b) Additional salary adjustments as necessary to fund the base salaries for certificated instructional staff as listed for each district in LEAP Document 2, defined in section 503(2)(b) of this act. Allocations for these salary adjustments shall be provided to all districts that are not grandfathered to receive salary allocations above the statewide salary allocation schedule, and to certain grandfathered districts to the extent necessary to ensure that salary allocations for districts that are currently grandfathered do not fall below the statewide salary allocation schedule.

((~~b~~)) (c) Additional salary adjustments to certain districts as necessary to fund the per full-time-equivalent salary allocations for certificated administrative staff as listed for each district in LEAP Document 2, defined in section 503(2)(b) of this act.

((~~c~~)) (d) Additional salary adjustments to certain districts as necessary to fund the per full-time-equivalent salary allocations for classified staff as listed for each district in LEAP Document 2, defined in section 503(2)(b) of this act.

((~~d~~)) (e) The appropriations in this subsection (1) include associated incremental fringe benefit allocations at 18.04 percent for the 2013-14 school year and 18.04 percent for the 2014-15 school year for certificated instructional and certificated administrative staff and 17.45 percent for the 2013-14 school year and 17.45 percent for the 2014-15 school year for classified staff.

((~~e~~)) (f) The appropriations in this section include the increased or decreased portion of salaries and incremental fringe benefits for all relevant state-funded school programs in part V of this act. Changes for general apportionment (basic education) are based on the salary allocation schedules and methodology in sections 502 and 503 of this act. Changes for special education result from changes in each district's basic education allocation per student. Changes for educational service districts and institutional education programs are determined by the superintendent of public instruction using the methodology for general apportionment salaries and benefits in sections 502 and 503 of this act.

((~~f~~)) (g) The appropriations in this section include no salary adjustments for substitute teachers.

Any salary increase granted under the authority of this subsection (4)(c)(ii) shall not be included in an institution's salary base for future state funding. It is the intent of the legislature that state general fund support for an institution shall not increase during the current or any future biennium as a result of any salary increases authorized under this subsection (4)(c)(ii).

(1) School district employees shall be provided an annual salary cost-of-living increase in accordance with this section.

(a) The cost-of-living increase shall be calculated by applying the rate of the yearly increase in the cost-of-living index to any state-funded salary base used in state funding formulas for teachers and other school district employees. Beginning with the 2001-02 school year, and for each subsequent school year, except for the 2013-14 (~~and 2014-15~~) school year(s), each school district shall be provided a cost-of-living allocation sufficient to grant this cost-of-living increase.

(b) A school district shall distribute its cost-of-living allocation for salaries and salary-related benefits in accordance with the district's salary schedules, collective bargaining agreements, and compensation policies. No later than the end of the school year, each school district shall certify to the superintendent of public instruction that it has spent funds provided for cost-of-living increases on salaries and salary-related benefits.

(c) Any funded cost-of-living increase shall be included in the salary base used to determine cost-of-living increases for school employees in subsequent years. For teachers and other certificated instructional staff, the rate of the annual cost-of-living increase funded for certificated instructional staff shall be applied to the base salary used with the statewide salary allocation schedule established under RCW 28A.150.410 and to any other salary models used to recognize school district personnel costs.

(2) For the purposes of this section, "cost-of-living index" means, for any school year, the previous calendar year's annual average consumer price index, using the official current base, compiled by the bureau of labor statistics, United States department of labor for the state of Washington. If the bureau of labor statistics develops more than one consumer price index for areas within the state, the index covering the greatest number of people, covering areas exclusively within the boundaries of the state, and including all items shall be used for the cost-of-living index in this section.

Sec. 918. RCW 28B.50.465 and 2013 2nd sp.s. c 5 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Academic employees of community and technical college districts shall be provided an annual salary cost-of-living increase in accordance with this section. For purposes of this section, "academic employee" has the same meaning as defined in RCW 28B.52.020.

(a) Beginning with the 2001-2002 fiscal year, and for each subsequent fiscal year, except as provided in (d) of this subsection, each college district shall receive a cost-of-living allocation sufficient to increase academic employee salaries, including mandatory salary-related benefits, by the rate of the yearly increase in the cost-of-living index.

(b) A college district shall distribute its cost-of-living allocation for salaries and salary-related benefits in accordance with the district's salary schedules, collective bargaining agreements, and other compensation policies. No later than the end of the fiscal year, each college district shall certify to the college board that it has spent funds provided for cost-of-living increases on salaries and salary-related benefits.

(c) The college board shall include any funded cost-of-living increase in the salary base used to determine cost-of-living increases for academic employees in subsequent years.

(d) Beginning with the 2001-2002 fiscal year, and for each subsequent fiscal year except for the 2013-2014 (~~and 2014-2015~~) fiscal year(s), the state shall fully fund the cost-of-living increase set forth in this section.

(2) For the purposes of this section, "cost-of-living index" means, for any fiscal year, the previous calendar year's annual average consumer price index, using the official current base, compiled by the bureau of labor statistics, United States department of labor for the state of Washington. If the bureau of labor statistics develops more than one consumer price index for areas within the state, the index covering the greatest number of people, covering areas exclusively within the boundaries of the state, and including all items shall be used for the cost-of-living index in this section.
